It is when one of those special persons, one of the few who are truly a formative moral force, is found; it is then that we cast about for an adequate means of expressing a real appreciation.

Thus, a dedication of this yearbook to Dean Smith means more to us than the customary honor—this is an appreciation from us for one of the few.
"In this time of human storm, nothing to me is more hopeful than the worldwide press of youth for education and for a more effective role in the determination of the future. This drive, which today students spearhead, gives significance to all we plan and strive for and accomplish here at Bryant."
