"Thanks Loads."

Those words seem so inadequate, yet how else can we express our appreciation for your remembrance at Christmas. It really makes us feel wonderful to know that old classmates are thinking of us.

"Red" Cain is now here as one of my students. It really felt grand to see an old face and my heart went back to the "Old Days" as we sat in his barracks and looked through his yearbook. True, there were some new faces there, but still, there was enough Bryant to make me wish I was once more back at school.

Once more thank you and may the "Service Club" continue along its road of success.

Sincerely
Dick Ham
