The Archway Investment Fund - Fixed Income Portfolio Bryant University

Monthly Report Data as of 7/31/2023

Fund Objective

The primary objective of the Archway Investment Fixed Income Fund (the Fund) is to provide students in Bryant University's Fixed Income Portfolio Management course with a hands-on learning experience. The Fund launched on October 27, 2017 with $500,000. After including subsequent capital inflows and outflows, the net capital contribution is $815,000.

Investment Strategy

The Fund seeks returns from income and price appreciation, in excess of its Benchmark, while maintaining a volatility less than 120% of that of its Benchmark. The Benchmark was changed from the Fixed Income ETF GVI to the Fixed Income ETF AGG, which broadly tracks the Bloomberg Barclays Aggregate Index, on September 30, 2021. That index includes fixed rate debt securities priced in USD and traded in the US market, that are issued by the U.S. Treasury, U.S. government agencies, U.S. corporations, and taxable debt issued by sovereign, supranational and local government entities rated investment grade. It also includes highly rated MBS, CMBS and ABS securitized credit tranches. The benchmark was chosen for its diversification, and its use as a benchmark for both active and passive core fixed income portfolios. The tracking error of the portfolio versus its benchmark, defined as the annualized standard deviation of excess returns, is kept below 2%. Historical benchmark return and risk metrics use a chained return series reflecting the benchmark in use at the time.

Performance Commentary

The Archway Fixed Income Portfolio returned -0.13% during July, while the benchmark returned -0.01%. Economic data releases continued to confound market pundits who had predicted a recession in the second half of 2023. Household spending remains robust supported by a strong job market. Unemployment remains nears its cyclical low and job openings, while down from their peak, remain well above the number of unemployed people. Headline inflation continued to move lower, while core inflation remains above the Fed's target. As expected, the Federal Reserve voted for another 25 bps hike in the Fed Funds rate at its July meeting. They reiterated that inflation remains above their comfort zone, but they are patiently watching incoming data to gauge the impact of their past policy actions. The Treasury yield curve moved higher and steepened in July, as more market participants have abandoned the near term recession camp and now expect a soft landing. The 2-year yield was down 2 bps, the 5-year was up 2 bps, the 10-year yield was up by 12 bps, and the 30-year was up by 15 bps for the month of July. The overall duration of the portfolio was above that of its benchmark; the portfolio is underweight duration at the 3-year, 5-year and 30-year points on the curve, and overweight at the 20-year point on the curve. The overall duration exposure and its position across the curve each contributed -0.03% in alpha for the month. The portfolio is overweight duration in Agencies, MBS and High Yield, but underweight duration in investment grade corporates. Spreads tightened in all three sectors in July, and the sector allocation exposures contributed +0.02% to alpha during the month. Income and security selection contributed -0.07% in alpha to the portfolio during the month. For the year thus far, the portfolio has returned 2.51%, while the benchmark returned 2.25%. Since its inception in October 2017, the portfolio has an annualized return of 0.27% and outperformed the benchmark by 0.26%. A part of its contingency trading plan headin
