Glee Club Presents "Showtime U.S.A."

Monday and Tuesday Nights, May 27-28

By RHEA REMZ

The Bryant College Glee Club is once again putting on a musical show for the entertainment of the student body.

This semester the theme is "Showtime U. S. A." The extravaganza will be featured Monday evening, May 27, at 8:15 p.m., and Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8:30 p.m. The show, directed and produced by Professor Mary T. Appleby, will include a selection from the Broadway play "Mr. Wonderful," a medley of tunes from "Carousel," "South Pacific," and "Oklahoma," by Rogers and Hammerstein, and "My Fair Lady."

Soloists during the evening will be Mary Azevedo singing "Lovely Night" from "Cinderella," a medley from "Carousel" featuring Pat Weiland, "Eileen," a selection from "Thine Alone" sung by Eleanor Ricci, and Jack Anderson singing "Begin the Beguine."

Also featured in the program will be many duets including Mary Azevedo and Bob Smith singing "Silver Moon" from "My Maryland," Bob Smith joining Eleanor Ricci in singing "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man," and Eleanor Ricci and Jack Anderson singing "Moonbeams" from the operetta "The Red Mill."

Nancy Hakanson, Sherrill Carr, and Jeanine Morency will sing "Mr. Wonderful" from the show bearing the same title.

Other featured performers will be Gail Hand, accompanied by the Glee Club, singing "Rose Marie" and "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie," and the Bryant Brushcuts who will sing one of the current favorites titled "The Banana Boat Song."

Dancing to the tune of the "Merry Widow Waltz" will be Gail Hand and Gary Chace, vocally accompanied by members of the Glee Club.

The program for the Glee Club presentation looks like a show that will be a great success from the first note of "Annie Get Your Gun" to the last note of the "Show Biz Finale."

Student Picnic to Be at Rocky Point June 19

June 19 is the day; Rocky Point and even (perish the thought) is the place; the time all day. Yes, the Bryant College Annual Picnic will take place in four weeks; and it promises to be the biggest event of the season. Last year's picnic was fabulous, and this year's will be better than that—we've even talked with the weatherman and he promises to co-operate and give us a bright, sunny day.

Tickets were placed on sale on May 20 for the sum of $1 admitting one person to a delicious shore dinner—chowder, clamcakes, crackers, and watermelon. Seconds, thirds fourths will be available to anyone who thinks he can eat that much. Each class president has a supply of tickets for the event, and students can obtain them by contacting these officers. A schedule of activities is planned to include everyone who wishes to take part in a fun-filled program.

So, come one, come all; push the sales over the top. Your co-operation in buying the tickets will assure the success of the picnic, because we know you'll be ready for a gay time on the 19th.

Alpha Theta's Pride—Ann Almonte—Chosen May Queen

BIB's May Queen Dance a Success

May 11, 1957, was a cold, damp night; but inside the Bryant College Auditorium, Beta Iota Beta's May Queen Dance was becoming the most successful event of the year. After weeks of planning and two days of constant work, the BIB boys had decorated the Auditorium with assorted wooden creations, crape paper, and flowers.

Everything was in perfect condition when the first couple arrived to dance to the music of Ralph Stuart. The attendance grew to about 400 and mid-way through the dance, the crowd's idle talk ceased to almost complete silence. The 1957 May Queen was to be announced by "Cy" Cybulski, President of Beta Iota Beta.

Ann Almonte Chosen

After the six lovely candidates had walked down to the stage, Ann Almonte was proclaimed the winner. Ann was sponsored by Alpha Theta Chi, and both the Queen and fraternity received a trophy. The crowd soon drifted away; and although the entertainment was over, people were spreading the word that BIB's 1957 May Queen Dance was the best ever.

A Dream Comes True

By Martin L. Curtis

"Surprised and, of course, very happy," was the feeling of Ann M. Almonte when she was crowned May Queen by Beta Iota Beta's president, Cy Cybulski, during the annual May Queen Dance, Saturday, May 11, 1957.

Ann, a second semester Executive Secretarial major, is a member of Delta Sigma Chi, in which she holds the office of Assistant Treasurer. Her spare time around campus is spent participating in bowling and softball. Swimming and surf-board riding are two additional sports that will give Ann a summer of fun.

Ann, a graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Almonte of 12 View Street, Providence. Fran Almonte, a sister, is also a student here at Bryant in her fourth semester. They have a brother Al, who is attending Classical High School.

Since her selection, Ann has been showered with flowers and telegrams from her many friends and relatives.

Congratulations to you, Ann, and to Alpha Theta Chi for picking a winner.

Here is a form prepared by the Picnic Committee to be completed by students to enable the committee to set up a well-rounded program of activities for the 19th. Simply fill in any suggestions you may have and drop the blank in the Archway mailbox in the bookstore.

Why don't we have.....

Success—for You?

Everyone has dreams of financial success and security. All our efforts directly or indirectly are centered on achieving this goal. A college education is perhaps the biggest and most important single advancement toward our "dream of the future."

Yet, for several obvious reasons, some of us will not reach our goal. Why? Because those "some" didn't expend the vital, necessary effort to reach it.

Our actions, (i.e. our efforts), be they good or bad, are recorded in one way or another. There are two kinds of records. One, our written or scholastic record, shows our tangible successes and failures; the other, our character record, shows the intangible. No one can say which is more important because they are read as one entity, showing all aspects of our past lives.

Good marks on our written record are certainly a very valuable asset, yet they are worth nothing if our character record has a deficit, and vice versa. If our combination of records is a poor one, it will cling to us like the Ancient Mariner's albatross, and greatly hinder any advancement. On the other hand, if the combination is good, we can proudly display it as a citation of past achievement and a promise of probable future success. It is plain to see that a good combination, well balanced, is essential if success is to be gained.

Stop for a few minutes and look at your record combination as an outsider (potential employer) would appraise it. How's your character? Your scholastic record? The total? If either of the parts or the total leave something to be desired, correct the situation immediately. Don't let it slide.

If your combination is good, give yourself a pat on the back and work even harder to make it better.

Success is not just a dream. It can be a very definite reality—for you—IF you work to make it one.

In Memoriam

An early morning automobile crash last Sunday claimed the life of Ronald J. Pidgeon, fourth semester management student.

Ron, a member of the Archway circulation staff, was known by everyone on campus and was well liked for his pleasant, friendly personality.

The shock of the 19-year old youth's death, two months prior to graduation, was felt deeply by his classmates. The first reaction of senior students was that of disbelief that the good-humored blonde senior, who just 36 short hours ago was so full of life, could possibly have had such a tragic accident.

Ron, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pidgeon in Putnam, Connecticut, compiled a fine scholastic record at Bryant, and was an active member of the Archway staff.

A large group of Bryant students attended his funeral in Putnam last Wednesday.

Ronald Pidgeon is gone, but the quick smile and effervescent humor that characterized his personality will linger long in the hearts of his classmates.

New Scholarships For Deserving Students Planned

Mr. R. Lucien Appleby, Executive Secretary of Bryant College, announced last week that nine scholarships will be awarded soon for the next term.

The Board of Trustees will award four scholarships of three hundred and seventy-five dollar value. Two are in memory of the late Jeanette Carrol Jacobs, former officer and trustee of Bryant, and two are in memory of the late John Logan Allan, former Vice-President of Bryant.

A student can apply for this scholarship in his or her second semester, while the benefits will be received during the third or fourth semester. The Scholarship Committee will select the four students after considering the financial need, character, scholastic ability, interests, and personality of the student.

Five one-hundred-and-fifty-dollar scholarships will be given from the Harriet E. Jacobs Memorial which is the income of a $25,000 fund given by Dr. Jacobs in memory of his late wife. The fund provides for annual scholarships to members of the Executive Secretarial Junior Class who have maintained high scholastic records throughout their freshman and sophomore semesters and who personally exhibit excellent character and are in need of financial assistance.

The Dean of the School of Executive Secretarial Training in co-operation with the members of the school faculty recommends candidates to the Committee on Scholarship Aid.

For further details on these scholarships, watch the bulletin board.

Educational Television Stations Teach French, Auto Driving

In Boston you can learn to speak French by watching television. In Houston you can watch a School Board meeting, and in Chicago you can learn to drive a car or play basketball—all through television.

These are only a few examples of "educational television" which viewers in 24 towns across the nation now enjoy through community television stations. Soon eight other cities will have them, and 30 more have plans for such stations, reports Harland Manchester in the Reader's Digest for May in an article, "The Surprising Growth of Educational TV."

Each community television station arranges its own programs, and draws on filmed recordings of the best done by the 23 others—hence a network's variety and resources. ETV's programs often have permanent value. Further, they develop hits and stars unknown and unavailable to commercial television.

Pretty Mary Lela Grimes made a national ETV hit with her lively nature show originated for Boston's community station. She once refrigerated a hamster and broadcast its heartbeat to show how animal functions slow down in hibernation. She so timed a cocoon that the bedraggled moth emerged before the TV camera. Another Boston ETV favorite is a hep cat Catholic priest who conducts a jazz program.

Memphis' station attacked illiteracy with a course in which 700 adults enrolled. Pittsburgh gives high school courses via TV, enabling 110 students to earn diplomas last year. The graduates numbered several serving time behind bars. Chicago has a hit in its Cook County sheriff, narrator of a series on delinquency. St. Louis' ETV surprise success was 17 half-hour programs on The Religions of Man.

SIB Plans Bond Raffle

by Helene Dacy

Everyone can sit back and recover from the hustle-bustle of a hectic Hell Week. Sigma Iota Beta welcomed three pledgees to the ranks of S. I. B. at an informal punch party in the Barn Studio. Hell Week found the pledgees stocked with goodies, cigarettes, a good frame of mind, and—last but not least—the answers to any question from "how's the cow" to the full name of every Sigma sister (incidentally many of them use a nickname.)

The pledgees enjoyed a sunrise hike to Massachusetts; of course the Sisters went along to keep them company and give a few directions, the only difference was—the Sisters drove! Friday ended a hectic week's schedule for the dog-tired pledgees. They survived an informal initiation and later that evening they were guests of honor at a S. I. B.—B. I. B. Pledge Party.

On June 29, the pledgees will be formally initiated at a dinner dance to be held at the Admiral Inn in Cumberland. This year the annual affair will be a formal, rather than the usual semi-formal affair.

Alumni weekend brought back many familiar faces. A dinner-dance at the Sheraton-Biltmore was the feature attraction of the weekend. The S. I. B.—B. I. B. alumni were feted by a host of parties, lasting far into the wee hours. The gala weekend ended with a beach party on Sunday.

The previous week was a lead up to Alumni Weekend. Many of the grads were present at the May Queen Dance and also attended the dinner party Beta Iota Beta held at the El Morocco.

The big weekends are still coming. The S. I. B. girls are planning to spend a bang-up 4th of July at a resort on the Cape.

Till then, S. I. B. will be working hard selling chances on a savings bond to be raffled in the early part of June. The proceeds will be used to send one of the children at the Children's Center to camp this summer for two weeks. (S. I. B. has held a party for the children at the Center every month since last September.)

Beta Sigma Chi News

by Don Potter

Beta and Theta's dance, "The Harbor Lights", which was held at the Churchill House, Friday, May 3, was a big success. The dance celebrated Beta Sigma Chi's thirty-second anniversary, and, as most of you know, Beta is the oldest fraternity on the Bryant Campus.

Now that the warm weather is here, the brothers and sisters will be having lots of fun on picnics and beach parties.

Although Beta has gotten off to a slow start in the softball league, we are all confident that they will have a strong finish.

During pledge week, did you notice the well-dressed men with the blue badges? They were Beta Sig's host of pledgees. The brothers of Beta feel that for a prospective brother of our fraternity to stand out, he must be dignified in every way.

Judgings in the contest are based on 50% for beauty and 50% for brains. The committee does not seek a "Marilyn Monroe" nor a "Phi Beta Kappa" as its 1957 National College Queen title holder. Judges have been advised to select the most typical and all-round outstanding entrant on a basis of attractiveness; campus activities; personality and charm; scholastic achievements and results of an original essay on the subject, "What College Education Means To Me" which each entrant has to submit along with entry blank form.

Those chosen as their state college queen winner will receive round trip transportation as a state prize to and from Asbury Park to compete in the grand finals. In this resort city, they will be the guests of the city and will be supervised by the Asbury Park University Women's Club, official hostesses to the contest. Each state winner will also receive a trip to New York prior to going to Asbury Park, where she will appear on network television programs and tour the United Nations, Empire State Building, and other Manhattan landmarks.

Four Bryant Grads Attain CPA Rating

All who are associated with Bryant College can take justifiable pride in the fact that four graduates of this College recently attained the coveted C. P. A. rating.

Those receiving certificates included Robert M. Bergeron, Thomas A. Brewer, James H. Doherty, and Richmond G. Littlefield.

Mr. Bergeron graduated with the Class of 1950, and is currently employed by the public accounting firm of Carl Christiansen & Company, C. P. A.

Mr. Brewer graduated cum laude with the Class of 1942. He is presently associated with the firm of Lees, Bauer, and Hanover, C. P. A.

Bryant Teacher Honored
Mr. Doherty is a familiar figure on campus, being an instructor of Fundamental Accounting here. A graduate of the Class of 1939, he was formerly employed by Quinlan Shea, C. P. A. Mr. Doherty recently began his own public accounting practice.

Business Is Interesting

by Louise C. Vaillancourt

Delta Omega Professional Society is a non-fraternal business on the Bryant campus. The club, formerly the Business Administration Society, was renamed and reorganized two years ago. Membership is now open to any day student who has completed at least one semester at Bryant College. The reason for this requirement is that it is assumed that during this time a person will have had a chance to become acquainted with the fundamentals of business and, therefore, will have the proper background to be able to appreciate the topics discussed at dinner-speaker meetings. Women as well as men can become members of the Society. At present there are over a hundred members—the largest membership of any organization on campus.

The program consists of three dinner-speaker sessions which are usually held at the Admiral Inn or at Oates' Tavern during each semester. In the past many prominent men in the Providence area—including Lieutenant Governor Cote—have spoken to the members at these meetings.

The officers of Delta Omega are as follows:

President: Joseph Garofalo
Vice-Pres: Lynwood Albert
Secretary: Patricia Baptist
Treasurer: Robert Lenkowski
Historian: Anthony Giglio

The advisers are Mr. George Richards, Mr. George Bates, and Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs.

Future plans of the Society include field trips to prominent business concerns in Rhode Island and the adoption of a club pin.

The brothers of Beta join the student body in congratulating Ann Almonte on her recent victory in the Bryant College May Queen Contest.

Whoever is selected as the "1957 National College Queen" will receive in addition to thousands of dollars worth of valuable prizes and scholarships, a grand tour of Europe in the summer of 1958. In addition she will gain national fame and acclaim for herself, her college and her state. It could be you.

Mr. Littlefield graduated magna cum laude in 1950, later obtaining his master's degree from the Harvard School of Business Administration. He is now associated with the firm of Ernst & Ernst.

Presenting the certificates to these men was Mr. Edward Blackman, himself a Bryant graduate, having attended this College in the early 1930's. In addition to his own public accounting practice, Mr. Blackman is currently serving as Secretary of the Rhode Island State Board of Accountancy.

Bryant Alumnus Hails Business Training

Edward W. Reardon

"I will always be thankful for the education that I received at Bryant College." Those are the words that Mr. Elphege J. Goulet, Chief of the State of Rhode Island Bureau of Audits, used in expressing his appreciation of Bryant.

After being graduated from Sacred Heart Academy in Central Falls, Rhode Island, Mr. Goulet worked for Sayles Finishing Plant for a few years. He entered Bryant in 1923, and was manager of the basketball teams the two years he attended.

Received CPA Degree

After graduating in 1925 Mr. Goulet worked for Frank Crook, Inc., in Pawtucket, and later he did accounting work for the firm of Warren Lane, Certified Public Accountants. When he received his Certified Public Accountant degree in 1935 Mr. Goulet set up his own firm. In 1941, he was appointed Chief of the Bureau of Audits.

Mr. Goulet is married to the former Mildred Farrell, also a Bryant graduate, and they have two children, a 21 year old daughter and a 26 year old son. In his spare time, Mr. Goulet is Treasurer of the Marquette Credit Union, a member of the Rhode Island Society of Certified Public Accountants, and active in church organizations.

Mr. Goulet stated: "In my opinion, an education from Bryant College is a must for any person who is desirous of entering the business field. I believe that Bryant offers a well-rounded curriculum and one that is designed to promote success."

Veteran's Corner

The Korean GI Bill set another new record this spring, with more veteran-trainees than ever before in its five-year history, Veterans Administration announced today.

Spring enrollments so far stand at more than 764,000 vets, VA said, with more to come; but, enrollment reports submitted by schools still are not quite complete.

The previous high was reached late last fall, with 763,000 Korea vets in training under the GI Bill.

More than half of the vets in training under the Korean GI Bill are attending colleges and universities. The remainder are enrolled in other schools below the college level.

The Korean GI training program will continue until 1965.

The words "compensation" and "pension" as used by Veterans Administration to describe monthly payments to veterans or their dependents are not synonymous and should not be used interchangeably, VA advised.

Manager John L. Reavey of the VA Regional Office in Providence said compensation is paid to a veteran or his eligible dependents for disease, injury or death resulting from the veteran's wartime or peacetime service.

Pension is paid only to a wartime veteran or his eligible dependents for disease, injury or death not connected with the veteran's service, and then only under certain conditions, he said.

The easiest way to distinguish between the two benefits, Reavey said, is that compensation is a service-connected benefit for wartime or peacetime service, and pension is a nonservice-connected benefit for wartime service only.

Mr. Reavey said detailed information concerning either benefit is available from the VA Regional Office, 100 Fountain Street, Providence, R. I., the VA Office 757 Pleasant Street, New Bedford, Mass., or the VA Office, 144 North Main Street, Fall River, Mass.

— Questions And Answers —

Q—I am receiving a VA pension for nonservice-connected disability. Does this entitle me to outpatient medical care for my disability?

A—No. Outpatient care is limited by law to treatment of service-connected disabilities only.

Q—Is there any deadline for applying for disability compensation?

A—No. You may apply at any time during your life. However, if you apply within one year of the date of your discharge, your compensation payments may be backdated to the day after you got out of service. If you wait longer than one year, payments may be made effective as of the date of application only.

Overpayments of GI benefits to veterans are subject to recovery by the Government, Manager John L. Reavey of the Veterans Administration's Providence Regional Office said today.

But veterans can prevent overpayments by promptly reporting changes in their income or dependency status, Reavey pointed out.

"Overpayments made because the veteran furnished incomplete or inaccurate information," Reavey said, "obligate VA to recover the money. This often comes as a hardship to the veteran and his family."

Ex-GI's attending school or in-job or farm-training under the GI Bill should make sure the monthly certificate for VA is accurately and completely filled out before they sign it, Reavey said. Special attention should be given to the attendance report.

Overpayments to veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation are generally made because the veterans fail to report changes in marital status or number of dependents. Prompt reports of divorce, remarriage, or deaths, enable VA to keep its records current and prevent overpayments, Reavey said.

Permanently and totally disabled veterans receiving nonservice-connected pensions for service in World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict may be overpaid if they fail to keep VA informed about their other income.

The law provides that such pensions are payable only to veterans whose other income does not exceed $1,400 if single, or $2,700 if they have a wife or minor children.

— Question And Answer —

Q—I have been drawing monthly compensation payments from VA, based on the service-connected death of my husband, a World War I veteran. If I get a job to supplement my income, will my compensation payments be stopped?

A—No. Death compensation payments, based on the service-connected death of a veteran, are not affected by your income. The income "ceilings" apply only to death pensions for the nonservice-connected death of a veteran.

GI loan eligibility is not restored automatically when a veteran sells his GI-purchased home and obtains a VA release from liability to the Government on the loan.

Manager John L. Reavey of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Providence said release of the veteran from liability does not affect VA's guaranty of the loan; therefore, as long as the guaranty is outstanding, no restoration of GI loan rights can be extended the veteran.

Reavey pointed out that even if the loan is paid in full, thus relieving VA of liability to the lender, a veteran's entitlement to another GI loan may be restored only when the property:

- (1) was taken by a Government agency for public use;
- (2) was destroyed by natural hazard; or
- (3) was disposed of for compelling reasons such as health, employment transfer, or other specific reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

In such cases Reavey said, the veteran should apply to VA for restoration of entitlement. The VA Regional Office, 100 Fountain Street, Providence, R. I., the VA Office, at 757 Pleasant Street, New Bedford, Massachusetts and the VA Office at 144 North Main Street, Fall River, Massachusetts will be glad to assist applicants, he said.

Softball Highlights

Beta Sigma Chi's softball squad coached by Bill Roy is anxious to improve on last year's fifth place finish. So far the boys have shown plenty of hustle and winning potential.

Returning from last season are Ralph Muzzillo, ace hurler of '56, and his dependable batterymate, Don Pfister. Don McIlwaine, a newcomer, will share the catching duties.

The only returnee in the infield is Don Potter, last year's second baseman and leading hitter. Remaining infield slots will be filled by Joe Sabik, Bill Roy, Fred Dill, and Paul Barzeau.

Back for another year in the outfield are Al Schaefer and Larry "The Ott" Ottman. Hardhitting Ray Lassen has one of the berths clinched, and crafty Kenny Taylor is assured of seeing considerable action patrolling the gardens.

A hard game was played Wednesday between KDK and Phi Upsilon. The game was primarily a pitchers' battle. Joan Bannerman pitched an excellent game for KDK. Pat Sullivan started out well for Phi U and was replaced by Dotty Cole. KDK was fighting all the way and came up from behind in the last two innings.

Because of the close play between two very active teams, it was a very enjoyable game for both the players and the onlookers. Baseball always brings the sororities closer together and shows the good sportsmanship at Bryant.

BIB has begun the season this year with great confidence of being in the playoffs.

For the first three games BIB has played this season they have compiled a record of 1-1-1, comprised of a 6-5 win over ATC, a 6-6 tie with CG's B team and a 5-4 loss to KT.

BIB has an almost infallible infield with George Muradian covering the hot corner, Ron Chamberlain ss, and Bob Reed 2nd base, comprising a sharp D. P. combination, and Dick Cooper making the putouts on 1st base.

The BIB battery is rated with the best, with Matt Clarke and Bill Capadora burning them in to Siro De Gasperis.

As for the outfield, manager Bob Greco is having a tough time deciding who to play, between Bill Foster, Fi Fosque, Fred Bowers, Pete Carando, Joe Lassogna, and Tom Del Santo.

BIB's power pinch hitters "Cy" Cybulski and Pete Carando are a threat to any pitcher. "Cy" is also a capable catcher.

Without a bit of doubt, BIB has the top bat-boy in the league, namely, Dick Parmenteer.

"Bill" Pryor Keeps Pitman Field in Shape

With this glorious, warm summer weather, the Bryant Athletic Field on Pitman Street is being used more and more.

As you may have seen posted on the Bulletin Boards, the Field is available to all Bryant students each day from 3:00 on and Saturdays from 12:00 noon until 4:00 p. m. Tom Hart, Assistant Athletic Director, is in charge of the Field activities and has softballs, bats, horseshoes, and other athletic equipment available for your recreational use.

Although Tom is the man the Bryant student meets there after-school, we'd like to give a pat on the back to "Bill" Pryor, a genial representative of our Maintenance and Grounds Department for the excellent job he has done getting the Field into shape for the season.

Cutting the expanse of grass, trimming the ball diamond infield, and keeping the Field House and grounds in repair is a responsibility that often goes unnoticed. Remember if you will, the hours of labor that go behind a neat, attractive looking Athletic Field. Thanks, Bill, for giving us a Field that is a pleasure to use!

Tau Ep Fields Strong Nine

Duke Dumaine has been picked by Tom Hart, Athletic Director, to manage this year's Tau Ep softball team. Duke's job has been facilitated by a wealth of talent.

Harry Fiedler, one of the outstanding chuckers last year, has really improved Tau Epsilon's club. This year he has pitched a no-hit, no-run game plus a two-hit shutout while winning Tau Epsilon's first two games.

Duke has been pleased with his slick infield consisting of Ernie Famigletti, veteran Roger Wordel, Jack Allen, and Jim Aiello. The outfield is well fixed with Joe Migliaccio, Marty Horan, and Jim Costa.

To back up these regulars Duke has a strong bench that boasts of Tom Hart, Joe Carvalho, Leo Viti, Corky Corcoran, and Bob Meyer.

Tau Epsilon is proud to field the best team they have had in the last five years.

Sigma Lambda Pi On the Move

by Charles Hoffman

Sigma Lambda Pi has been very busy the past month in preparation for pledging and the welcoming of the alumni back to the Bryant Campus.

Now that the pledging is over, we are happy to see that many pledgees are still smiling. We are sure they all had a grand time during this year's pledge week.

The brothers of Sigma Lambda Pi wish Ann Almonte a happy reign as May Queen. All the brothers would like to thank Burma Francini for being Sigma Lambda Pi's candidate for May Queen.

Sigma Lambda Pi's softball team reports that the baseball spirit is very high this spring. All softball games take place at the Bryant fieldhouse on Pitman Street. Let's go, STUDENTS, support your teams, and come to watch the games often. All the support you bring with you will be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Spring, though temporarily delayed, has arrived. Spring brought to the brothers of Sigma Lambda Pi the sounds of picnics, beach parties, and the many other affairs which are customarily held each year. The social chairman has already made arrangements for both a picnic and a beach party to be held in the very near future.

All the brothers wish a speedy recovery to Mr. John Renza's son, who has been ill recently.

BUOY ROOM . . .

by Howie Watts

As Memorial Day nears, most of us are now putting the finishing touches on our boats.

A popular excuse for not winning races, "My boat wasn't tuned up properly", implies that there is some deep, dark mystery involved and that if the skipper could only find something on the boat that pulls, shoves, or twists a microscopic amount, he would start winning races. This is a lot of baloney. A boat which is in hopelessly bad shape and has never won any races cannot be made good enough to win races with a little twiddling here and there. On the other hand if a boat has consistently placed well and suddenly starts placing poorly, the chances are pretty good that it isn't the boat that needs tuning up—it is the skipper.

There are, however, some basic elements to be considered in the rigging of a boat. Most boats will not be perfectly balanced under all wind velocities; a slight lee helm with a light wind won't hurt, but carrying a rudder deflected in a high wind to counteract weather helm will slow down the boat by an appreciable amount. Rigging the mast as far forward as possible and the centerboard as far back as possible will reduce weather helm considerably. A forward rake on the mast will help counteract weather helm, but the sails will set better in a light wind if the mast is raked slightly aft. If most of your sailing is in heavy winds, you'll probably sacrifice the set of your main and concentrate on reducing weather helm.

If you find yourself losing headway while coming about in stiff winds, you probably are allowing the boat to round too sharply by letting the tiller go beyond its efficient limit. This can be controlled by the proper placing of your main sheet traveler. Once you've found the proper place for your tiller and positioned your traveler as a stop, you can let go of your tiller when tacking and not worry about losing headway or going into irons.

This is well and good for the small boat sailor but means nothing to the "Yachtsman." Should you be presently preparing to defend the world-renowned America's Cup, I'd love an invite aboard.

Hi Kids!

Freedom at last! Sacks, paddles, and big straw hats have been put away for another semester. Three cheers to those who survived through Hell Week.

Well it looks like the month of May was surely a month for many successful dances, and here's a summary of a few of them . . . a festive and merrymaking time was had by all when KAPPA TAU presented its "Original Dixieland Jazz" dance at Rhodes on May 10. The entertainment was furnished by Johnny Bea and his Original Dixieland Kings . . . On May 11, the 13th annual May Queen Dance, sponsored by BETA IOTA BETA, was held in the cafegymnasium. At this dance—a very enjoyable one, by the way—Alpha THETA CHI's lovely candidate Ann Almonte was crowned May Queen of Bryant College. "Congratulations, Ann!"—a very pretty and charming queen. After the dance a party was held in Ann's honor, and a good time was had by all . . . Another lively occasion in the month of May was the Interfaith Council dance held in the cafegymnasium on May 8. The unique setup of the tables created a night club atmosphere, and everyone enjoyed the splendid performance of Bryant College's own talent . . . Well Kids, if you'd like to join in on the fun, why not attend "Hellzapoppin'" on May 24. This dance is being sponsored by ALPHA THETA CHI; music is by Flory Lee.

The annual Alumni Weekend proved to be successful in the renewal of memories and friendships. The highlights of the festivities consisted of a banquet, the Alumni Ball, the President's Reception at Bryant, reunions of organizations of the Greek Letter Council, and a cocktail party. We hope that all the alumni had a very enjoyable time.
