HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

Cheryl Merchant

Honorary Doctor of Business Administration

Cheryl Merchant, president and chief executive officer of Hope Global, a midmarket engineered textile solutions for automotive, commercial, and industrial use, will deliver the keynote address to graduating students and guests at the Graduate School Commencement.

Under Merchant's leadership over the past 13 years, Hope Global Engineered Textile Solutions, formerly Hope Webbing, has more than doubled its revenue, product lines, and markets, evolving into a global enterprise with headquarters in Rhode Island that includes a research and development facility. The company plans to increase growth worldwide by 20 percent annually over the next three years.

Merchant's 27 years of experience in the automotive industry began at General Motors in Detroit. She continued advancing her career at Mazda and at Ford Motor Company, where she was quality control manager overseeing five manufacturing plants in Mexico. Later, at Lear Corporation, she gained further international experience in plant management, starting with a 3,500-employee operation in Mexico that fabricated automotive seat covers. Her proven abilities were put to the test as she increased production to support 20,000 vehicles each week.

An active member and past chair of the Northern Rhode Island Chamber of Commerce, Merchant's community outreach continues as a member of the Rhode Island Commodores and a trustee of the Rhode Island Public Expenditure Council.

Merchant holds a bachelor's degree from Alma College and continued her graduate studies at Oakland University.

Gina M. Raimondo
Honorary Doctor of Business Administration

Elected in November 2010, Rhode Island General Treasurer Gina M. Raimondo dedicated her first year in office to redesigning Rhode Island's state-administered public employee pension system, which culminated in the passage of comprehensive pension reform. A TIME magazine article in November 2011 stated, "Such an unexpected outbreak of responsible leadership didn't just pull Rhode Island back from the brink... it also suggested that difficult, self-sacrificing decisions are still possible."

A forceful advocate for transparency, she created the Ocean State Investment Pool, a safe, liquid, convenient, and low-cost investment vehicle to help the state and municipalities better manage and improve the investment performance of their assets. She also updated the state's bond disclosure practices and launched its first investor relations portal that pools financial information from across state government.

Prior to being elected general treasurer with an overwhelming majority, Raimondo worked for a decade as co-founder and general partner of Point Judith Capital, a venture capital firm. She also served as the senior vice president of fund development at Village Ventures. A firm believer in innovation, she was involved in dozens of successful start-up companies primarily in the health care industry.

Raimondo currently serves as vice chair of the board of directors of Crossroads Rhode Island, where she played a key role in launching a new shelter for homeless women. She is a graduate of Harvard University and Yale Law School, and she was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University.

THE HARRIET E. JACOBS MEMORIAL MACE

The University Mace is carried at Commencement exercises and at other University celebrations. Crowned in gold, the mace has two dominant emblems: the seal of the State of Rhode Island and the seal of Bryant University.

THE PRESIDENT'S CHAIR

The President's Chair, a gift to the University from Priscilla Angelo and her husband, John Eng-Wong, is used on ceremonial occasions. It is a Victorian-style gent's chair rendered in walnut and copied from an original French design from the period of the University's founding in 1863. The carved crest top includes the Bryant University bronze seal.

BRYANT MEDALLION

The Bryant Medallion is worn by the president during academic ceremonies such as Commencement, Convocation, and the bestowing of honorary degrees. One side of the medallion bears a likeness of the University seal, the other, the names of all Bryant University presidents. The formal installation of a president is marked by the presentation of the medallion to the president by the chair of the Board of Trustees.

THE BRYANT SEAL

The Bryant Seal represents the educational mission of the University and its worldwide implications. The central symbol is an ellipsoid globe with quills on each side to signify the traditional emblem of communication in business. In the center, behind the globe, is a torch symbolizing liberty, the spirit of free inquiry, academic freedom, and learning. The Archway, forming the background for the globe, torch, and quills, is a University landmark affectionately remembered by thousands of alumni. The Latin motto expresses the purpose of the University: "Cognitio. Virtus. Successus." – Knowledge. Character. Success.

ALUMNI CHARGE

Today, as you celebrate your graduation from Bryant University, you find yourself saying goodbye to the classmates, faculty, and staff with whom you have formed close friendships. Graduation, however, is not so much an ending as a transition. It's true that you're about to begin a new stage of life, but, as a Bryant University alumnus or alumna, you will always be part of the community you've come to know as a home away from home.

In fact, one of the reasons you chose Bryant was because of its close-knit community. Through the Bryant University Alumni Association, you can stay in touch with classmates by attending class reunions, regional alumni network events, and by joining the alumni online community. And, just as Bryant provided you with a solid foundation for a successful career, our alumni networks will continue to support your professional goals.

As a Bryant student, you participated in academic and civic events that not only provided you with many skills but also gave you a sense of satisfaction. As a Bryant graduate, you can stay involved by serving on University committees, advisory councils, and even the Board of Trustees. You can advance Bryant's reputation by getting involved with admission, career services, educational, and fundraising initiatives. And, throughout the year, Bryant alumni gather together to reach out to their communities through a number of volunteer programs.

Just as the Bryant community celebrated your accomplishments as a student, we will be eager to learn about your successes. Let us know when you've moved and what milestones you've reached so we can share the good news with your Bryant classmates and friends.

Congratulations on your graduation, and welcome to the Bryant University Alumni Association!

ACADEMIC HERALDRY

The history of academic dress worn today dates back to the universities of the Middle Ages. A statute in 1321 required the wearing of gowns by all scholars and clerics. Probably, the warm gown and hood were practical in the unheated buildings.

Students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence until after the Civil War. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1895. While the academic costume code has been modified over the years, the general characteristics of the initial requirements still prevail. The uniform system of academic heraldry serves to indicate the level of degree, the field of study in which it was earned, and the institution by which it was granted.

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve and can be worn open or closed. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped sleeves with black velvet facing down the front and three bars of the same across the sleeves. However, these facings and crossbars may be in the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains.

The academic hoods are lined with the color of the university granting the degree. The length of the hood varies slightly for bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. It is often traditional for the candidates for degrees to wear the mortarboard tassel on the right front side before the degree is conferred and to shift it to the left when the degree is awarded.

At Bryant University, the president, trustees, and honorary degree recipients wear specially-designed gold robes trimmed with black, representative of the University's colors.
