

June 26, 1942.

This morning, I received a package from the Bryant Service Club. I want to say how much I appreciate the package, and also the thought behind it.

I am enclosing a slip of paper with an address on it. This will be the correct address for you of the club, and any of my friends at Bryant to write to me thru: (after July 1, 1942)

I have received many letters from my old friends at Bryant, and ones that have graduated. A few of them heard where I was from students at Bryant. I want to thank you for letting my friends know where to write, in order to reach me.

I will close this little note, wishing you all at Bryant good luck.

Sincerely,

Leonard E. Sweeney
