EDITORIAL POLICY: Bryant Literary Review is an international magazine of poetry and fiction published annually in May.

Since our first issue in 2000, we have actively sought to expand our audience. We expect readers of the Bryant Literary Review to be sophisticated, educated, and familiar with the conventions of contemporary literature. We see our purpose to be the cultivation of an active and growing connection between our community and the larger literary culture. The BLR provides a respected venue for creative writing of every kind from around the world. Our only standard is quality.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: Published annually by the Bryant Literary Review. Send no more than three to five poems, with name and address on each page. Fiction should be no longer than 5000 words (approximately). We do not accept previously published work. All manuscripts must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope; manuscripts will be returned only upon request with sufficient postage. Reading period is September 1 to December 31. Payment is in contributor's copies. Copyright reverts to author upon publication.
