DR. deHAAS COMING

Professor J. Anton deHaas is coming November 19. That's enough announcement to make the entire student body of Bryant rush to get a seat in the Auditorium. No need to remind students that attendance at assemblies is compulsory when Dr. deHaas comes. Not a man or woman in Bryant wants to miss a word he has to say.

Not to know this dynamic little speaker is to argue yourselves freshmen, to paraphrase Shakespeare. Briefly, he is William Ziegler Professor of International Relationships, Graduate School in Harvard University, and is one of the Visiting University Lecturers of Bryant College, coming several times a year to speak to us on international affairs. These are only two of the important things he is. He is also friend of the great and the near-great in countries all over the world; in the inner circles in Washington, D. C., these days he spends much of his time; has been decorated by the Queen of the Netherlands; and is, above all, the greatest favorite among all the speakers who ever visited Bryant College. He is always informative, always thrilling, always entertaining, always welcome.

Relatives and friends of Bryant students are welcome to the lecture, up to the capacity of the Auditorium after the students are seated, so urge the members of your family to come, if they live near enough to make it feasible. It would be a good time for them to visit the College—see where you spend your student days and hear a great lecture at the same time. Suggest it to them.

MEMBERS OF THE KEY

In the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS, the names of Eleanor White and Henry Beretta were left off the list of members of The Key now in College. Sorry, Eleanor and Henry.

From the President's Desk

In the very interesting and helpful article on "Study Habits", which professor Handy wrote for your Student Handbook, he credits Old Man Statistics with saying that the mind remembers only one-tenth of what it hears and three-tenths of all it sees. Because I want you to remember more than just one-tenth of what I said to the men and women of Bryant College at Assembly a few weeks ago, I repeat them here in print, in order that, according to Professor Handy, you may remember three-tenths. It would be ideal if you would remember nine-tenths of this, according to the Hand Book formula. In my Assembly talk to you, I said:

TIME—EFFORT—SPIRIT—TRAINING—ALL are needed to build your future. I urge you to use them to the fullest extent while you may. Already four weeks have passed since your college year began. Have your days, hours, yes, minutes, been invested well?

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS a day are given to each one of us to use or to waste, to achieve or to fail. A nice sense of time will increase your effort to study and practice which are absolute requirements of business courses.

Education to use must prove itself through exact practical methods to be of value to you later on in the business world.

Bryant College supplies the means for your education, but your willingness to work and study must go hand in hand with the opportunities available here.

If the spirit be willing, you will accomplish much. The right spirit will move you to cooperate with your teachers, to profit by their knowledge and experience, to be in tune with your fellow students, and to do honestly and faithfully the work assigned.

Bryant training means discipline of mind, body, and spirit to prepare you for positions in the business world of tomorrow, which will be much more exacting than ever before.

While you are here with us, be your own employer, keep a close check on your own day to day work and in the light of how you spend your time, how you study and work, to what kind of a spirit you display in daily practice and what progress you show—I ask you: Would you hire yourself?

In all truth, if the answer be "yes", you have proved fair to yourself, your college, your parents and your future.

President

Ragnar Johannesson, Haukur Gunnerson from Iceland, and Cesar Rodriguez of Puerto Rico are fast becoming known to their classmates as mighty good scouts. Although our customs here are so different from those of the distant lands of these men, they are sympathetically adapting themselves to some things that may seem very strange and weird to them. If you don't believe it—did you see them around the Campus Rush week, wearing the big red ties of the Rushees, accepting the Paddle and other things. I wonder if We—in their countries—would have been as good sports as they proved themselves to be.

Several new students have asked what the dues of the Bryant Service Club are. We thought that was understood, but evidently not. There are NO dues—just SERVICE or CONTRIBUTIONS to any committee of the Club—a box of candy or cookies to the Candy Committee; a dime in the collection for the Cigarette Committee once a month; the purchase of a War Stamp or Bond; the writing of a few letters for the Letter-Writing Committee; the knitting of any article; ANYTHING big or little you wish to DO or GIVE makes you a member of the Club and entitles you to wear its Button.

1942 AND 1943 BRYANT MEN IN SERVICE

Members of the Bryant Service Club—and that means the entire Student Body, are interested to know who among Bryant alumni are now in the service of our Country. The list now includes 265 names, and is being increased almost daily. This is too long a list to give in the limited space of ON THE CAMPUS, but because members of the class of 1943, as freshmen, knew the class of 1942, we list here the men of 1942 who are known by us to be in the service. (The addresses given here are incomplete and if used for addresses of packages and letters should be amplified.)

We also list the names of 1943 and 1944 men now in the Service or soon to be.

1942

- Frank Addario, Mitchell Field, New York.
- Lawrence J. Barbeau, Seaman 2/c, Newport, Rhode Island.

THE BRYANT SERVICE CLUB

The Bryant Service Club is rolling along busily, but there is still a great deal to be accomplished.

This year's committees are unusually efficient. Everybody realizes the big job we have to do and is putting his or her shoulder to the wheel. The Stamp Committee in its first two weeks broke even the wonderful record made in a month by last year's committee. This, Ralph Lakey, Chairman of the Committee, modestly says is due not only to the fact that the current student body realizes more and more its patriotic duty and that there is today no better investment than war stamps and bonds, but also to the fact that in the first month of last year there was some time needed for organization before the committee started to sell, while this year's committee profited by the experience and information handed on to it by last year's committee. To date, the War Stamps and Bonds Committee has sold $1,173.10. Alice Killerjian swelled this list by a $1,000 Bond purchased by her father. $18.00 worth of stamps were sold at the Scrap Metal Dance to those who were unable to bring scrap metal and bought stamps in lieu of scrap as their admission to the Dance. But most of it was sold through the unceasing efforts of a fine committee.

The Knitting Committee has already completed several garments and this year there are more knitters than ever. Helmets are being added to socks, sweaters and scarfs this year.

The Letter-Writing Committee is doing an exceptionally fine job. Every member of the committee pledged to meet a quota, dividing the number of letters to be written—264—by the number of members on the committee, and already some of the members have reached their quota. Many of the letters will be sent off this week, in order to reach the Bryant alumni overseas in time for Christmas.

The Cigarette Committee made its first collection last Wednesday with the very generous sum of $35.70 dropped in the pans. The amount does not cover that needed to send a package of 100 cigarettes to every Bryant alumnus in the Service who prefers cigarettes. There are 137 men to whom it is planned to send cigarettes. One hundred cigarettes costs 58 cents. One hundred and thirty-seven packages of 100 will cost $79.46. We will need $43.90 more to meet requirements.

The Candy and Cookie Committee is the only one lagging at present. In spite of a very efficient committee, less than a dozen boxes of candy have been given thus far. Many of the Bryant alumni in Service do not smoke, so candy or cookies must be sent to them. We need 64 boxes to meet the requirements. Come on Bryant, do your part. Put yourself in the place of those Bryant men "out there" fighting for us, and think how you'd feel if you were "out there" and received a box of candy or cookies from the students of your College at Christmas. It will be a pretty lonely Christmas for these boys, their first Christmas away from home. When you are enjoying your Christmas at home with your loved ones, you will be glad to have the thought that you helped brighten the Christmas of the Bryant men overseas or at distant camps all over the country. How about it, Bryant men and women? Please help. If you are too busy to buy the candy yourself, but will give the price of a box, the committee will gladly buy it for you and at a wholesale price.

The number of Bryant men in Service to date is 264.

All records, letters and accounts of the Bryant Service Club are available to any member of the Club at any time.

The Bryant Service Club is YOUR club. It is not the club of any group or groups. It is the club of EVERY man and woman in Bryant. Many of the students are doing a great deal—not just one service or one contribution, but several. If you are one of the few who has not yet done something, do it TODAY. Give either a service or a contribution. Big or little—it will be helpful. There is something every one of us can do.

"For, we are now and ever after in their debt.

What most they love, as all men love, they give,

The last sweet drop of blood, the last harsh breath of life.

So, DIG DOWN, DIG DEEP, and ask the question fair,

'How does MY gift, with THEIRS, of life, compare?'"

Typist's Error Cost Mississippi $20,000

A typist's error once cost the State of Mississippi $20,000.

The Legislature appropriated that sum to put out a gas well fire in Rankin County and fixed a 10 per cent. tax on other wells of the area from Aug. 31 through March 31 to reimburse the State.

In the bill, it was discovered later, the dates were typed Aug. 31, 1939 to March 31, 1939 ending the tax before it started.

"It is one of the most beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself."

B.A. Senior: Is this peach or apple pie?

Co-ed: Can't you tell by the taste?

Senior: No, I can't.

Co-ed: Then what difference does it make?

Prof. Handy: What is the comparative degree of sick?

Senior: Worse.

Prof. Handy (puzzled): Well, if worse is the comparative of sick, what is the superlative?

Senior: Dead.

Dean Stickney (to delinquent student): The best thing you can do is to study hard every night this week until you've made up all this work.

Secretarial Student: And what's the next best thing?

Twenty Bryant Co-Eds were hostesses at U. S. O. headquarters on Friday evening. Under Miss Collins's wing, they danced, played games and generally helped entertain men in uniform. Bryant girls are always eager to do their bit for men in the Service.

FROM DISTANT SHORES

Seventeen subjects in one school year! Imagine a curriculum containing three math. courses, chemistry, physics, geography, history, music, Latin, German, English, and six more subjects. And we thought we had homework!

Vera Ujhely (pronounced ú-e-lee), Bryant '44 (Secretarial), gave me the above list, during our recent interview, as part of the curriculum followed in the high school which she attended in Vienna.

From grammar school, Vera told us, a Viennese student has two choices: to attend a state trade school or the gym. The gym is an expensive school, similar scholastically to our high school and first two years of college. This system of education is another contrast to our free public high schools, and our colleges which are open to all who have an ambition for further education.

In Europe, the social and economic status of the student is distinctly discernible by the kind of school which the student attends and by the clothes he or she wears. In all classes of society, boys and girls go to school separately, and are not allowed to meet outside of the dancing class, attended by the more wealthy. They have no way of exchanging ideas or growing up in the normal, healthy companionship which we in this country enjoy from co-education, yet which we take for granted. How dull our school life would be if we had no outside activities, no sororities, or fraternities, no dances or dates! Suppose American girls were forbidden to wear make-up of any sort. Just think what would happen if we could not ask questions in class or get to know the teachers well enough to converse with them out of school.

Vera found it hard to express strongly enough the advantage students in this country have over those of European lands. These advantages are even more noticeable to those coming here from European countries taken over by the new regime.

Vera's father is a psychologist, which made him more broadminded about bringing up his family than many parents who lived by the traditions set down generations ago. Her own desire was to be a child psychologist but, circumstances preventing, she is now studying to become a secretary in the country she has adopted as her own.

Vera was born in Vienna and lived there for fourteen years, when war forced the family to flee to France. There, everyone was too busy with his own problems to bother with a refugee girl. In fact it took a stout heart to withstand the trials of living in a strange country among unfriendly people.

When Vera came to America she was surprised that there were cars for everyone and that any student could attend the public schools. She says she has never met any "bunch" so friendly and kind and so quick to help someone who needs a friend. Coming from war-ravaged Europe, Vera saw in America a finer, more sincere patriotism, a higher, cleaner morale because of better wages and equal advantages for every citizen.

Let's maintain the friendly, eager welcome so appreciated by this engaging Viennese refugee, fleeing from a land of war and greed. Let's demonstrate our welcome not only in our patriotic nationalism, but in our everyday home associations and in our school life. Let others like Vera find kindness and help in replanning their lives in a strange land.

AVIS BLACKWAY.

Bryant freshmen are entering into the spirit of the Bryant Service Club as wholeheartedly as Seniors have, but only a few of the new students have volunteered for work on any committees. Some one suggested the other day that a lot of freshmen are eager to help, but are timid about offering their services.

Please, Freshmen, do not hesitate. This is your College and your Bryant Service Club just as they are those of the upperclassmen. We sincerely want you. Do not hesitate to give your name to any member of any of the committees, or to Miss Blaney (Publicity Office, next to the Office Machines Laboratory). By getting on one of these committees you will get to know your fellow students, and you will be helping in one of the most unselfish, worth-while organizations Bryant has ever had. When this war is over, and our Bryant men come home, and tell us how much the letters and packages of the Bryant Service Club meant to them, you'll be glad to remember that you helped.

The Bryant Service Club's friends are legion. Not only is every man and woman in Bryant definitely "for" the Club, but also relatives and friends of Bryant students, relatives and friends of the Bryant alumni in service, and Bryant alumni in all parts of the country, write us wonderful letters, buy war stamps and bonds through our committee, and make us donations of candy, cookies, and other things.

The other day, when the Letter-Writing Committee noticed that the Bryant Service Club letterheads were getting low (last year's lot was a gift from the Oxford Press) Bunny Woodward, one of the hardest-working members of that committee came in with a big bundle of 600 letterheads, enough to last us for a long time. It was the contribution of her father, Mr. E. P. Woodward. Thanks a million, Mr. Woodward, and Bunny. We are truly grateful. Every cent we save on supplies and such things, means so many more pounds of candy and boxes of cigarettes for our boys.

Mrs. Stockbridge, Housemother at Wm. H. Scott House, is one of the most ardent workers for The Bryant Service Club. She has already knit three beautiful sweaters and has started another! Thanks a million, Mrs. Stockbridge.

Pvt. James E. Walsh, Miami Beach, Florida.

Robert E. Wyatt, In Australia.

Maurice Talbot, reporting for duty soon.

1943

Richard Drayton.

Staff Sgt. Anthony Fidrych, Foster Field, Victoria, Texas.

Edward J. Healey, AS Jacksonville, Florida.

Cadet Roger S. Pillsbury, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Florida.

William R. Seilhamer, Sea. 2c. U.S.N.R., Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Henry A. Street, Sea. 2c. U. S. Coast Guard, Wilmington, Delaware.

Lieutenant Frank W. Watson, Camp Stewart, Georgia.

Warren Williamson.

Leo Tower, reporting for duty soon.

Louis Bartlett, reporting for duty soon.

1944

George H. Brais, reporting for duty soon.

Bryant Seniors who, as undergraduates last year had many friends in the class of 1942, will be interested to know that:

Leona Mannolini, who was such a favorite that she was elected Miss Bryant of 1942 with an overwhelming majority, has an excellent position with the Pantex Pressing Company, but says that as much as she likes her new job, she is homesick for Bryant and wishes she were back here. That's what they all say, Leona—after they have left.

"The Fleet's In" was the characteristic way in which Eddie Healey, in his new uniform of Uncle Sam's navy, announced himself as he dropped in at the Faculty Dining Room a couple of weeks ago. Eddie was home from Jacksonville on a short furlough and, as usual, left a trail of chuckles behind him.

Tom Brewer dropped in at the Cafeteria recently singing "Fare-thee-well, for I must leave thee"—but a few days later the Draft Board upset the applecart, and Tom is now back at the Rheems Construction Company.

Few days go by without a glimpse of khaki or navy blue around the campus. Most of the wearers are alumni who have come up to say in person thanks for letters and packages received by them from the Bryant Service Club.

Cathie Halligan had a bright idea the other day. With a pair of socks she had just finished for the Bryant Service Club, she attached a piece of yarn and a darning needle, in case the Bryant alumnus who gets them needs to darn any little hole. After this, all socks that are sent to our alumni by the Service Club will have the same thoughtful little attachment.

* * *

So many of the Bryant alumni to whom the Bryant Service Club sends packages are in the Air Corps, that the Knitting Committee of the Club is now adding helmets to the other articles they are knitting.

EXCERPTS FROM JUST A FEW OF THE LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE BRYANT SERVICE CLUB

"Thank you for the box of candy several of my buddies have told me they realize now that they attended the wrong colleges. They, as well as I, think it is mighty nice to be remembered in this manner. They, my buddies, say they have never heard of such a fine spirit in any of the institutions they attended."

Bob Donaldson, '40

"Received your package at a time when it did the most good. I am in the hospital, and the candy really hit the right spot. Your kindness is surely appreciated.  Say 'hello' to the Faculty for me, and to every single man and woman in the Bryant Service Club. Your Club is something to be proud of."

Albert F. Weisner, Jr., '40

"Thank you very much for a very pleasant surprise. Your interest and kindness to an old alumnus is very much appreciated."

Herbert E. Erickson, '32

"Thanks loads for the surprise package of candy and the letter you recently sent to me. I certainly appreciate your thoughtfulness. I have met several Bryant men who have also recently entered the Army and invariably one of the first questions they ask is 'Have you received a letter or package from the Bryant Service Club?' This, in turn, leads to a discussion of the good old days when we used to roam around the campus without a worry in the world. We realize now, more than ever, the value of our college days and how much we miss all our friends there and the good times we had together. Good luck, and successful continuance of your fine gesture to the Bryant men in the Service."

Merrill H. Whitney, '39

"Future Alumni: It was with a feeling of guilt that I opened your thoughtful and generous gift, for I have been very lax in keeping you informed of my whereabouts the last few years, altho I have received, and read with avid interest, every single item in our Alumni Bulletin. I had a feeling, which was dispelled today when your remembrance came, that we of the old Bryant were not an integral part of your organization, as the present day students and graduates of the new Bryant. Words fail to express my appreciation of the good-fellowship evidenced by the men and women in Bryant today. They are evidently just as good a 'gang' as the one that graduated in '35. I hope they all appreciate the new Bryant as much as we appreciated the old. Thanks again, and best wishes to the Bryant Service Club or 'our' Bryant."

Rudolph A. Bigda, '35

"I received your package of cigarettes yesterday and was the most surprised and happy fellow on the Base. It's nice to know you're not forgotten and that the place that holds so many pleasant memories still has such a swell lot of men and women. Thanks again for the cigs. I'll use them and think of you and the 'good old days' when—"

Harry I. Golub, '40

"Thanks for the cigarettes. You have no idea what a gift like that means. Makes a fellow realize he has friends at home."

Ernest L. Jordan, '42

"Once again, thank you. * * * Your Club is a wonderful undertaking and you should be as proud of it as we who receive your letters and packages are proud and happy."

Louis M. Shablein, Jr., '33

"Thank you very much for your very kind and gracious gift. It was a most pleasant and appreciated surprise. The work you are doing there shows a fine morale. The high standard you set makes us want to keep our standards high as we serve here, makes us want to be worthy of you. * * *

Melvin Miller, '37

"It sure was a swell feeling to receive your gift of cigarettes and your letter. I thank you ever so much."

George Shenkman, '37

"Thanks a lot. * * * Up here, everybody seems surprised to see me get those gifts, so I guess old Bryant is one of the few colleges—if there are any others—doing so much for us."

Bert Pinsonnault, '40

"Thanks again for all you are doing for me and all the other Bryant men in the Service. It certainly makes a fellow feel great to know that the members of my College remember me. My one regret is that I cannot thank every one of them for the splendid work they are doing."

Charles H. Tompkins, '38

"Do you know that as far as I have been able to learn—and I have been in several different camps—Bryant is the only college doing anything like this for its alumni. None of the other college men in my outfit have heard of any such organization in their respective colleges. * * * I would like to keep on receiving the Alumni Bulletin. * * * and thanks again, to every one of you."

Richard E. Fogwell, '40

"It is indeed a wonderful organization that you have set up at the College. It is encouraging to know that even though we are many miles away, some here and still others in far off places, we are not forgotten. Many members of your fine organization will shortly experience the thrill I had last week when I received their package. When they do, they will think back to the pleasant days spent at Bryant and they will understand just how happy one feels to know the folks 'back home' still remember. * * * We in the Service have a job to do, but once the job is completed, we can all go back to normal, peaceful living again. It is my hope and prayer that it won't be too long in coming. Good luck and thank you to every member of the Bryant Service Club."

John W. Gorman, Jr., '32

"I wish to thank the Bryant Service Club for the cigarettes which I received last week. It is great to know that Bryant is pulling for the boys in the Service. It is even greater to be able to tell everyone who sent them. I have not run across any soldiers who are receiving this thoughtful service from their colleges. The Bryant Service Club deserves the highest praise. I also enjoyed the letter from the Club, even more than the cigarettes."

William E. Sims, '41

"Your thoughtful gift is sincerely appreciated. * * * Let's get that Alumni Bulletin rolling again. It has some very interesting things."

Paul B. Dwelly, '39

"Hi, everyone. Sorry I have to be so brief in this letter, but I am just about to catch a reservation on one of Uncle Sam's famous cruises across the pond, you know, the one that includes a tour of Berlin and Rome. * * * I am depending upon the Alumni Bulletin and those letters from the Service Club. Tell them I wish they could all come along with me."

S/Sgt. Henry Stadnicki, '40

"Thank you for your great letter and the cigarettes.  I have been out here 'somewhere in the Territory of Hawaii' for quite a while and like the life on the Islands. It was good, way off here, to get your letter and gift."

Eugene Caldwell, '37

"Thanks for the gift of a sweater. It certainly comes in handy these cold days here. * * * I am proud to be an alumnus of Bryant. My education there has helped me a great deal in the Army and now I am so grateful to be remembered by the Bryant Service Club."

Earl Vick, '38

"My thanks to you, not for the candy alone, but for the fact that you have made me a part of your group, even though I am on the receiving end. I was glad to hear that Bryant has such an organization and sincerely hope that all the men you serve are as glad to hear from you as I was."

Roger C. Lambert, '36

"Thank you for the gift of candy. Sometimes conditions with us are not so bright and to be remembered by the Bryant men and women is indeed most heartening and highly appreciated. My shipmates and I enjoyed the candy and in return we promise to beat up so many more Japs. * * * we can't lose. There may be temporary reverses and setbacks, but there will be ultimate victory. There shall not be any recurrence of the never-to-be-forgotten morning of December 7, 1941. * * * Again, thank you. The Navy salutes you, Bryant Service Club. Gobs of success and happiness to you."

Charles E. Tumidajski, '40

"Thank all of you for another package of cigarettes. I certainly appreciate your kindness because I find myself smoking a good deal these days. * * * I realize that many members of the Bryant Service Club must be foregoing pleasures and luxuries they might otherwise enjoy if they were not contributing to these surprise packages to Bryant alumni whom, in many instances, they have never actually seen or known. Your organization is certainly doing a great morale-building piece of work for all of us in military service, because there is nothing in the world quite like a remembrance from friends back home. It is so personal—it just makes a fellow feel that folks at home do care a little about where we all are, that they realize that our lives have been disrupted, and that we are all in this war together, hoping and endeavoring eventually to make a better world and happier days for everyone."

Capt. Edward B. Williams, Jr., '32

NEWS OF THE SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

Louella Gavitt, C.T.T., '44, entertained Beta Chi Tau Sorority, at her home in Cranston on Tuesday evening, October 20, with new students of the Commercial Teacher-Training and Professor and Mrs. Handy as special guests. It was a particularly jolly evening, from all accounts. Cathie Halligan, President of Beta Chi Tau, assisted the hostess in making the evening one of the pleasantest in Beta Chi Tau's history.

Tau Epsilon held its Ritual and Banquet for new pledges at the Crown Hotel, Thursday evening, October 22. Tau Ep's parties are always real successes and this one was no exception to the rule. Jimmie Moynihan, Don Mullen, Don Zarfos and Wally Ferrier were in charge of arrangements.

Sigma Iota Chi's "Rush" Party in Bryant Auditorium, September 28, was really "something". The Sigma Iota girls always do have unusual parties, always with unique and surprising features, and this one, from all reports, was even better than usual.

Cathie Halligan, Eleanor Jillson, Virginia Pothier and Marjorie Wheeler were responsible for the arrangements for the Party.

By the way—those are nifty little caps and sweaters the Sigma Iota girls are wearing these days, in the purple and gold of the sorority's colors.

* * *

The Sigma Lambda Thetas also have swanky new sweaters, a becoming rose-red, or coral (what is the luscious shade called, girls?) and the Sigma Lambdas are certainly an eyeful in these new sweaters.

* * *

Tau Epsilon also got "rolling" early in the year, with its Smoker in the Auditorium on September 18. Jimmy Moynihan, Don Mullen, Wallie Ferrier and Don Zarfos planned the affair and the brand of hospitality they handed out must have made a lot of new Bryant men eager to get bids to join Tau Ep.

Sigma Lambda Theta's Rush Party in Stowell Hall on October 8 was such a success that it was the talk of the campus for days following. Frances Edwards, Dorothy Arigoni, Helen Plewa and Constance Cooke made the arrangements for the very enjoyable afternoon, features of which were Charles Harrison, "The Dandy Duke of Digital Dexterity", and Ruth Limer, the well-known monologist.

Special guests of the sorority for that afternoon were Miss Collins, the Faculty sponsor of the sorority; Dean Stickney and Miss Cameron; also Miss O'Sullivan, special student in Office Machines, and her Seeing Eye Dog, Susie.

Phi Sigma Nu will hold its annual Harvest Hop on Friday evening, October 30, in Bryant Auditorium. These Harvest Hops of the Phi Sig's are always anticipated as one of the best times of the whole year and this year's will doubtless bring out the usual big crowd. Wake Jennings is Chairman of the committee of arrangements, and assisting are William Cain, Tony Nerrola, George Dion and Steve Pascarella. Professors Vinal, Shors and Lambert will be special guests of the evening.

The boys of Scott House had a jolly Halloween Party at that dorm on Friday evening, October 23rd. It wasn't exactly Hallowe'en, but the date was advanced in order not to conflict with the Harvest Hop on October 30 in the Auditorium. However, the gay Hallowe'en decorations made everyone agree with President Roosevelt that it is good now and then to change dates. Dancing, an impromptu entertainment and refreshments were the order of the evening and those Scott House boys proved anew that they are mighty fine hosts. The party had an unusual interest to the students from Iceland and Puerto Rico, to whom Hallowe'en is something entirely different.

Sigma Lambda Theta held its Formal Initiation and Banquet at Old France Restaurant Tuesday Evening, October 27. Frances Edwards, Dorothy Arigoni, Helen Plewa and Constance Cooke were in charge of the affair, so you know "a good time was had by all". Dean Stickney, Miss Collins and Miss Cameron were special guests of the evening.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Lost and Found Department

Wanted—an experienced guide for Mr. Vinal. One day soon after college opened Mr. Vinal walked into Mr. Shors' accounting class and began instruction in checking addition. The class explained that his first period math class was in 3E and not 3A. According to the 1942 year-book, Mr. Vinal loses his wife on street-cars, too.

Lady in the Dark

Stowell House has its own Lady in the Dark. One demure damsel of the Dorm had an unexpected Blackout recently, when she was taking a shower and her roommates turned out the light.

Stowell Hall, by the way, is spoken of by some of the students, as Father Devine's Heaven, ever since responses to telephone calls during Freshman Week were answered with the query, "Which angel do you wish to speak to?"

Turnabout

Mr. Naylor gave himself an assignment a few weeks ago. Backed up by the principles laid down by Noah Webster, he is endeavoring to teach that middle-Westerner, Mr. Shors, to say "creek" instead of "crick". "Crick", Mr. Naylor quotes Mr. Webster, "is a spasmodic affliction of the muscles"—you know, "a crick in the neck".

Warning

Candy hearts, big red apples, bags of coffee, cigars, or any other bribes are wasted upon our Bryant instructors. Nothing less than a complete set of tires and a C gasoline card will keep them from flunking you. They're tough hombres, lads and lassies, and so patriotic they still use the phrase from last year's war, "They shall not pass". So save your candy, apples, cigars and coffee.

ODD MOEMENTZ

A very welcome guest speaker at the Assembly of October 9 was Dr. Lucius B. Whipple, President of the Rhode Island College of Education. Dr. Whipple is an old favorite with Bryant students and he made his usual big "hit". So keen is Dr. Whipple's understanding of young people, so human is he, so inexhaustible is his fund of stories, so kindly his philosophy, that even the instructors did not frown when Assembly ran over into the next period.

And the new Bryant orchestra! Was that a welcome surprise! It's small so far, but the zip and dash with which they sailed into "Anchors Aweigh" brought forth rousing applause and a request for its repetition at the end of the program. Herbert S. Goldfield, B.A. '44, was the Student Conductor of the morning and richly shared the applause of the audience, while Professor Handy beamed at him proudly. Looks as if this year is going to be a great one for the Bryant Orchestra, like that corking orchestra Bryant had in '37, when so many excellent concerts were given by Orchestra and Glee Club. Wouldn't it be great if we could have some orchestra and glee club concerts on the campus some nice moonlight nights next Spring? All in favor —

What with Rush Week, Initiations, the All-College Dance, the Scrap Metal Dance and other social affairs, Bryant has been a busy place since the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS.

The Scrap Metal Dance was a lot of fun. Some 10,000 pounds of metal was heaped on the big pile near the Student's entrance of South Hall, all addressed to Hitler and Hirohito with the contributors admitted to the Dance and tripping the light fantastic from 3:30 to 5:30. Even the men and women who are usually in a hurry to catch an early bus or train for home at week-ends in order to get their studying (Ah, m) done stay over and joined in the fun. Eileen MacDonald, Constance DeMello, William Russell, Louella Gavitt, Frances Edwards, George Cranshaw, Claire Gilfix, Harry Eisenberg, Ragnar Johannesson and Cesar Rodriguez, Jr., were the committee assisting in making the affair a success.

Cesar Celebrated

Some Bryant Walter Winchell heard a chance remark that Cesar Rodriguez, '44, of Puerto Rico, would be twenty-one years old on Saturday, October 10. It was only a few hours off, but with the aid of the Housemother, Mrs. Stockbridge, a group of the boys at Scott House who had not gone home for the Columbus Day week-end whipped up a little party and, though he was a great many miles from his home in Puerto Rico, Cesar celebrated his Birthday in fitting fashion, with a huge birthday cake with twenty-one candles gracing the festive board.

Ragnar Johannesson, Haukur Gunnerson, both of Iceland; Vera Ujhely, of Vienna, Austria; and Cesar Rodriguez, Jr., of Puerto Rico, were the subjects of an interview by a Providence Journal reporter a week or so ago. Pictures and a story about these Bryant students from distant places appeared in the Providence Bulletin, October 19.

One of the quietest, most demure little ladies seen around Bryant these days is Susie, the Seeing-Eye Dog, who lies demurely beside her pretty little mistress, Dorothy O'Sullivan, every morning while Miss O'Sullivan pursues her work in a special course in Ediphones. Miss O'Sullivan, by the way, does some remarkably fine work and is the pride and joy of Mr. Mercier. Her beautifully spaced, almost perfect work is a splendid example to all of us who have not the great handicap to surmount that Miss O'Sullivan has.
