

ON THE CAMPUS

Published for the student body of
BRYANT COLLEGE
Founded in 1863

Vol. V, No. 1

SEPTEMBER 1941

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Friday, September 12.....9:15 A.M.

FRESHMEN ASSEMBLY

Welcome by President Jacobs; Brief addresses by Deans Stickney, Gulski and Shors; introduction of Fraternity, sorority and other organization Presidents.

Attendance of all Freshmen required.
Bryant Auditorium.

Friday Evening, September 12..7:30 P.M.

SMOKER

For all young men students. A jolly get-acquainted evening over pipes, coffee and jest. Even the Barber Shop quartettes, aided and abetted by Prof. Naylor, usually are in the spotlight at these annual Smokers.

Bryant Auditorium.

Friday Afternoon, September 12,

3:30 P.M.

Meeting of officers of all fraternities, sororities and other college organizations. This is probably the most important meeting of the year, when plans are laid for the year and things get rolling.

Sunday, September 14.....4 to 6 P. M.

RECEPTION AND TEA

For all new out-of-town students. Senior dormitory residents will be hostesses to new dormitory residents and other new out-of-town students. President Jacobs and the ladies of the Faculty and the Administrative Staff, and Housemothers of all dormitories for young women will be other guests. A pleasant social meeting to get acquainted outside the class room.

Stowell Hall

Friday, October 3.....8:30 P.M.

ANNUAL ALL-COLLEGE DANCE

This is the semi-formal Dance for ALL Bryant students, men and women, freshmen and upperclassmen. Come and trip the light fantastic while you get acquainted with your fellow students. Good music, good fun. Come stag if you don't know anyone well enough yet to invite them. You soon will know everybody. That means you, too, Girls.

October 12.....No School

COLUMBUS DAY

(If you don't like the day it falls on write to President Roosevelt.)

Tuesday, November 11.....No School

ARMISTICE DAY.

Wednesday, November 19,

12 o'clock NOON

THANKSGIVING RECESS BEGINS

Don't forget the hour. Our eagle-eyed Profs count these hours before Noon as Cuts if we're not here. And cuts have a way of having to be made up at Bryant.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

The members of the Faculty, the Administrative Staff, and your President extend a warm welcome to the new students of Bryant College.

May your years at Bryant be happy and fruitful ones, rich in knowledge that will pave the way to business success, and in happy memories of pleasant days and golden friendships.

You are now college men and women, with serious thoughts and deeper responsibilities.

Probably the first lesson the new student of Bryant learns is that he cannot waste time. The courses at Bryant have one dominant purpose—to educate you to meet the demands of modern business and to give you greater earning power. Our standard is high; the demands upon you as a student are great; but most of you can meet the exacting demands of your courses, if you will not underestimate them.

The first few weeks of a semester, the student is likely to underestimate the studying he must do. By the time he begins to realize it, he may have fallen behind and find it more difficult to keep up than if he had realized at the outset the steepness of the grade.

Now and then students will complain that the work is too hard. To such students let me say that soon you will be taking your place in the business world. Will you tell your employer that the work is too hard? Certainly not. You will work a little harder, increase your concentration and effort, and you will make the grade, if you expect to be continued on the payroll.

So, let me urge earnest application at the beginning of the semester to meet the tasks set before you, and do not hesitate to ask for help from your instructors at any time.

To returning students, we extend a cordial greeting. It is pleasant to see you back again, and it is my sincere wish that your second year at Bryant will give you a maturity and richness of college experience and ideals. Let me urge you to set your standard still higher than you did last year. Be not content to merely meet the marks required of you for graduation. Aim for special honors, special awards. Have not merely the inner satisfaction of having made more than ordinary achievements. Have the practical value which comes from having our Placement Director able to say to employers about you: "He was an Honor Roll student" or "She graduated Cum Laude" or "He won the Gold Medal for highest scholarship." Those are things we are proud to be able to say about our students. Those are things employers like to hear about prospective employees. Those are the things which you, alone, can make possible. May your Senior year be a happy one, a valuable one, fulfilling all the hopes and ambitions which you have and which your parents and your College have for you.

My hearty greetings and best wishes to all of you.

President

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF THE SEMESTER

The first Assembly of the college year will be held Friday morning, September 12, at 9:15, in Bryant Auditorium. This is the customary Orientation Assembly for freshmen. All first year students will then have presented to them the Presidents of the different fraternities, sororities, The Key, Student Council and other organizations; President Jacobs will welcome the new students; and Deans Stickney, Shors and Gulski will make brief addresses. Attendance is required of all freshmen.

Some statisticians figure that the modern woman secretary must have a knowledge of 871 miscellaneous duties, 250 of which she performs daily.

BRYANT FOREVER

Bryant, forever! Alma Mater, dear,
We are wiser
Beyond Measure
Having learned our lessons here.
With stout hearts
And with strong minds
We now meet life's tasks anew
Bryant, forever
Our hearts ring true.

Bryant, forever! Alma Mater, dear,
Loudly we'll sing
To you bring
Loyalty through the fleeting years.
For our memories
And our friendships
And our happy days with you
Bryant, forever
Our hearts ring true.

THE ALL-COLLEGE DANCE

The All-College Dance, given each year in order that Bryant men and women may get acquainted, will be held in Bryant Auditorium the first Friday in October. The Dance is semi-formal and some great music for the dancing is promised. So, put the date down on your pad now, date the girl friend up, or, if she lives too far away to come, come alone, stag. You'll soon meet people and forget you came alone. That applies to you, too, Girls. You may have promised you wouldn't go out with anyone else, but this case is different. Everybody, regardless of promises to the boy friend or the girl friend, comes to the All-College Dance.

A GET-TOGETHER SMOKER

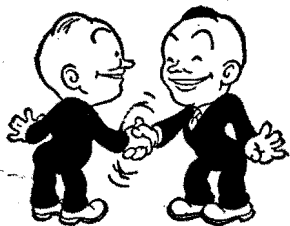

The annual Get-Together Smoker for all men students will be held Friday evening, in Bryant Auditorium, at 7:30 P.M. This is one of the most enjoyable events of the year, with seniors acting as hosts to the new students, and all getting acquainted with fellow students and gentlemen of the faculty in an informal evening of good fellowship. Over pipes and stogies, coffee and a snack, with songs and stories and movies, many a college friendship begins and not a senior or freshman ever wants to miss this Smoker.

RECEPTION AND TEA FOR OUT-OF-TOWN STUDENTS

One of the pleasantest social events of the early part of the year is always the Tea given for the new young women students from out-of-town. The Tea will be held this year on Sunday afternoon, September 14, from 4 to 6 o'clock in Stowell Hall. All young women students from out-of-town whether they are dormitory residents or live in some other approved home are cordially invited. The Tea is planned so that the newcomers may get to know their fellow students and the ladies of the faculty. President Jacobs and Mrs. Jacobs; Dr. Everett E. Salisbury, President of the Bryant Alumni Association (for whom Salisbury Hall was named) and the ladies of the Faculty and Administrative staff will be special guests. Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. E. Gardner Jacobs, Mrs. Salisbury, Mrs. Stickney (Dean of the Secretarial Division) will pour. Mrs. Pullen, Mrs. Doe, Mrs. MacWhinnie and Mrs. Stockbridge will be hostesses and will be assisted by the following seniors:

Viola Carnelli, Hartford, Connecticut; Virginia Lagerman, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Suzanne Cherry, Dover, Delaware; Frances Edwards, Chatham, Massachusetts; Evelyn Archer, New London, Connecticut; Ruth Troendle, Gardner, Massachusetts; Lee Roberts, Keyport, New Jersey; Louise Preston, Shelton, Connecticut; Dorothy Halsted, Ravena, New York.

WELCOME STRANGERS

A popular and helpful custom at Bryant College is that of having Student Counselors to act as advisors, guides, and friends to new students.

Newcomers anywhere—at school, in business, or anywhere else in life—find so many new places, new faces, new customs to learn, that a helping hand over the new strangeness is appreciated. We do not all make friends as quickly as some people do. We do not all conquer easily the homesickness to which all of us at some time fall a prey.

The Student Counselors will help newcomers to meet other students, to overcome nostalgia for home and homefolk. They will act as guides and advisors, will initiate newcomers into the traditions and history of the College; will introduce them to fellow students; and, in general, they will extend a friendly, helping hand in the situations that always arise the first few months at a new college.

The names of the Counselors and the new students they will sponsor are given on the Bulletin Boards. These Counselors will look up their new students the first few days of the semester. New students are urged to go unhesitatingly to their Counselor when in need of advice or help of any kind.

The Receptionist will help the new student to locate his or her Counselor. Between classes, at lunch, or after school hours, are suggested as the best times for these meetings.

Bryant will have two Lucy Deans this year—Lucy Dean, of Edgewood, Rhode Island, Commercial Teacher-Training, senior; and a newcomer, Lucy Dean, of Willimantic, Connecticut, who is enrolled in the Secretarial division.

THE DEBATING CLUB

One of the most interesting organizations of Bryant is the Debating Club. It is the baby of the organizations, started only last year, but what a lusty infant it was! Among the subjects it tackled—and brilliantly—last year were: "Should the United States Give Full Aid to England in World War II?"; Resolved, "That College Students Gain More Knowledge by Group Study"; "Will the Lease-Lend Bill Passage Keep the United States Out of War?"; "Resolved: That College Students Should Participate in Extra-Curricular Activities"; Resolved: That the United States Should Train Its Women as Well as Its Men in Event of a Future Major War" and "Does Business Hold as Much Opportunity for the Job-Seeker as a Profession?"

Bryant has only one set of twins this year—two new students, Barbara and Leslie Williams, of Edgewood, Rhode Island, who are enrolled in the Secretarial division.

Only four weeks have passed since many of us snapped our lockers closed and wrote "finis" to our first year at Bryant. Since that time, some of us have been sunning at the seashore or motoring in the mountains. Not such a long vacation as those we had when we were high school lads and lassies, but more than we'll probably have when we go out into the business world next year. Our instructors, too, have been having a month's rest after eleven strenuous months of trying to stuff us full of knowledge and mould us into big businessmen.

The upheaval in ship schedules which kept Dean Stickney from gaily roving in foreign places, held her this year to the motor highways of New England. Dean Gulski gathered a nice coat of tan on Cape Cod—and his face, too. Dean Shors' vacation was saddened by a trip to his Iowa home to settle the estate of his father, who recently died. Mr. Lee has been listening to what the wild waves were saying at Block Island; Mr. Appleby's sartorial splendor has been shining at Watch Hill; Mr. Hammond was "off to Buffalo" as soon as Commencement was over; Miss Collins went riding and golfing at a Dude Ranch in the West; Miss Cooke brings back more sparkling eyes than ever after her restful month in her native Maine. Mrs. Porter spent her vacation with her daughter at Springfield; Professor Hammond didn't let any gasoline shortage scare keep him away from a motor trip to Canada; Mr. Naylor chose Bar Harbor for his vacation; Miss Krupa found the beaches of her native Massachusetts alluring this year; Mr. Summersgill motored to Pittsburg, where he formerly lived and taught for several years; Mr. Russell forgot some of the wild penmanship he has to meet with every new Bryant class and made the most of his carefree month by motoring through Maine. Mr. Mercier spent the month in his beloved Connecticut where he tells us "the biggest ones got away"; and Mr. Lambert felt so carefree when examinations were over and he had a whole month of vacation ahead that he could hardly keep from joining in some of the flights of the homing pigeons he raises as a hobby. Mr. Richards defied devastating diets to delve in those pies like mother still makes at his old home in Salem, with side trips to Lake Winnepesaukee and points East.

Instructor (testing powers of observation of a class. Slapping a half dollar sharply on desk) "What's that?"
Stude: "Tails".

There is friendship in business. There is business in friendship. Many of your college classmates may become important executives. Both because of friendship and because it is good business, Bryant alumni seek other Bryant graduates when there is a vacancy on their staff. They themselves have had Bryant training and know its value to them and in their employes. Count that day at college lost in which you have not made a new friendship or cemented an old one.

B.A.: (Watching some birds eating the fruit of a nearby tree) Birds certainly eat a lot of fruit.

Sec. Freshman: How in the world can they open the cans.

ABSENTEES

One of the most popular and most efficient members of the Bryant Administrative staff, Mr. John L. Allan, will be AWL from the College for several weeks, under strict orders to take a complete rest. Returning Bryant men and women will miss seeing Mr. Allan when the semester opens; and new students will have to defer the pleasure of knowing him. He'll be back before the holidays, however, thoroughly rested and well, we hope. Mr. Allan has been a member of the Bryant staff for twenty years, and this is the first time he has been away from his duties except for annual vacations. During his twenty years here, Mr. Allan's administrative ability, his efficiency, the friendly way in which he helps students solve many of their problems, his unflinching good nature and sympathetic interest, have earned our sincere admiration, respect and affection. We'll miss you, Mr. Allan, and look forward to your return to us soon.

A votre santé.

Another absentee at the opening of the Fall semester is Professor Russell, who is on the sick list. Professor Russell has been one of the most valued and beloved members of the Faculty for many years. We are happy to report that his illness is not serious and that he will be back soon.

OUT OF CIRCULATION

Mary Elizabeth Anderson dashed into College one day just before Commencement wearing a brand new engagement ring. A little late, but—Congratulations, Mary! Kenneth Hyde, who was a student at Bryant a few years ago, is the lucky fellow.

Another Bryant girl who is out of circulation this year is Alice Wezniak, one of the cleverest girls of the Business Ad division. Alice was married just after Commencement at her home in Indian Orchard, Massachusetts, to Darwin Jones, of Albany. The bride is continuing her education at Bryant, however, and is back this week to begin her senior year.

Miss Phelan, '38, of the College secretarial staff the past three years, is another whose engagement was announced too late to be told in the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS. Miss Phelan will be married soon to John McQuillan of New Bedford.

And Ellen Williams, who finished her junior year in the School of Commercial Teacher-Training and dashed down to Washington for a Civil Service job, got engaged, too. She will probably be married this year.

Brother-and-sister enrollees at Bryant this year are Roma C. Palmer and Walter E. Palmer, Jr., of Hope Valley, Rhode Island; and James F. Falvey and Mary E. Falvey, of West Warwick, Rhode Island.

B.A. (Calling on Dorm resident) "I don't know why it is, but I feel thoroughly wound up tonight."

Dorm Resident: "How strange—and yet you don't seem to go"...

THEY'RE
IN THE ARMY NOW

Bryant men and women who were undergraduates last year and had many friends in the Class of 1941 will be interested in the list of 1941 alumni who are now in Uncle Sam's service.

William S. Coleman, United States Army, Manchester Air Base, Manchester, New Hampshire.

Emery J. D'Auteuil, Robert W. Marshall, Jr., Ben J. Scuda, William E. Simms, Ray Smith, (All with the United States Naval Reserve Air Corps, Squantum, Massachusetts).

Timothy A. Harrington, United States Naval Reserves; Gordon A. Van Eck, United States Army; Leonard Sweeney, United States Army (service was deferred from June 1st to September 8, to allow Mr. Sweeney to complete his practise teaching).

1940

Some of the present student body—those of the Commercial Teacher-Training division, in particular, doubtless have friends among the alumni of 1940 and will be interested in the list of graduates of that year who are now in the armed forces.

Gordon Van Eck, John Bannan and James Dow are in the Army.

Willis Drew is in the Army Air Corps, Georgia.

Thomas Ellis and William Rowse, Army, 6th Corps, Providence.

William Gavitt has received his commission as 2nd Lieutenant, United States Marine Corps, Officers' Training School, Quantico, Virginia.

Nathaniel Guy, Army, Personnel Department, Camp Edwards.

George McManus, Army, Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Charles Nofal, Army Air Corps, Savannah, Georgia.

Henry Stadnicki and Sidney Tober, Army, Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

Albert Stanwood, Army Air Corps.

Charles Tumidajski, Navy, stationed in Honolulu.

John Marjoris, Naval Intelligence Service, 1st Yeoman, Quonset Point, Rhode Island.

And at least 33 other members of the class of 1940 are members of the office staffs of defense industry plants.

Ask the Sigma Iota Chi girls to show you the three (Think of it! THREE) trophies they captured at the convention at Manitou Springs, Colorado, late in June. Sigma Iotas are modest gals, but even they must be elated to have won a trophy for the highest scholastic record, a pair of candlesticks for having had the best national project, and an Honorable Mention for showing the greatest improvement during the past two years.

ALREADY WORKING

The Bryant Placement record continues hitting on all cylinders! As this issue of ON THE CAMPUS goes to press, three-fourths of the students who were graduated only three weeks ago, on August 8, are already employed and earning good salaries in positions of responsibility and promise.

This unprecedented demand for secretaries, accountants, auditors, office managers, cost accountants and other office assistants, will continue for several years, it is the belief of United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. John W. Studebaker, and many other outstanding authorities in government, industrial and educational circles. And when employment conditions return to normalcy, it will be the man and woman who has the sound business education, and is therefore of the greatest value to the employer, who will be RETAINED in his position.

Graduates of the Class of 1941 already employed are:

Norma Annese, L. G. Balfour Company, Attleboro, Massachusetts.
 Carl Bond, Home Insurance Company, New York, New York.
 Henry Caldwell, Builders Iron Foundry, Providence.
 Isabel Carruth, Morris Plan Company, Pawtucket.
 Helena Dixon, Prudential Insurance Company, Providence.
 Marjorie Endler, Fram Corporation, Phillipsdale.
 Alice Ferreira (Evening School), U. S. Civil Service, Washington, D. C.
 Dorothy Floyd, Providence Paper Company, Providence.
 Alyce Grabiec, The Twin Door Restaurant, Woods Hole, Massachusetts.
 Harold Hubbard, Ostby & Barton Company, Providence.
 Beverly Johnson, Packard—Providence, Incorporated, Providence.
 Cosinia Keneklis, Aerovox Corporation, New Bedford.
 Louise Kerrigan, Morris Plan Company, Olneyville.
 John Leach, Conrad Manufacturing Company, Pawtucket.
 Kathleen Martin, New England Fire Insurance Rating Assn., Providence.
 William McCaughey, What Cheer Insurance Company, Providence.
 William Meyer, Meyer & Regan, Fall River.
 Dorothea Murray, Providence Plumbing Supply Company, Providence.
 Thelma Polman, United Jewish Social Service, Hartford.
 Eugene Schmidt, Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Company, Providence.
 Victor Sedgwick, Auto-Ordnance Corporation, Bridgeport.
 Cecilia Sweatt, Mr. Walter Guild, Trade Association and Fair Trade Council, Boston, Massachusetts.
 Dorothy Sylvia, Morse Twist Drill Company, New Bedford.
 Gilda Tatangelo, Semolina Macaroni Company, Georgiaville, R. I.
 Doris Wellman, General Plate Company, Attleboro.
 Evelyn Adams, Commercial Credit Company, Providence.
 Kathleen Albert, Rhode Island Industrial Commission, Providence.

Mary A. Allen, Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company.
 Warren B. Allen, Coca Cola Bottling Company of Rhode Island, Providence.
 Helen Anderson, Rhode Island Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 Lois M. Angell, Chapman Brush Company, Providence.
 Avis Ballou, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 George F. Banks, Finance Office, Navy Department, Newport, Rhode Island.
 George Bonneau, Morse Twist Drill Company, New Bedford, Massachusetts.
 Kathleen F. Brennan, John Hancock Life Insurance Company, Providence.
 Elizabeth A. Brown, Providence Gas Company, Providence.
 Rosalie Brown, Sayles Finishing Company, Saylesville, Rhode Island.
 Blanche D. Burgess, Mr. Henry Crowe, Attorney, Pawtucket, Rhode Island.
 Gertrude P. Carmody, Gerber's, Inc., Providence.
 Louise M. Chisholm, Bellefont Dyeing Corporation, Cranston, Rhode Island.
 Louise R. Cimaglio, Providence School Department, Providence.
 Alfred W. Cole, Providence Mill Supply Company, Providence.
 Anna M. Conde, Eastern Nail Company, Providence.
 Edna M. Cordier, Electrix Corporation, Pawtucket.
 Olive O. Coyle, General Fire Extinguisher Company, Providence.
 Ellen Daleda, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.
 Betty Davis, Lawrence Antonellis (Public Accountants) Falmouth, Massachusetts.
 Curtis Dickenman, Farmington High School (Teacher) Farmington, Connecticut.
 Margaret J. Dolan, State Department of Social Welfare, Providence.
 Virginia Dolloff, N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad Company, Providence.
 Philip G. Dorr, Coca Cola Bottling Company of Rhode Island, Providence.
 Jane A. Gants, U. S. Ring Traveler Company, Providence.
 Antonette Gentile, Eagle Cornice Company, Providence.
 Audrey E. Grove, B. A. Ballou Company, Providence.
 Everett M. Hall, Swift-McNutt Company, Providence.
 Frances Haskins, Lamson Oil Company, Providence.
 Mary B. Hayes, Catholic Charities Headquarters, Providence.
 Kenneth B. Hazard, Naval Air Station, Davisville, Rhode Island.
 Peter M. Healey, Bene & Company, Providence.
 Ruth V. Heffernan, Bay Oil Company, Providence.
 William L. Henry, Navy Accounting Office, Quonset Point, Rhode Island.
 Jean R. Hempel, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Providence.
 Elsie H. Hirst, Manufacturers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Providence.
 Margaret A. Howell, Henry L. Scott Company, Providence.
 John K. Hull, Naval Air Station, Davisville, Rhode Island.
 Genevieve Humes, J. B. Jamieson Company, Providence.

Helen Jaswell, Greenville Finishing Company, Greenville, Rhode Island.
 Jeanne Jetté, J. J. White Manufacturing Company, Providence.
 Dorothy L. Johnson, New England Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 Barbara Jones, Old Stone Bank, Providence.
 Anna F. Kapitan, Mason Furniture Company, Fall River, Massachusetts.
 Henry E. Kovacs, Coca Cola Bottling Company of Rhode Island, Providence.
 Virginia C. Lenau, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 Samuel W. Leonard, Haskell Manufacturing Company, Pawtucket, Rhode Island.
 Carl W. Lindquist, Naval Air Station, Davisville, Rhode Island.
 Timothy J. McCarthy, Boulevard Super Service, Providence.
 Rita McGuinness, Southern Massachusetts Oil Company, Taunton, Massachusetts.
 Claire L. McManus, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 Biagio M. Maggiacomo, Naval Air Station, Davisville, Rhode Island.
 Hyman Miller, Lipschitz Brothers, Public Accountants, New Bedford, Massachusetts.
 Mary R. Minnaugh, Read's, Inc., Providence, Rhode Island.
 Mary A. Mosher, First National Bank, North Bennington, Vermont.
 Arthur A. Nelson, Mil-Tex Trucking Company, Fall River.
 John H. Norberg, General Fire Extinguisher Company, Providence.
 Irene V. Novak, G. Fox & Company, Hartford, Connecticut.
 Gardner Oakes, Naval Air Station, Davisville, Rhode Island.
 Carolyn O'Sullivan, Loose Leaf Manufacturing Company, Providence.
 Nicholas Pagliara, Lischultz Fast Freight Company, Providence.
 Mildred Palow, Tax Collector's Office, Providence.
 Jean Parker, Automobile Mutual Insurance, Providence.
 L. June Place, Providence Paper Company, Providence.
 Eugenia W. Pournaras, Coca Cola Bottling Company of Rhode Island, Providence.
 Bernice A. Quinn, L. H. Tillinghast Supply Company, Providence.
 Barbara B. Raymond, Secretary to Physician, St. Albans, Vermont.
 Lore Renz, Industrial Trust Company, Providence.
 Anne Resnick, Young Brothers Mattress Company, Providence.
 Beverly M. Reynolds, General Fire Extinguisher Company, Providence.
 Mary B. Ronne, Young Women's Christian Association, Providence.
 Herman Rosen, Louis Goodman, C. P. A., Hartford, Connecticut.
 Doris M. Ross, George V. Ross Insurance Company, Holyoke, Massachusetts.
 James E. Sadler, Circular Tool Company, Providence.
 Maud A. Shaddock, Rhode Island Auditorium, Providence.
 Helen Shurgot, Cooley, Inc., Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

Florence Sobala, American Bosch Company, Springfield, Massachusetts.
 Mae E. Stanley, United States' Navy Department, Washington, D. C.
 Hazel V. Stone, Standard Garment Company, West Warwick, R. I.
 Margaret J. Sweeney, Girl Scout Headquarters, Providence.
 Olive L. Swift, Service Paper Company, Pawtucket.
 Dorothy K. Tucker, United States Ring Traveler Company, Providence.
 C. Jerome Villani, Electric Boat Company, Groton, Connecticut.
 Dorothy B. Waite, Automobile Mutual Insurance Company, Providence.
 G. Ruth Westall, Rogers High School (Teacher), Newport, Rhode Island.
 Robert Wolfe, Wolfe's Quality Food Shops, West Haven, Connecticut.
 Dorothy G. Wood, White Metal Stamp Corporation, Providence.
 Dorothy C. Young, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, East Providence, R. I.
 Courtland R. Burnham, Jr., Commercial Credit Corporation, Providence.
 Helen M. Lynch, Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Rhode Island, Providence.
 Virginia Sanford, National Commerce Bank & Trust Company, Albany, New York.
 Lockwood Whiteley, Retail Credit Company, Providence.
 Russell Cranston, United States Post Office Department, East Greenwich, Rhode Island.
 Alice Gorman, Cohn & Rosenberger, Providence.
 Irene Smialek, Avon Curtain Company, Fall River, Massachusetts.
 Dorothy Hines, (Teacher) Bryant College, Providence.

Other Years

Graduates of other years who have been placed since the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS are:

Barbara Jache, '36, Mr. Wise Westcott, Providence.
 Dorothy Marshall, '37, Machine Part Corporation, Providence.
 Harold Shovelton, '38, Franklyn Rayon Company, Providence.
 Kathleen O'Neil, '40, Kennedy Company, Providence.
 Irene Bancuk, '40, Kay Jewelry Company, Providence.
 Virginia Swanson, '39, Davoll Rubber Company, Providence.
 Marjorie Cody, '39, Fire Insurance Adjustment Bureau, Providence.

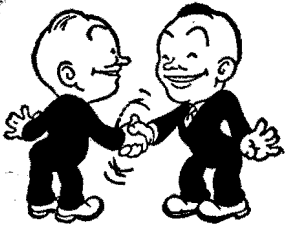

Officers of the Class of 1942, School of Secretarial Science, are: President, Phyllis Yelle; Vice President, Helen Barry; Secretary, Ruth Troendle; and Treasurer, Lois Northrup.

1942 Commercial Teacher-Training Class officers are: President, Leger Morrison; Vice President, Jessie Pro-lantonio; Secretary, James Walsh; and Treasurer, Anthony Fidrych.

Yesterday is a canceled check; tomorrow is a promissory note; today is real cash—spend it... wisely.

You never can get ahead of anyone as long as you are trying to get even with him.

WELCOME STRANGERS

A popular and helpful custom at Bryant College is that of having Student Counselors to act as advisors, guides, and friends to new students.

Newcomers...anywhere—at school, in business, or anywhere else in life—find so many new places, new faces, new customs to learn, that a helping hand over the new strangeness is appreciated. We do not all make friends as quickly as some people do. We do not all conquer easily the homesickness to which all of us at some time fall a prey.

The Student Counselors will help newcomers to meet other students, to overcome nostalgia for home and homefolk. They will act as guides and advisors, will initiate newcomers into the traditions and history of the College; will introduce them to fellow students; and, in general, they will extend a friendly, helping hand in the situations that always arise the first few months at a new college.

The names of the Counselors and the new students they will sponsor are given on the Bulletin Boards. These Counselors will look up their new students the first few days of the semester. New students are urged to go unhesitatingly to their Counselor when in need of advice or help of any kind.

The Receptionist will help the new student to locate his or her Counselor. Between classes, at lunch, or after school hours, are suggested as the best times for these meetings.

Bryant will have two Lucy Deans this year—Lucy Dean, of Edgewood, Rhode Island, Commercial Teacher-Training, senior; and a newcomer, Lucy Dean, of Willimantic, Connecticut, who is enrolled in the Secretarial division.

THE DEBATING CLUB

One of the most interesting organizations of Bryant is the Debating Club. It is the baby of the organizations, started only last year, but what a lusty infant it was! Among the subjects it tackled—and brilliantly—last year were: "Should the United States Give Full Aid to England in World War II?"; Resolved, "That College Students Gain More Knowledge by Group Study"; "Will the Lease-Lend Bill Passage Keep the United States Out of War?"; "Resolved: That College Students Should Participate in Extra-Curricular Activities"; Resolved: That the United States Should Train Its Women as Well as Its Men in Event of a Future Major War" and "Does Business Hold as Much Opportunity for the Job-Seeker as a Profession?"

Bryant has only one set of twins this year—two new students, Barbara and Leslie Williams, of Edgewood, Rhode Island, who are enrolled in the Secretarial division.

Only four weeks have passed since many of us snapped our lockers closed and wrote "finis" to our first year at Bryant. Since that time, some of us have been sunning at the seashore or motoring in the mountains. Not such a long vacation as those we had when we were high school lads and lassies, but more than we'll probably have when we go out into the business world next year. Our instructors, too, have been having a month's rest after eleven strenuous months of trying to stuff us full of knowledge and mould us into big businessmen.

The upheaval in ship schedules which kept Dean Stickney from gaily roving in foreign places, held her this year to the motor highways of New England. Dean Gulski gathered a nice coat of tan on Cape Cod—and his face, too. Dean Shors' vacation was saddened by a trip to his Iowa home to settle the estate of his father, who recently died. Mr. Lee has been listening to what the wild waves were saying at Block Island; Mr. Appleby's sartorial splendor has been shining at Watch Hill; Mr. Hammond was "off to Buffalo" as soon as Commencement was over; Miss Collins went riding and golfing at a Dude Ranch in the West; Miss Cooke brings back more sparkling eyes than ever after her restful month in her native Maine. Mrs. Porter spent her vacation with her daughter at Springfield; Professor Hammond didn't let any gasoline shortage scare keep him away from a motor trip to Canada; Mr. Naylor chose Bar Harbor for his vacation; Miss Krupa found the beaches of her native Massachusetts alluring this year; Mr. Summersgill motored to Pittsburg, where he formerly lived and taught for several years; Mr. Russell forgot some of the wild penmanship he has to meet with every new Bryant class and made the most of his carefree month by motoring through Maine. Mr. Mercier spent the month in his beloved Connecticut where he tells us "the biggest ones got away"; and Mr. Lambert felt so carefree when examinations were over and he had a whole month of vacation ahead that he could hardly keep from joining in some of the flights of the homing pigeons he raises as a hobby. Mr. Richards defied devastating diets to delve in those pies like mother still makes at his old home in Salem, with side trips to Lake Winnepesaukee and points East.

Instructor (testing powers of observation of a class. Slapping a half dollar sharply on desk) "What's that?"
Stude: "Tails".

There is friendship in business. There is business in friendship. Many of your college classmates may become important executives. Both because of friendship and because it is good business, Bryant alumni seek other Bryant graduates when there is a vacancy on their staff. They themselves have had Bryant training and know its value to them and in their employes. Count that day at college lost in which you have not made a new friendship or cemented an old one.

B.A.: (Watching some birds eating the fruit of a nearby tree) Birds certainly eat a lot of fruit.

Sec. Freshman: How in the world can they open the cans.

ABSENTEES

One of the most popular and most efficient members of the Bryant Administrative staff, Mr. John L. Allan, will be AWL from the College for several weeks, under strict orders to take a complete rest. Returning Bryant men and women will miss seeing Mr. Allan when the semester opens; and new students will have to defer the pleasure of knowing him. He'll be back before the holidays, however, thoroughly rested and well, we hope. Mr. Allan has been a member of the Bryant staff for twenty years, and this is the first time he has been away from his duties except for annual vacations. During his twenty years here, Mr. Allan's administrative ability, his efficiency, the friendly way in which he helps students solve many of their problems, his unflinching good nature and sympathetic interest, have earned our sincere admiration, respect and affection. We'll miss you, Mr. Allan, and look forward to your return to us soon.

A votre santé.

Another absentee at the opening of the Fall semester is Professor Russell, who is on the sick list. Professor Russell has been one of the most valued and beloved members of the Faculty for many years. We are happy to report that his illness is not serious and that he will be back soon.

OUT OF CIRCULATION

Mary Elizabeth Anderson dashed into College one day just before Commencement wearing a brand new engagement ring. A little late, but—Congratulations, Mary! Kenneth Hyde, who was a student at Bryant a few years ago, is the lucky fellow.

Another Bryant girl who is out of circulation this year is Alice Wezniak, one of the cleverest girls of the Business Ad division. Alice was married just after Commencement at her home in Indian Orchard, Massachusetts, to Darwin Jones, of Albany. The bride is continuing her education at Bryant, however, and is back this week to begin her senior year.

Miss Phelan, '38, of the College secretarial staff the past three years, is another whose engagement was announced too late to be told in the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS. Miss Phelan will be married soon to John McQuillan of New Bedford.

And Ellen Williams, who finished her junior year in the School of Commercial Teacher-Training and dashed down to Washington for a Civil Service job, got engaged, too. She will probably be married this year.

Brother-and-sister enrollees at Bryant this year are Roma C. Palmer and Walter E. Palmer, Jr., of Hope Valley, Rhode Island; and James F. Falvey and Mary E. Falvey, of West Warwick, Rhode Island.

B.A. (Calling on Dorm resident) "I don't know why it is, but I feel thoroughly wound up tonight."

Dorm Resident: "How strange—and yet you don't seem to go"...

THEY'RE
IN THE ARMY NOW

Bryant men and women who were undergraduates last year and had many friends in the Class of 1941 will be interested in the list of 1941 alumni who are now in Uncle Sam's service.

William S. Coleman, United States Army, Manchester Air Base, Manchester, New Hampshire.

Emery J. D'Auteuil, Robert W. Marshall, Jr., Ben J. Scuda, William E. Simms, Ray Smith, (All with the United States Naval Reserve Air Corps, Squantum, Massachusetts).

Timothy A. Harrington, United States Naval Reserves; Gordon A. Van Eck, United States Army; Leonard Sweeney, United States Army (service was deferred from June 1st to September 8, to allow Mr. Sweeney to complete his practise teaching).

1940

Some of the present student body—those of the Commercial Teacher-Training division, in particular, doubtless have friends among the alumni of 1940 and will be interested in the list of graduates of that year who are now in the armed forces.

Gordon Van Eck, John Bannan and James Dow are in the Army.

Willis Drew is in the Army Air Corps, Georgia.

Thomas Ellis and William Rowse, Army, 6th Corps, Providence.

William Gavitt has received his commission as 2nd Lieutenant, United States Marine Corps, Officers' Training School, Quantico, Virginia.

Nathaniel Guy, Army, Personnel Department, Camp Edwards.

George McManus, Army, Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Charles Nofal, Army Air Corps, Savannah, Georgia.

Henry Stadnicki and Sidney Tober, Army, Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

Albert Stanwood, Army Air Corps.

Charles Tumidajski, Navy, stationed in Honolulu.

John Marjoris, Naval Intelligence Service, 1st Yeoman, Quonset Point, Rhode Island.

And at least 33 other members of the class of 1940 are members of the office staffs of defense industry plants.

Ask the Sigma Iota Chi girls to show you the three (Think of it! THREE) trophies they captured at the convention at Manitou Springs, Colorado, late in June. Sigma Iotas are modest gals, but even they must be elated to have won a trophy for the highest scholastic record, a pair of candlesticks for having had the best national project, and an Honorable Mention for showing the greatest improvement during the past two years.