Delta Omega Plans Three Spring Semester Meetings

By Sid Tinson

The Delta Omega Professional Society welcomes all its members back for three more dinner—speaker meetings during the coming semester. A special welcome is also extended to those second semester freshmen who are interested in joining our campus' largest organization.

Our first dinner—meeting will be held on February 13th at the Admiral Inn, Cumberland, R. I. at which time the New England Division Credit Manager for the Mobil Oil Corporation—Mr. Vernon W. Loveitt—will be our guest speaker. Mr. Loveitt will address the organization with a topic of great importance in today's business world, consumer credit. Today's business is surely one of credit and credit cards, and therefore Mr. Loveitt's topic is certainly timely for our organization.

Vernon Loveitt is a 1940 graduate of the University of Rhode Island in Kingston and holds a B.S. in B.A. from this institution. He was an Assistant Operations Officer in the U. S. Army from 1940 to 1946 and served in the South Pacific Theatre of

Dorm Girls Protest Basement Furniture Storage

On Wednesday afternoon, February 8, the residents of Allan Hall staged a protest over the fact that the basement of the dorm was used for the purpose of storing old furniture.

INDIAN STAR TOM SMILE

Tom Smile, ace Bryant shooter who is currently ranked fourth amongst the NCAA national small college scoring leaders with a 31.0 average, posted the 2000th point of his cage career against Gordon College. Smile had 35 points for the night as the Indians took the warpath to a 110-89 victory.

FACULTY FAVORED TO OVERTURN G.L.C. ALL-STARS

By Rich Ross

Saturday, February 18, at 12:30 p. m. at Hope High, a strong Bryant Faculty will tackle the hard hitting G.L.C. squad.

The all starts will be coached by veteran pilots Jack (Red) Minnehan and Bob (Alex) Weisner. In an interview with the coaches they were unwilling to disclose any game strategy; however, experts have predicted a hit-and-run type game.

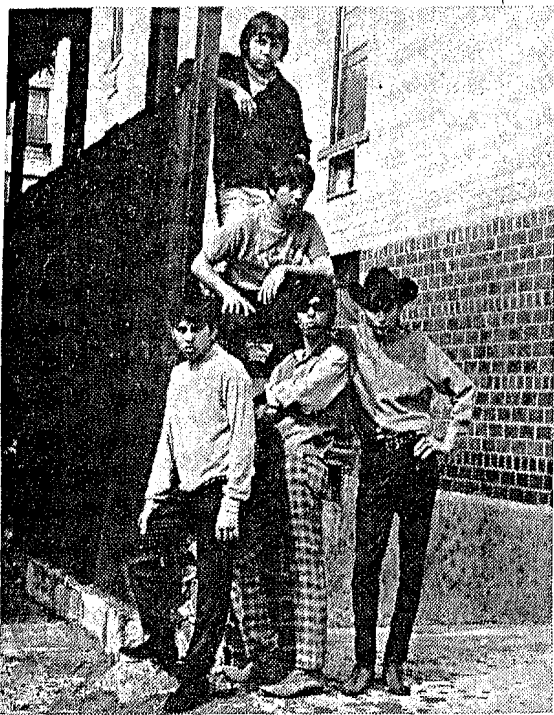

The team's line-up will include Irwin "Dunk-it" Kurns,

"Dangerous" Art Wexler, "Bouncing" Jim Figara, Gentry "Pretty Boy" Clark, Dave "the Shot" Benivitas, Gerry "Legs" Roy, Rich "Swish" Ross, Ronnie Cio and John "Rookie" Kaplan.

The faculty team, coached by varsity pilot Tom Duffy, is predicting an easy victory. Former All-American Arthur Boulet is slated to start. However, rumor has it he won't be wearing his white socks. Also showing much promise to gain a starting assignment are Harry Robinson, Wally Camper, Sam Ramsay, and fast-shooting Tom Manion. The team will be backed up by a strong bench including Bill Sweeney, Joe Reynolds, Dr. Leger Morrison, Bob Meek, Fred Reinhardt, and Fred Gaucher. Also, look for the appearance of another super-star—Dick Alberg.

The G.L.C.-Faculty game will be followed by the Bryant-Suffolk game. Admission will be $1.00 for both games. The G.L.C. urges all students to attend.

QUESTION MARK & THE MYSTERIANS Featured at G.L.C. Winter Weekend

By Rich Ross

Question Mark and the Mysterians (of "96 Tears" fame) will be the star attraction at the G.L.C. dance Saturday night, February 18, from 8 to 12 p. m. Also featured will be the popular "Tuesday's Children" a British Rock Group.

Question Mark and the Mysterians of late have played at Penn State, Michigan State, U. of Texas, and other big schools. The group is currently featured as the lead attraction on the 1967 MARCH OF DIMES TOUR. Among this group's hit records are "96 Tears," "I Need Somebody," "Stormy Monday," and "Up Side."

Also in the same show, Tuesday's Children, a local group which has made a name for itself with its British sound, will round out the program.

The dance will be held at the Bryant Gym and the dress will be casual.

Students' Exhibit At the Library

With the help of books, an Appalachian guide, and maps all borrowed from Jacobs Library, Dick Carlson, BEX, and Ed Suchecki, BEX, took off last May at the semester end for a canoe trip down the Connecticut River.

Their daily log, the color pictures they took, the data they gathered regarding their trip—their planning and expedition—are on exhibit in the glass case in the Main Circulation Room of the Library together with The Archway's fine story of this adventure. The exhibit will remain through the month of January.

The Quest For Peace

Man's quest for peace is virtually as old as man, himself. The Amphictyonic League of the ancient Greeks forbade its members to engage in atrocities against one another. The Pax Romana maintained peace under Roman domination for 200 years, from 27 B.C. to 180 A.D. In the Middle Ages the Truce of God banned warfare on Sunday and Holy Days.

Down through the centuries there has been a continuous stream of peace councils, conferences, congresses, leagues, alliances and conventions, culminating in the United Nations and the on-going Geneva peace talks.

Except for historians, few remember Henry IV's Grand Design, in the early 1600's for a European council supported by troops of member states. Or the League of Augsburg, following the Thirty Years War or the International Peace Congresses during the 1840's. None of these earnest efforts had more than temporary results, though some, like the Geneva Convention, of 1864, brought certain fringe benefits. The Convention led to the Red Cross and still is invoked to mitigate the hardships of the wounded and captured. (The Nuclear Test Ban Treaty might be considered another such fringe benefit—if it is accepted by new members of the Nuclear Club, which hardly seems likely.)

Not all the quests for peace have been in the hands of government, diplomats and political leaders. Private citizens, too, have joined the search for a solution to warfare, both as individuals and as members of national and international organizations.

The International Association of Lions Clubs has inaugurated a novel approach. It is a $50,000 international peace essay contest for young people aged 14 to 21, inclusive, designed to explore ways by which people can live together in peace. The contest will be held in the 136 countries where 800,000 lions members work toward the improvement of international understanding and goodwill among nations.

The first prize is a $25,000 educational or career assistance grant and there will be eight additional awards of $1,000. The finalists will be brought to Lions International's 50th Anniversary convention in Chicago in July, 1967, where the top winner will be chosen.

The contest subject, "Peace is Attainable," is a positive affirmation of man's age-long quest for peace. And who knows but that some young man or young woman may find the way. At least, the Lions will have further expanded their efforts to establish person-to-person contacts across borders, surmounting language and cultural barriers.

Dorm Girls Protest, etc.

After removing such items from the cellar to the Gardner Hall courtyard as a blackboard, a wastebasket, miscellaneous pieces of wood, wire, Venetian blinds, soda bottles, and trunks—the girls sang and displayed posters stating their position. Within minutes, a crowd of on-lookers had gathered yelling approval and egging the girls on.

The reason behind the controversy according to Allan residents, was the fact that in the rooms in the basement where clothes are hung up to dry, many of the articles they moved out to the courtyard had been scattered over the floors, creating, some of the girls maintained, a safety hazard.

The girls claimed also that the basement rooms, and particularly the wash rooms, were musty, dirty, and poorly lighted. Ironing must be done elsewhere because of this, they maintained.

The residents were originally ordered to dispose of the debris which they had placed outside, but the college's refuse contractor beat them to it and had the items in question hauled away by 6:30 that night.

Dean of Women Mrs. Philomena Castronovo said that the first time she heard of the request for clean basements came on January 30, but the girls claim they have continually asked for a cleanup since September. The Dean said she had a standing agreement with the College Maintenance Department concerning basement clean-up, but one Allan resident said a check at Maintenance showed no requisition for the job had been received by them.

In the background of the protest was the vending machine issue. The girls figured that if the cellar was cleared, room could be made for machines which had been removed from the main floors of the dorms last summer because of constant breakdowns and malfunctioning. The Dean said that she was agreeable to the installation of machines in the basement, but was awaiting an official report on the matter to be submitted by the Dormitory Council, which is presently working on the matter. Until this is received, no action can be taken on the problem.

In regard to the rumor that the girls are restricted to campus for a month; as originally reported on WPRO-TV, there is no truth in it. As of press time, no discipline had been levied on the residents, although the student body is curiously awaiting the results of a meeting of both sides.

GLC LAUNCHES ANNUAL HEART FUND DRIVE

By Art Wexler

Probably the backbone of Greek letter organizations at Bryant College, and at colleges and universities all over the nation, is their willingness to benefit people, not only in their own particular group, but also people in need everywhere. That is the purpose of a public service help project.

Last year the Bryant College Greek Letter Council collected more money for the Heart Fund than ANY OTHER ORGANIZATION IN THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND. The reason for this outstanding success was determination.

However, we cannot just be satisfied with the results of last year. We must do even a better job than last year. This year the goal will be to reach 250 people on the East Side of Providence. The drive will be under the direction of Dave Benevides and will take place on Sunday, February 19, between 12 and 4 p. m.

The Greek Letter Council hopes that every individual at Bryant College can share the pride in knowing that our efforts next Sunday, and efforts like ours all across the country, can some day lick heart diseases.

A.M.A. - You Should Belong

By Sid Tinson,
A.M.A. Vice President

The American Marketing Association Collegiate Chapter will begin its semester program on February 14 with a sign-up and speaker meeting at 7:30 P.M. in the Auditorium of the Student Activities Building. An invitation is extended to all students to join this national organization if they are not already members.

A program of several speaker meetings and a banquet is planned for this semester. Our marketing speakers are noted for excellence in their field. These speakers will acquaint you with the competitive demands of the marketing profession and present you with approaches currently being used to meet these demands.

On February 14 we are presenting a speaker who is a leading executive in the automotive after-market (parts) field, Mr. Ray Licht of the Carol Cable Company in Pawtucket, R. I.

Mr. Licht is the Assistant Sales Manager of Carol Cable, Automotive Division. He is a 1955 graduate of Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan, where he majored in history and English. He taught for two semesters prior to joining, in 1956, the Monroe Auto Equipment Co., Monroe, Michigan. With Monroe, a leading manufacturer of ride control products, he worked in an executive position before being drafted into the Army in May, 1956. He served until 1958, when he again returned to Monroe. He worked as a sales engineer for 3 years in the New England area for Monroe.

In 1960 he was made National Accounts Representative for Monroe in Chicago. In this capacity he was responsible for Oil Company and Tire Company sales in the mid-west.

Ray Licht joined the Carol Wire and Cable Company in 1965, just a short ten years of success after graduating from college. He is helping to lead Carol, the "leading independent" in automotive cable, in the position of Assistant Sales Manager. Mr. Licht will present a talk on marketing approaches in the automotive after-market, a talk which can not be found in a textbook. The American Marketing Association is looking forward to this dynamic marketing speaker for its semester kick-off meeting and once again invites all serious business students to attend and join the A.M.A., a nationally recognized organization.

A.M.A. Banquet

At the conclusion of last semester a banquet was held at the Admiral Inn in Cumberland, R. I. An excellent meal was enjoyed by all members followed by short addresses by graduating Vice-President, Bill Thomas, and faculty advisor, Mr. McKillop.

Bill Thomas spoke of his personal gains from the A.M.A., his upcoming sales position with Eastman Kodak Corp. in Rochester, and his personal opinions on the growth of the A.M.A. at Bryant. Mr. McKillop followed Bill's address with praise for Bill's service to the A.M.A. and he then spoke about the benefits we all gain from business speakers who attend our meetings.

The evening banquet was closed after a successor was elected to the Vice-President position. With this election the following officers will serve the A.M.A. for the coming semester:

Sid Tinson—Vice President

Mike Poissant—President

Bob Shapiro—Treasurer

Pat Tasy—Secretary

The organization urges all interested students to contact these officers for information on the American Marketing Association Collegiate Chapter.

Bryant To Play Important Role In Project Cope

Bryant College has agreed to perform for the Providence Public Schools, in a faithful and workmanlike manner, the following work:

1. Review the present business education curriculum and make recommendations for modernizing content, equipment, and teaching techniques to conform to latest research findings and to meet the needs of modern business; and
2. Review the present business management of Providence schools and recommend more effective methods in the light of the growing complexity of school business affairs.
3. Work in coordination with the other four colleges in Project C O P E.

Dean Mercier will head the group reviewing business education curriculum.

Dean Gulski will head the group reviewing the business management of the Providence Schools.

The group reviewing the business education curriculum is composed of Dr. Priscilla Phillips, Mrs. Marie Cote, Mrs. Clarissa Patterson, and Dean Lionel H. Mercier.

Pool Table Vandalism

By Paul Pietras

Sometime between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays the money slot operated pool tables in the recreation room of the Student Activities Building were broken into and money stolen from it. The theft of the money has been known to have occurred at least nine times during this period. Since the tables themselves are very expensive and the cost of maintenance quite high, the college cannot afford to install them at their own expense; this is the reason for the twenty cent charge per game. The coin operated tables have two advantages: (1) 50% of the money received from the tables goes to the activities fund and (2) the remaining money contributes to the cost of using and maintaining the tables. The college is not out to hang the students responsible for stealing the money but would like to let them know that they are jeopardizing the students who use the tables.

If these incidents continue to occur, the tables will have to be removed from the building permanently. New locks have been installed to insure that this does not happen again, and we can only hope that whoever is responsible for these thefts think twice before he hurts himself and those students who enjoy the recreation facilities provided by the pool tables.

Once again the Phi Sig bowling team is first in the fraternity league by defeating SLP and capturing four out of four points in last week's competition. Also, out of seventy-five bowlers in both the fraternity and independent leagues, three out of four of the Phi Sig bowlers are in the top ten as far as final averages are concerned. They are Ken Crystal with a 180 average and tied for first place; George Goodman with a 166 average and in sixth place; and Bunny DeCesaris who is in tenth place. As of now the total point accumulation is 30 wins and 12½ losses.

Athletic director Ivan Purdy is busily at work coordinating the 1967 Phi Sig basketball team. After several practices Coach Ivan is hoping for repeat performances by sharp-shooting Dave Benevides, Dom Proto, Joe Nidzyn, Rick Imondi, and Ken Crystal.

Operation. Mr. Lovett joined Socony Vacuum Oil Co., Inc. in 1947 as a creditman in the District Office in Portland, Maine.

In 1955, Mr. Lovett was appointed Assistant Division Credit manager for Socony Mobil Oil, Boston, Mass. He served in this capacity until 1957 when he was promoted to Division Credit manager for Mobil in Boston. He attended Mobil Basic Organization and Management Course at Terrytown, New York, in 1963 and Mobil Advanced Management Course at Princeton, New Jersey in 1965.

Mr. Lovett is a member of the Eastern Petroleum Credit Association in which he was President from 1964 to 1966, and a member of their Board of Governors from 1963 to 1966. He also holds membership in the American Petroleum Credit Association and the New England Association of Credit Executives. Mr. Lovett realizes the importance and benefits of these types of organizations.

All this adds up to another prominent executive in the business world. Delta Omega again encourages you to be an active member of our organization. Be with us when we welcome Mr. Vernon W. Lovett, Mobil Oil Corporation Credit executive, as our guest and speaker this Monday evening, February 13th.

Those who are already members are reminded that by paying for the next three meetings before Monday night, they can qualify for a discount. Be sure to see an officer of Delta Omega to check on further information concerning your status.

SPORTS

Indians Have Won 17; All-Time Record Already Established

Coach Tom Duffy's Indianagers have jumped to an impressive 17-0 record and all indicators at present point to what should become the best record in the school's basketball history. Since reviving the sport on an intercollegiate basis just a few years back, Indian backers have watched with glee as the record has become more and more impressive. As of this writing the squad is in the number six position in the weekly U.P.I. ratings of small college teams in the New England area. The team is averaging 95.64 points per game while holding the opposition to 76.10.

For those who have felt that Bryant is a one-man team, this season has certainly proved that the Indian attack is well rounded rather than being solely dependent on Smile. To quote John Hanlon of the Providence Journal in his Sportscope of January 24, "But he (Smile) is not all Bryant is. This is a fine quick team that has considerable balance, plus a bench that could keep the scoring going after Smile, who went out with 5:53 to play, and the other starters had been relieved".

Hanlon's statement is so true. Fellow captains Ted Alsup and Tony De Quattro combined with the remainder of the squad give the team a good all around offensive punch as well as a tenacious defensive attack. Bryant's opponents have found out the hard way that when they key their defenses to Smile it will only invite shooting heroics from one of the other members of the squad.

If you want to watch some really good small college basketball, be sure to follow the Indians as they shoot to bring home their third Naismith Conference crown.

The remaining games are as follows:

MON., FEB. 13—Bentley College, Home—8:00 p.m.

WED., FEB. 15—Nichols College, Home—8:00 p.m.

FRI., FEB. 17—Babson College, Away—8:00 p.m.

SAT., FEB. 18—Suffolk University, Home—2:00 p.m.

SAT., FEB. 25—Gordon College, Away—8:00 p.m.

Support Your Teams They Deserve It!!!

January 9, 1967, was a date that will long be remembered in Bryant basketball history. In a Naismith Conference game against Gordon College of Wenham, Mass., a standing-room-only crowd saw Tom Smile put on a first-half scoring show that would have been hard for any one to match.

Entering the game, Smile needed only 4 points to cross the magic 2000 mark. With just 1:44 gone in the first half, Don Gray hit Smile with a neat pass on a fast break and the former Tolman all-stater dropped in a layup. At this point the game was stopped and Dean John McCabe, Adviser to the Lettermen's Club, presented the game ball to Smile who received a standing ovation from the crowd.

The Indians were on top 8-2 at this point in the game, but a scrappy Gordon team fought back to tie it at 8-8. The score was tied a total of 8 times before Bryant broke a 40-40 deadlock on a basket by Smile with 2:31 left in the half. The home team went on to take a 61-44 half-time advantage.

Bryant opened fast in the second half and held an 81-55 lead with ten minutes remaining. From this point on they never looked back as they cruised to the 9th straight victory of the season 110-89.

Smile, who scored 353 points in his first half year, 606 in the 1964-65 season, 802 in 1965-66, and 341 through 11 games this season, had a spectacular shooting night against Gordon. He hit on 14 of 24 from the floor and seven of eight free throws before leaving the game with six minutes remaining on the clock. Of his 35 points for the night, 28 came in the first half, while in the second half he left some of the scoring to 6'4" freshman George Yates. Yates garnered 18 points for the night, 14 of which came in the late part of the game. Jim Squadrito, displaying his usual basketball know-how and drive, also impressed his followers with 10 points in the second half while another outstanding freshman, Don Gray, had 16 for the night.

In the most recent NCAA college division statistical summary, Smile is ranked 4th in the national scoring race with an even 31.0 average.

The sisters would like to welcome back this semester Marlene Gorab, Phila Morawiec, and Nancy Rymanski. How does it feel to be a student again?

Our trip to Mt. Snow (Mt. Mud) proved to be very exciting, more exciting than we expected. Although we were ankle deep in mud and the skiing wasn't the best, all had a great time. What would we have done without Cindy with her skiing into lakes and losing her skis; we were all kept busy!

A belated congratulations to Ronnie Rappoport and Susan Keil on their pinning last month. Best of luck to you both from the sisters.

Congratulations to all those receiving bids, and good luck!!! Today begins the long awaited pledging! Pam is now well stocked up on throat lozenges. Any bets on how long their voices will hold out?

Whoever thought that a routine trip to the bank would result in pennies from heaven. Thanks, Bill Conaty from the SIBBIES!

Thank you George M. Cohan for the inspiration for our two new songs. Don't worry. You will hear them plenty during pledging.

Phi Sig has been holding interviews for the pledge class of 1967. The interviews were held Feb. 1, 6, and 7, and on Wed. 8, the bids were distributed. Congratulations to all who received bids and good luck during pledging.

Next, a champagne party will be held at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel Saturday, Feb. 11. Both brothers and pledgees are invited. Pledges, make sure you have a good time because pledging starts on Sunday.

Over the mid-semester break Phi Sig made an excursion to Mt. Snow, Vermont. This trip was one of the best ever. A chalet was rented near the mountain and was packed with people. All enjoyed themselves even though only a few actually skied. Most of the success of the trip can be attributed to organizers Otto, Milford, and also to Dunn's General Store. Aeyah!!

Last but not least, congratulations to alumni Mike Benjamin. After three years of hard work he graduated in Jan. 1967. As of now Mike is taking a well deserved rest and plans to go into the Air Force as an officer in March. Best of luck.

Well, now that we're back to good old Bryant we must not waste any time hitting the books and getting valuable knowledge. Too much work and no "play" seems to be the cardinal virtue of Bryant professors. BIB doesn't see it quite that way. We're very glad to say that only one brother has been lost through graduation and that same brother is expecting a little Mulford in the near future.

Well, gentlemen it's all about to happen today at three o'clock. All I can say is "Keep the faith baby!" Our pledges deserve just one thing—Pity; right Rock?

On the lighter side, on Feb. 18, our president, "Bonesey" Wexler will display his hidden B-ball talent against the faculty at Hope High. We're glad to hear that "Ruggie" and "Chunky" both had fun in the sun at colorful Hialeah, and that the brothers are buying a pair of space shoes for Yo's sick feet. We're sorry to announce that Fran Engert had a bad semester although Bone's made up for it. Better luck this time with Taxes, Dr. Shapiro. It seems as though Genden can't even stay up here two days before going 400 miles to see his woman, and that "Pimpy" Kistiner, The National Guardsman, is pinning the Eskimo from Vernon Court. As long as I have a line to spare, I'll have to reveal the secret that Jim Zorbo is joining the PBA (Professional Bowlers Assn.) upon graduation from night school.

Congratulations go out to Sandy on her pinning and to Starr and Paul on their engagement. God Luck to Jerri and Dianne in the Best Dressed Contest. We'll all be out to see ya.

Our bowling team still has a strong hold on first place, and we are planning on a great basketball season. So, Marsha, get those kids and do your stuff.

On the sports scene, the SLF Keglers are still fighting for the top spot. Fine performances have been turned in by Al Cooper, Jeff Levy, Needles, and Barry Zimmerman. The basketball team has been hard at work the past two weeks and is determined to make a good showing in fraternity play. Those sisters who enjoyed the season's festivity at the foremost Concord Hotel included Duck (Yeta), Helaine, Keenan (Zelda), Bea, Judy, Sue, Paula, Elaine, Lynn, Sara, Barbara. It was an unforgettable 3D & 2N. Why! Do you remember — BROOKLYN COLLEGE, ZBT, JAY (swinger), SIX elevator, Champagne out the window? Last but not least — Keenan where was that HORSE PHONE?? Hey! Bea can we have that knee turn again? Backer where did you put the towels? Duck did you tell Varj about the Concord shower curtain? OH! Who took the tubes out of the T.V. set? The sisters were also a great asset to ski hill, skating, horseback-reservations, coffee (?) bar, and ball-rooms.

Those sisters who were more fortunate went south—Florida—Plotz, Varjian, Nancy, Karen.

Sigma Iota Xi will sponsor four sisters in the best dressed contest. Good luck to Karen De Rose, Rose Romagnano, Nancy Beardall, and Linda Plotkin.

We would also like to extend best wishes to all our pledges and to the other pledges of every sorority and fraternity on the Bryant Campus.

Sorority interviews are over for another year and pledges (as well as sisters) are breathing sighs of relief. However, it's really just beginning. It all starts at 3 o'clock today! Beta is really proud of our pledge class, and we wish you all GOOD LUCK (you'll need it, pledges!).

Pawtucket was the scene of a BSG-SLIP joint party last weekend. The sisters, brothers, and prospective pledges crowded into one big hall. The scene was a wild one, and we're happy to hear that everyone enjoyed himself so much.

On Feb. 5 we took our pledges to be on an ice skating party. Most of us hadn't been for years and . . . it showed! We all came out of it in one piece, though.

On the sports scene, basketball is just around the corner. We've got a promising team this year that's determined to beat last year's record.

We want to wish sister Pat Colvin the best of luck in the "Best Dressed" contest. You're a sure winner, Pat!
