Sunday morning

Dear Members of the Bryant Service Club,

I wish to thank all of you for the gift of candy. It was swell and I appreciate it.

I can't write an interesting letter on my work because army censorship prohibits me from even mentioning it. What I do must remain secret until this country wins the war and we all want to get it over with as quickly as possible.

The weather down here has been fine. I've got a pretty good coat of tan.

Thanks again and best of luck to all of you.

So long for now,
