

April 7, 1942
L. G. H
Post Drivers.

Dear Ma,

We have been in the army a week to-morrow! It seems as if we have been here forever.

Yesterday, I received your most welcome letter now, also one from Nell she mentioned the lovely roses Ray sent here. Priscilla and I expect to have a long day on the 22 April and we intend to dash home.

Later 8 PM.

Last night I went with 35 other nurses into Boston Gardens on a chartered bus to see the big Kay Kyser show. We wore our uniforms (white) and we borrowed overseas caps and capes ^{from those} who already had their Army uniforms. When we arrived there we had to march up on the stage and salute while the band played the Star Spangled Banner. It was a Charity show for the big Bullies Club that is being raised on Boston Common for the service men We were just marching off the stage when Fay Bysea came out on the stage so we got a good look at him. Sgt. Kattibel was there as was the College of Musical Knowledge, etc. On the second stage opposite was Mickey Albert and his orchestra who introduced George Jessel, Katherine Hepburn, Sophie Tucker and Benny Rubin. They were very good! The Gardens were full of music and jitterbugging sailors and soldiers - just packed. We never arrived here at 10 o'clock until 2 am so we were pretty crushed when the bug woke me up.

On Easter Sunday church was held in the recreation hall. A choir from the church on the corner in Cambridge sang "The Resurrection".

The patients are nice boys - they come from all over the country. Of course, the southerners dislike New England - say the people are cold and inhospitable to them. It is true that the people around Ayer and Boston soak the poor fellows twice as much for everything. It is true around the country near any bases (military) Sad, isn't it?

Write soon

Love to you
Mary
An Rennie

Pres and I will be coming home the 2nd