Dear Mom,

Another week. One more and I'll be an upperclassman. There was a dance last night. Quite an affair. There were about 4000 cadets here and about 200 girls you know one of these all-male affairs! Before the so-called dance last night I saw "Up in Mabel's Room" with Roy. It's terrific. Funny as hell.

Speaking of laughing, here's a good joke for you:

the other day I was driving down the street with my girl when the car broke down. Naturally, I got out and got under and started fiddlin' around. Well, after about a half hour of this, Dixie Lee, my girl, says "How, what is you all doin' down here?" Which means "What are you doing down here?" "Trying to fix this hainy car," was my answer, supplemented with "If you think you can do better, come on down!"

So down she came. Well, it was warm that day and there she was lying next to me, close and warm, I guess.
I got a little nervous,

Presently a cop came
up to me and said,

"Why what is you all doin'
under here?" "Fixin'
the car," I answered.

"Well sol, there are three reasons why I'll say ye ain't fixin'
yo car. First, yo hose
are pointin' down!

Second, there are 300
people watchin' ya, and
third, somebody's run off
with yo car!"

You know, these people
in Montgomery are very Strange. I was in town the other day and I saw a sign that said, "O'Chanassy's Tool Works." I don't know what the hell the bastard's braggin' about, mine does too, but I don't go puttin' up signs about it!

Well, that's enough of that. Everything is fine here honey. There's not much news except that it's hellishly hot. I thought about you today on Mother's Day, and tried to call you, but couldn't get near a phone.

I love you, honey. Happy Mother's Day. Your Son Ted.

P.S. Endosca is mine for forever too S.B.
Dear Mom,

Just a short note to let you know I'm still plugging. I've no time to write a letter. I'm taking finals in math, a.1., it all the others. Thanks for the pens, it was swell. everyone loved it.

I'll write later on. I love you honey.

Thurs, day 2100
