1965 Alumni Fund Begins March 1

TELEVISION SERIES FEATURES ALUMNI AND FACULTY

WJAR camera brings Elizabeth Neilan, R. L. Appleby and A. Sidney Kingsmill into area homes on "The World Around Us."

Providence's Channel 10, WJAR-TV, began a series of six programs on Monday, February 1, at 9:30 a.m. devoted to the basic principles of "Personal Financial Management."

The programs present in everyday language the financial situations encountered daily and were shown every Monday.

Bryant alumni and faculty who made up the panel were Elizabeth A. Neilan '43, Assistant Vice President of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island; R. Lucien Appleby '27, Vice President and Treasurer of Bryant College; A. Sidney Kingsmill, Associate Professor of Accounting; and Dr. Charles Goulston, Professor of Accounting. Dr. Goulston joined the panel for the last two programs.

College Librarian Miss Mary F. Kiely prepared a bibliography of texts on money-management, investments, and taxes to coincide with the programs.

Alumni viewers can also view the repeat of this series on Sundays at 11 a.m.

PAUL CONE '36 TO ETHIOPIAN UNIVERSITY

A distinguished member of the faculty of the University of Southern California's School of Business Administration has accepted an appointment as financial advisor to the Haile Selassie I University, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, under the United States Agency for International Development of the United States State Department. Haile Selassie University has 2,200 students and occupies the former Palace grounds.

Dr. Paul R. Cone '36, a USC associate professor of both Management and Accounting and a former Chairman of that USC department arrived in Addis Ababa with his wife late in January. He will design and administer the operating and capital budgets of the Ethiopian university and will carry on related advisory duties in administrative and financial procedures, recruitment and training of native personnel for University positions, and teach.

Nelson G. Burke

The 1965 Alumni Fund is underway and indications are that it will surpass the $12,000 mark set last year.

General Chairman for the 1965 Fund is Nelson G. Burke '27, recipient of the 1963 Alumni Award and head of a Providence based petroleum products company. Nelson has a roster of Class Chairmen who are diligently working to gather volunteers for this important project.

An independent college like Bryant can continue to grow only with the support of its alumni. Urgently needed are members of all the classes to assist in annual giving as Class Agents. If you can devote an hour or two to Bryant over the next four months, please get in touch with Nelson in care of the Alumni Office right away.

As the word of accreditation has spread, renewed interest in the college has come from many areas. Watch for the mailings from the Fund and respond promptly.

You can help Bryant continue to gain stature among the colleges of our country.

1965 Homecoming On May 22

THE COLLEGE MACE

Mention was made in the October newsletter of the memorial mace given to Bryant by President E. Gardner Jacobs and his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Jacobs Lederer.

Several alumni have written to ask for more details and we are pleased to furnish the following from a letter sent by The Gorham Company.

"The Bryant College crowned mace is an excellent example of a time-honored ceremonial symbol.

"Originally, the mace, as the most ancient weapon known to man, symbolized only the power of strength. From its earliest form as the trunk of a young tree on which is left the root head, through the additions of metal and spiked heads, its authority lay in its appearance as a club for striking.

"During the latter part of the 16th Century appeared the first references to the crowned mace, an adaptation to symbolize the power of authority as well as strength.

"The crown on the Bryant College mace combines the two emblems most dominant at the school—the College seal sharply etched on one side and the seal of the State of Rhode Island on the obverse.

"This decorative crown is visually attached to the shaft of the mace by means of a circle of stylized acanthus leaves which joins these symbols of authority to the freize ornament representing the lamps of learning to the arch symbol.

"The golden hues of these elements are picked up again in the center shaft section which is circled with the typical heraldic symbol of geometric diamond shapes. In turn this gold is sharply contrasted to the deep-grained walnut shafts used on two portions of the mace to provide the necessary grasping areas."

Bryant Director of Public Relations Chosen by Governor For Women's Commission

Mrs. Robert Hochberg, Director of Public Relations and who many alumni remember as an instructor in Retail Advertising, has been named by Governor John Chafee of Rhode Island to a select committee on The Status of Women In America.

The newly appointed commission members were sworn in by Governor Chafee at a public ceremony at the State House on January 8.

MAINE ALUMNI MEET

An informal coffee hour was held for Bryant alumni at the Eastland Motor Hotel in Portland on January 19. Those who attended included: Robert Levesque '58, Bruce Schatz '62, Ronald Morrill '60, Mrs. Rose Bakalian Mezoian '20, David Stiles '62, Mrs. Beatrice Baker Schatz '38, Joyce Peters '63, and Jacqueline Bowen Morrill '60.

R.O.T.C. and A.F.R.O.T.C. To Be Offered To Students

Bryant College does not have nor offer a reserve officers training program to students; however, under a newly announced program Bryant students have been invited to participate in the Reserve Officers Training Corps program at Providence College and the Air Force Reserve program at Brown University.

Each program will be available to students in the fall.

1965 Homecoming on May 22

Co-chairmen Jim and Marie Brennan have announced that plans are well underway for the annual gathering on Saturday, May 22.

A reunion year for the Classes of 1940, 1955, and 1960, invitations will be in the mails within the next month so that they can have a priority for reservations.

Save the date; we'll be looking for you!

VARSITY BASKETBALL SETS SOME NEW RECORDS

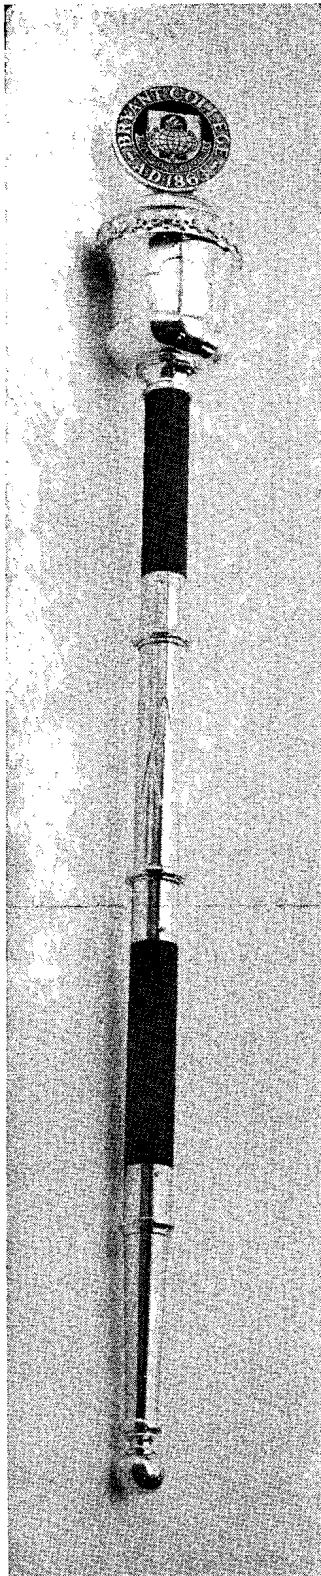

Coach Tom Duffy has taken an inexperienced varsity team and successfully competed against teams fielded by colleges more athletically inclined than Bryant.

The Babson game on January 30 marked the team's high mark as Bryant's Indians picked up 134 points to Babson's 99.

In the Barrington College game on February 5, Tom Smile '67, a sophomore from Pawtucket topped Bryant's individual high score for one game when he contributed 48 points to help the Indians overcome the Warriors 116-104. Dave Barber '64 formerly held this record with 47 points.

This marked the second time Bryant piled up over 100 points against their opposition this year.

The 1965-66 season will officially open the James A. Naismith Inter-Collegiate Basketball Conference, to be informally known as the Big Six. Members will be St. Francis College and Nasson College of Maine, Babson College and Gordon College of Massachusetts and Barrington College and Bryant College from Rhode Island.

The College Mace is carried by the Chief Marshal of the College, R. Lucien Appleby '27, and was used for the first time at the 1964 Commencement.
