Friends,

A few lines to let you know that I haven't forgotten you, but just have been a little busy. I had meant to write to you a long time ago, for I do owe you a letter. There is not anything I can say now, but every thing has been going along nicely. I should have studied Spanish a little harder, for it certainly would come in handy right now. I want to say at this time, that we certainly do appreciate everything you have done for us, and it is more than appreciated out here. Well all I can say take care of all yourselves and surely I hope to thank you personally. It will come from you, for letters are important at here. Have a good Fourth of July - I will have a party.
