

Greek Letter Council Formulating Rules To Govern Manner of Awarding Scholastic Trophies to Fraternities and Sororities

By Joe Bedard

Last year, under the leadership of John M. Doyle, '58, former president of Alpha Theta Chi and member of the Greek Letter Council, initial plans were made for the award of a scholastic trophy. Rules and regulations governing the award are now being established by the Greek Letter Council.

The award will consist of two trophies. The trophies will be awarded each semester to a fraternity and a sorority whose members have achieved the highest academic average during the marking period.

All the members of a fraternity or sorority will participate in the competition by filing an individual report. On each report the members will list the subjects taken, class hours per week for each subject, and the grade achieved. Averages will be figured on a grade multiple based on a quality point system. An A will carry 4 quality points; a B, 3 points; a C, 2 points; a D, 1 point; and an F, incomplete, or absent, no points.

The quality points received for each subject will be multiplied by the number of hours the class meets to get a product for each subject. All the information given on the report will be considered confidential.

The Greek Letter Council will distribute the individual report forms to the president of each fraternity and sorority who in turn will see that the individual members receive them, fill out the required information, and return the forms to their respective presidents.

Recap sheets listing each individual report will then be sent to the Student Activities Office for determining the winners.

Permanent possession of a trophy may be obtained by winning the trophy three consecutive times or four staggered times.

Boudreau Proves Effective Spedker at Marketing Meeting

By Lane Hayden

At the last guest speaker meeting, the Marketing Association was indeed fortunate in having as its speaker, Mr. Frederick Boudreau, District Manager of the Americana Corporation, who spoke on "The Effect of Direct Selling on Business."

Mr. Boudreau was certainly a well-qualified speaker. Since his arrival in Providence in 1952, he has been promoted from salesman to his present position of District Manager. In 1956, he was awarded the Americana's Presidential Citation as the outstanding salesman in his district which covers Rhode Island and parts of Connecticut and Massachusetts. His ability as a salesman and a leader was again recognized when his district won first place in Americana's nation-wide summer contest last summer.

Mr. Boudreau in his talk gave the group very worthwhile "behind the scene" facts as to why successful salesmen can make their profession a very lucrative one. He also explained how direct selling can affect the young businessman with invaluable information and experience in meeting and understanding people.

President Robert Patry informed the group of the current marketing material which is being placed in the reserved section of the library for the use of all members.

Thanks to the efforts of Paul Dixon, all members have been extended an open invitation to attend the speaker meetings of the Advertisers Association of Providence. Many prominent speakers are scheduled for the coming meetings, such as the editor of Parade Magazine who will be speaking at the next meeting. Any member desiring more information should contact any officer of the club for details.

Introduction of Sno' Queen Candidates, Dancing Contest To Highlight KT's Turkey Trot

By Daniel Duarte

Kappa Tau is happy to announce that their annual Turkey Trot dance will be held on November 22 in the Bryant Auditorium. There will be dancing from 8-12 to the wonderful music of Dick Caruso. The donation of $1 is the cost for dancing and refreshments. The highlight of the dance will be a dancing contest, eagerly awaited by the various fraternity dancing contestants and the student body of Bryant. The dancing contest will be judged by KT's advisors. A large trophy will be awarded to the fraternity whose representatives score the most points in the dancing contest. All participants in the dancing contest must be students of Bryant College.

The Sno' Queen candidates will make their pre-election appearance at the dance. The student body will be given the opportunity to meet the candidates, one of whom will be their choice for the Sno' Queen of Bryant College.

A door prize is again being given away. Last year's prize, a live turkey, was quite difficult to handle; so this year a (censored).

If there are students who don't know what a Turkey Trot is, they can find out by coming Saturday night.

"You Can't Take It with You" Will Be Bryant Masquers' First Presentation

By Kay McCormick

Here's an important date for you to note: Tuesday, December 2!

The Masquers, Bryant's dramatic club, will present their first performance of the year on that evening. If you like to laugh, we guarantee you will enjoy the zany comedy "You Can't Take It with You."

The main theme of the play centers around the tangled everyday episodes of life in the Sycamore household. You'll find yourself falling in love with warm, affable Grampa Sycamore and dancing around the table with Essie, a would-be ballet dancer. Of course, romance cannot be left out of a Moss Hart-George Kauffman play, and Alice and Tony go through all the entanglements of a typical romance.

Most of characters is far from complete, but instead of telling you about them, we prefer that you come to see them for yourself.

Barber Scholarship Winners Chosen

On November 4 The Barber Scholarship Fund Committee selected the recipients of the funds for 1958. Three awards of $200 each were awarded to deserving students. Other awards were granted to students who will start their education at Bryant in February 1959. The Barber Scholarship Fund is administered solely by the alumni and the scholarship awards are made primarily on the basis of need.

The scholarship, which began in November, 1955, as named in honor of Professor Jeremiah C. Barber who was associated with Bryant for fifty-one years. Affectionately known as "Jerry," he taught Law and was the Dean of Students. He helped innumerable young people with a combination of fatherly benevolence and strict adherence to the highest business principles. The names of the recipients will be released in the forthcoming issue of the Archway.

Bryant Delegation Largest at CCUN

By Lloyd Constantine

For the second year, the International Relations Club of Bryant College had the largest delegation at the New England Conference of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. Those attending were as follows: President, L. D. Constantine; Vice-President, R. M. Whitehead; Senate Delegate, Edmund Viele; Faculty Advisor, Harry Cunha, Nina Ellison, and Daniel Wolf. The conference, which was held November 7 at Harvard University, was designed to solve the problems of membership, organization, programming, and finance.

In the morning, delegates from approximately fourteen colleges and universities in New England heard the national officers of CCUN speak on the role of CCUN in the world today. After the speakers, the delegates were assigned to area discussion groups where the problems of each club were discussed.

Erik N. Walters, special intern with the UN Department of Political and Security Council Affairs, was the principal speaker of the day. Mr. Walters defined the UN as a political rather than a judicial body. He stated that this political concept is the most satisfactory method of handling the world's problems; for if the UN was bound to a judiciary standard, it would fail. The differences in judiciary concepts which each country holds is too great. It is impossible, he continued, to think realistically of the world ruled by one judiciary standard or one government. "I have always thought of world federalists as being just a bit uncivilized not because they do not have a good and just cause, but because they start at the wrong end of the problem. They think of the future rather than what we can do with what we have here in the present."

The conference ended with a plenary session in which the solutions reached by the discussion groups were presented to the delegates.

Bryant United Fund Results

By Janith Brett and Terry Leonard

The Bryant United Fund returns are now being totaled. The contributions to date are as follows:

The Business Administration Dept.:
Seniors	$15.68
Juniors	15.17
Sophomores	14.39
Freshmen	14.69
The Junior Secretarial Dept.:	5.62
Stockwell House	8.60
Total	$74.15

Recent reports from the National Campaign are showing an unexpected lag at this point in the drive. The contributions are not meeting the hopes of the Fund workers. If the campaign does not pick up, the goal set for this year will not be reached.

Now the Here at Bryant the total is expected to reach $100. It is not too late for everyone to "pitch in" for the drive and help this city reach its Fund requirements. Just think of all the good one small gift to the United Fund can do!

More Trophies to Come

To these trophies on display in the Student Union Lounge will soon be added the two scholastic trophies.

Sol Solomon, 56, Named R. I. State Director of ALSAC

By Russ Paonessa

Solomon A. Solomon, '56, ex-president of Tau Epsilon, and a member of the Bryant College National Alumni Council, was appointed State Director of the Greater Rhode Island Chapter of the A.L.S.A.C. fund appeal for the maintenance of St. Jude Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee.

Sol is coordinating committees that will take part in a nationwide appeal by A.L.S.A.C. (Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children) from November 9 through December 15.

Danny Thomas, TV comedian, is National President and originator of St. Jude Hospital Project of A.L.S.A.C., which provides free care and treatment for any child stricken with leukemia and does research in rare blood diseases. Danny has personally raised 1 1/2 million dollars for the building of the hospital. Ground-breaking ceremonies took place November 2 at the ten-acre tract of land donated by the city of Memphis.

Speeding Around the Campus

Sometimes, while walking along any street in proximity to Bryant, a person is startled by the sound of squealing tires, the roar of a motor being gunned by an overly-depressed accelerator, and irresponsible shrieks of pleasure as an automobile is driven at breakneck speed around a corner or pulled away from a curb with the intent of impressing some unimpressed coed. Generally, those that are standing on the sidewalk are either making bets as to whether the "cowboy" will leave his car alive, or praying that they will be able to remember how to run should this donkey—there is a colloquial expression which would be more apt—think pedestrians were part of the street.

The great influx of foreign cars has to a large extent replaced the old "duals", overhead cams and "lowered" rear ends. The exodus of these horrendous items brought sighs of relief from many persons; little did they know that now they would be confronted with a machine they had a hard time seeing. Even if these midgets could be seen, there is usually little time to try to avoid becoming an insurance statistic.

The streets around Bryant and Brown are too narrow for the employment of car-driving practices now being used by some students. The chief of police has informed the administration that an e station in the vicinity of College Hill to try to abate this foolish and irresponsible pastime.

Imagine the life-long mental anguish a student would suffer should he strike down an innocent passerby, a fellow student, or some small child. It is evident that this thought never enters the minds of most of the drivers whom we are describing.

Race on for Community Service Trophy

By Santo Sottillare

The fall semester is half over and all fraternities and sororities in campus are deep in competition for the Community Services Trophy. Competition is so high that organization members are reluctant to divulge even the slightest hint of their plans to win it. Competition for the trophy has all the earmarks of an Olympics game, and each fraternity and sorority is keeping an accurate tally of its own progress. Results are held as confidential information and even the governing Board of Directors will know little about possible winners until the totals are tallied at the end of the semester.

Last year the winning fraternity was Alpha Theta Chi with 755½ points. The winning sorority Delta Sigma Chi had a total of 661 points. Even now at the halfway point in the semester, confusion reigns as to the rules of the contest. According to Mr. Kenneth W. Cedergren, Director of Student Activities, much weeding out of the tallies is needed. Many organizations have been using their prospective pledges as "point getters." Since pledge week has not yet arrived, any points accumulated by prospective pledges cannot be used by any organization towards winning the trophy. A good example of why this rule must be followed is the young girl on campus who has been diligently piling up points for three different sororities. It is, of course, needless to say that her participation on behalf of the sororities is of no avail. If points gained by the prospective pledges were allowed entry, then four or five different fraternities or sororities would be claiming the points of one individual. One fraternity will lose over 100 points because of this rule, it was learned recently. Taking an educated guess, the Archway predicts that in order for an organization to be even a contender this year more points than the winner's total of last year will be needed.

Points are awarded as follows:

- For each hour in volunteer service by an individual, one point.
- For each $2.00 contributed, one point is awarded.
- For each pint of blood donated, five points are awarded.

The governing board, consisting of Greek Letter Council President, Willis Newton; Student Activities Director, Ken Cedergren, and Mr. Russ Panonessa says that only those acts directed towards qualified agencies will be accepted. These agencies are listed on a memorandum sheet that was handed out to all Greek letter organizations earlier this year. These areas of activity and agencies are: Recreation and youth guidance, service to families and individuals, services to children and national agencies. All these organizations are of the United Fund Appeal.

Other unlisted activities such as the adoption of refugee children, donations of blood, and the sending of Care packages are acceptable. Activities other than those mentioned will not be given credit until the activity is submitted in writing to the governing board for consideration.

It has been difficult to obtain any activity. However, Sigma Iota Chi and Alpha Pi Kappa have announced that they are engaged in work for the Rhode Island Tuberculosis - Health Association.

sources available to students in the college library. At that time it was decided Miss Keith should compile a bibliography which would help young men and women to find a position after graduation, and that it should be published in the Archway so that February graduates and undergraduates could have access to the information. As the February graduates know, Miss Burrill is interviewing every one of you and intends to place as many of you as is possible, but this bibliography is printed here for those of you who may want to find your own position and to help you be aware of opportunities in your particular field of specialization.

You are invited to come to the library at any time, talk with the librarian, and be shown where the books and pamphlets are located. Attention is called now to the special shelf of books at the librarian's desk which is arranged alphabetically by title for your convenience in locating a certain title. Miss Keith will refer any question asked which she is unable to answer to Miss Burrill.

The Battling Musician Al Merrill Will Be On Boxing Team And in Band

Have you ever walked past the cafegymnasium after dark and heard the soft strains of the piano? Most likely you have walked by the window, seen that it was dark, and went along your merry way.

Bryant is fortunate to have among its students this year a lad who is indeed as versatile as they come. This man is Al Merrill of Augusta, Maine.

Al was born in Boston, Massachusetts but moved to Maine when he was still quite young. He attended Hebron Academy in Maine for a while and then was graduated from Cushing Academy in Massachusetts.

Merrill has always been interested in boxing, and he has liked to watch TV fights! While he was at Cushing he and eight other interested fellows got together and formed a small boxing club.

After Cushing, Al began to fight as an amateur and compiled a record of twenty-one straight wins. This is an impressive record for anyone to hold. Al was fighting in the light-heavy-weight class and wearing the six and eight ounce gloves in contrast to the fourteen ounce pillows that the potential boxers at Bryant will be wearing.

The main hobby of this quiet, crew-cut young man is music. Since coming to Bryant, he has joined Mr. Handy's Stardusters and the Collegiates as a drummer. He plays the piano by ear as he can not read music.

While at Cushing, Al had his own dance band. He also participated in football, hockey, and weight-lifting.

The desire to become a professional boxer has never been too predominant in Al's mind. He will, however, be a part of the Bryant boxing team. Mr. Russillo plans to use him as an assistant and a second for the newcomers to the pugilistic world.

P. C. Blanked 18-0; Bryant's Second Win

The Providence College Friars, their hearts aching for revenge (for the 20-0 shellacking still only two weeks old), invited the Bryant College Flag football team over to the PC campus for a re-match last Sunday afternoon.

The only difference between this contest and the one two weeks ago was that Bryant missed the two out of three extra points that they made good on the first game.

The tilt started off as an even affair with the lines evenly matched. Then in the middle of the first period, Bryant started a march that moved them to the PC thirty yard line. From there John Pirich faded back to pass and dropped the pigskin into the open arms of big Mike Sattmary who romped over untouched for the initial score of the game.

Late in the second quarter Bryant struck paydirt again. This time it was Pipich carrying the ball on a power play around the end from the single wing formation for the TD.

After the half, the tempo of play seemed to slow down. Then following a time out, Manny Pimental lofted a pass downfield to little Joe Neri who had stood along the sidelines for the entire time out. It was a perfectly executed sleeper play that caught the entire Friar squad napping.

The ball see-sawed up and down the field for the remainder of the game; and when the gun sounded, it was Bryant 18, PC 0.

From Where I Sit

By JIM SHEEDY

Your reporter was one of the officials at the Bryant football game at the Provide

About three hundred shivering fans watched the action, and a fair percentage of them were from Bryant. The boys from BC gave the game all they had, and the school can be proud of the way they handled themselves. Little Joe Neri, by far the smallest man on the field, was the rage of the PC fans as he dazzled them with some fine running.

After the game, over coffee, a few of the boys from PC were heard to say that this inter-school football game should become an annual affair. This seems to be an excellent idea.

This corner can see no reason why the schools don't give it their blessing and be awarded the winner each year. The last two games have really cemented relations between the two schools, and an annual game would benefit both colleges.

It would seem that the kiss of death still belongs to yours truly. After we picked the Browns and the Celts, they both have found it pretty tough sledding. Guess we should have left well-enough alone.

The prospects for the now open basketball season at Bryant are bright. The teams seem to be more evenly matched and much more balanced than last year.

A bell is to ring
but without the clapper, you'd miss the whole idea of a bell

A cigarette is to smoke but without flavor—you miss the whole idea of smoking

When it comes to flavor

It's what's up front that counts

Screen Scribblings

By Walt Bucko

On the night of April 7, 1949, the Majestic Theatre in New York City was the scene of the opening of "South Pacific." The musical play was acclaimed a success by the open 1950, it was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for 1949-1950. The original cast included Mary Martin, Ezio Pinza, Juanita Hall, and Myron McCormick. The musical thrilled the Broadway theatregoers until January 16, 1954, when it closed after playing 1,925 performances at the same theatre. "South Pacific" is the fifth longest running play ever produced on Broadway, exceeded only by such shows as "Oklahoma!" "Abie's Irish Rose," "Tobacco Road," and "Life With Father."

Based on "Tales of the South Pacific" by James Michener, the play has been made into a movie; and it is now ready to enchant the moviegoers who appreciate seeing a picture of superior qualities. The film employs the memorable tunes of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein 2nd, the excellent direction of Joshua Logan, and the splendor of the South Pacific islands. The large Todd-AO movie screen, stereophonic sound, and brilliant technicolor add to the excitement of this motion picture. To emphasize certain scenes, songs, or situations, a colored filter is used to add a background of one solid color. This process is good except that at times it tends to become too blurry. The film version is 2 hours and 51 minutes in length, presented in two parts with an intermission in between.

The stars of the picture are Rossano Brazzi, Mitzi Gaynor, John Kerr, Ray Walston, Juanita Hall, and France Nuyen. Juanita Hall is the only star that appeared in the original Broadway version and recreates the role of Bloody Mary. Rossano Brazzi and Mitzi Gaynor are excellent in the roles of Emile de Becque and Ensign Nellie Forbush. Ray Walston adds wit and humor to this dramatic musical. The supporting cast is also an important factor of this motion picture.

Campus Capers

By Roni Graveson

Hi There!

All set to go home for a nice big turkey dinner? Remember, don't start your vacation earlier or extend it longer for the double cuts will give you indigestion.

To start you off on the right foot, the Newman Club is sponsoring a square dance Tuesday night in the Gym. This dance should be a lot of fun, especially when you discover that the city slicker is really an easy-going hill-billy at heart.

At KT's Turkey Trot, the candidates for Sno' Queen will be presented. The grapevine has been whispering that perhaps we have a future Miss America capering on campus.

We'll get a final look at them all at the Sno' Queen dance which will be held, on December 6.

Believe it or not, plans are already being made by the Masquers and Glee Club for a Christmas program. I guess old St. Nick will be here before we know it.

A special word for all dorm students—all constructive suggestions for improvement of the Student Union will be appreciated. Look around soon for the rules that will govern a proposed contest concerning the best Christmas decorative idea for the Student Union presented by a dorm student.

Cheer up, you commuters. You can enjoy all this without even lifting your little finger—all play and no work.

I see the poor little seniors running around with raffle tickets flowing out of their pockets. I guess they need the money to graduate; so how about helping them out. We'll all be seniors—sooner or later—and will probably be doing the same thing.

I've been seeing a tremendously large number of sleepy time dorm girls carrying large bags under their eyes. I wonder what little campus caper is disturbing their sleep? Must be realistic nightmares.

Before I close, I want to wish everyone a happy and relaxing Thanksgiving. Let's not forget the real meaning of Thanksgiving. Each person in his own way should thank the Lord above for all his riches, whether tangible or intangible.

Be good and drive safely, even if a "little Nash Rambler" pulls along side your great big Caddy.

Lindy's Scene of Kappa Tau, Alpha Phi Kappa Baquet

By Jeanne Martin

On November 1 an alumni banquet was held by the brothers of Kappa Tau and the sisters of Alpha Phi Kappa at Lindy's Restaurant in Cranston.

were made by Tony Silva and Jean Billie, the alumni secretaries of the fraternity and sorority.

Old acquaintances were renewed, and much reminiscing took place while the group enjoyed a delicious dinner and an evening of dancing.

Perhaps the reason there is no fool like an old fool is because that, too, takes practice.—Vesta M. Kelly

Sigma Iota Chi Hayride Success

By Gail Theinert

The sisters of Sigma Iota Chi wish to thank all who made their Halloween Hayride and Dance a success and extend appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes for being chaperones. Everyone had a hay-larious time.

A great deal of hard work is being done by the sisters in working for the community service trophy. Much hard work has to be attributed to chairman, Maureen Sullivan.

At this time the sisters extend congratulations to their sister Grace Pettinnicchi. Grace has held the office of secretary of Sigma Iota Chi and now is publicity chairman. She is an eager participant in all sorority sports, and at the present time, she is a member of the bowling team. Many thanks go to Grace for the hard work she has done for the sorority.

Del Santo Presides At B.I.B.'s Smoker

By Dick Biele

Beta Iota Beta's Smoker went off like clockwork last Thursday night as the prospective pledges met the brothers, sisters, and faculty advisors.

After a brief orientation speech by President Thomas Del Santo, two advisors, Mr. Bates and Mr. Smith, spoke warmly of their long association with the fraternity. Afterward, the chairs were cleared to make way for S.I.B.'s prospective sisters. Dancing followed with music furnished by the Collegiates.

B.I.B.'s Bowling Team came bouncing back after a defeat at the hands of Phi Sig. B.I.B. soundly trounced Beta Sig by sweeping all three games. This win of four points definitely put the fraternity on top, and the team feels it will give a repeat performance against Alpha Theta this week.

This Saturday students will be able to get their first glimpse of B.I.B.'s Sno' Queen candidate at the dance.

All prospective brothers will have a week to rest and build up their constitutions in preparation for Help Week. They should not worry, since all pledges go through the same thing and have a ball. It's just another little thing that really brings through the fraternal feeling.

Harriet Hall See e Of Sorority Tea

By Janet Cote

Sigma Lambda Theta's tea was held in Harriet Hall on November 18. Coffee and doughnuts were served to the guests. The afternoon was spent making new friends and meeting interested pledges. Interviews are now being conducted and bids will go out on November 24.

A winter weekend is on the coming-events list for the Sisters. Although plans have not been completed, everyone is really excited over the idea of a weekend of relaxation in the snow-covered mountains of New Hampshire or Vermont.

KDK's Aims Told at Smoker

By B. J. Duquette

Green pennants with the letters, KDK, were the unique favors given to the prospective pledges of Kappa Delta Kappa at the smoker held on November 13 in the Barn. A large turnout listened attentively as the President, Lois Kaufman, explained the sorority's aims. After the speeches, songs, and chatter, the girls joined Tau Epsilon in the gym for refreshments.

A cook-out was planned for November 19 to be held behind the Ad Building. Between the hot dogs and cokes there was plenty of opportunity for the prospective pledges and sisters to become better acquainted.

The sisters of KDK say a special "thanks" to their brothers for the lovely corsages given to the sisters for the smoker.

Dorm Council Dinner-Dance Set for Monday

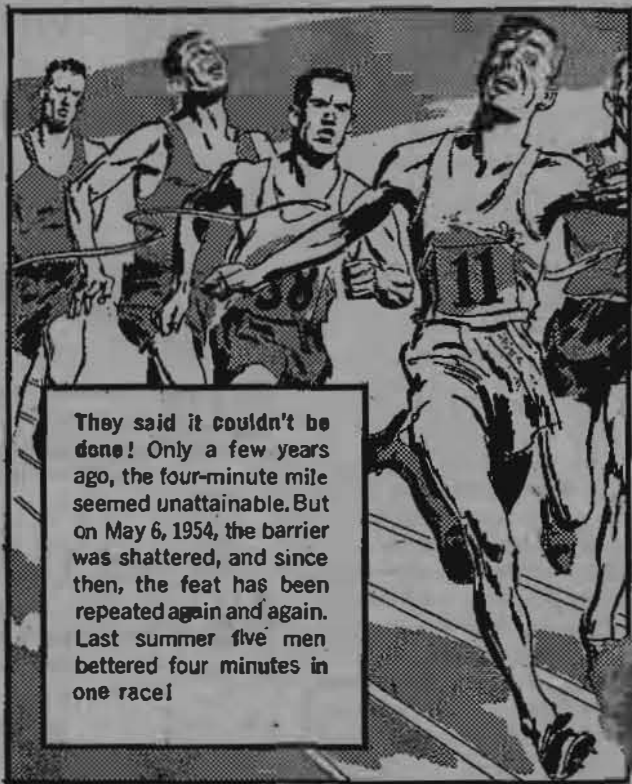

By Janet Cote

At the meeting of the Dormitory Council on November 12, many ideas were discussed and planned. The annual Thanksgiving banquet for the dormitory residents is being planned for Monday, November 24. After the buffet dinner, there will be dancing to the music of the Stardusters.

The Henry L. Jacobs Library will now be opened weekday evenings and possibly Saturday mornings. The specific times have not yet been set. Any suggestions or ideas for the development of interest in the Student Union will be greatly appreciated.
