Hillel Holds First Social

The Bryant Hillel Foundation held its first social of this year on Sunday evening, October 7, in the Barn Studio. Guests for the affair were Mrs. Gertrude Meth Hochberg, adviser to the group, Mr. Hochberg, and Rabbi Nathan Rosen, Hillel administrator. Refreshments and dancing were enjoyed by the large turnout of members and their friends.

On October 8, four members of the Bryant Teacher Training Class accompanied Dr. Leger R. Morrison to the "Little" Eastern States Planning Conference at Willimantic State Teachers College, Willimantic, Connecticut.

They were Gordon V. Carr, chairman, Mrs. Hope Palmer, Daniel Duarte, and William Pelletier.

As a result of the accord reached at the planning conference, Bryant will have its choice of discussion subject included in the actual conference, which is to be held November 2 at Rhode Island College of Education, Providence.

That topic is "Do the Present ABC and Numerical Grading Systems Provide a Valid and Reliable Indication of All Phases of a Student's Development?"

Also included in the conference program will be four other discussion topics, covering such wide fields of educational thought as the honor system, the creation of better understanding between elementary- and secondary-school teachers, professional ethics as it concerns the teaching profession, and the effect the necessity for secondary or part-time employment has upon the professional status of the teacher.

Long Weekend Starts This Afternoon

Since Mr. Columbus thoughtfully scheduled his voyage of discovery to conveniently fit the Bryant calendar, hundreds of weary Bryant folk can now take well-deserved bits of rest.

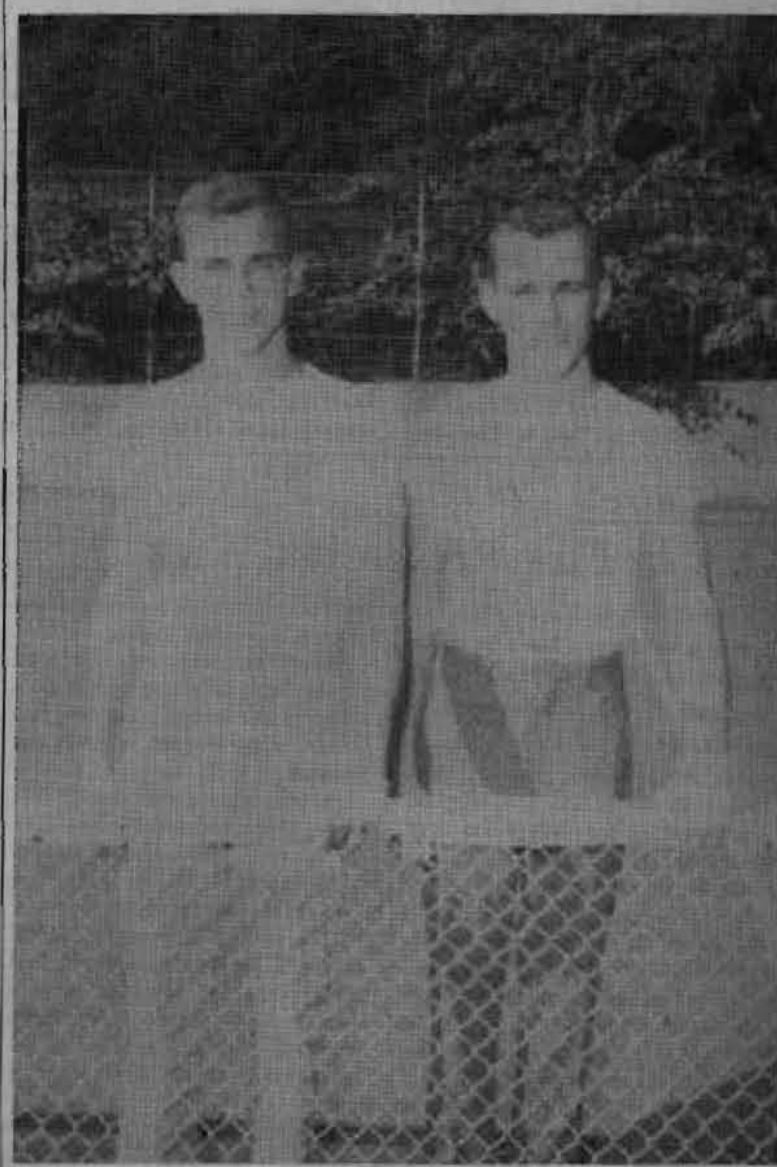

Just a reminder: take it slow on that drive home. Don't spoil a good thing by becoming a highway statistic.

And don't forget: double cuts Monday.

Don't Forget About Double Cuts

Today and Monday are double cut days! Remember, the days sandwiching a holiday are days to go to class, not days to add to the holiday. Don't cut today or Monday unless you can afford double cuts.

Double Exposure? Nope, The Palmer Twins

Seeing double? Not quite. David (left) and Paul Palmer are the most identical set of twins we've seen in some time. Both are first semester BA students. They hail from Greenwich, Connecticut. Yes, that is Paul on the right, or is it??? Who can tell!

Candidates for Foreign Service Should Apply Before October 26

The Department of State announced today that the semi-annual Foreign Service Officer Examination will be given on December 8 at more than 65 centers throughout the United States. This examination is open to anyone who meets the age and citizenship requirements outlined below.

Officials of the Department of State estimate that several hundred new Foreign Service officers will be required during the next year to fill positions overseas and the many Washington positions now required to be filled by Foreign Service officers.

After completing several weeks of training at the Foreign Service Institute in Washington, about half of the new officers will take up duties at one of the 268 American Embassies, Legations, and Consulates around the world. At these posts, which range in size from the large missions such as Paris and London to the one-man posts such as Perth, Australia, the new officer may expect to do a variety of tasks, including administrative work, political, economic, commercial and labor reporting, consular duties, and assisting and protecting Americans and their property abroad. Other new officers will be assigned to the Department's headquarters in Washington, where they will engage in research or other substantive work, or in the many administrative tasks which are essential to the day-to-day conduct of foreign affairs.

To explain fully these opportunities in the Foreign Service which await qualified young men and women of America, a number of Foreign Service officers will visit more than 230 colleges and universities in all 48 states this fall. In order to make known the diversified needs of the Department of State and Foreign Service, these officers will talk not only with promising students of history, political science and international relations, but also with those who are specializing in economics, foreign languages, and business and public administration.

Those successful in the one-day written examination, which tests the candidate's facility in English expression, general ability and background, as well as his proficiency in a modern foreign language, will subsequently be given an oral examination by panels which will meet in regional centers throughout the United States. Those candidates who successfully pass the orals will then be given a physical examination and a security investigation. Upon completion of these phases the candidate will be nominated by the President as a Foreign Service Officer of Class 8, Vice Consul and Secretary in the Diplomatic Service.

To be eligible to take the examination, candidates must be at least 20 years of age and under 31, as of October 26, 1956 and must be American citizens of at least 9 years standing. While a candidate's spouse need not be a citizen on the date of the examination, citizenship must have been obtained prior to the date of the officer's appointment.

Fun and Frolic at Frosh Freedom Festival

Freshmen celebrating their newly-won freedom from the Eternal and Infernal "Beanie" at the Liberation Dance of September 23.

Bryant's 700-odd frosh got their first treatment as human beings at the gala Liberation Dance, September 23.

The festive affair, second dance of the Bryant Season, climaxed two weeks of beanie wearing and general lowliness.

At the magic stroke of ten, beanies were shed forever (for this Freshman Class—Wait'll next year!).

Bryant College Evening Division Begins Classes With Enrollment of 400 Students

It was announced by Dr. Henry L. Jacobs, president, that the Bryant College Evening Division has begun classes with an enrollment of 400 students. More than fifty classes are being offered in business subjects. Included in these classes are courses in Accounting, Business Economics, Business Mathematics, English, Business Law, Typewriting, Shorthand, Public Relations, Management, Marketing, Sales, Advertising, Transportation and Traffic Management, and new courses in Insurance to prepare students for the Insurance Institute Certificate. According to Professor Joseph R. Santos, Evening Division Director, registrations will continue to be accepted for the first two weeks.

Hope Palmer Joins the "Crew"

You will probably note that a familiar person on the Bryant campus is now seen wandering around with that harried look all students wear. This student is Hope Palmer, a graduate of the Bryant Diploma course in 1947 and most recently Dean Mercier's secretary. She worked at Brown University for four years after her graduation, but her duties involved correspondence. Hope regretted the lack of contact with other people; therefore, she left Brown.

The question of why she wasn't a teacher was often put to her. People could not understand how such a helpful and considerate person was not teaching. These comments caused her to think that this was a good idea.

Hope went to Rhode Island University for two years and using the courses for credits she found that she was able to start her junior year of the Teacher-Training curriculum here. During our brief interview she commented that she was happy in the course, liked the students, and was kidded by all the teachers. But she had one complaint—homework!

Bryant English Teacher Took Part in Paratroop Assault That Freed Corregidor

Robert O'Connell

Bryant College is honored this semester by having as one of its faculty members Mr. Robert R. O'Connell, one of the courageous members of the 503rd Parachute Regiment.

In the latter part of 1943, Mr. O'Connell received his basic training; in December of that year he received his parachute training at Fort Benning, Georgia.

As a member of the 503rd Regiment which took part in the Lae Campaign in New Guinea he began his active duty. He was assigned to Hollandia, a Japanese stronghold, but encountered no action. His next assignment was a clean-up campaign on the small Dutch island of Noemfoor.

His first actual airborne operation was with the recapture of Corregidor. This campaign lasted fourteen days and was a complete surprise to the enemy because the Japs didn't expect troops to land on such terrain. The battle was bloody but brief. Mr. O'Connell was wounded during this campaign while rescuing another member of his regiment and was forced to leave combat for three months. His regiment received the Presidential Unit Citation because of the part they played in this campaign.

After Mr. O'Connell recuperated he was sent to Negros Island in the Central Philippines where his regiment was busily engaged with the enemy. He became squad leader and platoon sergeant and spent the last days of the war on patrol, for the atomic bomb was dropped and had ended the war. During this last operation his squad was trapped by a large number of Japanese, but fought their way out.

Mr. O'Connell holds the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart, and the Distinguished Unit Citation.

Fire! Fire! This Is Fire Prevention Week

"Undetermined origin," they say. It's a common phrase in news reports of a fire. In the charred and gutted shell of what used to be someone's home, it is sometimes difficult to figure out immediately where the first wisp of smoke curled up—where the first tiny flame licked out.

But given a little time, trained and experienced men can usually reconstruct the situation. A late party—people smoking—a cigarette that fell unnoticed among the sofa cushions and smoldered there. An open fire left burning—sparks that jumped out on the rug or a piece of furniture. Oversize fuses in the fuse box—overloaded electrical wiring that burst into flame.

Whatever happened, it's past remedying. It matters only as a guide to the future. But to a fire victim, what matters most is the present.

Everything is gone: family heirlooms—cherished mementos—clothing, jewelry, furnishings, valuable papers—all the things that went to make up one family's daily life.

This is Fire Prevention Week. You will be hearing a great deal about fires and how to prevent them. Act on what you hear. It's easy to think about the future now—but it's hard after a fire!

"The Paths of Glory"

When man surveys the works of art, the magnificent handicraft of creative genius, he erects thrones and demolishes kingdoms; and subjects to his power not only the inhabitants of earth, but the primeval elements of nature—which, with all his science, he is powerless to do otherwise than through the mediums of art.

Man, in order to perpetuate the glory of his deeds, builds himself the tower of fame, rears the lofty pillar, and with zealous enthusiasm, constructs the giant pyramid; then contemplates with the satisfaction of a monarch, the magnificence of his exploits.

But, how delusive are such quick-fading demonstrations of dominion and power, and how evanescent the dreams of ambition and the splendid figments of his supposed immortality; for where is the tower, the pillar, the pyramid (or the colossal fortune) that can forever resist the innovations of Time.

For, though genius may strike out a path ascending to power, fame, and glory, and fancy invest it with all the riches of the imagination, all such attempts at material immortality fade like the mists of morning from the memory of man.

History, too, clothed in the gravity of antiquity, is but mute memory—certainly not any sort of immortality.

As a demonstration of the unstable permanency of material power, we need only follow the mournful path of slumbering decay, the sombre memories of fallen kingdoms, empires, dynasties; Caesars, monarchs, princes, tsars, Fuchers, and Glorious Leaders.

Then how futile and how vain are these dreams of ambition, these delusive clutchings at strands of immortality.

Let man be admonished by the sad history of the past, and confine his exertions to the sphere of usefulness.

"The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

Eleven TT Seniors Now Facing the "Real Thing"

Eleven Bryant seniors are receiving their baptism as teacher-trainees this semester in high schools throughout Rhode Island. From Providence to Westerly, these students are applying in actual practice the principles that they have studied during their first three years at Bryant.

Five women trainees from the Secretarial curriculum are teaching shorthand, typing and related subjects in Mt. Pleasant High School, Cranston High, Ward High in Westerly, and Veteran's Memorial High School in Warwick.

The other six, including one girl, are using their Bryant business background to teach commercial subjects, such as bookkeeping and record-keeping. Most of these students are training in Providence schools such as Hope, Central, North Providence, and East Providence.

The trainees are being graded on their application of principle to practical art by the critique teacher who is in class with them. The critique teacher reports to Miss Priscilla Moulton and Dean Mercier periodically concerning the teacher-trainee's progress.

Upon completion of one semester's work, the students will return to college and complete work for their degree.

Those students who are training this semester are Marsha Glickman, Lillian Mercier, Robert Scanlan, Priscilla Shardlow, George Babcock, Mrs. Evelyn Long, Robert Reynolds, John Davey, Daniel Spaight, Rita Izzi and Mary J. Giorno.

"Stardusters", Bryant Dance Band, Organizes

By HJG

The first meeting of the Stardusters, Bryant's dance band, brought out good talent, most of whom have had considerable experience either in service bands or professional bands. Among these versatile musicians is a former member of the Ralph Flanagan Orchestra, trumpet player, Harry Chellef.

The dance band is called on frequently to perform at college functions. Performances at various hospitals and institutions are tentatively scheduled.

The jobs are plentiful, but the "Stardusters" are in need of more musicians. There are still vacancies in all sections of the band. Anyone who plays is invited to the next rehearsal—Thursday at 3:00 in the Barn Studio. Trumpets and trombones are especially needed to fill out the section.

Let's make this year's dance band the biggest and best Bryant has ever known.

"Santiago! Santiago!"

On Friday, October 5, the sisters of ALPHA PHI KAPPA, together with their brothers of Kappa Tau, sponsored the "Fall Frolic" at Churchill House. This dance, which was attended by over four hundred people, was a great success. They are looking forward to many more successful dances and parties in the future, especially the Pledge Formal and Banquet in January.

Preparations are being made for Alpha Phi Kappa and Kappa Tau's Alumni Weekend in November. This yearly event gives the past and present sisters and brothers the opportunity to renew old friendships.

The sisters are now in the process of making plans for their annual ski trip to New Hampshire in February. As soon as this trip is over, the girls will begin planning for their July-weekend trip.

BETA IOTA BETA has really been on the move. Two weeks ago they presented their annual dance which turned out to be the most successful one as yet this semester. At BIB's third meeting of the year, plans were made to hold several parties and to discuss plans for their next dance. The basketball team is in the final stage of practice, and the boys are anxious to get into battle. Dick Benedictio has devoted many of his free hours coaching the team. It has been his know-how and patience that has helped many of the boys to correct the mistakes they were making. In a short period of time, he has rounded out a club that will be a threat for top honors. Siro De Gasperi and Bob Gilardi have also been busy helping the girls round out a top-notch basketball team. The bowling team had a shaky start, dropping four to ALPHA THETA; however, they are ready to go this week with a much-improved club. BIB's pledge masters, Bob Greco and Duke La Vigne, along with all the brothers, have been hard at work making preparations for the smoker. They are constantly on the lookout for new members who will carry on the good name of the fraternity.

The sisters of Kappa Delta Kappa, once again back from their short vacation, are hard at work trying to carry on the splendid record that was left for them from last year's group. Leading the sorority this year are many familiar faces on the campus. They include: President, Joan St. Godard; Vice-President, Joyce Corp;

Secretary, Joan Bannerman; Treasurer, Jackie Ruest; Alumnae Secretary, Janice Monaco; Co-Alumnae Secretary, Thelma Derosier; Athletic Director, Eileen Salvatore; Pledge Mistress, Terry Fusco; and Historian, Regina Laughlin. At the first meeting of the year, the sisters received their composites and green and white beer mugs, both of which have been placed among the other tokens the sisters have received during the preceding semesters. Plans are being made for another Avon Demonstration, which was so successful last year. Those of you who were on campus last year remember the excellent beauty hints passed on by Miss Alice Stanley of Avon and the fine display of Christmas gifts which were exhibited. We know you'll make a special effort to come again this year. The date has been tentatively set for Friday afternoon, November 16.

The sports-conscious sisters are off to a fine start this year in their efforts to defend their coveted bowling championship. The first game of the season found them winning all four points from APK. The sisters are concentrating their efforts to build another fine basketball team to defend the crown they won last year. Although most of last year's winning team was graduated last August, KDK still hopes to be in the running again this year.

Phi Upsilon has had two meetings this semester, and it looks like they are going to have a very successful year under their capable President, Nancy Veitch. Other officers include Vice-President, Georgiana Brigido; Corresponding Secretary, Barbara Kaszynski; Secretary, Sonja Jacobson; Treasurer, Carolyn Larson; Assistant Treasurer, Louise Vaillancourt; Chaplain, Joyce Bennett; Pledge Mistress, Janice Barbieri; Athletic Director, Dottie Cole; and Historian, Barbara Handy. A dance is planned for November 16, to be held with their brothers. Although Phi Upsilon's bowling team lost to SIB this week, the girls are working hard and think they will be coming up with a very good team. The basketball team, now being coached by two brothers, also looks good this year, and hopes to have a very successful season.

The SIB-BIB Blast started off the social whirl for this semester. The center of attraction centered on several brothers costumed in khaki Bermuda shorts and bright plaid caps. They looked "tres, tres" collegiate and comfortable; but they complained of cold knees!

"Oh's and Aah's" were sounded in unison when several sisters arrived incognito. Angelyn Curreri was transformed into a blond; and Carol Girelli's hair had turned prematurely gray. Everyone heaved a sigh of relief when, later, they explained the new colors were the result of experimenting with gold and silver spray net. Before the evening was over, everyone appeared to be advertising the new product! A traditional song fest got the party underway. It lasted until all the old favorites were exhausted, and leader Bob Fregeau lost his voice. Needless to say, all had a good time. SIB's bowlers captured three points from Phi U. Their

On the Sidelines

By LARRY DELAHUNTY

There was a touch of Football spirit added to the Bryant campus on Saturday, Sept. 29th as the "Bear Cats" headed by Mike "The Captain" Brady, and the "Dillies" headed by Tom "Housewrecker" Davies and Fran "Knute" DiLegio, took to the gridiron to settle their differences.

The "Dillies" featuring a solid, fast-charging line and a flawless, Speedy backfield romped to a 26-0 victory. The scoring was well divided and was an example of the balance of the winning team. Each member of the backfield hit for "pay-dirt" and Richie Gayer gained credit for two P. A. T.'s.

"Vince The Prince" Penninchini

Tom "Scat" Hart

"Calypso" Carter received the only injury of the contest early in the first quarter. Although not a major injury, it was bad enough to force him to retire for the rest of the contest. Tom "Toughie" Hart also made an appearance in the game.

At this writing, the Dodgers have just gone 1 game up on the Yankees in the "Series", on the strength of Gil Hodges' 3 run homer and Sal "The Barber" Maglies' fine pitching performance. We are going to go out on a limb and predict that the Dodgers will win the World Series in seven games. Our prediction is based on the superior pitching staff of the Dodgers.

The Bryant Intra-mural Basketball League is scheduled to get underway on Monday, Oct. 8. Looking at the schedules, it appears that the Day League will again have the bulk of the talent but also, that the Night League appears to be much more balanced. A number of independent teams will be entered in the competition this year, while the Newman Club will be amongst the missing from previous years.

The Bowling League has gotten off to a fast start and already has had two weeks of roll-offs. It looks as though the Taupeps, Alpha Theta Chi, and Phi Sigma Nu will be the top contenders for championships laurels this semester.

Soccer has come into the picture at Bryant this year and from the latest reports it looks as if the boys have formed a pretty strong team for themselves. They have already scrimmaged Brown and have weekly games scheduled beginning next week with Rhode Island College of Education. Drop over to see the game if you have the opportunity.

Our neighbors at Brown have themselves quite a football team if their first showing is an indication of the future. If they keep up their winning ways they will retain the State Crown which was won last year by U. R. I. U. R. I. incidentally, was soundly walloped by the University of Maine last week after winning their first game with Northeastern.

Well good people, that's all from this corner. See you in the next issue.

Basketball Banter

By BOB CHAMBERLAND

Well, the basketball season is about to get under way. My predictions and a look at how the teams stand up are as follows:

CHI GAMMA with their great offensive and defensive punch along with many recruits from last year's Vets team look like they will wind up on top. Kirwin is going to be the spark of this ball club. He is a leading rebounder and has a left handed shot that has given many a club trouble. This is definitely the club to beat.

PHI SIGMA NU who has always been a great threat in basketball is equally as strong as Chi Gamma. They have many returning lettermen along with a few capable freshmen. It is just about a toss-up between them and Chi Gamma, but don't forget Phi Sig are the defending champs.

The FLAMINGO'S have a lot of talent in Goose and George. They are however somewhat weak on defense which may hurt them in the close ones. Goose has one of the best set shots in the league which is a strong point in their favor. If their defense tightens up and their scoring is steady they'll have a shot at first place. The best I give them though is third.

KAPPA TAU has lost five out of five of last year's starters and are forced to rebuild a new club. They have a lot of young talent, but most of the team is inexperienced. Of course you can never tell about the unpredictable especially with the fabulous Chick Handy leading the way.

BETA SIGMA CHI lost several players and has been considerably weakened. They have recruited many new players and have one of the tallest clubs in the league, but their lack of experience may cause them to fold under pressure. I figure them to finish no higher than fifth this year.

SIGMA LAMBDA PI with little practice and a comparatively green squad does not seem to present a problem to the top contenders. With some improvement they could cause trouble to some of the second-division clubs; however, I pick them to finish no closer than sixth.

Marketing Club Meets

The Bryant College Chapter of the American Marketing Association held its first meeting of the semester October 2, in Gardner Hall for the purpose of electing its officers for the current semester.

George C. Donzella was elected President and Howard Baptista was elected Vice-President. Also elected to office was Frederick Holmes as Treasurer and Terry B. Fletcher as Secretary. Francesco DiPolco acted as temporary chairman during the proceedings.

The Bryant Marketing Club received its charter from the American Marketing Association last semester through the efforts of Professor George W. Bates, the club's adviser. Thus, the marketing club has the distinction of being affiliated with a widely recognized national organization. There are over fifty colleges and universities who hold a charter from the American Marketing Association and whose members are entitled to attend the many conventions held by the national organization.

Among the activities planned for this semester by the Bryant Marketing Club is a talk by an executive in the field of marketing, a field trip, and a marketing reference and information shelf in the library for the convenience of the student body.

Last year's basketball championship team at Bryant, "The Vets," has many of its players returning this semester, all of whom have joined Chi Gamma. This spells trouble in the Sports Departments of the other fraternities. Better hustle some of the recruits fast, fellas!

Before signing off, I should like to acquaint you with this year's sports staff, who will be giving you complete sports picture in the future. They are Mike Abdalla, Bowling; Bob Chamberlin, Night League Basketball; Bill Coleman, Tennis; and Duke Dumaine, Day League Basketball.

"Poet" Challenges Archway's Cultural Standards

The ARCHWAY has received a fiery and unique letter concerning the "poetry" of Lawrence Friedman, examples of which have been allowed to slip into this paper unnoticed in past issues.

Touched by the letter-writer's fond praises of Mr. Friedman, and challenged by their implications, we see no honorable alternative than to print both the letter and the creation therein described. And may the bards of old have mercy upon us!

To the ARCHWAY:

It was with consternation and dismay that I noted your failure to reprint Lawrence Friedman's brilliant poetic effusion, THAT'S WHEN I'LL MARRY YOU.

Mr. Friedman has consistently furnished The ARCHWAY with verses of incomparable literary excellence. At this time I have it on good authority that he desires a permanent place for his handiwork in all future issues and the modest title of Poet Laureate on your masthead. Refusal to grant these requests, in my opinion, can only indicate an utter disregard for the editorial function.

Rather than adorn your publication with the insipid trivia of one G. V. C., you will do well to insert Mr. Friedman's poems in a prominent place in your next and all future ARCHWAY issues.

Yours very truly,

LAWRENCE FRIEDMAN

That's When I'll Marry You

By LAWRENCE FRIEDMAN

I'll never know how many times I told you
That you mean more than life itself to me
For darling, every time my arms unfold you
I want you for my own eternally
But when you take my hand
To walk me down the aisle
Well, that's when two abreast means single file
When every day is dark because the sun just shines at night
When snow is tinted emerald green and all the grass is white
When clouds of yellow dance above and daisies grow in blue
When all these things come true, my love, that's when I'll marry you
When Pittsburgh wins the pennant and the Yankees finish last
When Elvis Presley tells me rock and roll is in the past
When Nixon wears a coonskin hat and 3 and 4 make 2
When Ike becomes a Democrat, that's when I'll marry you
If you stay true to me
Some day I'll buy the ring
But not until the winter follows spring
When robins live beneath the sea and sharks go flying high
Giraffes are only one foot three and kittens reach the sky
When Julius Caesar comes to life and says to me, "What's new?"
When Marlon Brando takes a wife, that's when I'll marry you
I promise you'll receive
A golden wedding band
When Texas is a little grain of sand
I know a bachelor old enough to be my great-grandpa
While husbands found the going tough, he's held his own so far
I asked him when to wed, and he said 2052
And though that date is none too late it's when I'll marry you.

Military Representatives To Come to Bryant

The Placement Bureau has announced that Marine Captain Peter A. Soderbergh will be at Bryant on October 24, 1956. He and the members of his officer procurement team will be in the Placement Office to discuss officer training programs available to the Bryant student.

The U. S. Marine Corps offers a college man the opportunity to become an officer in one of the world's most respected military organizations. He can prepare himself to be an effective leader in business, a profession, or in military service. There are two programs: the Platoon Leader Class for undergraduates, and the Officer Candidate Course for seniors and graduates.

There are no military requirements during the academic year, and all training takes place at Quantico, Virginia.

The Placement Bureau also received news from another branch of the service. The U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in Boston announced that Sanford Zuckerbrot, a June 1956 graduate of Bryant, has become a member of the Navy as an Officer Candidate.

Upon completion of the 16-week indoctrination program at the Officer Candidate School at Newport, Mr. Zuckerbrot will be commissioned Ensign, USNR and ordered to active duty.

A Warning to Vets

A warning to veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans receiving pension from the Veterans Administration to report immediately any increase in income that would raise their annual income above statutory limitations was sounded today by Manager John L. Reavey of the Veterans Administration's Providence Regional Office.

To remain eligible for pension under the law, according to Manager Reavey, pensioners of World War I, World War II and of the Korean conflict may not have an annual income from other sources exceeding $1,400 without dependents, or $2,700 with wife or minor children.

VA checks the annual income of those receiving pension through the medium of annual questionnaires which are distributed about January 1 every year.

Later, if the person receiving the pension fails to notify VA promptly of an increase in income which raises his annual income above the statutory limit, payments will be discontinued retroactively to the first of the year.

This creates an overpayment, Reavey said, and is subject to recovery by the Government.

If the person receiving the pension notifies VA promptly of such an increase, payments will be discontinued as of the date the last payment was made and no overpayment will result.

Reavey said veterans, widows and children receiving pension can save themselves inconvenience and possibly money by notifying VA promptly of any increase in income which would put them above the statutory limitations.

Pensions are payable to veterans for permanent and total disabilities of a non-service connected nature, and to the widows and children of deceased veterans for non-service-connected death, providing the applicants are otherwise eligible.

Manager Reavey pointed out that any VA office can explain full eligibility requirements for pension.

next game will be on Tuesday. Basketball practice is being held every Monday and Wednesday afternoon. Any freshman or upper classman, wishing to join either team, should contact one of the sisters.

The Sisters of Sigma Iota Chi began their year with a successful dance held with their brothers, Phi Sigma Nu, on Friday, September 21. The dance provided a gala evening for all who attended it. A cake sale held on Saturday, September 29, at the Boston Store was a success. Plans are already in progress for other activities to be held throughout the year. SIC's bowling and basketball teams have started practice and are looking forward to very successful seasons. Every Wednesday morning is devoted to a coffee hour in the Cafeteria. Preparations are underway for their annual Mistletoe Hop to be held with the Sisters of Sigma Iota Beta, on December 1. It is at this dance that the candidates for Snow Queen will be introduced. See you all there! Several Sisters attended the Banquet held at the Rome Inn. This affair was held by the Alumni Association.

Sigma Lambda Theta starts year off with a bang. Tuesday, October 2, marked the opening of the bowling season for the girls' teams on the campus. Theta defeated SIC with a 22-pin lead. High scorer for the winning team was Marietta Gilleran, with 96, while Paula Gerson led the losers with 98. Theta is looking forward to a very active year both socially and athletically. The basketball team can be seen in the gym almost every afternoon practicing hard for their first game of the season. The veteran players who make up the team are Mary Lou Conway, Barbara Chiaramonte, Sheila Mulligan, Marietta Gilleran, Mary Carroll, and Elaine Houle, all of whom saw action on the court for Theta last year, and Judy Alterio and Judy Everest, newcomers to the team this year. The several positions which were left open by graduated sisters are being filled by actively interested Freshmen. Although the school year has just begun, Theta has already had a number of parties with their fraternity brothers, Beta Sigma Chi. A dance with the brothers is scheduled for October 19. Plans are now underway for this dance, which will be called the "Flirtation Frolic."

On Tuesday, October 2, 1956, Theta Tau held a welcoming party and meeting for the Freshman teacher trainees, in the Barn Studio. A very good number of freshmen attended and TT hopes that they plan to become regular members. Also present at TT's welcoming party were Rita Izzi, Lillian Mercier, and Dan Spaight, senior Teacher-training students who are presently out student teaching. Theta Tau is looking forward to seeing ALL TT's at its next meeting.

Once every month Gabriel Doom

Locked himself up in a sound-proof room;
Then he laughed out loud and rocked with glee
At a life that was funny as life could be!
He laughed at the weather, sunny on Monday

He laughed at the news so loaded with grief that an ax murder came as a pleasant relief!
He cried, "what with worry, hurry, and strife you couldn't ask for a funnier life!"
