Hello Everyone:

Just the other day I received your very welcome Christmas gift, and today I received your letter, so I will take this time to thank all for both gifts. (That letter was just like a gift, believe me.) The candy was just the thing to send, and if you were to ask my wife about it, she would surely agree.

I am still here in Pawling taking care of the Army Air Force overseas returnees, at least the supply end of it. I am still on the lookout for some of the boys that I knew at Bryant, and I knew went into the Air Forces. Maybe some day I will be able to write and tell you that I have finally come across one of the boys.

If the Bryant Service Club has a list of addresses, I would appreciate it very much if they could send me the addresses of:

Nicholas C. Coracci '43
Curtis Dickenman '42

These two boys were my best friends that I had while at Bryant, but since I have been in the Army, I have lost all contact with them.

Until we meet again, and I hope that it is soon, I am

Yours sincerely,

Charles J. Kemmott, Jr.
