

Bravo

LISA STARR

And when, at last, September rolls around again, there is a wild flurry among the leaves who do everything they can to show their appreciation.
It's the greatest encore you ever saw in your life—just the shimmeringly, Honest Abe beauty of September, and the leaves,
on their feet,
applauding.