

LOVELL GENERAL HOSPITAL
FORT DEVENS, MASS.

April 17, 1942

Dear Ma,

I got back here at 10:30pm and wouldn't you know it would be pouring with rain and the wind blowing a gale. In fact the wind is always blowing here. Did it rain in Georgetown Vt. night?

To morrow night I trip on at 7 o'clock how I dread it but at least I will have it over with by the real warm weather.

I had two letters from Bill waiting for me. He is still very lonesome and homesick.

Yesterday two new girls came in. They told one she might not stay because she just weighs 123 lbs. Pamela Katinka in person - but she is a nice kid but? A whole division of new officers arrived from Texas

Wed. and have they got the Southern drawl.

It is very nice here to-day and Bess and I have a P.M. but there isn't anything to do. She has to go to class this p.m. until 2:30 but we will probably go somewhere to-night where goodness knows.

Last night we went over to the Recreation Rm. to see Johnny Eager with Robert Taylor and Sara Turner. It was pretty good.

Two kids came in here drunk as loons and waked everyone up about 1:00'clock this morning. They were singing and shouting and one got a crying jay on. I couldn't have skidded them. They woke the pt. up!

I am going to write to Uncle Herman this afternoon and Fri.

I will close as there isn't another thing to say.
Write soon Love to all Sue Taylor.
