Prof. Waite Gives Welcome Address

Gives Key To Success

There are institutions that are existing and institutions that are progressing. Bryant-Stratton is in the latter class.

Professor Waite is truly convinced Bryant-Stratton is the best school in the East of its type. He also claims that a college degree is worth only as much as its alumni name.

Professor Waite had some good dope when he said, "There is no position worth any more than you make it." Also, "Any position can be made to be worth more by oneself."

Professor Waite advises that all pupils in B. & S. work hard so as to get substantial returns from their investment; for when one derives substantial returns from an investment, it is said to be a good investment.

Professor Waite's formula for studying is "Do the most you can in the shortest time in whatever manner you like, and you will be successful."

The two characteristics essential to get a job and hold it are one's attitude and his dignity. Anyone who is a quick learner will have no trouble in getting a job. If you are not happy at your work you will not be efficient.

Another thing Professor Waite advises to the student body is to make their teachers work.

Basket Ball Outlook Bright

Marked by stronger competition and by a larger number of opposing teams than a year ago, the Bryant-Stratton Indians will soon open their basketball season.

Under the expert coaching of Jack Winans and the able leadership of Captain Paul Hazelhurst, there seems to be little doubt that the players will better their splendid performance of last year.

Looking ahead we find games scheduled with such colleges as Providence College, Lowell Textile, Nichols Junior College, Fitchburg State, Assumption,

All-College Dance

On Friday night, September 15, the first big event of the school year was held. The night was clear and the air cool, thus providing an excellent evening for dancing. Thus the Plantations Club Auditorium held a very joyful group for the evening.

The purpose of this dance was to have the students and the teachers become better acquainted with each other under circumstances which differ greatly from those of the ordinary class room routine.

The members of the faculty present were: President H. L. Jacobs, who gave the welcoming address; Vice-president E. Gardner Jacobs; Mr. and Mrs. John Allan; Miss Jeannette Carroll; Mr. George Richards; Mr. Harold D. Ripley; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Boswell; Mr. George Craig; Mr. Jeremiah Barber; Mr. Henry J. Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Lamoureaux; Mr. Nelson J. Gulski; Mr. Eugene R. Vinal; Miss Elizabeth Sherman; Mr. Herbert C. Russell; Miss Mary E. Marshall; Mr. John Canty; Mr. J. Edmund Naylor; Mrs. Hannie Pierce.

President H. L. Jacobs gave the welcoming address to approximately 300 couples.

and Harvard, with games pending at Holy Cross, Yale, Bridgewater Normal and New Bedford Textile, with many others which will appear in a later issue with schedule and dates.

P. S. The call for candidates will come at an early date and all interested persons are requested to answer. We need your fullest co-operation to make this season a success.

Large Delegation

In NRA Parade

Bryant-Stratton was well represented in the N. R. A. parade on Monday, October 2. The faculty, as well as the entire student body turned out to show their loyalty to the N. R. A. cause.

Bernie Hebb, nonchalant Senior was the marshal and he was ably assisted by Wally Brahmer, the freshman from Wisconsin and Kay Hanley.

Along the Line of March

Munson and Patterson the bearers of the banner could not agree as to who should walk on the trolley track when the banner would not span the tracks.

Murphy (our auditor) led the singing while we were waiting for the start signal.

Were we proud to be the leaders of the College Division in front of Providence College?

Two of the teachers came back for school in a taxi.

Our President favored us with flags. Betty, in her red and white outfit, attracted much attention.

Seniors Hold Election

The Senior class held its election, Tuesday, October 10. Elmer Duckworth presided over the meeting and called for nomination. After the battle was over and the votes had been counted, none other than Kimball Sargeant had been elected president.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Paul Haselhurst; secretary, Dunham; treasurer, Charles Swanson; historian, Arthur Allaire. Mr. Barber was chosen class advisor.

EDITORIAL

The staff of the Bryant-Stratton News welcomes both the old and the new students to the college. To the old students who have returned to further studies and renew acquaintances, may we suggest that you participate in all activities or support them so that your final year here may be one of happy associations and pleasant memories. To the new students may we urge to look upon the college as your Alma Mater, a place to find friends, obtain an education, and participate in social affairs. Your stay at the school is not a long one, so make the best of it. Sororities, fraternities, the paper, the Dramatic Club, the athletics—all are your activities. If you cannot lend your artistic or physical abilities, you can give your financial assistance. The News, which is the mouthpiece of you folks needs your nickels. We will do our part in bringing you the latest sport topics, sorority and fraternity notes, various club news, gossip, and humor. Please do your part by purchasing every copy.

The Lowdown

A WARNING! BEWARE OF THE "LOWDOWN." THE SECRETS OF YOUR PAST AND PRESENT WILL BE BARED AND EXPOSED WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOR!!—Wow! Do these freshmen work fast? Allan Rounesville and "Millie" Carlson are already that way about each other!—Who is that singing, "Heading for a Wedding?" Why, that is Audrey Whitman. Have you seen the ring??—"Dot" White seems to be back in circulation.—"Ev" Vigian is making eyes at our sophisticated seniors! Watch her boys!!—"Conniverer" Lee's luck has changed and what a break for the mid-year seniors. They will get two cigars apiece.—Boy! What a "swell" eye Helen Sito had a short while ago. Watch out for those door-knobs, Helen!—Girls! You don't have to worry about finding escorts for the Sorority dances! "Jiggie" Ponte, Freddie Watson, and "Bunco" Branca are organizing a "Gigolo Club!"—What were "Connie" and Audrey doing to "Dot" Hague in a room on the 8th floor the other day?? Look out "Dot" they'll take the shirt off your back. That is, if you have a shirt!!! Did you see the fight over the N. R. A. banners that Mr. Jacobs purchased in the parade the other day? "Dot" Dailey is not married.—Myrtle Wetzel is attracting lots of attention in the freshman department of the seventh floor. By the way, Myrtle, do you know that you were out with the author of this column a few years back? "Custy" Grasso works in the Cafeteria. He is always thinking of something to eat!—Why doesn't Hugh Jackson like the "red-heads"??—"Jay" Johnson is lonesome! Is it a boy friend in the hometown, "Jay";—"Newport" Murphy missed his "White Horse" and silk hat in the N. R. A. parade.—Has the ninth floor lost its attraction?—The seventh floor "Romeos", especially Paul Hazelhurst and Sam Fox, miss the reviewing stand (the chairs) in the eighth floor corridor!—We have "cowboys" from Montana.—"Kay" Hanley takes the "cake" for fast talking!—Is it true that "Pat" Wallace is going "steady"?—Who will be the Sweethearts of Phi Sigma Nu this year?—What happened to Henry Lee and Dolly Fahey?—Jackson, Menard, and Burnstein, claim that they "study" when they go to a certain young lady's apartment about three times a week. Yes they do!!—In the next issue of the news, "your correspondent" will pick "Miss Bryant and Stratton" and expose her identity to you!—Watch out what you say and do "freshies" for information of initiation and all secrets that you have will be exposed in "THE LOWDOWN."

Senior Notes

We noted that Tubby Booth is living up to the standard he set last year by being late for the first accounting quiz of this term.

Donald "Asst. Dean" Farrington is accused of running a peanut farm on the sly in East Providence.

Nominations for class officers will soon be in order. Creighton Jones will no doubt head the list.

Vernon (FF) Davis gave away his past in the last public speaking class. Never mind FF we were all innocent victims at one time or another.

Louis Young and Tom Mullen were the first to receive a formal introduction to Mr. Handy.

Attention Mr. Lee: Why the night-gowns on the fire hydrants in the metropolitan city.

Tau Epsilon wants to know when the rushing season begins.

Frank Mazura is a pledge again. The happiest moment of your life, eh Frank.

MacIntyre and Dame Kettelty were seen sitting together in the roof garden yesterday afternoon. Watch out Mac—a young boy can't be too safe these days.

An international question—Who lifted the ten smackers at the All College dance the other night?

The boys in the cloak room were in good "spirits" anyway.

Looking over personalities, how could we escape Louis Mauri. Still he's not half as queer this year. Which is saying plenty.

Enough foolishness for this time—see you next issue.

FRATERNITY and SORORITY NOTES

Phi Sigma Nu

Iota Chapter takes this opportunity to send greetings to the Faculty, and to welcome the new students as well as the old to Bryant-Stratton.

After completing a very active year, Iota Chapter plans to make the coming year even more successful.

Iota Chapter is very happy to welcome back into its organization, Ken Caie. Ken was one of the first men in Bryant-Stratton to join Phi Sigma Nu after it was organized.

On October 5th, Iota held its rushee dance, in its new fraternity rooms. The dance was very well attended and everyone reports an enjoyable evening. The music and entertainment was furnished by "The Men of Color."

Sigma Lambda Pi

On Monday evening, October 9, Sigma Lambda Pi held its first affair of the school year. This was in the form of a smoker which was held in honor of the six new members who accepted the bids given to them by the fraternity.

Plans are now being made for future affairs and these will be announced in later issues of the Bryant-Stratton News.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting of Sigma Lambda Pi.

8th D Floor Freshman

Who is the blue-eyed blond Evelyn Vigeant can be seen talking to every morning and lunch times? Fellow class-mates, did you know that Evelyn is quite a "torch-singer?"

"Scotty" seems quite attentive to Ruthie Henealt, but don't let this fool you. He happens to be a very good friend of Ruthie's "big moment."

A certain little blond in 8B thinks R. Potter is terribly nice. Why not do something about it Mae?

Every noon-time Olive Trainer and Kay Malone may be found on the seventh floor. We wonder what the attraction is down there?????

Aurora Dugas and Walter Grant have quite a crush on each other! You'd think so if you could hear these two talking to each other in the type room.

Sigma Iota Chi

Beta Theta Chapter of Sigma Iota Chi is looking forward to a busy year. We opened our school activities with a Rush Party, Thursday night, October 5, at the Y. W. C. A. Games, dancing, and a good time was the spirit of the evening.

We are finishing up our rush with a Pledge Dance to be held at Meschanticut Park on October 27.

Once settled, we hope to get our Riding Club, Bowling Team, and the dances of the year in swing, not to mention the national things we must learn for our finals in December and March.

DOROTHY MAXHAM,
Worthy Scribe

Sigma Lambda Theta

Let's have a party! And indeed we did! The first of Sigma Lambda Theta's season, was the traditional rushee party, given as usual at the girls' dorm, Tuesday night, October 10. There were about 35 rushees and all the old members who were available. To make it a timely event, it was in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

The Pheasant Coffee Shop will be the scene of our pledgee dance, on Friday night, October 20, and decked in our best bibs and tuckers, we will hie us hence to view the social graces of the members-to-be.

Succeeding functions are not definitely decided upon, but tentative plans are under consideration. We're going to uphold the name Sigma Lambda Theta has earned, and give as enjoyable social functions as have always been given.

Alma Keefe and Rita Sullivan rush off every noon to see——well, that would be telling.

Did you know that Dottie Rose, a last year student, was the proud sister of the sweetest baby boy, born September 21? His name, girls, is Earl, Jr.

Gabbing About at Bryant Hall

Softly on tiptoe trod the new girls the first few days they were here — awe-stricken! But we're all one bunch now, and very congenial. The new girls come from New Hampshire to Pennsylvania, and each has an equally pleasing personality.

Dottie Sloan, pretty, petite, and sweet, is not quite the still-waters-run-deep girl, you might think. True, she is studious, but what a bubble-ey, contagious laugh! And you should have seen her tripping the light fantastic at the All College!

Wanda and Estelle—whotta combination! There's no other pair like 'em, God bless their souls, and they keep us in stitches continually.

We have another addition to the zoo—a turtle! Ruthie is her (we are uncertain as to this aspect of the situation) name, and she belongs to Roz and Hammie. To get revenge for being kept in a glass bowl, she keep Hammie awake half the night, scratching around amongst the gravel and stones at the bottom.

After the dance last, in the course of the conversation, the age old question came up—"Is Phi Sigma Nu jealous because it is not the largest sorority in school?" No insults intended, really, but, the temptation was too good to resist. You Seniors will remember the occasion.

The raw cold of the last few days, has tended to make us wear bed-sox. Not all of us, you understand, merely those who are more eccentric, as it were. But, oh, the comfort and warmth of said bed-sox. Ask Hammie to let you see her flannel pajamas with feet in them. Equipped with buttons and a drop-seat, just like we used to wear at the tender age of three.

And here comes the deadline!

8th Floor Freshman B

Of course we all know that Bob Payne has quite a crush on Enice Hanton. It looks as if it will be a sure thing in the spring.

We're all wondering if the presence of Mercedes Rush here has anything to do with Herbie Gulliver's sudden enrollment as a freshman.

Well, what do you think of our four-some, who arrive promptly at 8:30 each morning? They are none other than Mildred Taylor, Henry Norteman, Tillie Vine, and Walter Grant. We're expecting a double wedding any day.

We all have our ideas as to the speeding romance of Helen Day and Carl Miller. Of course, they say there's nothing to it—but do you think we're all blind?

It's beginning to look now as if Dick Moulton is trying to cut in on his best friend, Miles Cowen, but Mildred Matteson doesn't even seem to give him a break!

Yesterday, according to Mr. Gulski, Ben Tierney was Miss Tierney—today he was the gentleman in the rear seat. What will he be tomorrow?

Freshman Business Administration

Who is the "dirty blond" senior that is dancing attendance upon Margaret Helferty?

Dawley seems to be well acquainted with "Kay" in the college book shop. Can it be that our personnel is cradle snatching?

During the first few weeks of school, David Scott paid more attention to a brunette in Freshman B than to the lectures. We were very much surprised when Dave didn't escort "so and so" to the college dance. Is it possible that Dave's offer was rejected?

Who took Sylvia Burr to the All-College Dance? Those Westerner's certainly do work fast. . . .

A Bryant-Hall lass thinks that Joseph Brennan is a "hot sketch" and rather "ni-ice." Why don't you give the young lady a little attention, Joe?

Brother Brennan, as Mr. Gulski would say, recently put over a big business deal. He negotiated the loan of a pen from Margaret Helferty and was willing to return it with interest. What kind of interest is that, "Joe"?

Who is the dark haired maiden that casts those "what-I-wouldn't-do-for-you" glances at Herbert Ellis?

This year we have quite an addition to the family. They come to us from all over. Even as far away as Texas, Wisconsin, Montana, or what have you?
