

1995 Graduate to Serve on Board of Trustees

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

A Bryant senior will soon be a member of the Board of Trustees. A unanimous vote by the Student Senate approved a Board of Trustees proposal to include an alumni from the class of 1995 on the Board of Trustees. The alumni will assume all the legal and fiduciary responsibilities of a full trustee for three years beginning August 1, 1995.

"This proposal is truly unique," says Trustee Liaison Officer Priscilla Angelo, "because no other college has been discovered with a similar program."

According to Angelo, the recent graduate will be able to provide a fresh perspective to the Board of Trustees because he or she recently left the curriculum and campus life.

"This is a very exciting opportunity for Bryant because it provides recent student input to the Board of Trustees," commented

According to the Board of Trustee's proposal, the addition of a recent graduate is part of an increased effort to expand the number of alumni serving as members of the College's councils, including the Board of Trustees. The increase in alumni trustees has been substantial, moving from representation of 22 percent of the Board in 1990 to 41 percent by the beginning of the next academic year. In its' proposal, the Board of Trustees stressed the importance of adding a recent graduate to the Board because this alumni/ae can provide the most timely information on the student's experiences at the College. Student Senate President Rob Fontanella also noted an alumni serving on the board provides students with more of a direct link and bridges the gap between students and the Board of Trustees.

"This is monumental in the Trustee world, as well as a stepping stone for higher education," said Fontanella.

Fontanella, along with fellow Senate Trustee Task Force members Sean Connolly, Joshua Hansel and Eric Bertrand '94 initiated the proposal in January and presented it to the Board of Trustees for review.

The Task Force members collected statistical data on other colleges and universities similar in size, geographic location and competitive business program. They looked at what kind of representation students had on college council and how students were chosen for service. According to Fontanella, the time was right for the proposal. "The Board of Trustees has been becoming more accepting of input, opinion and contact from students. The proposal was a natural milestone to take."

The search for an alumni/ae trustee will begin in February with requests for nominations from the Bryant Community. All graduate and undergraduate students from the class of 1995 are eligible. Candidates must be in good academic and disciplinary standing, have demonstrated leadership skills and achievements as well as a commitment to community service and Bryant itself.

The nomination process will begin in February of each year when the Board of Trustees will invite nominations of senior students. Self-nominations as well as peer nominations are welcomed.

The nominee must prepare a written statement describing their Bryant experience and why they wish to serve as a trustee.

The first recent alum will be elected at the May 1995 meeting of the Board of Trustees for a maximum one three-year term beginning August 1, 1995.

Trustees selected serve for three years, but may be considered for additional trustee service in the future. A minimum of one year must elapse before they can be eligible for reconsideration by the Nominating Committee. If re-elected, the alumni may serve for a maximum of two additional terms or six years.

The Board of Trustees wants to ensure the success of the program, said Angelo, and plans to support the alumni in any way possible. For example, they plan on encouraging employers of the alumni, who may be reluctant to let their new employee leave work, to encourage Board of Trustees duties and activities.

Remembering John DeShaw

President William E. Trueheart embraces John DeShaw Sr., father of the late John DeShaw, at yesterday's dedication of a park bench in his sons memory. The bench faces the pond, and is near the Archway. DeShaw, a star high school hockey player from Framingham, Massachusetts, was a member of the Bryant hockey team, and a gifted musician. DeShaw died last March as a result of an accidental fall in the Hall 15 stairwell.

The Best of The Best

For the fifth consecutive year, Bryant College has been named one of the top three business specialty schools in the country in the annual ranking of America's best colleges by U.S. New & World Report. These rankings which are listed below, were published in the September 26 edition.

"We are delighted to be recognized for the fifth consecutive year as one of the nation's best educational institutions," said President William E. Trueheart. "It is deeply gratifying to know that our peers hold Bryant's academic programs in such high esteem. That is the finest affirmation of our commitment to excellence."

Community Service: The Choice of a New Generation

One year ago, President Clinton signed into law a new national service program to provide hands on community-based service to "meet the nation's urgent education, public safety, human and environmental needs." Clinton signed into law this national service program with the same pen John F. Kennedy used to create the Peace Corps over thirty years ago.

Today, there is an increasing trend among college students to engage in community service. For example, Providence College recently dedicated the Feinstein Institute for Public Service as part of a five million dollar grant.

At the dedication, Alan S. Feinstein said, "Someday the heroes will not be sports figures or celebrities. Rather, they will be people who know that the only thing that matters when we come to the end ... on the road to eternity is what we have done to better the lives of our fellow men."

Here at Bryant this year's theme is Community and Public Service. The Greek community, Resident Assistants and others already engage in many reach-out community service projects. Other individuals and organizations need to consider service projects as well.

College students have a unique opportunity to serve others with their time, knowledge and energy. Why not channel this energy into projects that serve others? Service is rewarding and self-fulfilling. You get the satisfaction of helping alleviate community problems, and, if you're lucky, maybe even helping solve one or two. Also, community service gives you experience you can't get in a classroom — getting things done and working with people is a lot more challenging in the real world than it is on paper.

The Informant Coming Soon

To The Entire Bryant Community:

I am pleased to announce that the 1994-95 student directory, The Informant will be distributed to students, faculty, and staff the week of October 16. I would like to point out that the date for distribution is not irregular. Publication of this directory involves gathering each student's campus phone numbers. Due to the fact that the list of phone numbers is not made available until the first week of September, printing cannot begin until we receive all information.

I would also like to point out that all students will receive The Informant at no charge via their residence assistant. However, faculty, staff, and administrators will be required to pay $2.00 per copy. This is largely due to Bryant's lack of willingness to subsidize the publication costs as they have done for the past seven years. If any office or department has not received an Informant order form please contact Farah Semanie at the BRYCOL house @ 231-1220 between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Sincerely,

Coping With Depression

Katrina Pfannkuch
Archway Staff Writer

When most people think of depression, they envision someone slumped in a corner with worried tired eyes that just can't motivate themselves to go on after a tragic event, death or problem. However, that may not always be the case.

Bryant College will be participating in a National Depression Screening coming up on October 6 in conjunction with counseling services. It is just part of Mental Awareness Week that was developed by Harvard psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Jacobs. The intention is to raise awareness of depression as an inherited disease and not something that an individual can control.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Bryant Center, students will be able to have a private ten minute screening in a secluded location that includes an anonymous written screening test later reviewed with a professional to help detect any tendencies in a family history for depression or depression related diseases. Videos, information tables, speakers and off campus professionals will also be involved in the screening.

This is the first time anything of this nature has been offered at Bryant, and the school was contacted by an outside organization to participate.

"This event is to make individuals more aware of this second form of depression," commented Director of Counseling Services Bill Phillips. "Some people don't get help because they see it as a personal weakness, but this inherited disease should be treated like any other medical problem."

Boulet Inducted into URI Athletic Hall of Fame

Katrina Pfannkuch
Archway Staff Writer

Most students at Bryant know Professor Archie Boulet as their easy going Nutrition teacher or the wise cracking coach of the golf team. But believe it or not, he had a pretty exciting life before coming to Bryant.

Exciting enough in fact to be inducted into the URI Athletic Hall of Fame for football and golf. Boulet was the only one of his 1959 graduating class to receive this honor and join the 200 already existing members.

Boulet received a letter from the President of URI informing him of this great honor. "My first reaction was, 'Do I deserve this?'" claimed Boulet.

During his college years, Boulet was on both varsity football and golf, serving as the captain of the golf team his senior year. The banquet for his induction will be held on October 27 and he will again be recognized during half time at the URI football game the following day.

Boulet may not continue with his football activities, but enjoys coaching the golf team as well as playing the sport often.

DPS Offers Personal Safety Tips

Ginnie Bowry
Department of Public Safety

DPS and Bryant's Student Campus Watch Organization "Students-For-A-Safer-Campus" (SSC) are sure every single student would like their campus to be totally safe and free of crime. You can help promote and maintain the safest possible campus environment by doing the following:

- Stay alert and tuned in to your surroundings.
- Use the DPS Escort Service which is available 24 hours a day to anyone upon request (Call 232-6001).
- Keep your car locked at all times.
- Avoid flashing cash or valuables.
- Have your key in hand as you approach your car or residence hall.
- Don't prop open residence hall doors.
- While taking a study break, take your stuff with you.
- Don't leave purses, wallets, keys, backpacks, etc., unattended in Rotunda, library, dining halls. Items of this nature have been reported stolen in recent weeks.

- If you spot a crime threat or need help, call the DPS Emergency number 232-6001.

- Join SSC - It's a great way to fill that empty spot in your resume while helping to enhance the quality of life for yourself and fellow students. Contact Ginnie Bowry, SSC Advisor (232-5204) if you're interested in joining. Active members receive annual awards, attend free seminars and dinner meetings on and off campus.

- Take advantage of the opportunity to meet with the Director of Public Safety, George Coronado, every Wednesday, 12:00 to 1:00 p.m., in the Bryant Center, Conference Room 1 to discuss any issues of concern.

- Take advantage of the opportunity to obtain safety/crime prevention information or view personal safety films for men and women by contacting Ginnie Bowry, DPS Crime Prevention Specialist.

The Public Safety Beat is sponsored in part by DPS and Students-For-A-Safer Campus in order to comply with the Federal Students-Right-To-Know and Campus-Security-Act.

One Card Update

William Baker
Director of Purchasing

Monday, September 26, the College received the vinyl jackets we intended to use in the production of the One Card. When producing the new card, we noticed it tends to bend in the middle. Thus, we can not activate the vending stripe. Therefore, there will be a delay in issuing the new photo IDs.

I have been in contact with the supplier in an attempt to resolve the problem and will notify the community as soon as the problem is resolved.

Larceny

September 19, 1994 - September 20, 1994 - Between the dates mentioned various articles were removed from the Rotunda area. The target of these larcenies were student's books and book bags. Anyone with any information about the disappearing articles is asked to call the Department of Public Safety at 232-6001.

Selling of Illegal Shirts/Larceny

September 20, 1994 - DPS officers were dispatched to a residence hall to take a report of a possible larceny from a student's room. Upon further investigation the student stated that persons that had been in the room trying to sell illegal T-Shirts had performed the larceny. DPS officers were able to apprehend 3 subjects as they were headed to their vehicle.

The Smithfield Police were responding to handle another complaint about another possible larceny. The second victim claimed that a wallet had been taken by the same individuals. Smithfield Police seized the illegal shirts and arrested the 3 individuals on possible larceny and trespass charges. They were charged with trespassing and solicitation without a license and are banned from entering campus.

Disorderly Conduct/ Vehicle Tow

September 23, 1994 - ADPS officer was on foot patrol near the Hall 1 circle, where he observed students removing alcohol from the trunk. As the officer approached the vehicle he could see a number of cases remained in the trunk. The student then closed the trunk and refused to open it at the request of the DPS officer. The student proceeded to get back into the vehicle and drive away, while being ordered to stop by the officer. Later that evening DPS officers detained the subject at the ECS where Smithfield Police administered a DUI test. The student failed the test and was escorted to his room. Dave's Towing removed the vehicle from campus.

Vandalism

September 23, 1994 - September 26, 1994 - Between the dates mentioned the trailer owned by Mare Studios that was parked in the new townhouse parking lot was vandalized. Subjects peeled away a piece of siding, bent the license plate, and let the air out of the tires on trailer. Anyone with any information is asked to call the Department of Public Safety.

Alcohol Violations/Confiscation

September 19, 1994 - September 26, 1994 - During the last week there were many alcohol violations. In order to alleviate this problem please refer to the student handbook where the policies of Bryant College as well as the State of Rhode Island are put forth in detail.

DPS encourages the use of their escort service which is available 24 hours a day to anyone upon request. Call 232-6001.

The Director of Public Safety, George Coronado, is available every Wednesday, 12:00 to 1:00 p.m., in the Bryant Center Conference Room #1 to discuss any issue with students.

Headed in a Great "Direction"

For any student who complained that there was nothing to do last Friday night should have attended this semester's first night of "Directions". "Directions", the campus dance club, got off to a roaring start with the melodic music being provided by WJMF rap director DeJongh Wells.

A continuous flow of students through the door danced throughout the night. To quench the thirst of the tenacious dancers, mocktails were served by members of the Alcohol Peer Educators group. The mixers for the mocktails were generously donated by the Bryant Center. Friday's festivities in memory of Omar Shareef, were sponsored by the Multicultural Student Union, Athletics and BACCHUS. The donations collected at the door went to the Omar Shareef scholarship fund. A special thank you to everyone who donated.

If your organization would like to sponsor the "Directions" door, please contact Robert Guzas at 232-4100.

Remember to put "Directions" in your weekend plans if you are looking for a place to dance or even if you are looking for a comfortable atmosphere just to have some fun.

"Directions" is open from 9 p.m. to midnight, or maybe even longer if the dancing just won't stop.

There will be a special Homecoming night of "Directions" on September 30. So watch the fireworks display then head in a great "Direction."

First Student Leadership Retreat to be Held

Timothy P. Lloyd
Assistant Director of Student Activities

Leadership. What is it? Can one buy it at the Scoop? Nope!

Only about 10% of Bryant students take up roles each year as club Presidents, Vice Presidents, Treasurers, Secretaries, and other roles.

If there were an ad in a newspaper seeking these students, it might read, "Wanted! Students with a lot of ambition, stamina and self initiative to serve their fellow students and community. Tremendous benefits. On the job training. No experience necessary."

Training for organizations will be expanded this year. The expansion will include the First Annual Student Leadership Retreat. The executive boards of every student club and organization, along with their advisors, have been invited to participate. This retreat will include Brunch with Liz Covino, Dean of Student Life at Johnson & Wales University, as the keynote speaker.

The brunch will be followed by an array of education sessions for all officers. Topics will range from 'Recruitment and Retention Strategies of New Members', 'Policies & Procedures', 'Publicity and Promotion', 'Programming from A to Z', 'Decoding Robert's Rules of Order', and much more.

Deb Pasquarella, Director of Student Activities, believes this will inspire active student leaders to excel. "This new program, scheduled for Sunday October 2, will offer students in leadership positions the nuts and bolts to excel in their current positions," says Pasquarella.

Not all students accept the call to serve. Only a handful of students step out above any other to run activities, be role models, and expand their minds outside of the classroom. We call them student leaders.

A Walk In the Orchard

During this time of year, I enjoy a brisk walk in an apple orchard, experiencing the crisp coolness of the air, bright clear blue skies and apple trees hanging low with ripe fruit.

Sometimes I reach out my hand to gather a beautiful, unblemished apple, but when I touch it I find that a worm has gotten inside and the apple is rotten to the core. A big disappointment! I throw it away.

I try once more, risking that it will happen again, but I am hopeful that the next opportunity will bear better fruit. And so it does, and I savor each delicious bite on my walk in the apple orchard.

Sometimes our relationships with others can be compared to my apple story. In our lives we

Chaplain's Corner

Reverend Phillip Devens Protestant Chaplain

think that we have found the best person by admiring how "cool" a person looks, but in our conversations we realize how shallow their personalities can be. A big disappointment! So, are we going to try again, knowing that we risk another rotten relationship, or nurture the possibility of finding someone who is attractive to us?

In our relationship with God, we realize that God created the orchard, including the worm and the nurturing sun. We have many choices, and we can make decisions that will affect our lives. We can only hope that our decisions are based on clear values and a faith that allows us to make mistakes.

So, be safe, take care and God bless!

Summer Orientation 1995 Planning Begins

Timothy P. Lloyd
Assistant Director of Student Activities

Wanted: A few good women and men to serve as the Orientation Leaders for the Summer of 1995.

No - it's no joke. The planning for the 1995 Summer Orientation program is under way. The first step in the planning process is the selection of the stellar Bryant students to serve as the 1995 Orientation Leaders.

Applications will be available from October 3 through the 21. Interested students can pick up applications in the Office of Student Activities or at the Information Desk in the Bryant Center. Applications should be turned into the Office of Student Activities by Monday October 24.

Students who submit applications will be only 3 interviews away from joining the 1995 Orientation Staff. If selected, applicants will be invited to participate in the Round 1 interview process. Potential staff members will be evaluated on how well they are able to work together in a series of group activities. Successful candidates will move onto the Round 2 Interview, where they will be evaluated even further on their teamwork abilities. The final interview, for those selected, will be on an individual basis so the selection committee can get to know each candidate on a more personal level.

"Those students selected can expect to log in about of 100 hours of training," says Tim Lloyd, Assistant Director of Student Activities. Lloyd oversees the training, of the Orientation Staff, which will begin in February and last until May. Lloyd added, "The experience of being an Orientation Leader is one that many students have said they would not trade for anything."

What is the Casual Cafe?

Stephanie Ruark
Student Activities Intern

Are you already tired of the same old thing on the weekends? Do you want to find somewhere on campus to talk? You need to look no farther.

This fall, the Office of Student Activities has established a new venture: "The Casual Cafe." Every Friday and Saturday night the Heritage Room is transformed into a quiet coffeehouse. There are no steep cover charges or over-priced drinks...and you can actually hear what you are saying! Wait...there's more. The coffeehouse has free International coffees, pastries, board games, and light entertainment. Yes, that's right - it is all free.

Deb Pasquarella, Director of Student Activities explains, "In planning for the Fall semester, we looked at what types of alternative programs we could provide for students who may be staying on campus during the weekends. Brainstorming with my student intern, Stephanie Ruark, we came up with the concept of opening up the Heritage Room for all students to be able to hang out, have a cup of coffee, and play a fun board game or two with friends."

The Cafe will be having light entertainment once a month. The Casual Cafe hours are 8 - 12 p.m. every Friday and Saturday night.

Careers In Marketing

Curious about a career in Marketing? If so, plan to hear three alumni talk about their Marketing careers on Monday, October 3 at 3:30 p.m. in the Bryant Center Room 2B.

Speakers will be: Michelle Farabaugh '92, Circulation Manager, State Line Track; Colleen Sjogren '92, Sales Person, Marion Merrel Dow, Inc. and Shannon Poodiak '92, Senior Merchandise Manager, T.J. Maxx.

Each graduate will discuss job responsibilities, necessary skills that their job requires, what to do now to prepare for a career in Marketing and tips on how to launch a successful job search in a challenging job market.

This is an excellent opportunity for all students who are interested in marketing careers to explore some excellent career options.

Also, the Career Library at would be of interest to Marketing majors who are investigating career options. All books may be signed out overnight or over the weekend.

Here are a few suggestions: 100 Best Companies to Sell For (Harkavy), Marketing and Sales Career Directory (Morgen), The 100 Best Companies to Work for in America (Lencner/Moskowitz), and America's Fastest Growing Employers (Smith).

Mark your calendar today - Monday, October 3!

All That's Gold Need Bryant Is Damaged Goods Not Glitter

Karen Davis reported in Monday's Providence Journal (September 26 issue) that water tests at Smithfield's sewage treatment facility revealed cyanide levels up to 100 times greater than environmentally safe levels and hundreds of dead fish in the Woonasquatucket river confirmed the chemical tests.

Although the culprit is unknown, cyanide waste is said to be typical of jewelry or metal plating industries. During my own visit to that same sewage treatment plant last fall, I heard about potential problems with cyanide from the local jewelry industry. It got me thinking...what does the jewelry industry do with cyanide?

One of the very desirable properties of gold is that it is extremely chemically stable; it doesn't form salts and it doesn't rust (or, as we say in SCI 265, it doesn't form oxides!) So solid gold or gold-plated jewelry can remain beautiful for years despite being exposed to the oxygen and moisture that ruin anything made with iron (like my Fiat's body panels). Gold's chemical stability poses a real problem to the manufacturer-how to purify gold from crude ore and how to electroplate with it? The solution is cyanide!

Cyanide ions form soluble charged complexes with gold atoms. In simpler terms, cyanide enables gold to dissolve in water. To purify gold from crude ores, manufacturers wash finely powdered rock with cyanide then collect the gold from the wash solution. Gold can also be plated from solution using these gold-cyanide complexes. In either case, gold is the product and cyanide, copper, nickel, and zinc are waste products. Regulations require that the waste cyanide isn't dumped down the drain, but apparently this has happened earlier in September.

Cyanide blocks an organism's ability to use oxygen (respiration) by destroying enzymes called cytochromes that are involved in the conversion of glucose and oxygen to carbon dioxide, water, and energy. Because cyanide cuts off the supply of oxygen to cells, death is quick to any organism that ingests it.

Fortunately, in this case cyanide has been found in our waste water, not our drinking water, so no humans are thought to be at risk. Not so lucky for the critters trying to get by in the Woonasquatucket.

I can remember speaking to her so vividly it seems as if it has been days rather than years since we spoke last. It was getting towards the end of my junior year at good old Sharon High, and the annual college fair was being held in our cafeteria. There I sat, enraptured by the wonderful things she told me about this place. Bryant was everything I could possibly want in a college. Great education, great reputation, high standards of academic excellence, fun, fun, fun, and small class sizes. What more could I ask for?

All of us had a notion of what we were looking for as we conversed with these eager to please recruiters, and as I spoke to her, I realized her description of this school fit my ideas. I wanted a good education and the opportunity for fun and growth as a person. I was really impressed by the student to faculty ratio, and her guarantee that the classes would remain relatively small. That was very important to me, as I believe it to be essential for one to have a good relationship with their professors. To me, college is not supposed to be like high school. I enjoyed getting to personally know who is teaching me. Which brings me to my point- You administrators owe me big time.

To explain what I mean, let me tell you a little about my past. I got my first job when I was sixteen, and since then I have always worked at some aspect in the retail industry. One of the first things you learn is that the customer is always right. Another thing you learn is that when a customer makes a purchase, they do so after reading the package and concluding that it is something they need and can use. If the customer goes home and finds the product is not what the packaging described, they are always able to return it, no questions asked. That's good business, and this being a business school, I feel it should be operating upon the same principles.

So why am I complaining? Well, have any of you returning sophomores, juniors, or seniors noticed the size of the classes? The amount of people allowed in each course seems to have grown a bit. From what I have been told, Bryant cut back at the very least thirty or more classes from last semester. Therefore, each class must take in more students. Where there was once fifteen to twenty students per class, there are now twenty to thirty. This hurts all of us. With class sizes this large we are not allowed the one on one contact with our professors during classtime or office hours that was so prevalent in the past.

It is for this reason I feel I have been duped by Bryant. When they came to my high school, they offered what looked to be an attractive product. Once the wrapper came off, I found the contents were not what the package said they would be. I want my money back, and I figure Bryant owes me roughly $40,000 for the past two years' tuition. We'll see if they pay me. If they do, I'll let you know, and then I expect you should try to get yours. Of course, I'm sure they'll see my way. It's only good business, and after all, isn't that what we're here for?

Bryant's Inaugural Homecoming This Weekend

Dave Chappelle

by Kevin Monahan

This weekend SPB and Athletics are sponsoring Homecoming 1994! The weekend kicks off on Friday with Gladiator Jousting from 12 p.m. until 3 p.m. on the Bryant Center Patio. Friday night at 9 p.m. we will be setting off a wide array of fireworks behind the Unistructure. Students, faculty, and faculty's children should not miss this first time spectacular event!

Saturday's festivities begin at 9 a.m. with the Alumni Golf and Tennis Clinics. At 11 a.m. there will be Alumni Softball, and Alumni Baseball. At 12 p.m. men's and women's soccer will play Springfield at 1 p.m. on the at 9 p.m.

Dave Chappelle is the newest up and coming comedians. He was in "Robin Hood: Men in Tights" and could be seen regularly on MTV's "Half Hour Comedy Hour" and A & E's "Caroline's Comedy Hour". He is now in the process of athletic fields. The last athletic event of the day will be men's rugby vs. Brandeis at 2 p.m.

On Saturday we have a special event. Comedians Dave Chappelle and Red Johnny & the Round Guy will be performing in Salmanson Dining Hall filming "Die Hard 3."

Red Johnny & the Round Guy's list of credits are equally impressive. They have starred on MTV's "Half-Hour Comedy Hour", A&E's "Caroline's Comedy Hour", MTV's "Comikaze", Edinburg International Festival, WWOR's "Spotlight Cafe", and FOX's "Uptown Comedy Club." There will be an admission fee of $3.

Homecoming weekend winds down with the showing of "With Honors" in Janikies Auditorium on Sunday at 3:15 p.m., 6:30 p.m., and 9:15 p.m. Don't forget to bring your popcorn buckets.

The Student Programming Board and Athletics would like to encourage all students and faculty to attend these events and enjoy Homecoming 1994!

by Tricia LeBlanc, Wendy Hallgren, & Laura Ripepi
First of all we would like to welcome everyone back. Hope you all have enjoyed your first two weeks back at Bryant. As you've all probably heard, we lost our charter, but we are still going strong. Thanks for all the support.

We'd like to begin by thanking our new neighbors for an eventful night and interesting game of Thumper. Mike and Jay, you definitely mastered the game. Dave, don't worry we shouldn't have any more problems. We'd also like to welcome our new suite mates, Greg, Drew, and Chris.

Since we have been back, Mintz and Scuda made new friends in B-1. They learned a lot of new things. Hey Swist - Did you ever find the keys after all the moon dancing? Sparx was MIA Saturday night. While getting herself knee deep in trouble, Smithfield Police helped in the search. Watch out for those diamond rings Sparx! Congrats to Karit and Lefty on their one year anniversary.

Hey Wylde - Did you finally figure out what the 'bottom drawer' meant? Swist and Mintz - The worst part is over! We all have one question, where is Wyz?

We'd also like to thank Beta for Friday night and Delta Zeta for Saturday night. We all had fun. Imus and Hutch, we never knew how well you guys could move! Thanks to all the brothers for showing us a good time.

This week in awards: Space - Scuda, SOTW - Wylde and Sparx, and Sis - Mintz and Swist.

Quotes of the week: "I lost the keys," and "This is our song."

Well that's all for this week. Cheers!

BACCHUS

by Yoke Chung & Scott Lynch

Hello everybody! This Saturday, October 1, we will be sponsoring a car wash fund-raiser at the Hospital Trust in Apple Valley. This will take place from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The money raised will go to a local charity. Any members interested in helping out should meet outside Hall 16 at 9:30 a.m.

Cash Cards! Students interested in obtaining one of these should contact Chris at x4205. The cards cost $3 and they offer discounts at local area businesses such as Gold's Gym, Major Video, Kings Inn and McDonald's. The cards are valid until August 31, 1995.

Attention R.A.'s! If you are in need of programming ideas, try Alcohol Jeopardy. To get more information, contact Sean at x4603.

In closing, we would like to thank all those who showed up for our first meeting. We appreciate your support. As a reminder, our next meeting is on Tuesday, October 4, at 7 p.m. in Room 1 in the Bryant Center.

Bryant Karate Club

by Mark Towle

Pil Son! Attention all students thinking about joining the Karate Club. This is your last week to do so. Stop by the women's exercise room at 6:15 p.m. and talk to the instructor. Congratulations to all the white belts who have survived another grueling week of workouts. Keep up the good work. For those of you in the advanced class, keep pushing yourselves. We are starting to get back into the swing of things. With a little help from all the returning black belts and Sifu we should be ready for the Parents' Weekend demo in no time.

This Thursday a road trip will be taking place to see Jean Claude Van Damme's new movie "Timecop" at Showcase Cinemas in Warwick. All who are interested should be at Townhouse E-2 by 9:00 p.m., tickets will only be $5.50 and can be purchased in advance at the Info Desk in the Bryant Center.

On an very important note a Happy Birthday goes out to Sifu Ron Renuad who is celebrating his official entrance into the senior division. Well, until next time, BKKA!

BRYCOL

by Jennifer Barile

Another week has passed along with more changes. Michelle and Doug have been re-elected to their positions as employee representatives of Tupper and the Comfort, respectively. Congratulations to each of them.

The employee and alumni newsletter should be out by Oct. 7 so look in your boxes or come by the house to pick up your copy. Our faculty reception is Oct. 4 at 3 p.m. at the house. We hope to see all invited guests there.

Once again all Comfort nights are booked. We thank everyone for participating in the lottery.

The results are in from last year's March of Dimes walk-a-thon. Thanks to all your help, the team raised over $800. The team captain even placed #1 in Rhode Island and #91 in the nation. We wouldn't have been able to do it without you.

Any questions or comments call 231-1220 or Box 9.

Commuter Connection

by Brendon Boragine

Another fall semester is upon us here at Bryant College and I am reminded of the special things this fall. The beauty of the falling leaves as we skid on rainy days across the pavement. The thankfulness that there is pavement on Route 7 this year. A leisurely hike in the crisp autumn air to some far, exotic place, like my parking space.

In all seriousness, it's great to be back this year. I'd like to thank all who came to our meeting on Monday and invite anyone else to stop by the office and hang out for a few minutes. An ID at the Info desk will get you the key and our fridge is always open (figuratively).

Our upcoming events: Fri. Sept. 30, there is going to be an airbrush artist in the Bryant Center Commons. The cost is $5.00.

Next week is Commuter week. Starting Monday, and the first Monday of every month, there will be Coffee, donuts and muffins in the office from 7:30 to about 10:00, so stop by. Events for the week include caricatures, palm and tarot card readings, a rubber wear party, and more. Look for our signs in the Rotunda. We appreciate input so if you have any suggestions, stop by the office or call us at x6176.

Delta Chi

by Frank L. Milazzo

To start off we'd like to thank all the people that came up last weekend, especially Beta for the repeated visits and knocking.

Football starts this week. Our line is looking better than last year. Baloo is set with his mouthpiece in place and Killer just finds some way of getting in there. At least now we have a quarterback who isn't also the starting running back.

Baloo and F-Sharp's room seems to be the place to be because we can't get anyone to stay away. Ripper didn't break anything this week and he is still a contender in the contest with Duke and Spanky. Magoo is finally realizing the purpose of committee heads, or the lack of purpose. Why is Lefty running the meeting?

Duke learned how to lock the door and Baloo didn't have to do any emergency laundry loads. Spanky is also finding new ways to spend his free time. Thanks to J.D. for the tunes and the heart attack. I'm sure it's a nice speaker Miah, I just can't seem to hear it.

Hopefully everyone is settled in by now and realizing all Bryant has to offer. There is still an open invitation to visit D-Chi. Come up to Hall 3, second floor, and Townhouses B-8 and E-1, at any time.

Quote of the Week: "If you want to use that Eco. book go right ahead."

Tip of the Week: "If J.D. says it's cool, it's cool."

Finance Association

by Sandy Connors

Hi everyone! The first meeting of the Finance Association will be held today, Thursday, September 29, at 6:30 p.m. in Papitto Dining Room in the Bryant Center. Dues will be $10. Come to the meeting and meet the E-board and the Advisor. Also find out what we will be doing this semester. Any questions or comments can be directed to Fred at Box 1242.

HISC

by Rebecca Baker

The History and International Studies Club had a meeting this past Tuesday, September 27. It was an informational meeting, where the topic of discussion was "What do I need to know about the Study Abroad Program." Three Bryant students, who had recently studied abroad, talked about their experiences.

The students who attended were able to ask questions and receive information on how to become involved in the Study Abroad Program here at Bryant. The meeting proved to be very informative for those students interested in studying in foreign locations.

The next HISC meeting will be on Monday, October 3 at 4:00 in the Bryant Center, room #2A. At this meeting, HISC will be joined by the International Students Organization, ISO, for an ice cream social. The purpose of this meeting is for the two groups to get to know each other. All History and International Studies majors, HISC members, and ISO members are welcome to attend.

Kappa Delta Phi

bye Josh Haaland

Hey, hey, Bryant! What's Happening? Thanks Theta and Tri Sig and Burgis for stopping by. DZ, thanks for Thursday, "grab your ankles." Alumni were up this weekend, we had a good time. Now for something a little more serious, Flowbee's quote of the week: "Wow, that was juicy...like milk!?"

Dear Flowbee, Yes Bryant, you've heard his name in distinguished circles, an international phenomenon, a psychological genius, and now He's Here!, for you. Send your problems, questions, and fears to "Dear Flowbee" Box 1583.

Learning Center

by Chris Bruneau

The Learning Center offers tutoring services, special presentations, and a wide variety of resource materials.

One of the many programs also offered at the Learning Center includes the newly established Humanities workshops. If you would like to ask individual questions concerning your Humanities class or would like to discuss topics in Humanities to obtain a better grasp of concepts, then the Humanities workshops are the programs for you.

These workshops are held every week on Tuesday from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. and on Friday from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Every Tuesday, visiting guest lecturers and knowledgeable students will lead the workshop. Professor Harry Hubbard will be the primary lecturer every Friday. Come to the Learning Center and take advantage of this weekly opportunity. You will thank yourself for it, and so will your grade!

To make an appointment or for further information about other programs at the Learning Center, call 232-6746 or visit us on the third floor of Hall 6. For appointments, it is important to contact us in advance. Be a part of the Learning Center today!

Men's Rugby

by Josh Herron

Welcome back Rugby fans! This past weekend the Men's Rugby team traveled to Babson College and suffered their first loss of the season. The B side, consisting mostly of rookies, played well, despite the score.

After the game we hung around with Babson.

Nas Update... Nas Update. Unfortunately, we have no Nas update, but I can report that he has not stopped eating the food in my suite, never mind in his own. Nice dieting techniques.

We're all going to Dallas! Special thanks to Phi Sig and the Women's Rugby Team for hanging out with us over the last two weeks. My apologies to the women's team (especially the Seniors).

Vinnie, stay away from those markers Saturday morning.

The team will be hosting a few Comfort nights this semester. I'll let you know when they are as soon as I know.

Our next game is this Saturday at 2:00 p.m. against Brandeis. The team would like a big turnout to psych us up for the game.

Sorry Bob, not this week.

We would like to thank all those who have participated in Formal Rush, and a special thanks goes out to Bridget Bonginhand for her tremendous efforts to make this a successful Formal Rush.

Congratulations to the sororities and their new members. The Bid Ceremony will be today at 9:00 p.m. in the Rotunda. All are invited to attend.

It has been an interesting week in Hall 9, since we have no entertainment we have been entertaining ourselves. It all started with the town meeting and from then on it was sheer craziness. Mo just keeps going and going and going, Debbie has kept busy with the wedding, Stacey likes to keep us informed about what is going on out there, whether we want to know or not, Shannon plays with her goats, Alli keeps things rollin' while Missy delivers the food, Amy P. enlightens us with her deep thoughts (did you know that if there were no birds, the bugs would overpopulate the human race and eat us all).

Now for some of the top quotes of the week: "Cloggage!"; "Strawberry? No Chocolate"; "Why does everybody like her?"; "Blonde....."; "The whole head, tablething"; "That's saturn on..."; "Have you ever been running so fast that your feet come off the ground..."; "I don't know Mo" and finally from all the Hall 9 gals, all we have to say is "I can't be bothered"!

Phi Kappa Sigma

by Jason Madson

Hello again everyone. Here is my second Campus scene of the year. I hope everyone is in their school mode by now.

I'm proud to say that the freshman OFC football team is starting to look great. We have some great receivers, a few that can really throw the ball, and a great line. We are going to have a great team this year.

If anyone is still looking to join a team, we are the black and gold, in Hall 1 third floor, and townhouse G2. The brothers are looking good too. Everyone else better look out. So far we only have two broken toes, one broken hand, and a shaky knee.

For those who don't know, the Grateful Dead is in town for a while... yeah ha! I hope everyone looking to see a show can get a hold of a ticket. If you can't get a hold of any of our brothers this week we are probably somewhere in Boston having the time of our lives. Some of us will be there all week. I hope everyone has a great safe time.

Kuth, I apologize for your desk, it will all be okay. I would like to say hello now to a few of my friends. Hi Ross, Dan, Taz, Dan, Taz, Iggy, Jim, Iggy, and Alex! May the wild kingdom reign forever. Good luck brothers and everyone else.

Phi Kappa Tau

by Joe Greengas

Well, if you have been keeping up, this is our first Campus Scene of the year. I guess that's because the first couple of weeks were spent getting everything on track.

Attention everyone. We have moved, in case you didn't know, we are now located in the pit of Hall 1.

A great summer was had by all, and we wish Eric and Marino the best. Streci and Tim learned a lot at the Leadership convention this summer in Ohio. Among other things Streci is studying to become a bricklayer. A gathering at Targett's this summer worked out really well as everyone did what they do best. Targett worked this summer caring for bees.

In KT-LZ sports football looks promising. After only one practice the team is ready to destroy anyone who faces us.

Until next time...
Phi Kappa Tau Top Dog!

SAA

by Dawn Drukman

Hi! Hope everyone is having a good week. Thanks to everyone who attended last week's meeting even with the mix-up.

Congratulations to the following new chairpeople:

Publicity: Marty Bedard & Brian Nutt

Thanks to everyone who applied. Committee member sign-up sheets will be available at Thursday's meeting. There will also be a guest speaker at the meeting. Hannah Smith from Junior Achievement will discuss volunteer opportunities for Bryant students concerning business education programs. This meeting is open to everyone. See ya.

SAM

by Ben Jordan

Tuesday October 4, 7:00 p.m. in meeting room 2A of the Bryant Center, SAM will have it's first exciting meeting of the year. Why should you attend? There will be pizza!

There will be one of Bryant's premier speakers, Professor Jack Keigwin.

There is also an executive board position available that will be open to all. Come next Tuesday to Society for the Advancement of Management. Learn about SAM, listen to Professor Keigwin, have some pizza, and run for an E-board position. We are looking forward to meeting with you.

SPB

by Sandy Connors

Hi everyone. This weekend, September 30 - October 2, is Homecoming Weekend. On Friday, there is Gladiator Jousting from 12 noon until 3 p.m. on the Bryant Center Patio, and then we have fireworks at 9 p.m. being set off behind the Unistructure. The fireworks can be seen from almost anywhere on campus, so enjoy.

On Saturday at 9 a.m. there is Alumni Gold and Tennis Clinics. At 11 a.m. there is Alumni Softball and then at noon there is Alumni Baseball. Both the men's and women's Soccer teams will be playing Springfield at 1 p.m. out at the Athletic Fields.

Finally, on Saturday at 9 p.m. we have Comedians Dave Chappelle, and Red Johnny & the Round Guy in Salmanson Dining Hall. Dave Chappelle has been on the MTV 1/2 hour Comedy Hour, Evening at the Improv and more. The weekend ends with the movie "With Honors" on Sunday at 3:15 p.m., 6:30 p.m., and 9:15 p.m. in Janikies Auditorium. Remember to bring your popcorn buckets back to get free popcorn. Our next meeting will be at 4:30 p.m. on Monday, October 3 in Papitto Dining Room in the Bryant Center.

The Bryant Players

by Donald Widger

Hello everyone! It's been a busy couple of weeks for the Bryant Players, so let's get right to it.

Casting is complete for "Roomers," our upcoming Parents' Weekend production. The cast and crew are actively rehearsing and preparing for the three performances. Let's help support their efforts.

Also, be on the lookout for a great deal of campus involvement from the Bryant Players. Upcoming events include: Parents' Weekend, Comfort Nights, a Dress-Down Day, our fall Dessert Theater, and that's only this semester!

On a final note, I would like to formally welcome all of our new members. Their contribution will play a major role in making this year the best one ever for the Bryant Players. Until the curtain rises yet again.

Overheard: "I can feel that!"

Tau Epsilon Phi

by Frank Rizzo and Sal Rosenberg

Hello everyone. First off, I'd like to welcome everyone back, especially all the freshmen. Get ready to experience the best time of your life.

McKinney, hows your head from the chandelier? Thanks to tri-Sig for Friday's party, a good time was had by all — even the music was good. Duke has earned two, but be careful, because three strikes and you're out.

Jim got booted from 14, while Ray took a plunge for his 19th, and Kells did some house cleaning before he took his bath.

TEP football is on the prowl. TEP-B is looking strong. We're on a quest for a repeat championship. Be prepared for some good, clean, crazy fun. Keep your eyes open for our 4-on-4 beach volleyball tournament on the new court this weekend. There is a $10 entry fee per team with cash prizes and free dinner at Subways up for grabs.

Don't forget, everyone is welcome to our floor for Monday Night Football, Dorm 2, 340's.

Everybody study hard, next weekend is only a few short days away. Until then, buh, bye.

Volleyball Falters Slightly

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's volleyball team went 2-3 last week to drop their record to 8-4 overall, 2-1 in the NE-10.

"For the most part, we have been playing well," co-captain Kim Potrzebowski said.

"We still have some small patches we have to fix, and we need to blend more."

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs traveled to Bentley and were defeated in three straight. Prior to the Bentley game, the team traveled to East Stroudsburg, PA for the Pocono Classic Tournament.

In the opening rounds of the tournament, the team lost to Mercyhurst in four games and East Stroudsburg in five.

The team finally broke through and defeated Mercy College of New York in four games.

The one high point of the tournament came when co-captain Maria Bras was named for to the All-Tournament Team. Bras collected 79 kills (4.9 per game) and had a kill percentage of .318.

Bryant had one scary moment in the tournament when starting setter Jen Carvalho went down with an ankle injury, and wound up on crutches. Fortunately for the team, Carvalho returned to action Tuesday against Bentley.

"We have a few new people on the court, and we are still trying to get used to playing with each other," Potrzebowski said. "Once we accomplish that, we will surprise a few teams."

The team has a few players amongst the leaders in the NE-10. Bras is fourth in aces per game with .6 and first in kills per game with 4.6. Meribah Dean is fifth in kills per game with 3.20 and in kill percentage with .338.

Carvalho is fourth in the conference in assists per game with 9.1.

The team itself is also at the top in a few categories. With 45 games played, they are first in kills with 579 (12.9 pg); and third in aces with 102 (2.3 pg), digs with 678 (14 pg), assists with 461 (10.2 pg), and kill percentage with .232.

Currently, the team is looking down the road at events upcoming.

"We should come together and find ourselves at the top when we need to be there," Potrzebowski. "We are always looked upon as an underdog, and that should help us surprise a few teams at the end of the season."

"Basically, we are an egg getting ready to hatch, at the end of the season we will be at the top," Potrzebowski.

The Bulldogs will be at the Springfield Invitational this Saturday, they will then return to Springfield on Tuesday.

Women's Soccer Starts Slow

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's soccer team started their season slow, and is still looking for their first win of the season. Currently the team is 0-5 overall and 0-2 in the NE-10.

On Monday, the Bulldogs traveled to New Haven and came up on the short end of a 6-1 loss. The lone goal came from Michelle Osborne assisted by Melissa Roberts.

Prior to that game, the team lost to Bentley 1-0 on Saturday and 4-0 to Sacred Heart on last Tuesday.

Despite the scores, has the team is playing well and still as a bright outlook on the season.

"We have much more talent than the scores and record are showing," Tarra Kiamos said. "We have lost a couple of close games in over time, or just by giving up a goal late in the game. It has been pretty rough"

Leading the Bulldogs in scoring is Lisa Fink who collected a goal, three assists, and 11 shots on goal; Roberts is next with a goal and two assists; and Osborne, and Kiamos with a goal a piece.

In the net, Bryant is lead by Stacey Farber who collected 23 saves in her first five games. Farber has only allowed 11 goals in 345 minutes of play, for a GAA of 2.87.

The bulk of the NE-10 schedule still lies ahead for the Bulldogs, and they are still looking to make a run at the playoffs.

"We started slow, but we are starting to come together," Kiamos said. "In the past, the team has not had a great record, and the team really had not continuity. This year we are working more as team and our potential and talent is better."

They will play Babson today at 3:30, they will then be home for the homecoming celebration on Saturday against Springfield at 1:00. On Tuesday of next week, the team will travel to New Hampshire College for a non-conference game at 3:30.

Why Did We Change Our Mascot?

Last semester, Athletic Director Dr. Linda Hackett launched a program to have our school nickname/mascot changed. It was felt that no one related to the "Indians" our old mascot not to mention it was discriminatory to Native Americans.

The Athletic department took suggestions and narrowed the search down to ten possible alternatives for the Bryant Community to vote on. When all the ballots were cast and counted, Bulldogs was chosen as our new mascot/nickname.

"Why is he rambling on about this?" You may ask.

The reason is, some people still don't know about the change. Let me give you an example. I was keeping score at the men's soccer game against Bentley last Saturday, and I heard something which bothered me and surprised me at the same time.

After Jared Dewey scored the tying goal late in the second half, the fans started to come alive. Unfortunately, they started the tomahawk chop. This was surprising to me, because people did not do this when we were actually called the Indians. The only people who actually ever referred to our teams as Indians were either fellow sports writers and people involved with the other side of Bryant sports.

The reason I was bothered by this was because I felt I was not doing my job. A sports writer should inform the public about what is going on in their field. If the golf team wins their 12th NE-10, title the public needs to know; if the women's cross country team wins the same meet two years in a row, the public needs to know; and if a school changes their mascot/nickname the public needs to know.

It is the year of the Bulldog, and we are headed in a new direction.

On Deck

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

By changing the mascot, the athletic department hoped they could get the fans back into the program. Our athletes work hard every time they go out on the field of play. Even if they don't have the best record in the conference they still deserve our support.

Obviously the changing of the mascot had no effect on the campus. People simply don't pay attention to the athletes on this campus, and it is time for this practice to stop. The people who play soccer, volleyball, or tennis; the people who run cross country, play basketball, or even belong to one of our club sports are ambassadors of the college.

When they travel to other schools, both in the New England vicinity and other areas in the country they are representing Bryant College. They don't complain about the long road trips, missing dining hours (well, that is probably an incentive), or having three tests during the conference finals. They just go out there and work the hardest they possibly can. However, sometimes it falls on deaf ears.

It's time to face it, the ploy to change our nickname/mascot in hopes it would get more people interested in Bryant sports has failed. And although I am afraid to say it, maybe the whole thing was a mistake.

Why don't you ponder this next time there is a sporting event going on, and you are sitting in your room watching The Animaniacs. You don't know how exciting the game is until you get out there and see it.

To those people who do go out and support the teams day in and day out, you should be commended. You are there when the fans need you. As for the athletes, keep up the good work, some of us really appreciate it.

Wanna Get Fit?

There is still time to get in shape and become a member of the Jarvis Fitness Center. It is $30 for the semester and $55 for the year and you'll learn how to trim down, tone up or simply boost your energy! Not sure exactly what to do? Nautilus demonstration classes will be held Tuesdays & Wednesdays from 4 - 5 p.m., in the Jarvis Fitness Center. One hour and you'll know everything you need to know to get in shape! Classes are only being held until mid-October, so act now!

What Happened to The Golf Team? They Won Their 12th NE-10 Title in 14 Years

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

Once again, the Bryant golf team finds themselves at the top of their game, as the winning the Northeast-10 Championship held at Stow Acres Country Club South Course in Stow, MA earlier this week.

After the first day of competition, the Bulldogs were trailing Springfield College by one stroke. However, on the second day, the Chiefs could not hold off the rush, and Bryant rallied to capture the tournament by 11 strokes.

Four members of the Bryant team placed in the top eight individual scores to secure the win. Bryant posted a score of 615 followed by Springfield (626), Quinnipiac (652), Bentley (656), Merrimack (663), AIC (669), Saint Anselm (677), Saint Michael's (686), and Assumption (690).

Ray Issler fired a combined score of 151 for 36 holes to win the individual title by two strokes. For his accomplishments, Issler was a repeat honoree as Player of the Year and won the Gordon McCullough Memorial Award.

Right behind Issler, was teammate Keith Allock who was tied second overall with a score of 153. Allock also received honors for his accomplishment, as he was named Freshman of the Year. Both men were also named to the All-Conference team.

Also selected to the All-Conference team were teammates Brian Baker, fourth overall with a score of 155 and Chris Carter, tied for eighth overall with a score of 158.

Justin Dahl rounded out the Bryant finishers in 13th place with a score of 159. In fact, Bryant's individual finishers placed high than some of the other teams top golfers.

The Bulldogs completed the sweep of the individual awards when Archie Boulet was named coach of the year. Boulet will also be inducted into the University of Rhode Island Athletic Hall of Fame for golf and football.

Next up for the team is the Toski Invitational this Sunday and Monday. However they are still looking down the road to the New England and other tournaments later on in the season.

Women's Tennis Sweeps Merrimack

Paul Stroessner
Archway Sports Writer

The women's tennis team had an easy 8-0 victory over Merrimack College improving their record to 4-1.

First in doubles, Freshmen Tracy Caprio and Kara Naisby defeated Kristen Smith and Lori Stranz 6-3, 6-2, Senior Jen Hansen and freshman Beth Anderson battled to a 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 victory over Kim Rayla and Sheryl Benedict. In singles, Junior Amy Becker defeated Kerri Smith 6-0, 6-2.

Junior Captain Pamela Bowman defeated Kristen Smith 6-1, 6-3; Junior Katie Coates had an easy victory over Sheryl Benedict 6-0, 6-0. Senior Amy Polatsek coasted to a 6-0, 6-0 win over Kim Rayla 6-0, 6-0; Junior Lisa Sarandopolis overwhelmed Paula Novelli 6-0, 6-0; and in the finest match of the day, Senior Tabitha Kent received a hard earned win over Rachel Mckeeman 6-7, 7-6, 6-4.

Eight letter winners who have returned from last year, and four newcomers make up the team. Those who are returning are Co-captains Dana Tessier and Pamela Bowman, Seniors Jennifer Hansen, Tabitha Kent, Amy Polatsek, Juniors Amy Becker, Katie Coates, and Sophomore Ellen Choy.

Newcomers are Junior Lisa Sarandopolis, and Freshmen Beth Anderson, Tracy Caprio, and Kara Naisby.

Under Coach Bob Coker, the team finished 11-4 overall, and 7-2 in conference last year to a strong second place finish. With the team only losing one player from last year, and some added talent this year, they are likely to be impressive.

Women's Cross Country Defends Their Title

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's cross country successfully defended their title at the 13th Annual Shacklette Invitational last weekend at Saint Anselm.

Bryant came away with an easy victory, as they out scored the host team, by 29 points.

"It was a different team from last week," head coach Charlie Mandeville said.

"Everyone improved on their times by almost a minute. They [the team] really dug down and made a difference."

Leading the way for the Bulldogs was tri-captain Heather Crouce finishing second overall with a time of 19:21 for the three mile course. Right behind Crouce, was Jess Duval finishing third overall with a time of 19:34.

"The second half of the team came through for us this week,"

Mandeville added. "They really came together."

Other scorers for Bryant were: tri-captains Karen Palczynski finishing sixth, with a time of 19:42; Amanda Friedrich, 15th, 20:53; Karen Calderoni, 17th, 20:59; Carrie Stygar, 22nd, 21:29; Jody Russo, 27th, 21:36; and Kerri Murphy, 35th 21:57.

Although the team did well this weekend, the team still needs some work, according to Mandeville.

"We did okay, but the second half of the team, still has to close the gap," Mandeville added. "Right now, the gap between first and fifth place is 1:38, they have to bring that down to around one minute if we are going to be competitive."

However, Mandeville still has a positive outlook on the season.

"We still have a good shot at second place in the conference (NE-10), we just need to stay healthy," Mandeville commented. "I am down to only eight runners, if I loose one more, it is going to be tough."

Injuries and illness have hit the team hard this year, the Bulldogs will have to get along without Mandy LaPierre. LaPierre, who was the number two runner on the team, came down with mononucleosis and will miss the rest of the season.

Next up for the team is the Rhode Island College Invitational this Saturday, where Springfield will be their toughest competition.

"Most of the teams are pretty even," Mandeville said. "Springfield, however, is a very strong team, and they will most likely win the meet."

However, if Bryant has a good showing against Springfield on Saturday, they could use this as a stepping stone for the rest of the season.

The team will be using this meet as a tune-up for the Tri-States which will be held at Bryant on September 8 at 11:00 a.m.

Men's Cross Country Trying To Stay on Track

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

Despite a young team, the men's cross country team had a strong showing at the Shacklette Invitational finishing fifth overall with a score of 155.

Leading the way for the Bulldogs was Shawn Nassaney finishing 22nd with a time of 29:00. Right behind him was Jeremy Adlemann finishing 25th 29:05. Ryan DiTucci was next, finishing in 35th place with a time of 29:25 for the six mile course. Andy DeRose, was next in 36th place with a time of 29:27 and Jeff Hiltbold 49th with a time of 30:10; to round out Bryant's top five.

Other scorers for Bryant were: Mike Walsh 49th with a time of 30:18, and Darrell Cook 61st with a time of 31:35.

Other finisher for the team were: Jason Perry 67th with a time of 32:00; Darrell Golden 70th with a time of 32:22; and Scott Salamore 90th with a time of 35:50.

Overall team scores were: Springfield 37, Saint Michael's 58, Merrimack 67, Stonehill 74, Bryant 155, Saint Anselm 159, Norwich 185, Clark 191, Suffolk 199, Daniel Webster 235.

The next meet for the Bulldogs is at Rhode Island College this Saturday at 12:00 p.m. After that they will return home for the Tri-States next weekend.

Attention All Men & Women Track Personal:

There will be an important meeting for anyone interested in men's or women's track on Thursday, October 6 in the Gym Lobby.

Make every attempt to be there.

It is very important!

Bring a pen.

Thanks Coach Smith

ATHLETE of the WEEK

Ray Issler

This Week's Athlete of the Week is Ray Issler of the men's golf team. For the second straight year, Issler won the individual title at the NE-10 tourney earlier this week. Issler shot a 36-hole total of 151 to lead Bryant to the overall title. Issler was once again named NE-10 Player of the Year, and received the Gordon McCullough Memorial Award.

Issler is a sophomore from Attleboro, MA.
