Honoring a life well lived – Patricia (Carroll) deWeger ‘81

THEY WERE AN UNLIKELY GROUP OF FRIENDS: Freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior women pursuing a variety of degrees and majors. Karen (Mirarchi) Amidon ‘81, Nancy Carlson ‘78, Katie (Cassels) Winter ‘79, Donna (Dubois) McConnell ‘80, Kathy Lopes ‘80, Sue (Delehanty) Savitt ‘78, Margaret (Amaral) Francoeur ‘81, Lynn (Donnelly) Bisighini ‘81, Marie (Fratiello) Sammartino ‘81, Marie (Cooper) Liberty ‘81, and Jo-Anna Perfetto ‘81 all had something in common, however: the friendship of a special woman, Patti (Carroll) deWeger ‘81.

"If you think of all of us as spokes in a wheel," says Kathy Lopes, "Patti was the hub." As the center of these 12 women, Patti organized a lot of their activities. "One of her favorite things to do was to walk around campus, meeting up with people and enjoying the scenery," says Kathy.

"We had so many great times during our senior year," says Lynn Bisighini. "We won the Christmas decorating contest in our dorm when we first moved in.

"She never complained," says Lynn. "She always focused on the positive." Adds Kathy, "Patti had strong faith, a loving family and husband, and was kind and thoughtful. She was a good friend to all."

The week after Patti died in June 2009, her friends decided that the best way to honor her was by establishing an endowed scholarship at Bryant. Together with funds set aside for Bryant in Patti's will, they have raised more than half of the $25,000 needed to endow the scholarship.
"If you think of all of us as spokes in a wheel, Patti was the hub."

Rather than wait, Patti’s friends decided to begin immediately awarding a $2,500 Patricia (Carroll) deWeger Partners-in-Scholarship to a deserving student. The first recipient is Stephanie Kirk ’10 (Pompton Lakes, NJ), a management major with a 3.05 GPA, who is a Student Ambassador and a member of the Student Senate and Special Olympics Management Team. Stephanie embodies Patti’s spirit of giving without expecting to receive something in return.

Patti really loved Bryant, and we couldn’t think of a better way to celebrate a life that was so well lived,” says Kathy. Lynn continues, “She is sorely missed.”

Manufacturing a successful career: Cynthia Schmitt-Sprinkle ’81
Alumna cuts her own path in a traditionally male-dominated industry.

Although she’s got these qualities in spades, Cynthia Schmitt-Sprinkle ’81 knows that it takes more than drive and ambition to succeed in the world of manufacturing — especially if you’re a woman. You must be ready to navigate a sometimes difficult road where potholes are plentiful.

"There were definitely times over the years that I questioned whether it was worth it," she says, "but I pushed on, and I’m glad I found the strength to continue."

One key to her success, she believes, is the foundation she received at Bryant. “What Bryant gave me was a professional polish," says Cynthia. “I never wavered from that, and that helped me overcome so many obstacles I encountered.”

As Chief Financial Officer of the Global Financial Services division at PitneyBowes, a global manufacturing and business solutions firm in Stamford, CT, Cynthia draws heavily on her Bryant background in accounting as well as her multitude of roles in finance at international corporate giants such as Playtex International, United Distillers (now Diageo), and Sara Lee. She’s traveled the globe planning and implementing mergers and consolidations, all while maintaining a home and family.

“It’s a fine balance to manage your family, an interesting and dynamic career, and a great marriage," says Cynthia. “I’ve been fortunate to be able to achieve that balance.”

Because she believes her experiences at college helped shape her, Cynthia gives to the Bryant Annual Fund every year. Through her company’s matching gift program, she is able to participate at the Bryant Leadership Council of Donors level. “I know that I am a thriving professional woman today in part because of Bryant,” she says. “It’s important to be supportive so that others can have the same opportunities I did.”

Check with your company’s human resources office to see if you can increase the impact of your gift!

Rising to the “Challenge”

In times of uncertainty, we look to our leaders for guidance and direction. Bryant’s Board of Trustees showed us how leaders of character inspire others when they pledged to match all new and increased gifts to the Bryant Annual Fund, up to $100,000.

Mike Fisher ’67, chairman of the board, knows from personal experience how difficult it can be to shoulder the financial burden of college tuition. When he was a student, the scholarships and loans he received only went so far, and he was forced to drop out for a year and a half to work full time to support his young family and save to finish his education.

“I was a few years older than other full-time students and was already married,” he says. “I relied on my wife, Karen, for financial and emotional support, and I feel fortunate that I was able to return and complete my degree requirements when so many are not.”

Because Mike credits his Bryant education with his success in business, he was motivated to play a key role in establishing this year’s Trustee Challenge. Among several priority initiatives made possible by the Annual Fund, student scholarships are especially vital in this challenging economy. “There’s a very identifiable need in the student population,” Mike says.

“Bryant prepares students for the real world in ways that go beyond the classroom,” he explains. “We don’t want students having to leave our campus because there wasn’t a helping hand that made funds available to help bridge this period we’re all living through.”

Alumni, parents, and friends rose to the occasion and met the challenge. The $4.1 million raised through annual and capital gifts will help support the next generation of students.

Mike believes in Bryant and hopes all alumni will continue to support their alma mater. “If ever there was a time when you should be giving,” he says, “now is the time.”

Student scholarships are especially vital in this challenging economy. Mike Fisher ’67, chairman of Bryant’s Board of Trustees, was motivated to play a key role in this year’s Trustee Challenge. Scholarships help make educational goals a reality. Support students every year with a gift to the Annual Fund.

Bulldogs gnaw on the competition

In their first year of playing against Division I teams, Bryant student athletes prove they have the pedigree to be champions.

From competing against better-established teams to a grueling road schedule to needing improved facilities and equipment, sports programs transitioning to Division I must clear many hurdles — both on and off the field. Bryant’s varsity teams, however, made it look easy.

“We are very excited about our response to the challenges,” says Bill Smith, director of athletics. “In the 2008-2009 season, we posted a .500 winning percentage against our NEC rivals.”

Bill believes the future bodes well for the Bulldogs because, in addition to a strong showing on the field, this year student athletes had their best year academically.

“The coaches and I are proud of our student athletes,” he says. “They were able to respond not only on the fields, but also in the classroom.”

The athletics director attributes much of the program’s success to the support of a generous group of alumni.

“Our new locker room facilities provide the student athletes with a year-round home for their equipment and a classroom conducive to learning how to play better,” he says.

Trustee and alumnus David Beirne ’85 says that Bryant’s enormous strides in academics and athletics prompted him to personally donate $1 million toward the locker room renovations. “Since I was a student and captain of our club lacrosse team 25 years ago, we have transitioned to Division I athletics with great success,” he says. “We now compete on a national level with the best athletic programs in the country, and our need for a facility commensurate with that opportunity was imperative.”

It’s not only the facilities that need to be supported, as alumnus Jeffrey Doppelt ’73 is aware. His annual gifts to a variety of teams help them compete on the field with new, top-quality equipment. “It’s been exciting to see my alma mater play Division I schools in the New York area,” he says. “Bryant’s name is getting out there, and I’ve been extremely proud of the way they’ve proven themselves against more established teams. The coaches and players are so appreciative of the support.”

2009 Senior Class sets participation record, raises 35K

More than 50 percent of the Class of 2009 donates, which President Machtley commemorates by jumping into the pond.

Being thrown in the dark and murky Bryant Pond on your birthday is a tradition that persists today, almost 40 years after the opening of the Smithfield campus — but it’s not something that many look forward to.

President Ronald K. Machtley braved the unknown and dove, head first, into the pond this past May to fulfill his end of a bargain struck with the Class of 2009. If half the seniors donated to the Senior Class Gift Campaign, President Machtley would take a swim in the pond’s “pristine waters.”

When the totals were in, the campaign set a Bryant record with 414 donors, for a 51 percent participation rate. He paid the piper on a picture-perfect spring day with members of the Class of 2009, faculty, and staff cheering him on.

President Machtley’s incentive to the seniors is just one part of the University’s effort to build a culture of philanthropy in the students — a move that strengthens Bryant’s fiscal foundation and standing in the rankings.

The Senior Class Gift committee for 2009 had a record 20 active members and was led by co-chairs Normand Duquette (Rehoboth, MA),

Hannah Jorgensen (Spruce Head, ME), and Anne Koskey-Wagoner (Lynn, MA). Machtley thanked the co-chairs for their exemplary leadership when he announced his intention to fulfill his promise to the seniors.

“Through their hard work and diligent efforts, they brought the Senior Class Gift initiative to the next level of excellence.”

The money raised purchased two bulldog statues to adorn the visitor entrance to Bulldog Stadium. The gift helped signify a new era in athletics for Bryant as the members of the Class of 2009 led the University into its first year of Division I competition. The choice of the gift was voted on by the senior class.

Gift means "the world to Bryant students"
When looking at colleges with their son, Bill Pappas P'11 recalls being struck by Bryant University's Sophomore International Experience and the University's ambitious goal of making the program available to all qualified sophomores.

He was glad when his son Christopher '11 (Cheshire, CT) decided to take part in the SIE, which features a semester-long class that concludes with a two-week travel experience with fellow Bryant students, faculty and staff members.

At that age, Bill notes, some kids are afraid to venture outside what's comfortable.

Christopher's participation in SIE, Bill says, "meant my wife and I had been doing something right."

"I remember me, growing up at that age, and what I had to do, which was go to work. My first plane trip was to Vietnam," says Bill. "I am so pleased that my son had this opportunity."

The trip to China was a powerful experience for his son, says Bill. "He got to visit a place he might never get to see again, travel with friends, eat strange foods, and live in a culture very different from anything he has known."

"After the trip," Bill remembers, "it was all Chris talked about."

His son also talked about how some students weren’t able to go to China.

"I understand that the economy now may weigh in the decision-making process."

"Sue and I felt that if we could give someone the chance to experience the Sophomore International Experience, we wanted to do that," says Bill. The couple, already Parents Council members, contributed $10,000, becoming the first major SIE donors.

"I really hope the Sophomore International Experience becomes part of the curriculum, so all the kids can enjoy the program," says Bill. "It's well worth the cost. I just think the confidence these kids will gain is the important thing. I don't think they realize how much self confidence they'll need once they start their careers."

Christopher has now traveled to more fun places than his mother and father.

"He's become a very independent young man," Bill says with pride. "He's really amazing. And his friends are all gentlemen and polite, everything I hope my son is."

Bill says he also hopes his son "realizes what his mother and I do for the community and he'll remember to be a good corporate citizen and be a generous person."
When Mell Mann, a 23-year University employee, talks about the Campus Campaign with fellow staff members, he tells them why he gives: “The money goes to the kids. It’s a good cause.”

The Campus Campaign allows the community of Bryant employees — maintenance, support staff, administration, public safety, and faculty — to directly help deserving students whose families are facing financial challenges. The goal of the 2010 campaign is to raise $75,000 with a 50 percent participation rate.

Mann has a pretty good idea how much the Campaign helps Bryant students. He gets to know them as he goes about his job as lead custodian on second shift, as he sits beside them in class as a student himself, or through his daughter, a Bryant junior.

“I feel thankful for all Bryant has given me,” says Mann. “Through continuous giving, I believe I’m helping to keep Bryant a great university.”

“A dollar a week is a valued contribution,” he assures fellow Bryant employees. “Increasing the rate of participation is one of the campaign’s goals. We are grateful for whatever people are able to give.”

Judy Barrett Litoff, professor of history, says giving to the Campus Campaign, she says, “was a no-brainer, really.”

“Bryant has given so much to me over the years,” she says, “so many opportunities to grow as a professor and personally as well.”

Notes Litoff, who is considered one of the preeminent historians of American women and World War II, “Around the country, with cutbacks at all colleges and universities, many of them are really feeling the pinch.”

“We’re feeling the pinch at Bryant, too,” she says, “but here academics are still a major priority. Let me give you just one example. I’ve been very involved in the World War II project, Bryant College Goes to War, and even in this very difficult economy, Bryant found the resources to allow me to take eight students to a national conference to present their research about the wartime contributions of Bryant alumni. When I tell colleagues around the country about this opportunity, they are almost dumbfounded.”

“We are all feeling the effects of the troubled economy,” Litoff says. “But I would hope that everyone who normally gives would keep Bryant high on their list of worthy causes because it is such a wise investment.”

In kicking off the Campus Campaign, President Ronald K. Machray congratulated the Bryant community for “raising money to help wonderful, academically-superlative students earn an education at Bryant.”

Basketball Hall of Famers establish scholarship to honor coach

At the Gala Reception during Reunion & Homecoming 2009, Coach Tom Duffy gratefully acknowledges a scholarship in his name established by players and friends.

In 1964, Tom Duffy, an outstanding Rhode Island coach and teacher, was hired to lead varsity men’s basketball as the sport became more popular on campus. In the 1966-67 season, the team won the Naismith Conference Championship and the NAIA District 32 National tournament, going above and beyond all expectations and establishing Bryant as a basketball powerhouse in New England. The “dream team” was inducted into the Bryant Athletics Hall of Fame in 2007.

It’s safe to say that Coach Duffy helped to change the course of Bryant basketball, but he left a lasting impression on his student athletes as well. Recently many of his players and friends decided to honor and thank him by establishing a scholarship in his name. The announcement was made at a gala dinner during Reunion & Homecoming 2009. Joining Coach Duffy were Tony DeQuattro ’67, ’74 MBA, Mike Fisher ’67, Bob Kells ’76, Ed McManus ’69, John McVeigh ’68, and Jim Squadrito ’68. Also in attendance was Sean Haas ’12, a marketing major and lacrosse player from Farmingdale, NY, the first Coach Tom Duffy Scholarship recipient.

Scholarships help make educational goals a reality for many deserving students. If you would like to contribute to the Coach Tom Duffy Scholarship, you may send a check made payable to: Bryant University. Please note on the check: Coach Duffy Scholarship. Mail to: Development Office, Bryant University, 1150 Douglas Pike, Smithfield, RI 02917.
Your donations at work

Bryant University is home to some of the world’s brightest and most capable students. As an alumnus/a, you know this firsthand. Here are some of the ways in which your gift makes a difference in the lives of today’s students:

- Annual Fund: Contributions to the Annual Fund allow guest speakers from corporate America, politics, and the arts to broaden the world view of our students. In addition, student organizations and clubs such as the Accounting Association. Thanks to your generosity, WMBF radio station.

- Facilities: In the last 10 years, Bryant has built a new library, wellness center, Interfaith Center, and residence halls—all of which benefit the minds, bodies, and souls of the community.

- Library and Scholarship Endowment: Endowments help students in perpetuity, as the annual gifts are taken from the interest earned on the principal. Establishing an endowment is a legacy.
Nominations for Alumni Achievement Awards are being accepted through Dec. 1, 2009. Nomination forms are available online at www.bryant.edu/alumni.

These pages recognize those who made gifts to Bryant University between July 1, 2008, and June 30, 2009. Despite making every effort to list all donors correctly, errors and omissions may have inadvertently occurred. If your name appears incorrectly or is not listed, please contact the Office of Development at (877) 353-5667 so we can correct our records for future recognition. Thank you.

Picture yourself at the Bryant University Club of Boston!

Sweeping views of Boston. Outstanding personal service. A full calendar of entertaining activities.

Effective immediately, Bryant alumni are eligible for full membership privileges at the Downtown Harvard Club of Boston. There are many ways to make us part of your life: business and family entertaining, holiday parties, wine dinners, Celtics and Bruins events, and theater packages are just the beginning.

Discover what thousands of alumni from 10 local colleges and universities already know:
There's no place quite like the Downtown Harvard Club of Boston.

As a special incentive for Bryant Alumni, the Downtown Harvard Club is discounting the initiation fee from $400 to $250 for those who sign up by December 22, 2009!
