FOREWORD

The modern yearbook of today should serve as a mirror, reflecting the life of the college, including the faculty, graduates, underclassmen, sororities, fraternities, and all the varied activities, as woven around a definite theme. This first edition is in keeping with the pioneer spirit which has been Bryant's for the past seventy-six years. The editors have chosen as a theme, "Life at Bryant," being a compilation of one chapter of her memories, scenes, and traditions. Many have worked on this book and many more are represented in it; therefore, let the Bryant Ledger be a monument to the College, to its Publishers, and to the Class of 1939.
HENRY LOEB JACOBS
President of Bryant College Since 1907
To the Seniors:

Memories are one of the most precious things in life! No-where are memories more dear to all of us made, than those made in our college—memories that become richer in value with the years. The memory of work well done, of words of wisdom or advice from instructors, of a kindness here or a suggestion there, of a laugh about this or a chuckle about that—these and countless others will linger with you long after you have left Bryant.

Class of 1939, when your College days are far behind, may you have the satisfied feeling of having lived your days at Bryant fully, of having made your life richer by college friends, ideals and associations. May these precious memories be etched upon your hearts and become part of you. Today these memories are vivid ones. In the years to come they will become dimmed, but mellowed like a beautifully carved ivory, yellowed and old, but more valuable with every year.

For me, there is always a mixture of sadness, pride and hopefulness as I see each graduating class leave Bryant; sadness because of the tug at my affections which I always feel at leave taking, pride in you for what you have accomplished during your student days, and hopefulness for the brilliant place in the sun I hope all of you will find.

For you, too, may there be a mixture of thoughts; a blending of affection and loyalty for your College, a pride in its ideals and standards, and glowing memories of happy days beneath the portals of your Alma Mater.

SENIORS
Class Will

We, the members of the Senior Class, realizing that the time has come for us to leave the ivy-covered walls of our Alma Mater, realizing that many of our number have fallen by the wayside and that undoubtedly more will, do hereby make our last will and testament.

Drawing from our vast store of knowledge accumulated in Math II, and filled with a desire to leave behind us something of more than material value, it is our wish that a trust fund be created out of the various money that has found its way into our treasury. The interest from this fund is to be used in the interest of humanity in the manner set forth in this document.

1. To Mr. Barber, a new set of law books. He will undoubtedly need them in reconciling the answers on the Senior examination papers with the notes he has given us in the past two years.

2. To Mr. Gulski, a new copy of "Joe Miller's Joke Book"; some of his puns have been a bit on the corny side.

3. To Mr. Vinal, a handsomely engraved Phi Sigma Nu paddle which he is to use during the months of November and March in his own inimitable manner.

4. To Mr. Shors, a letter of introduction to Adolph Menjou, the motion-picture actor, in case he should need some pointers on trying to claim depreciation on his wardrobe.

5. To Mr. Naylor, we leave any leftover shouts from the B. A. outing, to be used in rounding out his chorus.

6. To Mr. Lambert, a copy of "What Every Young Bridegroom Should Know."

7. To Mr. Austin, all the equipment necessary to carry his intensive research work in his "Lab" Classes.

8. To the Cafeteria, a word of advice—Don't buy any more glass ash-trays. The initial cost may not be much, but the upkeep increases with the downfall.

9. To J. Fluvio Penza, and Russell Sisson, a pair of the latest alarm-clocks complete with fire-sirens to enable them to get up on time.

10. To Adele Rytelewski, June Playdon, and Esther Gardiner, a special medal which we have had struck in recognition of their fortitude and courage. It must have taken courage to sit in the same room with some of our starry-eyed members.

11. To Henry Jasiewicki and Homer Smith, we leave each one-half interest in the title "Don Juan of Bryant".

12. To Milton Opotzner, we leave a copy of that new book, "How to Influence Friends, and Make People".

13. To the Yacht Club, we leave a new game of Chinese Checkers. We had just about worn the print off the old one.

14. To the members of the future Senior Class, a bit of advice. When your best girl has left you, when you have a splitting headache, and when you haven't got your homework done, is there any need of worrying? You bet your life there is, for that is just the time when you will get a test.

15. To Mr. Richards, a fine new box of El Ropo Pantellos. He has been sadly in need of some cigars ever since the bowling league stopped and he lost his opportunity to clip the Tau Epsilon boys for the free cigars.

16. Nick Wasilewski generously states that since he will no longer be living in Providence he will make known to the highest bidder all the addresses, telephone numbers, and names, contained in his little book.

17. Kal Medve wishes it to be known that his newly patented smokeless midnight oil will soon be on the market. He says that he has given it exhaustive tests and that it stands up better than the old banana oil which has been successfully employed up to this point by Joe Pisano.

18. Paul Dnelly announces to the Freshman class that his new class in “How to raise a 72 to a 93 in three minutes flat” will begin on the East campus promptly at noon each day. Assisting him will be Professors Ossola, Syrocki, Greci, and Zenga who will lecture jointly and severally on “Corporation Accounting—as applied to a 1932 Ford”.

Thus having made our will disposing of the above goods, real and personal, we leave all that remains to whomever can use any of our various assets or talents.

Signed, sealed and delivered this 15th day of July in the year 1939.

Signed: RICHARD FOGWELL

"News while it is news"—Your Bryant Alumni News Reporter on the air—

AUGUST 16, 1945

For an up-to-the-minute report on the international situation, be sure to tune in nightly at ten o'clock for a complete analysis of the latest events by the distinguished foreign correspondent, Miss Elizabeth Wintenitz.

Miss Arlene Bentley and her pal Helen Mathewson are out to see the world via a tramp steamer. On their first stop at Panama they expect to visit Miss Reba Alexander, who is working in the Army Service as an efficient secretary.

Our Bryant University recently sent her faculty representative, the gracious Miss Angelina Bozzo, to New York City, where she acted as chairman for the National Commercial Teachers Convention. Professor George Bockstael of the Business Administration Department also attended.

The Vermont maid, Miss Irene MacDonald, has returned to her home to teach other little "maids" how to be the perfect secretary, while from the West comes the news that Miss Dorothy Ungar is keeping the Chamber of Commerce of Youngstown in top running condition.

"Jackie" Martin is now Society Editor for the Journal; also in the Journal employ are two expert advertising illustrators, Alice Nimmons, and Zelma Richmond.

Sports enthusiasts of Boston and vicinity will journey to Woods Hole, Massachusetts, next week where Cynthia Cahoon will sponsor an Invitation Motorboat Tournament. John Gudavich, New England yachtsman, will sail down from Providence in his new sixty-foot sloop to be among the spectators.

Bryant University announced that Russell Coady has been reappointed basketball coach for another three years. Fred Bither will assist him.

Flash! John Tully and Howard Wahl have started a correspondence school for shorthand and typing. This school is unusual in that it is for girls only!

For the latest trend in hair styles we refer you to The Beauty Shoppe, 105 Westminster Street, where Mademoiselle Marie Creegan, connoisseur, will give you expert service.

Do you put your elbows on the dinner table? A new book, "Mind Your Manners," written by Miss Emaline Hecht, will enlighten you on the subject of social taste.

Miss Beatrice Sicklick has gone South to accept the position of taking dictation from tobacco auctioneers.

Miss Marjorie Bliss, regarded as one of America's ten best dressed women, was recently seen shopping at Saks, Fifth Avenue, with the aid of the charming Miss Harriet Smith, Personal Receptionist.

Mildred Sulman and Libby Dunn have opened a Music Shop where the latest recordings are available. Next door, you will find the Virginia Porter Dancing School with pupils from six to sixty, swinging on down.
"How you all doing, honeychile?" "I'm doin' all right," replies Miss Frances Barrus, who holds the position of private secretary to Senator Johns from North Carolina.

From New Milford, Connecticut, we hear that Miss Bernice Martin is leading her smart set among the elite of the summer socialites at that popular vacation resort.

Knock! Knock! Want any fuller brushes today, Miss? That's Jim McCabe, representative of said Fuller Brush Company.

Flats Fixed—at the William Gavitt Super Service Garage assisted by Mr. Lamoureux, head mechanic.

In a Farmer's Bulletin we learn that Miss Dorcas Fredericks has won fame for herself in the agricultural industry for putting a feminine touch in the art of farming.

Swing it—yes, our old maestro, Ernie St. John, his trombone and his Rioting Rhythm-makers, are "giving out" with plenty of "jive" for the "cats" up in the Berkshires. And along the classical line we learn how Miss Frances Chiaverini will soon make her American debut at the Metropolitan Opera after returning from Vienna where she has been studying for the past three years.

Miss Shelia Krupa, one of the most popular members of the Bryant Faculty, suggests "Sloman's Suntan Oil" for sunburned skin when vacationing at the beach.

June Crizer is doing a great piece of work back in dear old Virginia where she is putting across "new-fangled Yankee ideas" to the Appalachians.

The Merrill Whitney Swing System of Shorthand is nearing perfection as this news bubbles. His combination of a baton and a fountain pen is very "Handy" for the students. Speaking of swing, Lucy Barbieri recently answered a 25-cent question on Professor Kay Kayser's Program. Her life-long ambition has been fulfilled.

John Feyereisen, a native of Minnesota, has finally decided that East meets West on Gano Street, Providence, where he maintains a business establishment with special catering to college students, but "Hollywood Bound" is Louis Martelle who hopes to crash through with notable honors as a new slapstick comedian. Pie! Pie! Louis. It is rumored that Miss Margie Ward will be the leading lady.

Another regular broadcast of Bryant news will come to you over this same station in August, 1946.

SORORITIES
Sigma Lambda Theta

Fourth Row: P. Mayo, E. Budlong, C. Buchanan, H. Smith, M. Myers, A. Babinski.

Sigma Lambda Theta, the oldest sorority on Bryant campus, was founded in 1929. The objects of this sorority are to unite for social purposes, and to promote the interests of Bryant College. The Greek letters of Sigma Lambda Theta stand for Sisterhood, Learning, and Honor. The sorority colors are red and white, the red rose being the flower of the sorority. "Esse Quam Videri," (To be rather than to appear), is the motto of the group. Beta Sigma Chi is the brother fraternity to Sigma Lambda Theta. Various social functions are given throughout the school year, the two big events being the Summer and Winter Formals, held in June and January respectively. The faculty advisers are Mrs. Blanche Stickney and Miss Sara Jean Appel.
Kappa Delta Kappa was organized in 1929 as a national sorority. At present it is a State sorority. The colors are Green and White and the flower is a gardenia. Members are initiated into this sorority twice yearly followed by a pledge dance.

Kappa Delta Kappa is an outstanding sorority of Bryant College because of the numerous social functions it has throughout the year. During the past year it has had two formals, and one semi-formal and a number of outdoor parties.

The officers of Kappa Delta Kappa are: Lucy Barbieri, President; Verne Brown, Vice-President; Frances Chiaverini, Secretary; Dorothy Bora, Treasurer; Marie Creeghan, Chairman of the Social Committee. These officers are elected every July.
Sigma Iota Chi

Beta Theta Chapter

Sigma Iota Chi is the only active national sorority at Bryant College.

It was founded as an honor sorority in 1903 by Greer A. Duncan. Later it became a social organization but has always maintained high scholarship requirements and stressed the importance of scholastic achievement, thus carrying on the spirit and ideals of the founder and of the first chapter.

The sorority colors are purple and gold and the flower is the violet. Each chapter of Sigma Iota Chi is controlled by a Grand Chapter. The chapter at Bryant is Beta Theta and the alumni chapter of Providence is Alpha Beta Theta.

The sorority's magazine The Parchment is published every three months. This magazine serves as a bond of inspiration and information among our members.

Sigma Iota Chi is a National College Sorority and is a member of the National College Panhellenic.
Beta Sigma Gamma

President ........................................ Shirley Fierberg
Vice-President .................................... Betsy Cohen
Treasurer .......................................... Libby Dunn
Secretary .......................................... Maxine Glasser

Once more Beta Sigma Gamma has had a successful and outstanding year with the loyal help and understanding of its capable director, Faculty Adviser Miss Krueger.

The sorority, founded in 1927, has as its colors, blue and white, and as its flower, the “forget-me-not”.

Among the big social events was the Winter Formal given in honor of the new members. Throughout the year Beta Sigma Gamma has had bi-weekly events of bowling or theatre parties.
Stowell House Speaks

It has only been since last fall that I have sheltered within my old walls this score and three of lively Bryant girls, but already they have provided me with enough memories so that I might retire now and spend the rest of my days reminiscing.

Peace and quiet have been unknown to me from the day of the girls' arrival. Perpetual motion seems to be the theme of every occupant. Nary a night passes without a display of youthful vigor of some sort. It may be an amateur show, a jitter-bug contest, or just a good old get-together, but best of all are those grand weekly sings, and it does gladden my wooden heart when I hear their happy voices raised in the songs of yesterday and today.

One of my girls has recorded many of our gay adventures with her movie camera. What fun she will have reliving sorority initiations, hiking and dancing parties, and snow fights when she leaves her new-found friends at Bryant to return to Panama.

As dear to me as the girls is their housemother, the competent Mrs. Tingley. The love that the girls feel for her adds a spirit of warm friendship that could be equalled nowhere else.

It is always a sad day for me when these girls to whom I have grown so close, leave behind them my portals and enter the proud ranks of the Alumnae. But I know that the friendships that have been cultivated within my walls will always remain a bright spot in their memories, even as they find success and happiness out in the world.
DORMITORIES

Bryant Hall

Stowell House

Dexter House

Scott House
Falk House

A popular dormitory last year and one which became very well known this year is Falk House with the following residents: Black, Bither, Campos, Costa, Dickenman, Filipowich, Helleman, Medve, McGoff, Wasilewski. Coming from all over New England these boys have formed a very unique group.

During the year the V. C. M. club (Vermont, Connecticut, Maine) was formed which did much to popularize Falk House. This club has proven successful in promoting social affairs, athletic interests, and scholastic achievements. The social calendar was filled with many private dances, stag outings, beach parties, and active week-ends together. Not only did they have a successful basketball team but they had an undefeated soft-ball team, in which all members participated.

To date, all residents of Falk house have been highly active in all extracurricular activities at Bryant. They were well represented on Bryant's varsity basketball team, the inter-fraternity bowling league, and on the tennis courts.

As for scholastic achievement the house has been represented on the honor roll throughout the year.

All are members of Beta Sigma Chi and Tau Epsilon, two of the leading fraternities at the college.
Tau Epsilon heralded its 1938 activities with its annual mid-year dance at the Hillsgrove Country Club. The most anticipated event of the season was the formal dance at the Metacomet Country Club in East Providence, Rhode Island. This evening was enjoyed by all and was the start of a new era in annual formals. During July a “Nickelodian Swing Dance” at Bryant College proved that the fraternity was capable of fulfilling any undertaking which it attempted.

With the arrival of 1939 another successful affair was held at the Chateau Dreyfus in honor of Mr. Lionel Mercier, one of the original founders of the fraternity. With many more events planned for the coming year the members of Tau Epsilon are assured of an enjoyable social life while at Bryant.

The Iota chapter of Phi Sigma Nu fraternity was organized at Bryant College in 1932 and is one of the fourteen chapters located throughout the United States. During the past year the fraternity has been very prominent in social activities. Two initiations have been conducted and following these events a pledge dance was held at the Chateau Dreyfus. Later in the year a number of the members enjoyed a trip to New York. The highspot of the season was the Second Annual Popularity Dance. At this dance the most popular girl, Virginia Porter, was selected as Miss Bryant of 1939.

Throughout the season members may enjoy swimming, fishing, and a period of relaxation at Watuppa Lake, on the outskirts of Fall River, where the fraternity maintains a cottage.

Beta Sigma Chi Fraternity was organized in 1933 and founded on the principles of loyalty, service, and integrity of character. Its distinction and popularity among the students has increased its membership to the largest on the campus. It has gained an enviable reputation for the many successful activities and social functions it has sponsored at Bryant.

Beta has exhibited powers in the field of athletics as well. Its members won first place in both the singles and doubles Tennis Tournament, placed second to the Faculty in the Bowling League, and won top honors in the Inter-Fraternity Basketball League.
Sigma Lambda Pi

Sigma Lambda Pi is the youngest Fraternity at Bryant, being only four years old. It was formed by a group of pioneering individuals who are now making their way in the business world. Although being the youngest and the smallest fraternity on the campus, it has proven to be one of the most active. Several dances, skating parties, hay-rides and picnics have been among the outstanding features of its social activities.

In sports it has been represented by a capable basketball team and bowling team.

The spirit of this fraternity has enabled it to succeed in its various undertakings and it is hoped that this spirit will linger on forever.
Greek Letter Dance

Something new and different in the social life at Bryant was provided by the First Annual Greek Letter Dance, held at the exclusive Rhode Island Country Club, Barrington, Rhode Island, on the evening of June the second, nineteen hundred and thirty nine. Music was furnished by Les Brown and his "Blue Devils Swing Band" direct from the Hotel Edison in New York City.

The affair was sponsored by Tau Epsilon, Sigma Lambda Theta, Phi Sigma Nu, Kappa Delta Kappa, Sigma Iota Chi, and Beta Sigma Gamma under the capable supervision of the following committee:

Stanley J. Boxek, Chairman
Forestville, Conn.

Barbara O'Rourke, Providence, R. I.
Marie Cregan, Providence, R. I.
Shirley Fierberg, Hartford, Conn.
Maxine Glasser, Norwalk, Conn.
Richard Fogwell, Fall River, Mass.
George Graham, Glastonbury, Conn.

The Bryant College Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Ralph Handy, has completed another successful year of musical activity. Its Friday morning renditions have become an essential part of the assembly program.

Of special interest is the acquisition of a valuable library of music of well over a thousand numbers. This will certainly be an incentive for the next year's orchestra, the nucleus of which will be formed around the eleven members who will not be lost by graduation.
The Masquers, under the able direction of Miss King—adviser and director,—presented two one-act plays during the 1939 season. The plays, "Business and So-forth," and "Don't Tell the Wife" proved to be very enjoyable to the students of Bryant.

During the year, at our Monday meetings, the club members took part in presenting short skits for the benefit of the members after the regular rehearsal period.

To celebrate the close of the season the entire Dramatic club enjoyed an outing at Point Judith.

*Members not appearing in the picture are M. Malliton, H. Smith, L. Martelle and S. Eskow.
The Camera Club of Bryant College was organized in September, 1937, and under the inspiring leadership of Mr. Douglas Hammond the members have learned the processes of developing and printing. Although there were failures at first, we gradually learned to keep our fingernails off negatives, and to keep photographic paper under cover when bright lights were turned on.

Various outings were enjoyed at Lincoln Woods and at Roger Williams Park. The Camera Club sponsored moving picture programs given by three prominent companies.
Basketball Through The Season

Bryant's five completed a successful season under the leadership of Captain Russ Coady. With Buben, Coady, Wicks, Mellor, and Frechette comprising the first team the quintet won five out of the first six games. However, due to the loss of "Moose" Wicks, the rangy Cranston center, and "Bus" Frechette, ace playmaker, the Bryant five did not fare too well in the last half of the schedule. Coach Winans recruited another strong team with the aid of Medve, Dickenman, Bernadine, Jaworski, and the three remaining first string players; and at the close of the season the quintet had developed into a typical Bryant team. The ability of the revamped Bryant club was proven in the final game of the season with the fast R. I. State Freshman team which the state team won after a closely contested fray.

The Bryant J. V.'s from which next year's varsity will be drawn showed great promise throughout the season. With the development of George Coady, Tanner, and McGoff next year's prospects for a successful season look very good.

Both these teams fought hard on the basketball floor and deserve the praise of the entire student body for the excellent showing they made.

The “five old men” of Bryant proved to the student body that youth does not always triumph in the field of sports. The Faculty team composed of Professors Naylor, Richards, Lambert, Handy, and Mr. Gardner Jacobs, romped to victory, quelling all winning streaks of the less experienced fraternity combines. Although the faculty finished first in the league standing, some individual honors did go to the students.

The high single prize was divided between Wasilewski, Richards, and Frechette, all of whom reached the 166 mark. Frechette also won the individual high three strings with a score of 448. Beta, displaying exceptional bowling ability, annexed the high team three strings by virtue of a 1933 total. These scores are exceedingly high for college competition and would not be overlooked in the professional ranks.

Professor Richards and Curtis Dickenman handled this year’s bowling league very efficiently and we extend our appreciation to them.
In Appreciation

The 1939 Bryant Ledger has become a reality only through the willing cooperation of a great many people. The board is especially indebted to the faculty and student body for their aid in the many different phases of the production of this book.

We are particularly grateful to the patrons and advertisers for their financial support.
