Thursday

My Dearest toes. We are both 11:15
Will it finally happened. I've unabout Panic. This will be a short letter. Anyway, because I'm going to the movies in turn a second to see "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo"

Sorry that I didn't write yesterday but Charlotte cut school twice here all day until I went to Bobbies. Didn't get home until quarter to eleven + so didn't write.

Nothing very interesting happened.

Bobbies on the train going to New York now. Hey train leaves at two. Golly, I wish we were going to leave today. To see you. She's just too excited. Guess she can't believe it - - - - - - - -

Excuse that time clapping. Just went to the movies or mother came back from them.

Saw "Thirty Seconds over Tokyo."

That was some picture. It sure made me realize there's a war on. They should have more of the actual fighting pictures and some of the training films that the Army sees. It would make people think a lot more. But whenever they show things, the worst side of the war - all the bloody killing, wounded, people are so queer. They get the attitude of why waste our time with this. I can't understand it readily. They've been showing the pictures of the wounded men and everytime some one is sure to ask why they came as with this. More & more people are wanting that way to understand it-Woody wants me to come next week to see you. Your husband down tonight. I really don't want to cut for because I think far like talking to anyone. But I've been postponing it for so long I guess I'll come to. I'd much rather stay home and write you-wait a sec. I'm going to look for some info-

Dear W, stay out of place &
Don't know if this will work for long.

My ink was all dried up so I put some water in it. Hope it holds out till tomorrow.

Wine having lazy weather again.

Now it's raining today! Well, there's no consolation about that. It washed a lot of the snow away.

Last night was awful. It started and froze as soon as it hit the ground. It was just like skating on the move. We slid out of Bobbie's house.

You should have seen Daddy going down Bobbie's steps. He just sat down and slid! Got a little damp but got down safely.

See, darling, are you going to be able to live off the post? What?
This about you going to transition at Spence Field? Will you be going to transition? I thought we'd go right to Texas. Oh, not that it makes much difference. One place is just as good as the other as long as we can be together. But how long will the transition be? Will you be able to get some time off after we've married for a honeymoon?

Oh, where are we going if we go? Gee, honey, it's not very much longer now. Wonder what it will be like to be married to a plier. Hope that you'll be able to live with me whenever we are.

Her is nipping my nose. Everything around here is always so calm and peaceful when I'm writing you.
Daddy thinks that he caught a tube for my under 20 - is - mum - But you can sing to me. That melodies we darling, then about it - I can never I must do something about that.
Happy George Washington Birthday. They're playing "My Ideal" to you sure are! Ever since that first night we went out together I to know you were the only one for not just from that. Friends and me. Oh, the King Cole trio is playing almost. Anyway he said they would.
It's the Ballroom & you know these Honey, whenever I hear songs that we heard together I get so homesick—songs mean so much. They bring back more memories than everything else. I was lying down but each time that way

There wasn't any mail you miss letters as much as I do when they don't come?

This week went pretty fast.

Not half fast enough though. Well,

Saturday more days? Tomorrow it will only be six weeks and the next day fifteen and then two weeks—bolly, in a way time flies gone real fast but I feel very sick and can't wait. I can't make a lot of sense sometimes.

Have a wonderful dinner and many thanks.

Love and best wishes, we have to order them soon. They'll probably get them all ready except for your name. I am such a problem - recommend William J. Clark. That sounds read nice. You're going to make a wonderful officer. Can hardly wait to see you in an officer's uniform. I'll bet you look sharp. You're so handsome.

Anyhow, honey, I'm so glad that you have a good time. I am looking forward to seeing you tomorrow and I wish you good luck.
when your hair is all curly and you're half asleep. Oh, everytime they showed Van Johnson asleep it reminded me of you. He sleeps always that "Cavemont" way and somehow the same way you sleep at purgatory and barn except you look so much more at ease. Whether not to say of once or twice yawning asleep or awake.

Know what? I love you.
You're without doubt the most wonderful man in the world, the best father and man I've ever known. If I keep this up you'll be the most concensed. But I love you so, loves, Gee, honey, will you have to study at night the way he did? I hope not. I wonder how often you'll have to pay nights.
What do they do to you in transition? What is that Pass? What do you learn? will you fly twin engines there?

Honey, I wish we were married and together now. But is so long since the last time I saw you. And what have you been doing? It has been forever you were home. Golly, Christmas might be a thousand years since you talked smiled hugged ago. It certainly seems it.

I just want to be with you again more than anything else.

In the world.

Oh, that reminds me Woody got a letter from Jessie yesterday and he said he thought they were cutting his leave and that he probably wouldn't be able to come up to see me in March. That's getting out of it. Next week it certainly seems I wouldn't feel well. I don't know how excited I feel. I can't wait any longer as to what Woody could do for his life. Guess he's going to be doing what he wants to. It's funny how people believe what they want.
If I were a fool, what am I saying?
If I were Woody or someone I've heard Ransford talking to, I'm still I'd see through it might be, anyway. Anyway, I've always believed about 1/17 of what a fellow says.
That's the safest way and the only practical thing I've ever done.

Get, honey! Next time I see Bobby P
I'll be Mrs. Clark. You'll be an officer too.

Wonder what we will be. Oh, honey, what will we do when you get a leave?
Will we go home or what and if we do go home where will we stay.
If we stay at either your house or my

I was thinking about that. When you get a leave where would we go. I can think of more problems can't I?
Ricky is at the Nicos' now. Last night they called Bobbie. So that mother doesn't want me to ship the two paper bags, putting all of my bags because she says something will happen to them. Well, the three bags of mine: my last box, a box with my wedding dress, another box with my veil, mother's suitcase, daddy's suitcase, mine suitcase, some stuff of yours that she's keeping in thickes suitcase and all of us all going to fit into a tiny dressing room for two people. That's should be good. Besides that we're going to bring something to eat, too. How we do it is beyond me. I guess a minor detail.

your birthday and I know how you feel about the ones you have now well?
and if you'll wear another one, would you rather have silver or gold?
and if you wish what in the name of heaven can I give you? Answer

Honey, I love you so. I'm so awful without you. It seems a million years since we were together.
It wouldn't be much longer now.
I have a letter from you.

I hope you're doing well.

I must tell you how much I appreciate your kind words.

I'm doing my best to be patient.

I can't wait to hear from you again.

Thank you for your thoughtful words.

I hope you're happy and healthy.

Please keep in touch.

Best regards,

I suppose that you knew that Kenneth had pneumonia.
Can't spell it. But lots much better now. Set up for three.

Vince. Yesterday did not want to tell you until someone else did because I really don't know very much about it. Anyway, now that he's better I guess someone else told you.

That reminds me. If you're never sick in anything, perhaps we'll tell me not to try to keep it from me?
I'd rather you told me than hearing someone else say something. Of course you'll probably never be ill but just in case —
well, honey just returned from Woody's. Sorry but it's late, wish I could write more but it's late now. I love you so much, my darling.

what a night! It's so pretty that we shouldn't see ten feet ahead of us. Daddy almost drove up two trees. God we couldn't even see the road.

I love you so, honey, I'll never be able to tell you how much but anyway I'll keep trying.

God, dwelling 17 more days. I miss you more and more. Hope these seventeen days go real fast.

I'll write tomorrow again, honey, I love
You see: I have to do this. I'm not forced to do it.

You said "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo." Did you mean it?

Tokyo? Did you mean Tokyo? No, it was good.

I said I was going to say Tokyo, and I did.

Anything with men in mind... It reminds me of you.

I love you so, honey. Goodnight for now.

Now I adore you, honey. You'll have all my love.

Always,

Dottie
