April 19, 1943

Dear Miss Blaney,

I wish I had time for a longer letter but I have to be leaving in a few minutes. How is Bryant and how is the Bryant Service Club? I hope the girls and fellows are still working hard.

The weather down here is like summer. It certainly is a change, but I'd take good old New England any time. There are 14 Bryant fellows with me in this quarter master camp which makes it nice for all of us. A few of theზicky Tickle, Jimmie Glenn, Davie Hochmang, and Barlow. We're all in the same barrack except Tickle who lives in a tent.

This life certainly is different from college life. You don't realize how much you miss it until you leave it. Even though we live in the same barrack we never have much time to talk to one another. We're going from 5:30 PM until 9:30 PM when lights.
go out. This has been the first night we've had off. We've been at Fort Petersburg, a town just outside of camp. It isn't much, but it's a change from an army camp.

The fellows all look nice in their uniforms and we're all getting color in our cheeks. It's a change I would really love to sit in on one of Mr. Wible's lectures again. We're going to try and get some pictures of all the elegant fellows together and if we do we'll send you some. I hope you'll remember to send us all a year book when they come out.

I'll have to sign off now. If I ever get out of camp for a few days I'll be hip to see what the place looks like.

Sincerely,

Jimmie Moynihan
