George A. MacDonald of Danielson, Connecticut, has been named co-editor and chief of the ARCHWAY with Gordon B. Carr. Last semester he was an active member of the ARCHWAY staff. In 1953 he graduated from Cheshire Academy in Cheshire, Connecticut, and in February of 1955 he entered Bryant. He is now in his fourth semester, majoring in Accounting and Finance.

A Message from the President

My warmest greetings to you, Bryant Freshmen. It is with keen pleasure that I welcome you to this campus where a long tradition of higher business education prevails.

Now, as you stand on the threshold of your college career, pause and make a few resolutions. Remember that education is a two-way street. You have brought to this campus a certain set of abilities and ambitions. The faculty aims to increase these abilities, add to your skills, deepen your knowledge and give direction to your life so that you may realize these ambitions. Your future success depends on how ready you are to accept their direction and inspiration. Resolve now to do each day's assignments on time and in full. Do a "little more than seems necessary." This type of thinking and working often spells the difference between mediocrity and superiority.

The time-saving element at Bryant College demands that you do each day's work in full. Attend classes faithfully and punctually. The efficient management of your time will later become the most valuable asset in the eyes of your employer. Time-saving is the most important operation in business.

Bryant offers you education for life as well as a career. Here on this campus you have many spiritual, cultural, professional and social advantages. Four eminent and conscientious spiritual leaders are available to guide and direct the religious organizations. Each of these clergymen is prepared to give you personal counsel, should you need it. The student activities program abounds in athletic, social and recreational opportunities, all designed to brighten your hours of work and study with the pleasant companionship of your fellow students.

All the ingredients are provided to give you a stimulating and enriching experience. Remember, "From now on until the end of time, no one else will ever see life with my eyes and I intend to make the most of my chance."

Professor Appleby Named New College Official

Professor R. Lucien Appleby, associated with Bryant College for twenty-eight years, has been named Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of the College.

Mr. Appleby, who earned his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Business Administration at Bryant, did his graduate work at Boston University. He taught investments and accounting in the Bryant School of Business Administration for many years.

From 1935 to 1940, he was Auditor for the State of Rhode Island. He was also Credit Manager for the Pennsylvania Petroleum Company.

He is a former officer of the Providence Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants and is a member of the Town Criers of Rhode Island.

For three years, Professor Appleby conducted a Television program in conjunction with Nelson J. Gulski, Dean of the School of Business Administration. This program, which was widely viewed and discussed, was entitled "Tax Information, Please" and was broadcast as a public service by the Providence Station WJAR-TV, Channel 10, and Bryant College.

Frosh Enrollment Tops 700

With the swamping enrollment of more than seven hundred bean-covered freshmen, the total day school campus population has reached a mighty 1600.

The huge influx of freshmen began Tuesday, September 4, and continued to mount in numbers until this year's entering class had topped the 700-mark.

With so many students, it is to be expected that a wide coverage of places of origin be evident. So it is! The freshmen class includes students from twenty-three states and eleven foreign countries, including students from Ireland, Japan, Israel, Korea, the British West Indies, Canada, and several South American Countries.

Attention!

THE ARCHWAY NEEDS THE SPECIAL SUPPORT OF ALL CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS!

It is the established policy of the ARCHWAY that fraternity, sorority, and other organizational news reporting will be the ultimate responsibility of the several organizations themselves.

The officers and members of each campus organization are requested to either appoint or elect an official News Secretary, who will be responsible to the officers and members for the proper reporting of news to the ARCHWAY.

All officers of campus organizations are advised to take immediate action. Elect or appoint your News Secretary at once, so that full proper coverage of news relating to your organization will be possible. Only by enlisting the direct services of organizational personnel can the ARCHWAY assure its readers of accurate reporting. The job is yours to assure thorough coverage of those items of interest that you desire publicized.

News Secretaries are urged to leave all stories in the ARCHWAY box, which is located in the Book Store.

Thanks for your co-operation!

Delta Omega Opens Season with Mammoth Meeting

The Delta Omega Professional Society, the only business and Greek Letter non-fraternal organization on the campus, marked its first meeting of the current semester with an overflow crowd of students attending. The semi-annual membership drive meeting, which was held Monday evening, September 17 at the Barn Studio, brought a record number of seventy-five new members into the business organization.

Eric Corriveau, President of Delta Omega, welcomed the newest members to the organization and introduced them to the officers: George C. Donzella, Vice-President; Barbara Witengier, Secretary; Carl Mather, Treasurer; and Vincent Bove, Historian. Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs is the advisor. Mr. Corriveau then gave a brief talk on the history and purpose of the society.

Following the regular meeting, the members enjoyed refreshments. The refreshments were prepared and served by the Misses Joyce Gaiger and Muriel Lanquarand of Woonsocket.

Key Society

The Key is the highest scholastic honor obtainable at Bryant College. To win this coveted honor, a one-year student must be on the Dean's List for three marking periods; a two-year student must make the Dean's List either three consecutive or any four staggered marking periods; and a student pursuing a four-year course must be on the Dean's List for four consecutive or any six staggered marking periods.

In Memoriam

The Bryant College family deeply mourns the sudden passing of Jeannette Carroll Jacobs, beloved wife of the President, on August 15. As the "First Lady" of the campus, Mrs. Jacobs was revered by faculty, students and staff. She leaves a great empty space behind her, not only for her enormous contribution to our College life, but in the hearts of all who knew her.

This gracious and gentle lady, who stood devotedly and charmingly by our President's side, was intimately associated with Bryant College for forty years. Before her marriage to Dr. Jacobs in 1933, she was a member of the Bryant College faculty and also held the post of College Publicity Director.

As Jeannette Carroll she had a long and glamorous career as a dramatic actress. She toured the country in many well-known dramas and her interesting experience in the theater was the subject of a full-page feature story by the woman's editor of the Providence Evening Bulletin. Her "stately bearing" and "queenly carriage" were then described as evidences of her fine theatrical training. A leading lady with the renowned Albee Players in Pawtucket and Providence, she is vividly remembered by a whole generation of theatergoers in this community. All of her friends here on the campus enjoyed her tales of theatrical road shows and the many interesting anecdotes about "theatre-greats" of those days.

A native of Providence and a graduate of Hope High School and the Stanhope-Wheatcroft Dramatic School in New York City, Mrs. Jacobs came to Bryant College as a secretarial student upon leaving the stage. Upon her graduation, she became press manager and it was from this post she gravitated to advertising work.

Mrs. Jacobs was a trustee of Bryant College, past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, a charter member and past president of the Providence Woman's Advertising Club. She was the first woman to be appointed vice-president of the Advertising Federation of America and a member of the national board of directors. In 1931, at the International Conference of Federated Advertising Clubs in Berlin, Germany, she was elected President of the Woman's Advertising Clubs of the World.

In 1935 she was appointed Chairman of the Women's Division of the Providence Community Chest Drive and in 1936, she was one of four women appointed by Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt to a National Committee of Mobilization for Human Needs. In this capacity, she was invited to the White House in 1936 for a reception and meeting of this important committee.

President Truman appointed her in 1951 to the Assay Commission, the group that gathers at the U. S. Mint to witness the assaying of silver content of coins in Philadelphia.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John P. Hartigan, of Edge-wood, wife of the U. S. Circuit Court judge, and Mrs. Charles Devine of Providence. Besides her husband, she also leaves two stepchildren, E. Gardner Jacobs, vice-president of Bryant, and Mrs. Dorothy Lederer of this city.

A solemn requiem mass was held at the St. Sebastian Church in Providence, and burial was at the Roger Williams mausoleum.

The Administration Offices of the College were closed the day of her funeral, out of respect to her memory. The former Gregg Hall on Young Orchard Avenue, a woman's dormitory, was renamed JEANNETTE CARROLL HALL in her honor.

"Our venture is a glorious one", said Socrates. "The soul with her own proper jewels, which are justice and courage, nobility and truth, in these arrayed she is ready to go on her journey when her time comes." In no one have these jewels shone more brightly than in Jeannette Carroll Jacobs.

President Appoints New Student Activities Director

Gregory T. Parkos of Newport, Rhode Island (son of Mrs. Theodore K. Parkos, 118 Bliss Rd., Newport) has been appointed Alumni Secretary and Director of Student Activities at Bryant College, effective September 1st, by Dr. Henry L. Jacobs, president.

GREGORY T. PARKOS

Mr. Parkos was graduated from Bryant College magna cum laude in 1950. He attended Boston University and received his Master's Degree in Business Administration from that institution the following year, 1951. While doing his graduate work at Boston University he held a fellowship as Graduate Assistant to the Chairman of the Business Management Division, in the capacity of substitute instructor and research assistant.

He was subsequently assigned by the Armed Forces as Special Agent with the Military Intelligence heading the New England Anti-Subversive Squad. On release from the Army, he lectured on Operational Techniques of the Communist International.

In March, 1954, he was appointed an officer in the Foreign Service in the Department of State and was stationed for over two years at the American Embassy in Athens, Greece.

He comes to Bryant from the State Department where he last held the position of Chief of the Escapee Division of the International Refugee Program in Greece.

Newman Club News

Tuesday, September 18, the Newman Club and many Bryant students enjoyed a successful open house. The evening's program began with excellent entertainment followed by an address by the President, who in turn introduced the Chaplain and other officers. Refreshments were then served and the evening terminated with dancing.

Gregg's Human Dynamo Gives Typewriting Presentation At Bryant

On September 26, Dr. Alan C. Lloyd, of the Gregg editorial staff, and former editor and publisher of Gregg Magazine, gave a presentation entitled "Purposeful Practice—Typewriting Progress."

Dr. Lloyd, referred to as a "human dynamo," spoke on proper typing techniques. He was assisted by a group of Teacher Trainees, who demonstrated the techniques discussed.

Dr. Lloyd said, "Building typewriting skills is a battleground." He likened errors to enemies.

Highlight of Dr. Lloyd's presentation was a demonstration-discussion of posture techniques. The main cause of errors is change of posture," Dr. Lloyd asserted.

After his auditorium presentation, Dr. Lloyd visited a Teacher-Training class, where he answered questions and talked in further detail on typewriting methodology, placing emphasis on the techniques of teaching typing skills.

Dr. Jacobs Announces New Faculty Members

This semester Bryant welcomes seven new members to the faculty.

Dr. Jacobs has announced the appointment of Robert L. Larkin, Robert O'Connell, John D. Corder, Charles Goulston, Harry J. L. Cunha, Mrs. Philomena Castranova, and Miss Audrey Perreault to teaching positions.

Robert L. Larkin of Barrington has been appointed to the English staff. Mr. Larkin received his A.B. from Tufts College, A. M. from Middlebury College, and his Ed.M. from Harvard. Prior to his appointment here, Mr. Larkin taught English at the U. of Louisville, U. of Illinois, Duke University, New Mexico A & M, New York State College at Oswego. Mr. Larkin has also served as consultant in Business Writing to Spiegel Company of Chicago, National Real Estate Secretaries Board Association, National Office Management Association. He has worked as a reporter and as an editorial assistant for the Boston Herald, Louisville Times, Las Cruces (N. M.) Sun-News, and El Paso Herald-Post.

Charles Goulston, B.B.A., M.B.A., C.P.A., of Natick, Mass., has been appointed Professor of Accounting. Mr. Goulston taught advanced accounting at Becker College, Worcester, Mass., for ten years, and was Director of Accounting at that college. He received his B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees from Boston University. Mr. Goulston also studied at the University of Bridgeport, and the University of Hawaii. Prior to teaching, Mr. Goulston was auditor for the U. S. Navy, Cost Inspection Service. He is a member of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, the American Accounting Association, and the Eastern Business Teachers Association.

ROBERT R. O'CONNELL

Robert R. O'Connell of Newton, Mass. has also been named to the English faculty. Mr. O'Connell received his A. B. at Boston University, and he is now studying for his Ed.M. at B. U. Prior to his appointment at Bryant, Mr. O'Connell taught Literature at B. U. During World War II, Mr. O'Connell served with the 503rd Parachute Regiment in New Guinea and the Philippines.

Appointed as Instructor in Cost Accounting and Managerial Aspects of Cost Accounting is John D. Corder. Mr. Corder received his B. A. from Amherst College and his M. A. from Columbia University. He resides in Providence.

AUDREY F. PERREAULT

Miss Audrey F. Perreault of Barrington has been appointed to the post of Instructor in Shorthand and Typewriting. Miss Perreault holds the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Education from Bryant College. She did her student teaching at Bristol High School. While at Bryant, Miss Perreault was active in many of the college activities. She was President of the Bryant Canterbury Club, Secretary of the Interfaith Council, Treasurer of the Student Senate, Secretary of Phi Upsilon Society, a recipient of the Bryant Golden Key for scholastic merit, and winner of the Silver Scholarship Medal upon graduation.

PHILOMENA CASTRANOVA

Mrs. Philomena Castranova of Barrington is one of Bryant's newest Instructors in Office Machines and B. A. Typing. Mrs. Castranova received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Education from Bryant. She taught at Mt. Pleasant High School in Providence prior to joining the Bryant faculty. Mrs. Castranova is a Charter Member of Bryant's K. D. K. and the Theta Tau Teacher Training Society.

HARRY J. L. CUNHA

Named to teach Secretarial Accounting I and Mathematics I is Mr. Harry J. L. Cunha of East Providence. Mr. Cunha, who received the degree of B. S. in B.Ed. at Bryant, is now doing graduate work at Rhode Island College of Education and at Boston University. Prior to his appointment to the Bryant faculty, Mr. Cunha taught at the Riverside Junior High School in East Providence and at the Johnson and Wales Business School in Providence.

Campus Capers

By DORIS KING and TERRY FUSCO

Hi Kids! Since we are novices in the newspaper field, let's first introduce ourselves. We are junior teacher-training students, and as the newest writers of the "Campus Capers" column, we hope to bring you all the latest news about sororities, fraternities, and organizations on campus. We should appreciate having the complete cooperation of all campus organizations to submit news to us.

Shortly before school closed, BETA IOTA BETA, had its semi-yearly election of officers. A high-spirited, ambitious group of brothers were elected: President, Bob Gilardi; Vice President, Pete Curando; Treasurer, Bernie Fregeau Sargeant at Arms, Duke Lavine; Historian, Bob Marcoux; Alumni Secretary, Siro DeGasperi; Pledge Master, Bob Greco; and Athletic Directors, Bob Chamberland and Matt Clarke. With these officers, the members of BIB are confident that their fraternity will continue to be a leading fraternity at Bryant. In August, BIB lost several members, who have gone on to success in the business world; Joe Santerson, who will be remembered for his contributions to sports and for his hard work that made the May Queen Dance a great success; Vick Basile, who was one of BIB's hardest workers and a leader who always upheld the highest standards of the fraternity; and Dick Higgins, who will always be remembered for his wit. BIB will hold its second annual "Big Bust" dance Saturday Night, September 29, at Churchill House, 155 Angell Street. The "Big Bust," one of the most popular dances on campus, was such a success last year that students praised it for weeks. Any student looking for a night of joyous entertainment and a dance to meet new people should come out and join in the fun. A big surprise awaits everyone! In the last two weeks, BIB has been busily making preparations to run many affairs for the enjoyment of their members and the new class of freshmen. The Athletic Department has been preparing for a good season, with the bowling and basketball teams carrying on rugged practice sessions. With both teams having a number of returning lettermen and some promising newcomers, it appears that they are going to be strong contenders for top honors in all sports.

On June 20 election of new officers for the current semester were held by PHI SIGMA NU. Elected to office were the following brothers: President, Charlie D'Angelo; Vice-President, Dick Petersen; Secretary, Larry Frazier; Treasurer, Norm Ducharme; Grand Councilman, Jerry Miller; Alumni Secretary, Jack McNeil; Chaplain, Pete Veritas; Sergeant-at-Arms, Fred Ferris; Athletic Director, Fran DiLegio; Assistant Secretary, Fred Bristol; Assistant Treasurer, Ed Smith. On Tuesday evening, June 25, PHI SIG's annual pledge banquet was held at the Riviera Cafe, in Cranston, Rhode Island. Festivities began with an invocation by outgoing chaplain, brother Bob Lutz. Following an excellent menu, some very inspiring, as well as humorous talks were given by advisors, Mr. Vinal and Mr. Weaver, Phi Sig's outgoing President, Tony Sacco and incoming President, Charlie D'Angelo. Special presentations of wallets were made to the advisors of PHI SIGMA NU—Professor Vinal, Mr. Lee Weaver and Professor James Kennison who regretted having to miss the affair. After all the remainders were cleared from the auditorium, the new brothers received their third degree and were admitted into PHI SIGMA NU Fraternity. All 53 guests present had a wonderful time. The affair, indeed, was a memorable occasion, long to be remembered by the new brothers, who were given a lavish reception.

The sisters of SIGMA IOTA BETA, after a somewhat quiet vacation, say it's great to hear the sound of human voices again. They have already begun their year with flying colors. Many of the sisters are back to help plan SIB's social program. Elaine Almeida, Athletic Director, predicts that SIB's sports program should be a booming success. Bowling practices are underway, and a basketball team is being formed. A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown toward both programs. Several parties are in store. The first party will be a SIB-BIB Blast. SIB is also planning to give monthly parties to a group of children at a local orphanage. A Halloween Party will begin the series. In case anyone has forgotten, SIGMA IOTA BETA's VIP's are: President, Carole Buonacorsi; Vice President, Dottie Deppisch; Secretary, Angelyn Curreri; Treasurer, Gail Van Siclin; Historian, Mickey Risk; and last, but not least, Irene Zaveski, Alumni Secretary.

THETA TAU (Bryant's Teacher-Training Society) held a special meeting the latter part of June for the purpose of electing new officers. The following were elected: President, Robert Perrone; Vice President, Joyce Corp; Secretary, Terry Fusco; Treasurer, Gordon Carr; Corresponding Secretary, Doris King; Historian, Anne Gibbons, and Student Senate Representative, Robert Moorehead. An informal installation party was held at Joyce Corp's summer home at Point Judith. A Good Time was Had by All! Attention: All Freshmen Teacher-Training (TT) students! There will be a welcoming party for YOU on Tuesday, October 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Barn. Here's your chance to meet your fellow TT's. Dress casual. Refreshments will be served. See you there!

A Musical Note

Hi there! School bells are ringing, and autumn leaves are beginning to tinkle in the breeze. As usual, Bryant began the season bright and early on September 5 with student registration. On Monday, the 17th, the Glee Club had its first meeting of the year. Many freshmen came for tryouts. Names were taken; and, in many cases, old friendships were renewed.

The Glee Club has great plans for the coming year. Among the activities suggested are a broadcast or two, a joint concert with Providence College, and the annual Pops Concert. The Pops Concert, by the way, will be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings preceding Thanksgiving. Last year, the auditorium was filled to capacity both nights.

Mrs. Appleby has stated that membership is definitely limited to sixty singing voices and a production staff of ten or twelve workers. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, October 1. All who are interested are cordially invited.

How is it that there is such general apathy, such utter "don't care-ism" among people qualified to vote?

On the national scene, a scanty showing will be evidenced in November; yet there are many who have the privilege of exercising their franchise.

The state, county, and municipal scenes show similar disconcerting outlooks. In state and city elections, too, few people will use the power of the vote—a power Americans have died to preserve for the common man.

On the campus, the same holds true. Fraternity, sorority, and organizational elections are ludicrous imitations of real elections—because of the "don't-care" attitude of members who fail to give a second thought to elections of any sort; and who fail to cast their important votes.

Class elections at Bryant have long been burdened with the ill reputation of general apathy on the part of the student body.

Remember this: when you give up your right to vote—no matter what the election—you give up your identity as an individual. You have no voice in the affairs that concern you if you fail to concern yourself with the elections that create the officers who run such affairs.

Ike versus Adlai, or the battle for Class Presidency; the election of a Governor, or of a fraternity leader, the circumstances do not matter. What does matter is that you get out and vote.

Now Hear This!

The beginning of this semester at Bryant has brought with it several new regulations.

The Student Senate has established a committee to look into possible ways to relieve the parking problem. This committee, consisting of Donald Pfister, chairman, Walter Fitzgerald, Peter Carardo, and Nancy Hakanson, held its first meeting September 17. Its main function will be to get ideas from students to assist the administration in attempts to "relieve the parking problem."

The following are the parking rules which have been set up by the school administration and zoning commission for the students at Bryant:

All students owning cars must register them at the Records Office. There is no student parking on the campus. Unrestricted parking is allowed on the North side of Charles Field Street between Brook and Hope Streets; on East Street and adjacent area after 10 a.m. only. Three-hour parking from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. is permitted on the east side of Hope Street between Power Street and Young Orchard Avenue and between Benevolent and George Streets, also on Charles Field Street between Brook and Brown Streets; on Thayer Street (east side) between Power and George Streets, on Brown Street between George and Charles Field Streets. Two hour parking from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.: on both sides of Brook Street and between Power and Waterman Streets. With few exceptions some of which are listed above there is no parking between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. on most streets near the College.

A new cafeteria regulation, requesting students to carry out their own dinner trays, has been set up because of the inability of the bus-boys to clear the tables quickly during rush periods. This plan will be started on a voluntary basis, but if someone is found to be a consistent violator, he will be referred to the Dean for disciplinary action.

Student Senate

The Student Senate is the student governing body of Bryant College. It is made up of representatives of all the clubs and organizations on the campus. The representatives are elected for a term of one semester and their attendance at all Senate meetings is mandatory. The Student Senate meets, on the first and third Mondays of each month, and serves as a "complaint" committee for the entire student body. If a student has a legitimate complaint, he should present it to the Student Senate who will take the matter up with the administration.

Free! Free! Free!

Each Wednesday night a free movie is held in the auditorium for Bryant students. In the coming weeks the following movies will be shown:

- |           |                     |
|-----------|---------------------|
| October 3 | "Destry"            |

On The Sidelines

By LARRY DELAHUNTY

Well, another semester has come about and yours truly has survived again; which means that I shall attempt to bring you a complete sports coverage during the year.

The beginning of a new semester brings about many new faces on the campus, and now and then one of the old grads will come into the picture and relive, for a couple of days, his first days on the campus. Among the old grads this semester was Ed Betros, former Sports Editor of the Archway. Seeing Ed, reminded me of the fine column he wrote.

We would like to welcome the freshman to the Bryant Sports world. The Athletic Director of Bryant is Ken Cedegrean who has a program set up which is designed to offer the students a little relief from their scholastic grind. Such sports as soccer, softball, bowling, pingpong, badminton, etc., are now available. Basketball will come about in an intra-mural form in about a week, but meanwhile the basketball courts, located between the girls dormitories on Young Orchard Avenue, are available to students, as are the tennis courts at the corner of Benevolent and Hope Streets.

The various fraternities on campus will post their respective rosters on the bulletin board in the Gym shortly. All freshmen (as well as others) are asked to sign these rosters if they wish to participate in the sports of the respective fraternities. If you wish to play with the frats, you will eventually be required to join them (if accepted). If you do not wish to join a fraternity, there will be independent teams for you to play on—or, if you wish, you may organize your own.

Clever Campaign Creates Clean Caf-Coffee Cup Clutter Curtailed

An occasional mutter of discontent and a few souls who chose to eat their meals right at the breakdown table—to save themselves any unnecessary inconvenience, presumably, were all that remained of the "old" Cafegymnasium last week.

Instead, a spectacle of gleaming, fresh paint and utter cleanliness met the eyes of students who thereupon went about the business of eating and meeting in more restrained manner befitting the new aura of respectability.

It was and is gratifying to note the students' response to Mr. Falcione's plea for assistance in maintaining order and cleanliness in the cafeteria. 99% of the student body have really done a fine job in making the Caf a much pleasanter place to relax in.

Favorable comment was also heard on the new setup during the 10 o'clock coffee break, wherein both ends of the serving counter are utilized in dispensing rejuvenating coffee to semi-somnolent students—an innovation that has long been anticipated.

The new color scheme of the Caf gives the appearance of greater spaciousness and is even tasteful and pleasing to the eye. The Administration and Mr. Falcione certainly deserve a lot of praise for their efforts toward rectifying an unhappy state of affairs in our cafeteria.

It is now in the hands of the student body to see that the good work has not been in vain. Let's let Mr. Falcione receive the support of every student in making the cafeteria a distinct asset to the fine appearance of the school.

"I still say it doesn't fit!" Last but not least step in registration of Frosh—getting orange and black beanie.

Are Freshmen Really Babies?

During your period of freshman orientation, you freshmen were told about the extracurricular activities offered here at Bryant. With this issue, the ARCHWAY hopes to acquaint you still further with campus life. All this has been done for a purpose—to encourage you to join in the varied activities of the numerous Bryant campus organizations.

Far too many freshmen—as well as some upperclassmen—do not realize the importance of the clubs, societies, cultural and literary organizations, fraternities and sororities or the opportunities they offer.

You need to be active in these organizations—they need you!

Through active participation in one or more of the campus organizations you will get to know each other better—and have a good time to boot. When classmates belong to campus clubs they cease being mere associates and begin to be friends. This should happen to you. Belonging creates something in common—and that is a good foundation for happiness anywhere.

Today's freshmen will be the VIP's of tomorrow here at Bryant—when they fill the upper-classes.

Get with it, frosh! Investigate your preferences of the campus organizations—and join them NOW!

"To catch a man," said Violette
"The wisest gals play hard to get!"
To seem remote and quite aloof
She sat six years upon the roof.

"It doesn't seem to work," she said
And so she clobbered them instead.
She shrugged, "I do the best I can

Delaware Dean Moves to Improve Frat Scholarship

Newark, Del.—(I. P.)—Results of a survey dealing with the academic performance of fraternity men at the University of Delaware have been made available to fraternity presidents, faculty advisers and alumni advisers to assist them in stimulating better scholarship, particularly among residents of the campus fraternity houses, according to Dean of Students John E. Hocutt.

Dean Hocutt urged the fraternities to undertake a critical self-evaluation leading to the improvement of scholarship by considering the following questions:

1. Are living conditions within the fraternity house so crowded as to be a deterrent to the scholastic performance of those living there?

2. Are adequate study facilities provided for the house residents?

Kansas Will Shorten Time for Degree

Lawrence, Kan.—(I. P.)—Superior students at the University of Kansas with heavy class loads can now zip along faster toward that degree. The University Senate has said in effect that a student can take as many courses each semester as the student can convince the faculty he or she can handle. The Senate is the all-University governing body composed of senior faculty and deans.

The Senate regulation on maximum enrollment limits undergraduate course loads to 15 per cent of the total number of credit hours required for graduation. However, the faculties of the various schools may exempt superior students from the requirement.

New Cafeteria Cleanup Drive Unfair to F. O. S., M. M., A. L. B.

Yes, the Campaign for a Clean Cafeteria Is unfair to the Federation of Slobs, Mess Makers, and Associated Litter Bugs.

But to everyone else at Bryant, to the great majority, the cleanup drive means a step in the right direction.

Help Keep Bryant Clean! Obey the Cleanup Rules.

Bryant to Harvard to Westinghouse, the Atomic Career of John Buckelew

Corporations engaged in research, development and production of atomic power plants are constantly searching American campuses for personnel. This was the case of John Buckelew, 1955 Bryant graduate. The Nuclear Core Procurement Department of the Westinghouse Atomic Power Division in Pittsburgh hired John from the Harvard Business School campus to work on Special Projects throughout the summer.

Specifically, he was engaged to solicit manufacturing concerns to enter the atomic field as sub-contractors of Westinghouse, to establish marketing files, and to train personnel in maintaining the files on a current basis.

According to John, it is a difficult task finding companies that wish to enter the atomic field. There are many reasons for this attitude. First, in many instances a large capital investment is required, with no guarantee of contracts in the future (all contracts are sub-let by Westinghouse on a competitive bid basis).

In addition, the components necessary to build a nuclear reactor that works, require very close machining tolerances, often on unfamiliar materials. Furthermore, radioactivity is a problem in the case of work on reactor fuels, such as uranium. Thus, before a company commits its machines, money, and manpower to an atomic power program, it must be fully sold on the potentiality of the industry.

The marketing files John established included all the pertinent information that could be accumulated on companies that at one time or another had shown interest in or were actually engaged in atomic work. The information collected was not only historical data (Dun & Bradstreet reports, facilities lists, Westinghouse trip reports) but development records as well. John's responsibility was not only to answer the question, Has Company X allocated dollars for diversification into the Nuclear field? but, how much? What portion of the work are they interested in—melting, extruding, rolling, machining, or fully integrating?

Theoretically then, John discovered a buyer in the Nuclear Core Procurement Department can call a specially-trained employee in the Marketing Group and request the names of companies that can at present or will in the near future, be equipped to roll uranium strips or machine Zirconium.

Besides avoiding duplication of record-keeping, John has concluded that the marketing function should save the Procurement Department of Westinghouse time and money.

John has left—at least for a while—the world of atoms, neutrons and plutonium and is again in an environment just as challenging. He is beginning his second and final year at the Harvard Business School in Cambridge, Mass.

Incidentally, John mentioned that he will be happy to try to answer any questions that Bryant students may have concerning the Harvard "B" School or the Westinghouse Atomic Power Program. Unclassified questions, that is!

Off and on the Bryant Campus

Student: "Why, what happened?"

When one sweet young thing remarked, "I can marry any man I please." Her friend replied, "Isn't it a shame you can't please any?"

Freshman: "Now I know what they mean by the faculty takin' special interest in you — each one of them thinks his class is the only one you got here!"

Professor: "You missed my class this morning, didn't you?"

Freshman: "Not a bit!"

CURRICULUM COMMENTS

The school advertised "A Course in Accounting for Women." Came a reply, "There's no accounting for women."

Important News For Vets

Thousands of World War II and Post Korea veterans who lost their 5-year term GI insurance since July 23, 1953 because they had failed to pay either or both of the last two monthly premiums will be given an opportunity to reinstate their policies under a new law just signed by the President.

VA said it is searching its records for these cases, so it soon may send each former policyholder a reinstatement application with instructions on how to proceed.

The agency "strongly" requested the affected veterans not to write or otherwise make inquiries about their cases for at least a month so as not to delay the checking process to the detriment of all veterans involved.

The law which permits these veterans to reinstate such term policies is the Survivor Benefits Act, signed by the President August 1, 1956. The GI insurance affected by the law are the 5-year term policies of National Service Life Insurance, whether of the convertible World War II type or of the non-convertible post Korea type.

Under the old law, which became effective July 23, 1953, these term policies couldn't be in a state of lapse at the end of the 5-year period to qualify then for automatic renewal.

Under the new law, this requirement is relaxed to the extent that the 5-year term of any policy which has lapsed because of the failure to pay either or both of the last two monthly premiums is automatically renewed for another 5-year term and the policy then may be reinstated by meeting certain requirements.

CURTAIN GOING UP! . . . .

As the trees adorn themselves with bright colors for fall, so will the members of Masquers embellish themselves with make-up as they start a new season of comedy and drama for the Bryant undergraduates.

The productions for this season have not as yet been disclosed; however, as soon as a thorough inventory of the new members has been made to discover what type of productions would be best suited for them to do, the plays for the year will be selected. Several well-known plays are under consideration. This club has been limited to thirty members this year to insure each member of constant participation in the activities.

Two plays will be in rehearsal at once; therefore, students can expect to be entertained almost continuously with some outstanding work in drama.

Last year the Masquers presented "The Flower Shop" a light comedy; "Nine Girls," a thrilling mystery drama which amazed everyone at the superior acting which was contributed; "Time Out For Ginger," a rollicking riot, which brought down the house; and also the combined efforts of both the Masquers and the Glee Club brought forth "The Desert Song" which surprised everyone with the acting and singing ability of these groups.

Under the capable and magnetic personality of Mrs. Mary Thornton Appleby, Masquers is sure to present several outstanding productions. The officers of the club are: President, Nancy Hackenson; Vice-President, Jack Anderson; and Secretary-Treasurer, Eleanor Limmer.
