DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

WILLIAM WEBSTER

Chairman and Chief Executive, New England Electric System

Mr. Webster was born in Bel Air, Maryland. He was graduated from the United States Naval Academy where he also attended post graduate school. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Science.

He served in the United States Navy as a Naval Constructor until 1928 when he joined the New England Electric System as Assistant to the General Manager. In 1950 he became Executive Vice President. Mr. Webster was named a Director in 1952 and President in 1959. He has served as Chairman and Chief Executive since 1963. He is also President and Director of the Yankee Atomic Electric Company and a Director of the Connecticut Yankee Atomic Power Company.

Named as Deputy to United States Secretary of Defense for Atomic Energy, Mr. Webster served in this position in 1948 and 1949. He has held several other governmental positions including the chairmanship of the Military Liaison Commission to the Atomic Energy Commission, 1948-49; the chairmanship of the Research and Development Board, Department of Defense, 1950-51; member of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, 1950-51; member of the President's Scientific Advisory Committee, 1951; and member of the Army Scientific Advisory Panel, 1951-52.

Several institutions of higher education have conferred honorary degrees upon him. In 1950 he was presented with the "Exceptional Civilian Service Award." The "New England Award for Outstanding Engineer" was bestowed upon him in 1964, and the "Edison Award" in 1962 as President of the Yankee Atomic Electric Company.

Mr. Webster is the Director and Deputy Chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston; Chairman of the Advisory Council of the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University; and he is on the General Advisory Committee to the Atomic Energy Commission and to the Edison Electric Institute. He is a Life Member of the Corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he is also a charter member of the American Nuclear Society and a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

LEON H. KEYSERLING

Consulting Economist and Attorney at Law

Born and reared in South Carolina, Mr. Keyserling received his A.B. at Columbia University and his LL.B. at Harvard, and then returned to Columbia for two years of graduate economics while serving as assistant in the Department of Economics.

During twenty years in government service from 1933 to 1953, Mr. Keyserling served as legislative assistant to U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner, as a top official in various housing agencies, and for seven years as Vice Chairman and then Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

During these years, Mr. Keyserling participated in economic studies and legislative drafting related to the National Industrial Recovery and Public Works Act of 1933, the Social Security Act of 1935, the National Labor Relations Act of 1935, the U. S. Housing Act of 1937, the Employment Act of 1946, and the General Housing Act of 1949. He has also served as advisor to various committees and members of the Congress in the fields of taxation and monetary policy.

Mr. Keyserling's book-length studies include: "The Federal Budget and the General Welfare," "Inflation—Cause and Cure," "Taxes and the Public Interest," "Two Top-Priority Programs To Reduce Unemployment," "The Toll of Rising Interest Rates," "Progress or Poverty," and "Agriculture and the Public Interest."

Since 1953, Mr. Keyserling has been a consulting economist and attorney working both in the U. S. and overseas. He is now a member of several advisory committees to Federal agencies. In 1954, Mr. Keyserling founded and has since been President of the Conference on Economic Progress.

He is married to the former Mary Dublin, Director of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, who is also receiving an honorary degree at this Commencement.

DOCTOR OF LAWS (LL.D.)
MARY DUBLIN KEYSERLING

Director of the Women's Bureau, United States Department of Labor

Born in New York City, Mrs. Keyserling received her A.B. degree at Barnard College, did graduate work in economics at the Geneva School of International Studies and the London School of Economics, and taught economics for several years at Sarah Lawrence College. For two years, she served as Executive Secretary of the National Consumers League, working primarily in the field of legislation related to labor standards.

In 1941, Mrs. Keyserling served as co-ordinator of hearings for the Committee on National Defense Migration, U. S. House of Representatives. Thereafter, until early 1953, she held various economic posts in Federal agencies, including the Foreign Economic Administration during World War II. During 1950-53 she served as Director of the International Economic Analysis Division of the Department of Commerce.

From 1953 until 1964, Mrs. Keyserling was associated with her husband as an economic consultant and as Associate Director of the Conference on Economic Progress.

As a member of the Committee on Protective Labor Legislation of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, she served in 1963 as Chairman of the group which drafted the Committee's report. In 1964, President Johnson appointed her Director of the Women's Bureau in the U. S. Department of Labor. Mrs. Keyserling writes and speaks extensively on economics and related subjects.

She is married to Leon H. Keyserling, who is also receiving an honorary degree at this Commencement. Mr. Keyserling is a consulting economist and an attorney at law.

DOCTOR OF LAWS (LL.D.)
EDWARD J. MORTOLA

President of Pace College

Dr. Mortola, a native of New York City, received his undergraduate, graduate, and doctorate degrees from Fordham University. He also completed advanced studies at Columbia University and received an honorary degree from Fordham in 1964.

He began his career as an educator at Fordham, where he was a Graduate Fellow and then Assistant Registrar of the College. In 1941 he became a mathematics instructor at Cooper Union and the Townsend Harris High School in New York City.

Starting as Assistant Dean at Pace College, Dr. Mortola in succession became Dean, Provost and Vice President, ascending to the Presidency in 1960.

Among the professional learned societies to which he belongs are the Commission on Independent Colleges and Universities of the State of New York, Chairman; Vice President, Association of Colleges and Universities of the State of New York; member, New York City Council of Economic Education; member and former President of the Board of Directors, New York Academy of Public Education; member and Secretary of the Board of Directors, Greater New York Council of Foreign Students. He is a member and Chairman of the Evaluating Committee of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. Mortola is Director of the Downtown-Lower Manhattan Association; former Chairman of the Manhattan Community Planning Board No. 1 of the Borough President's office and a Director of the County Trust Company.

His military service with the Navy during World War II included service with the Bureau of Naval Personnel in Washington, D. C. During his last year of service he was the Director of the Registration Division of the United States Armed Forces Institute in Madison, Wisconsin. He attained the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

In January of 1960, he was presented with Fordham College's Annual Achievement Award in Education and in 1964 was made a Knight in the Order of Merit of the Republic of Italy. He has also been given the William O'Brien Award for distinguished contribution to education.

A member of the Bankers Club of America, Dr. Mortola is on the education committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce. He belongs to the Downtown Athletic Club and the Larchmont Yacht Club.

He is married to the former Doris Slater and they have two daughters.

CHARLES A. POST

Chairman of the Board, Citizens Savings Bank

A graduate of Brown University, Mr. Post was born and educated in Clinton, Connecticut. His education also included courses of study at the American Institute of Banking.

He began his banking career with the Clinton National Bank as a clerk, going on to the position of Assistant Cashier in the Birmingham National Bank in Derby, Connecticut. In 1926, he joined the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company as Assistant Secretary.

Mr. Post started his affiliation with the Citizens Savings Bank of Providence, Rhode Island, as President and Trustee in 1934. He became Chairman of the Board in 1962 and has been a Director of the Citizens Trust Company since 1934.

He has taken a deep interest in the work of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks serving on the Board of Directors since 1940 and has been a member of the Executive, Tax, and other Committees. He was active in organizing the Management Development Council at Dartmouth College and the Graduate School of Savings Banks at Brown University.

A past President of the Rhode Island Bankers Association, Mr. Post has been Secretary-Treasurer of the Rhode Island Association of Mutual Savings Banks since 1935 and in 1961 was the Chairman of the Mutual Savings Bank Committee revising the Rhode Island Investment Law.

His community affiliations include that of Director of the Title Guarantee Company of Rhode Island, Trustee of the Rhode Island Public Expenditure Council, and Impact, Inc. He is also a former Trustee and Treasurer of the Mary C. Wheeler School and an honorary member of the Board of Directors of the World Affairs Council of Rhode Island, a member of the Agawam Hunt Club and the Providence Art Club. He is married to the former Jenny Jensen and is the father of two daughters.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

JOSEPH D. A. WHALEN

Director of Bostitch Company, and Community Leader

A graduate of Bryant College, Class of 1900, Mr. Whalen was born in Providence, Rhode Island. He was at various times in his early career an office manager for Thomas F. Pierce and Son, railway clerk for Chicago, Rock Island Railroad, and a clerk for the Brown & Sharpe Company.

He began his career with the company which he later headed, the Boston Wire Stitcher Company in East Greenwich, in May of 1909. Subsequently he was made Treasurer and then became President in 1928 going on to become Chairman of the Board until 1964 when he retired from this position. He organized the Bostitch Company in 1936 which absorbed the Boston Wire Stitcher Company in 1948 and led this company to its present great expansion. He served as President and Treasurer of all subsidiary companies until they merged with the parent company, and still serves as a Director.

Presently Mr. Whalen is a consultant for the Industrial Trust Company in the Kent County Area. He was formerly President of the Rhode Island Manufacturers' Association and an officer of the Metal Trades Organization. In 1920 he was President of the Providence Rotary Club and served as President of the Metacomet and Potowomut Golf Clubs. He served as a church trustee for forty years.

Organizer of the New England Small Arms Company, he served as Chairman of the Board until the dissolution of this company. In 1945 he negotiated and completed a $40 million contract making B.A.R. rifles.

Mr. Whalen inaugurated the East Greenwich Savings and Loan Association in 1914 and acted as Director until it was sold to the Old Colony.

Married to the former Mary E. Norton, who passed away in 1961, he is the father of three daughters, has ten grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

EDWIN C. BROWN

Secretary-Treasurer, Rhode Island AFL-CIO

Born in Providence, Rhode Island, Mr. Brown attended the public schools of this community and then did further study at Brown University, Rhode Island School of Design, and the University of Rhode Island Extension Division. Employed as a tool maker in the jewelry manufacturing industry, he left the manufacturing field to accept a position as Regional Director for the Labor League for Human Rights of the American Federation of Labor.

Volunteering for military service in World War II, Mr. Brown served as Chief Machinists Mate in the United States Naval Reserve. Upon his discharge in 1945, he became a Senior Training Officer for the Veterans Administration and then became an Investigator for the Wage-Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor.

In 1951 he became Secretary-Treasurer of the Rhode Island State Branch, American Federation of Labor. He served in that capacity until 1958, at which time he was elected to the same position in the merged AFL-CIO, a position which he still holds.

Upon the creation of the State Board of Education in 1951, Governor Roberts appointed him to that body. Subsequently, he was reappointed to membership by Governor Roberts and Governor Del Sesto. In 1964 he was elected Chairman of the Board and that same year Governor Chafee appointed him to membership on the Higher Education Facilities Commission.

Mr. Brown has been engaged in many civic, industrial, and religious activities. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Providence; the Holy Name Society of St. Pius Church; a member of the Corporation of the Citizens Savings Bank; Vice-Chairman of the Rhode Island United Fund Campaign; a member of the Board of Directors of the Narragansett Council, Boy Scouts of America; a member of the Board of Directors of the Business Development Company of Rhode Island; a member of the Board of Directors of the Research and Design Center, Incorporated; and a member of the Executive Committee of the Rhode Island Industrial Foundation.

THE COLLEGE SEAL represents the educational mission of the College and its symbols are intended to convey the significant aspects of this institution. The ellipsoid globe represents the world-wide implications of business in Twentieth-Century America. The quills ringing the globe symbolize the importance of communications in business. In the center stands the torch which can be understood both as the torch of liberty to stand for the free spirit of inquiry or academic freedom, and as the torch of learning. The Archway, which forms a background for the globe, torch and quills, is a College landmark, affectionately remembered by thousands of alumni. In its entirety, the seal recognizes the achievements of the faculty in their continuing search for educational excellence. The Latin motto expresses the purpose of the College, "Educando Dirigere Mercaturam," — "EDUCATION FOR BUSINESS LEADERSHIP."*
