had a women's basketball team in 1925? Or that the first issue of the Archway I find that a great part (1946) called for submissions of news, poems, and "classroom jokes"? Have you ever seen the handwritten Bryant and Stratton National Business College Charter from 1863, or read "Betty Wins a Malted"? documents, photos, and more are available in the Digital Commons @ Bryant University, digital commons. bryant.edu.

The Digital Commons is an institutional repository of Bryant's scholarly output, historical legacy, and unique collections. Digitized items include Commencement materials, issues of the Archway, the Bryant College Goes to War collection, and a variety of historical docuand ments photos. The Digital Commons also features intellectual content such as faculty publications, research, and senior honors projects.

The Digital Commons @ Bryant University is a work in progress, and will continue to be enhanced by the addition of journal articles, working papers, conference proceedings, and content related to Bryant's institutional history. Please visit digitalcommons.bryant.edu.

Pat Crawford Elected IUG Vice-Chair/Chair Elect

Pat Crawford, Head of Access Services at Krupp Library, was recently elected Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect of the Innovative User's Group (IUG) Steering Committee. Pat completed two years as an IUG Steering Committee Member-at-Large before winning this three-year term in a landslide victory. As Vice-Chair, Pat will head the Program Committee for the IUG Annual Conference. The following year she will serve as Chair, overseeing all conference planning. In her final year, Pat will continue to sit on the Board and serve as Past Chair to mentor the incoming Chair. IUG is international organization libraries that use Innovative Interfaces, Inc.

integrated library software, and the Chair position is one of the most important in the worldwide Innovative community. Congratulations, Pat!

"Reeling Them In" at the ACRL New England Conference

Jenifer Bond (Assistant Director/ Reference Librarian), Maura Keating (Reference Librarian), and Laura Kohl (Head of Reference), recently gave a presentation at the Association of College & Research Libraries (ACRL) New England Chapter 2009 Conference. Their presentation, "Reel Them In: How to Get (and Keep) a Line at the Reference Desk," addressed the conference theme of "Are You Being Served? Customer Satisfaction & Library Service."

Maura, Laura, and Jenifer each spoke about a different aspect of branding, from the "librarian brand" to the "Bryant University brand" to the "Krupp Library brand." Maura described the concept of branding, showing how iconic companies and organizations create and build their brands. Jenifer discussed how the library complements the Bryant University brand of student-centered, "high touch" learning. She noted that Bryant's Three Pillars of Character, Knowledge, and Success also influence Krupp Library's customer service philosophy. Laura described the library's marketing strategies and efforts to (re)define expectations of librarians and library services. She compiled a chart to illustrate the increase in research consultations over the past five years, indicating a growing student awareness of the library's services.

Other conference attendees were most impressed with the commitment to "high touch" service, and even Twittered about the presentation during the conference. Laura, Maura, and Jenifer shared how they create, promote, and maintain the image of a Bryant librarian through creativity and a multi-faceted approach to marketing and outreach.
