The Archway Investment Fund - Fixed Income Portfolio Bryant University

Monthly Report Data as of 3/31/2023

Fund Objective

The primary objective of the Archway Investment Fixed Income Fund (the Fund) is to provide students in Bryant University's Fixed Income Portfolio Management course with a hands-on learning experience. The Fund launched on October 27, 2017 with $500,000. After including subsequent capital inflows and outflows, the net capital contribution is $815,000.

Investment Strategy

The Fund seeks returns from income and price appreciation, in excess of its Benchmark, while maintaining a volatility less than 120% of that of its Benchmark. The Benchmark was changed from the Fixed Income ETF GVI to the Fixed Income ETF AGG, which broadly tracks the Bloomberg Barclays Aggregate Index, on September 30, 2021. That index includes fixed rate debt securities priced in USD and traded in the US market, that are issued by the U.S. Treasury, U.S. government agencies, U.S. corporations, and taxable debt issued by sovereign, supranational and local government entities rated investment grade. It also includes highly rated MBS, CMBS and ABS securitized credit tranches. The benchmark was chosen for its diversification, and its use as a benchmark for both active and passive core fixed income portfolios. The tracking error of the portfolio versus its benchmark, defined as the annualized standard deviation of excess returns, is kept below 2%. Historical benchmark return and risk metrics use a chained return series reflecting the benchmark in use at the time.

Performance Commentary

The Archway Fixed Income Portfolio returned 2.42% during March, while the benchmark returned 2.64%, producing an excess return of -0.22%. On March 10, Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) failed; it was the the second largest bank failure in United States history. A few other regional banks fell as well, causing a drop in public confidence in the banking system. Two weeks after the failure, Federal Reserve Bank Chairman Jerome Powell announced a 25 bps increase in the Federal Funds rate. He emphasized that the banking system had strong capital and liquidity, and continued to insist that the Fed is focused on fighting inflation. However, he also noted that financial conditions had tightened, and that the economy was showing some signs that inflationary pressure were beginning to recede. For the month of March, Treasury yields dropped across the curve, with the 6-month yield down by 26 bps, the 2-year yield down by 79 bps, the 5-year yield down by 61 bps, the 10-year yield down by 46 bps, and 30-year yield down by 27 bps. The spread between the 2-year and the 10-year yields ended the month at -56 bps, after reaching -109 bps earlier in March. That was the largest inversion in that portion of the yield curve in 40 years. The Archway portfolio was shorter in duration than it benchmark throughout March, with the only material overweight at the 20-year point on the curve. The duration and curve exposures contributed -0.18% and 0.00% in alpha for the month. The portfolio was also overweight in investment grade credit, high yield bank loans, agency debt, and MBS throughout most of the month. It was underweight in Treasuries and the other smaller sectors within its benchmark where we cannot invest ment grade credit, high yield bank loans, agency debt, and MBS throughout most of the month. Income and security selection contributed 0.04% in alpha to the portfolio during the month. For the year thus far, the portfolio has returned 3.34%, while the benchmark returned 3.24%. Since its inception in October 2017, the portfolio has an ann
