Howdy!

It's been back to school now for the last month and still about 5 more months to go. I thought that Bryant had a stiff schedule, but I think differently now. It's interesting, completely baffling, but necessary; supposedly a 6 year course in 6 months. Classes usually from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (6 days per week) plus classes twice a week until 9 p.m. Liberty is from 5 p.m. Saturday until 10 p.m. Sunday. Price, eh!

I sure would appreciate a "Bulletin" as I have lost track of some of the boys.

If I started writing about classes, etc., I'd still be writing at midnight, but with an exam each day, you can understand my situation.

Best regards to all,
