Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of Jan. 22 would say that I am very sorry if my son Everett has neglected to acknowledge any package he may have received from you. He was home on furlough at the time you sent it and he has not written me of receiving any.

However I will forward your letter to him and I am sure you will hear from him. His address has not changed.

I think it is a very fine thing you are doing in resumbling the boys and am sure they appreciate the thought, and I wish also to express my own appreciation.

Sincerely yours,

Fannie H. Wilbur.
