Saturday

My Darling Husband.

Well, here tomorrow will make only a week more to wait for you. The time sure has gone swiftly and next week will probably be the worst.

Have you gotten our wedding pictures yet? They should be ready by now. I'm going to try to call the place but haven't any idea what their name was. Want to see if you had gotten them at the post yesterday but they said your mail had been sent to England. It's about time. You should get quite a few letters from me, honey because I've written every day except one of one day I mailed Sunday's letter with Monday's but I hope you get them soon.

Have you heard from Steve? Wonder how he is + where he is - you said the race & didn't you? Don't suppose he went to see Woody:

Harry, there's a regulation that says unless officers are on duty 24 hours a day they can't be confined to the post. That would mean that you can live off the post as long as you're back on the line when you're supposed to be.

A girl that I was at with yesterday whose husband has been in three or two years, said her husband was living off the post & he's going through his P-40 transition too. He also said she could go to England with him since they had a car & the only reason the Army said no wives was because of the difficulty in finding somewhere to live.

If she goes to England, Harry, I'll be so mad. Didn't see why wives should After all, how much difference does it make - Froshy or the old Army.

Yesterday, Martha (she's the one who's married and has a baby, her husband says she can go to England) and another wife.

Dad knew her name. Her husbands a guard officer, PT instructor and I went to the post, showed them where to get their passes and everything and then we met the guard officer at the Officers Club. It's real nice there. Actually, all they heard every two minutes was how much I missed you. They must have gotten mighty sick of it.

Anyway, we had some ice cream. They have real nice ice cream there. And then we went down. It helped to make the day go faster anyway. Then Julia, Bettie, Jo + Doris + I went to the movies. Saw "A Song to Remember." Good, it was marvelous. The music in that was wonderful. You'll have to play Chaplin's stuff sometime, honey. It's been so long since I heard you play, darling. Much too long. Ever since that night at Woody's. As soon as you come back, please play for me - Mr. + Mrs. Morseley have a piano. Don't think they'd appreciate it but I certainly would. They're the quietest people except early in the morning when I'm trying to sleep. Then it's just about impossible. But when we have the front room we won't hear anything. And I don't think they'll hear us. We'll move into the front room until you get back because I'd like to spend the first night there with you. More the day you come. That won't be bad.
from one zone to the next but when we have to really move. It's going to be murder. Can't send anything express because it never gets there. Has your Post locker come yet? Oh, can you get me one, honey? I'm going to need it.

Did I tell you I sent for my radio?

Probably won't get here until we're ready to leave but it will be nice and inconvenient to carry with us. We can ship it to our next stop probably if we know where it is.

See, honey. I miss you so. It seems so awfully long since that Wednesday morning when you left.

On the latest in the Fellowes over in the Pacific is they fly at least 100 combat hours & spend a year overseas.

Last night couldn't get to sleep
Don't know whether I was thinking too much or what but sure did a lot of thinking. Remind me to tell you about it when you get back. Don't think I'll need any reminding though. You probably won't agree with a few things.

Still like Saline a lot. It's a nice little town. Not much to do but the people are so nice.

Julie has a date tonight. So Bettie fo

+ I am going to do something. Bettie fo is a sweet girl. I like her a lot. She certainly got a dirty deal from a fellow stationed here. Men can be such rats. Reality liked her a lot at first after going with her for eight months left Craig. Went to BG.

school. I think it was bes with one of the others. Was she hasn't heard a word for a month.

It was a month last night.

She doesn't date many boys.
It really isn't a nice as it seems for girls when leave near an army camp. They may have dates but they know all the fellows have girls back home and that they can't get serious. It must be careful to go out on dates and know no matter how much you like a boy it's no use. Julie is the type whom it wouldn't make any difference to but Betty's friend. Here is Tom making out without his glasses? Betty's been worried about that but we decided they might get broken if we mailed them.

You probably won't get this letter until after you're back home, honey. It seems funny writing knowing you probably won't get it right away.

Well, darling, I've got to get dressed.
I love you so honey and miss you a thousand times more than I ever did before. Well only a week more, honey, and we'll be together. I love you honey. Write more later.

Sunday -

Well, honey I was a little busy and never did get to finish this letter.

Yesterday morning we met Alice while I was waiting for the bus and she drove me to town. Then we went shopping and came home. We ate lunch at her house and lasted around the rest of the day. Had dinner there and stayed until around 11:30 last night. Was too tired when I got home to write any more.

This morning we had breakfast together and then Alice and I went flying. Boy, honey I sure wish you'd get there. 750 hours in so you could take me.
I'm just dying to go. Then we went to the movies - saw "Objective Burma". Sally, it was good. Alice & I aged ten years in that picture - liked it loads though.

They've both read nice & lots of fun.

They've been hearing me about getting married all the time. What a lonely I take. They battle all day long been married nine months.

Oh, mother called me today. Just about ten minutes ago. It was swell to hear her voice. We talked about 42 hours. We'll be using the telephone company if this keeps up.

It was so hard to keep her from asking about you. She asked if you were here. I changed the subject real quick. She said to give you three kisses (Mama, Russ, Grandma) and a long lick. (Rep)
She wants us to stay there when we go home on leave. We got $200 in war bonds from Uncle 2 Guy. Isn’t that wonderful.
We wrote a real sweet letter. That was awfully nice of him. Moris mailing them & the letter down. It’s great. She’s written me an air mail special & it’s probably on its way to Paris now.
They mailed the radio yesterday. We should get it just about the time we leave.
Do you think we’ll be able to get a car?
We have about 18.75 x about 14. That’s less 30
well over $200.

You just called darling, and it was so good to hear your voice. Honey lord, I love you so. I’m so glad that you’re coming back on Saturday.
Honey, don’t ever worry about it when I gripe. I never mean it. I was just kidding in that letter. In fact I think its a unit.

Don't ever worry. Everyone grizzles once in a while and I just felt like it.

It's thundering now. honey we'll probably have a real nice storm. See, honey, it was so good to hear your voice. I love you so. You have the nicest voice but I'd rather see you when you're talking.

Any, honey we're really going to be in a sad state when you get back. Lord, it's been a long time.

I'm dying to see our wedding pictures, honey.

I can imagine how good they are. You always look adorable but I hate the world's worst picture. What you think is good I probably won't like at all. None ever likes the ones everyone else does. You said some horrid pictures you saw were good & I didn't think so at all & then same that you said were horrid.
I thought we were real good. Oh, well. Saturday
I'll be able to see them—
Cally darling, I can hardly wait til Saturday. Gee, it will be wonderful to see you again—oh, be prepared. I've gained a terrific amount of weight since you left. Because I've been eating like a little pig. This southern food sure is fattening.

I love you so much, honey. There's a dance Saturday night at the Officer’s Club. Will you be able to come in time for that or would you want to go? We should celebrate, definitely but how is up to you. I'm going to go crazy waiting for you Saturday. I'll be a wreck. Hope you get home early, honey. The suspense will be awful.

Oh, no remarks about my not writing and I was only teasing you when I said I'd been having a good time. I have in a way with Alice & Cliff but golly honey, when you're away it's impossible.

Learned how to play Gin Rummy. It's fun. We should get some cards. Hah, I can just see us playing—cards .

Gee, honey, I'll sure be glad to see you again. Wait be long now, see you... days. I'm so glad that you're getting home Saturday.

Oh, honey, I'm debating about whether to take the first bed. It's so quiet! That reminds me, honey, I want to have a long talk with you. It's real important and one of the reasons for our trouble. In fact the reason. Don't get worried, it's nothing serious, and it's the solution. You should have read the other book I did. Tell me about your "Ideal Marriage" or something like that.
Well, I'll tell you about that when you get here.

Oh, what a dream I was having last night. Dreamed I was having a baby. Gee, it was queer. And all through the nine months so plainly, only I had it two months too early. They were mad at me. What a dream!
Well, honey, want to get some sleep now. If you ever get worried about myrippings again, remember I didn't mean it at all. Forget it & remember anything I went through for you would only make you happy.

I love you so, sweet darling, and until we can be together again I'll be the happiest girl in this old town. I miss you more than you'll ever know. I was never so in love as I am now. I've never believed it was possible to love anyone so.

I'm all excited just thinking about you coming home. I'll be real happy now all week. I love you so, my darling.

Be a good little boy & have a happy home. I love you.

You'll always have all my love, always.

Your devoted wife.

Dotte

P.S. Billy, I love you honey. You're so wonderful & such a perfect husband. Wish you were here now, honey. I love you.
