Business Census Opens In R. I. On Future Trends

The 1948 Census of Business will get underway in Rhode Island next Monday when a force of 20 Enumerators begin to canvass every retail, wholesale and service trade establishment in the State. Mr. A. W. Ravenelle, local director of the Census Bureau of the United States Department of Commerce today announced.

Ordered by the 80th Session of Congress, the national survey of business will cover approximately 3,000,000 establishments which will be asked to supply data concerning 1948 sales and inventories and information on their 1948 payrolls.

In 1939, the most recent year covered by a Census of Business, national retail sales amounted to $42 Billion, while wholesale sales totaled $65 Billion. Today, retail national sales alone are an estimated $130 Billion, with wholesale sales an estimated $160 Billion. How accurate present estimates are will be determined when all the 1949 Business Census facts are collected.

John A. Dillion of Central Falls is assistant to Director Ravenelle, while former Mayor Herbert E. Macauley of Newport is in charge of the Census in Newport and Bristol Counties, John F. Kennedy, retired State Police Captain, in Washington and Kent Counties, and James S. Donahue, former divisional O. P. A. Chief, in Providence County.

Mr. Ravenelle conducted a two week's training course in the old Post Office Building for Enumerators to familiarize them with forms prepared by the Census Bureau in cooperation with committees of business leaders and representatives of trade organizations. These forms are designed to make the businessman's part in the Census as effortless and time saving as possible.

However, Mr. Ravenelle pointed out that the law ordering the 1949 Census of Business as well as one at the end of every subsequent five year period imposes penalties for failure to furnish the required Census information.

In addition to providing a check on estimated wholesale and retail sales volume, the 1949 Census will determine the effect of business activity on employment and payrolls for the nation as a whole, and for each City and County in the United States.

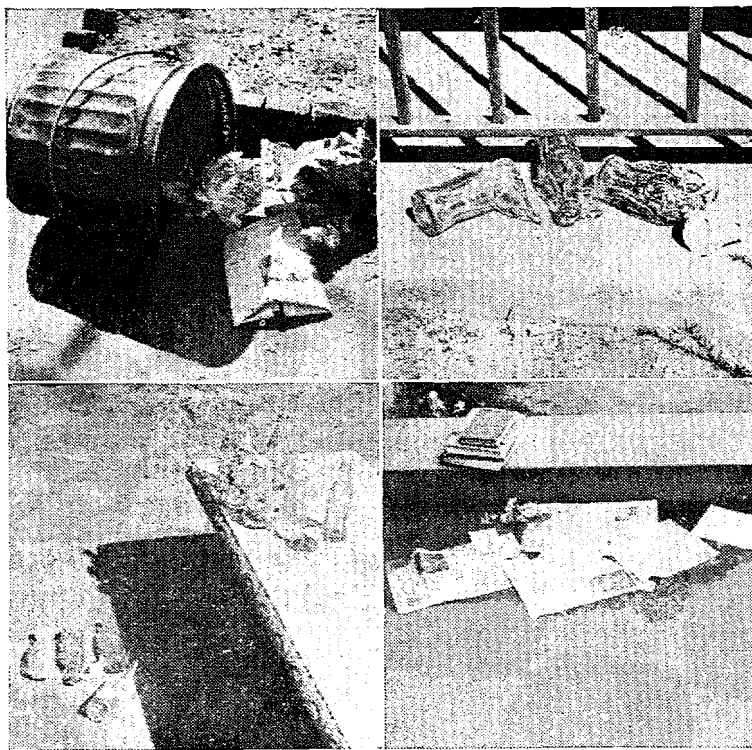

SIB Presents a "Rhapsody In Blue"

"Rhapsody in Blue" was the theme of Sigma Iota Beta's dance Saturday night at the Bryant auditorium. Approximately 200 couples danced to the music of Stan Moore's band.

The gym was tastefully decorated in blue and white streamers for the occasion and shortly after intermission an umbrella of balloons with theatre tickets attached initiated a scramble among the patrons.

Tracksters Whip R. I. C. E. In First Dual Outing

Johnny Smith and Charlie O'Connell led the Bryant track team to a convincing 69-39 win over Rhode Island College of Education last Saturday afternoon at the Old Hope Field.

Smith scored wins in the 100-yd dash, the 220-yd dash, the 120-yd hurdles, the broad jump and a second in the discus. O'Connell won both the mile and the 880-yd run to show a very notable performance.

Dick Weigel's 175-foot heave in the javelin bested all others and "Lefty" Gomez copped another Indian first in the high hurdle event.

Best times of the day were Smith's 220, and O'Connells 880-yd efforts. Both men were fresh at the finish, O'Connell having just completed the mile, in addition.

Meets against Providence College and the Rhode Island State Annex are in the near future with dates to be announced, and a meet with Colby College of Waterville, Maine, will be run at Colby on May 21.

The summaries:

BA Society Plans June Meeting

The Business Administration Society heard Mr. R.H. White, personal manager of the Corning Glass Company at their second dinner-meeting of the semester held at the Hotel Dreyfus at 6:30 p. m. last night.

President Bob Graham of the BA Society has announced that the next meeting will be held on June 1. The time and the place will be announced at a later date. William Cousins, business manager of the Pawtucket Slaters baseball club will be the principal speaker. Mr. Cousins is a graduate of the Harvard School of Business and Holy Cross. His topic will be "Business and Baseball." Movies of the 1948 World Series will be shown.

Courtmen Trim Durfee Tech, 7-0

On April 25 at their own tennis courts, Bryant trimmed the tennis representatives from Durfee Tech with a score of 7-0.

In the second singles match, Herman of Bryant did a fine job of scoring against Essig of Durfee Tech, the result being 6-0, 6-0.

Another good scoring job was done by Bryant's McLean in the third singles match, chalking up 6-1, 6-1 against Corner of Durfee.

Singles:
1st. Wentworth (B) 6,6 vs. Vigeant (D) 1,2. 2nd Herman (B) 6,6 vs. Essig (D) 0,0. 3rd. McLean 6,6 vs. Corner (D) 1,0. 4th Leon 6,6 vs. Reis (D) 1,1. 5th Gentile (B) 6,6 vs. Slowe (D) 1,1.

Runners, jumpers and what-not tossers from seven fraternities will match speed and skill this afternoon at the old Hope Field in the first running of the Bryant Spike Shoe Championship at four o'clock.

Sixteen track and field events will bring out the prowess of some hundred-odd competitors as the fraternities vie for the varsity-donated track trophy.

Barring totally inclement weather, in which case the meet will be held one week from today, the events will begin at four o'clock and will continue until shortly after five.

Three places will be awarded in each event with five points for first place, three for second, and one for third to each team. Individual winners will receive medals. The team amassing the greatest aggregate point score will receive the trophy, symbolic of the track supremacy of the College.

Teams entered include: Sigma Lambda Pi, Beta Sigma Chi, Tau Epsilon, Alpha Theta Chi, Beta Iota Beta, Chi Gamma Iota, and Phi Sigma Nu.

All competitors are reminded to report, fully dressed, at the field not later than 3:30 p. m. Spectators and competitors may reach the field by taking an Elm-grove bus from the Tunnel and getting off at Upton Street. The field is two blocks east of the intersection.

Varsity track members officiating at the meet will be Burrows, Diggle, Weigel, Smith, O'Connell, Lane Schultz, Lenney, Tibbetts, Gomez, Glenn, and Tew.

Theta Spends "Night In Park"

Though April showers were present in Providence on April 23, such was not the case in the Bryant auditorium as Sigma Lambda Theta presented its "Saturday Night in Central Park" dance.

The sorority sisters excelled in capturing the atmosphere the clear sky and luminous celestial bodies. The orchestra of Tommy Masso was silhouetted against the horizon on a terrace fronted by a white picket fence entwined with flowers. The hopes of all present were centered around the Wishing Well from which Wendell Cheney, President of Beta Sigma Chi, withdrew the name of Jeanette Silverio, Harriet Hall, the winner of the Emerson radio.

The sisters of Sigma Lambda Theta wish to express their appreciation for the assistance rendered by the men of the brother fraternity, Beta Sigma Chi.

LATE NEWS

Bryant Brown Bill Passed

The bill setting up a corporation to operate Bryant College was passed in concurrence with Rhode Island House of Representatives by the State Senate Friday, April 29. The bill allows the college to be set up as a non-profit corporation operated by trustees.

The bill does not permit the new corporation to be exempt from municipal real and tangible property taxes. The bill contains a provision that the college be offered to Brown University after the death of Dr. Harry L. Jacobs, president of the college, but no later than January 2, 1960, in any case. If the offer is accepted by Brown officials, the college buildings and other college assets would place under a Brown charter which has a tax exemption feature. The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

IN A PIG'S EYE

According to the most popular magazine here at Bryant, "Modern Industry"—a full one-third of all executive industrial positions are being held by women.

Until recently the general belief was that this is a man's world. Hah! Now—now every day, in millions of enlightening articles, the truth is being printed.

At last the world will know of the powers of a woman! Giplin, a genius in his own right, hit upon the truth once, but people—male people, especially—refused to believe him. It was he who spoke the immortal words—"The female of the species is more deadly than the male And,—isn't he right, girls?

Someday—ah, someday, we'll show them! Comes the Revolution, and we'll all wear pants! We'll become a nation of Amazons!

Just imagine — hundreds of years from now— maybe even less, if science hurries up with some all-powerful vitamin pills— girls will all grow grow to six feet, and maybe more, and men will become the petit little things, that you just love to cuddle! Women will take over the business world, the political world, and more important than all—the world of matrimony!

Mother, or shall we call her Father, just for effect?, will come home after a hard day at the office.

"Hello, darling! Wait till I tell you about the new contract I just got! Hey, what've you got for dinner? Oh no! Not that junk again. Don't I give you enough money to spend on food, John? I I don't understand it! Mrs. Wilson's husband manages to economize! Or maybe he doesn't buy as many new hats or those—little things, as you do! I think you spend half your life window-shopping!

Then the sweet, little husband speaks—

"You don't love me any more, Mary! When you asked me to marry you, you promised to love, honor, and cherish me! I spend all day over a hot stove, and what do I get! You object to my buying a few hats, when you know vvery well I only buy them so I'll look pretty for you! I'm going home to Father!"

Don't laugh' . . . It could happen to you! More and more women are adopting the habits of men, and men, in return are becoming more and more familiar with the habits of women! Why, a hundred years ago, one never saw a women smoke, drink, or say nasty . . . well, nasty, little words. And what man, about a hundred years ago, knew anything about washing dishes, making beds, or anything so servile as to be woman's own particular duties.

Yep—I feel stronger already— just thinking about it! I feel my muscles bulging, my biceps twitching, and even my face is a little bit rougher. Could it be five-o'clock shadow? Five-o'clock Oh, he said he was gonna call at five o'clock, and he didn't! Well, it just goes to show you—it's still a man's world—for the time being.

Rules for Good Secretaries Many

Business students and prospective office workers often seriously wonder today just what the average businessman in the average business office thinks about certain problems of conduct among the women workers in their office; and what they consider among the desirable and undesirable traits.

These are a few of the questions asked by all beginning office workers:

1. Is it permissible to smoke in the office or rest rooms?

Smoking in the office seems to be almost undesirable trait and in many cases smoking in the rest rooms is even looked upon with disfavor. Mainly because the time to smoke is taken from work.

2. Is it all right to chew gum in the office?

Chewing gum is an undesirable trait as most people can not chew gum without annoying those around them. Etiquette tells us that there is only one permissible place to chew gum, "In your own privacy."

3. Could girls get by with applying make-up, combing their hair, knitting, etc., in the office?

Most businessmen are very definitely against turning a business office into a beauty parlor, and knitting on office time shows non-interest in promotion. Usually a girl who knits in the office leaves letters the next day and filing will wait for days to be done while she finishes the sleeve of her sweater.

4. What is considered to be three of the most desirable secretarial traits?

The three most desirable traits for office workers are:

1. Ability to get along with people.

2. A good personality and neat appearance.

3. Efficiency in their work.

Some of the numerous other desirable traits are: honesty, punctuality, cooperation, a good voice, alertness, dependability, intelligence, common sense, and a willingness to stay on the job.

5. What are three reasons "Why office workers have failed in an office—possibly causing them to be discharged?"

The three most common reasons for failure in an office are:

1. Inability to get along with people.

2. Inefficiency.

3. Laziness.

Following these could be listed: failure to take responsibility, allowing personal affairs to interfere with office work, sloppiness, dishonesty, a lack of common sense, taking too much time off during work hours, lack of interest in their work, making too many personal telephone calls, not being on time, absenteeism, and revealing confidential matters.

To succeed in a business office today, one must remember to do the things that are expected of him, and do these things well; and refrain from doing the things he should not do and be smart enough to know, or find out, what he should not do. This seems to be the modern trend of thinking businessmen today and we as office workers want to be alert as—

In order for the campus as a whole to be clean, each individual student must make a slight effort to dispose properly of his bottles, papers, cigarette butts, et cetera.

We all know that clean surroundings make for pleasant surroundings. As long as we are on the Bryant Campus, let us make our stay a pleasant one. Keep it clean!

"DOWN BY THE STATION—"

The year 1830 marked the advent of railroading in this country. Since that time when Peter Cooper's Tom Thumb, the first steam-engine rode the American rails, railroad men have ceased to be satisfied. Experiment followed and better and faster locomotives were built. In the middle of the nineteenth century, railroad passenger cars were serving the American people.

This brings us up to the present day and to the train of tomorrow. From 1944 to 1945, the General Motors Corporation designed a Diesel-engined passenger train with all the luxuries and comforts of a first-class hotel. This passenger train, known as "The Train of Tomorrow" visited the fair city of Providence a few weeks ago. The five-car train displayed features of luxurious design and conveniences never before seen in any railroad car in any other part of the world.

The railroad has advanced tremendously since the thirteen mile trip from Baltimore to Ellicott's Mills by the Tom Thumb! It has not only improved in velocity but also in design, conveniences, and luxury. The Train of Tomorrow is good enough to meet the requirements of an emperor—that's what we'll be traveling on a few years from now!

WHATS TO BE DONE

A scheduled meeting of the Student Senate on Monday, April 25, was dismissed because of lack of a quorum.

This is the third instance since the beginning of the semester when absenteeism has resulted in dismissal of the Senate.

The Senate is empowered by its by-laws and constitution to take drastic action against its members in cases involving indecorum, fraudulent voting, and repeated absences.

Thus far, no disciplinary action has been taken by the Senate under any of the provisions. However, the time for action has apparently been reached. When a Student Government organization with the potential ability and the myriad problems which may face it cannot act because of lethargy on the part of its members, a basic part of the Senate's "raison d'etre" slides out the door.

It would seem that the fault lies with the individual members. Is a little responsibility, say the welfare and best interests of fifty to a hundred constituent student, too much to shoulder? Or is it too little, that the Senators so lightly regard six hour of the three hundred twenty-odd in a calendar month that this responsibility may be dismissed with a wave of an apathetic hand?

If you, Joe and Jane Student, should wake some morning to find that an issue of vital concern has come up in the Senate and your interest is not represented, you must share the blame.

So you see, we have a choice. Swing the axe, serve tea and trumpets, or—come to the Senate meetings.

Or would that last be asking too much?

"Some of you may find it difficult, at first, to adjust yourselves to this early morning class period."

ALONG THE SIDELINES

By MEL STONE

Last year's pennant races were really exciting, and the Athletics were an important factor in making the American League race exciting. Connie Mack thinks his team will be an important contestant because he has good pitching, good catching, good fielding, and he feels that this year's infielding will surpass his $100,000 infield of the first part of the century. Mr. Mack, baseball patriarch, said if his team's hitting improves, they will have a good chance to win.

The A's were right up on top 'til August, when Eddie Joost, Connie's home run hitter, hurt his head and was out of the line-up for the rest of the season. Eddie sparked the team with 13 home runs, up to August. Connie has Todd Davis as utility man for Joost, in case he becomes one of the injured this year. Mr. Mack has fortified his team with several new utility men from trades and his farm teams.

We sincerely hope that Connie's ambition to win a pennant this year will inspire his team into winning it for him. The fact that Mr. Mack is 86 years old, and matches wits on the diamond with men half his age is one of the most inspiring things in baseball today. May he win that pennant this year and several more before he retires from baseball.

Before 1882 umpires listened to players and spectators before making a decision on a disputed play. In that year it was ruled that an umpire, must use his own judgement when making a decision.

Jack Coombs, pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics set an American League of 13 shutouts, in 1910.

Ted Williams, left fielder for the Boston Red Sox, has dedicated his first home run of the 1949 season to 14 year old Bob Peterson of Stanton, Nebraska, who is a polio victim. Williams has autographed a baseball to that effect for Bobbie.

Billy Southworth posted a motto on the dressing room wall in the Braves' 1948 Florida training camp which read: "So long as you know your green you'll grow; but when you think you're ripe, you begin to get rotten."

Whirling Discs

By Norma Vogel and Fred Harlowe

We have been waiting to hear Benny Goodman-plus-bop and his latest cut for Capitol is "Undercurrent Blues." There is no doubt that Benny Goodman is prepared to give "bop" a fair chance to earn its way with him.

Anita O'Day, who is one of the top vocalists in the land, has recorded some fine tunes such as "What is This Thing Called Love" and "Bootwhip." Antia's tone quality is terrific and her "scat" style is tops.

Claude Thornhill's introduction in progressive music is "Anthropology" a disc with appealing riffs. We can expect more from Claude in the near future.

Charlie Ventura's Combo recordings are great and "Euphoria" is a good example of what Ventura's boys are capable of doing.

One of Dizzy Gillespie's first and finest bop cuts is "Hothouse" one in a typical Dizzy style with a good riff.

A re-issue of Billy Eckstine's on "I Only Have Eyes for You" is a must on the Eckstine fans list.

In spite of the Sammy Kaye and Spike Jones records in his collection (which also includes discs by Charlie Parker, and Stan Kenton), Charlie Ventura will soon be explaining bop—in five five-minute lectures—over many of the country's radio stations.

The lessons in bop were transcribed by RCA Vitcor for distribution to disc jockeys only. On the discs, Charlie Ventura, singer Jackie Cain, and pianist Roy Karl, discuss such things as how chords, are used, with the three giving examples.

These transcriptions should give the public a better conception of Bop.

Les Brown's recording of "A Fine Romance" is a fine cut, and the arrangement is based on "I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm."

First sides on the Royal Roost label have hit the stores. Opening releases are "Bop City" and "Crossing the Channel," all by a crew headed by trombonist Kai Winding.

Mel Torme, better known as the "Velvet Fog," has terrific tone quality and his recording of "Night and Day" is a platter well worth listening too. Mel is a young fellow and has a bright future.

We have been out scouting this week for the best records we could find covering all the types of music from "be-bop" to "polkas." Would you like to hear them now?

The musical TALES OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC, now running in New York, has given us two of today's most popular songs. Frank Sinatra has recorded the ballad "Bali Hi" and surprising as it may seem, his recording is very good.

The melodies of this tune have something refreshing and enjoyable to offer.

Wayne King recored a beautiful waltz called "Tennessee Waltz." It is the same as all waltzes go, but Mr. King's music is always the sweet, dreamy waltz music that puts you in THAT special kind of mood.

There have been some changes, Dave Barbour has made a recording without Peggy Lee. It is another tune from TALES FROM THE SOUTH PACIFIC and it is called. "There's Nothing Like a Dame." Mr. Barbour is accompanied by the chorus.

Buddy Moreno has a cute new polka out called the "Open the Door Polka." We haven't heard much from or about Mr. Moreno but in our opinion he is very good.

In the novelty department we have a tune called "Skirts" and it is done by Tiny Hall and Orchestra. It's crazy, but then what novelty isn't.

"When Your in Love" is a new waltz that has a tune similar to the tune of La Golondrina. Rosemary Cluny does the vocal with Tony Pastor.

Guy Lombardo recorded "So in Love" with Don Rodney on the vocal. This is just one of the many tunes from the musical KISS ME KATE. The flip also features Don Rodney and it is "Here I'll Stay" from the musical LOVE LIFE.

"How can you keep a rooster from crowing on Sunday morning?"

"Kill him Saturday night." Doubles

"The doctor told me to see if I could keep an apple on an empty stomach."

"Did it work?"

"No, the darn thing kept drolling off!"

About The Campus

Our lack of news in this issue does however give us the opportunity to give the list of representatives as we had promised.

We are pleased to give their names and hope that you will cooperate with them fully. You must remember that because each has been appointed for his or her organizations he or she is the only reporter in the organization. It is the duty of each member to submit news to these reporters and then they will turn it in to us. Every member is a reporter. Let's give these people some co-operation! How about it kids!

SOCIAL EVENTS

Members and advisors of Tau Epsilon welcomed a very spirited and conscientious group of pledgees at their semiannual Pledgee Banquet held this year on April 5, at the Club 400. Mr. Curtis Dickenman, past president of the fraternity, was initiated as a faculty advisor. Mr. John Allen, fraternity advisor, addressed the group. His talk centered on fraternity initiations and the dangers that may arise when a certain degree of discretion is not used. He cautioned that over-zealousness during "Hell Week" may lead to eventual abolition or curtailment of fraternal activities, such as occurred at some other colleges and universities. Following the dinner the meeting adjourned for an evening of relaxation.

The girls of Salis bury Hall are having a dance April 27 and from the reports we have it will be as entertaining as those that have preceded it.
