

Thursday

Dear Mom:

Well we moved to Barracks 813, the third place we've lived - 754 - 776 + 813.

We've through our processing week and are now no longer "deeps."

We have Judo lessons now. I've learned how to kill a man so different ways. This modern warfare is pretty gruesome. Such things as pushing your thumb into an enemies eyes and ripping them out or grabbing his ball and ~~pulling~~ pushing them up into his stomach.

A fellow just walked in with your ~~your~~ Tuesday letter.

I'm going to try to go to church Sundays, but it was rather impossible last Sunday.

The allotment for you cannot be had for I need affidavits proving that I furnished 25% of your income. I tried hard, but it can't be done.

There are a great many boxes here, but I can't tell you the amount through the mail.

I don't have the same Sargeant as before. We have a new Sargeant now that we've moved.

I don't know his name

I got a letter from

ac today, he says
 he's fine and loves it.
 I'm going to write him.
 I heard that Brooklyn
 College is open to a.c.'s now. Boy that would be something if I could go there!

That's terrific about
 Nela working, what a woman.
 We're having our first real personal, shoe, + barracks inspection tomorrow so right now everyone's working and I'm goofing off, (that's army lingo for loafing.)
 So I better get to work.
 Beautiful. Send love to all, + a special amount to you. Jude
