

11-29-1944

Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated November 29, 1944

Edith Speert

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith>

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Speert, Edith, "Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated November 29, 1944" (1944). Speert, Edith and Victor A.. Paper 25.
<http://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith/25>

This Personal Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the Letters by Civilian Women at DigitalCommons@Bryant University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Speert, Edith and Victor A. by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Bryant University. For more information, please contact dcommons@bryant.edu.

LETTER ONE HUNDRED THIRTEEN-EDITH TO VIC

Wednesday, 11/29/44

8:15 p.m.

Sweetheart darling,

Amy Embry called me up & we chatted for quite a while. She claims air mail is faster than V-mail, but so far, that hasn't been true in our case. I always get your V-mails before your air mails, altho' I must admit I enjoy your air mails more because they have more news & details.

As I finished talking to Amy, Mrs. Bingham, our neighbor across the street, came in, and I promised her I'd buy a $100.00 bond from her as soon as I receive your money order for $80.00. It should be along shortly, I believe!

Well, I have an app't for Tues. to give blood! It took me quite a while to get around to it, but now that I have, I guess I'll give as many times as I'm able.

After I finish this letter to you I think I'll start the book "Seasoned Timer" by Dorothy Canfield. I remember this book as being "recommended reading" in several classrooms.

Today, I heard from the Melnikoffs--announcing the birth of Ruth Ann Melnikoff on Nov. 15, '44. Gosh, isn't that wonderful?-- I shall send them some sort of gift Saturday. Also-rec'd a card from Geo. Miller--he's still at Fort Sam Houston.--By the way, dearest, you might send the Melnikoffs a "congratulatory" note.

Today, for no good reason, I kept recalling the day we spent together in Longview, Texas, after our bag was stolen & the train was late. I remember our walking 'round & 'round the town-&, I wasn't bored. You never have bored me-you're a fascinating companion & husband & I love you dearly, my darling.

Yours forever,

Edith