New Enrollment Largest In History

200 Veterans to Start Classes In February

On February 25, the largest number of students to enter Bryant College at the mid-year term will be passing under the archway. With over 200 veterans signed up for the Business Administration, Accounting and Finance, and refresher courses and at least 50 other enrollees for the secretarial department our school is having a difficult time to find housing space for its many out-of-town students. This large enrollment will also affect the September enrollment.

Never in the history of the school have so many students enrolled at the mid-year term. This year's enrollment is an all-time record. These students are from all parts of the United States. Very few come from Providence or near-by areas. There are even several students from out of the country to add to the college melting pot. There is a girl from the Panama Canal Zone and another from Iceland.

NEW DEAN OF WOMEN NAMED

Mrs. Dorothy Robinson has been named Dean of Women and Guidance Counselor here at Bryant. Mrs. Robinson has had a great deal of experience in this line for she was connected with the Providence School Department of Guidance and Counseling for a number of years, as well as three years in the same capacity at Mt. Pleasant High School.

A native of Providence, Mrs. Robinson attended Pembroke College and from there she received her Masters Degree.

NEW CLASS HOURS FORMED

There is a radical increase in the number of students this term over that of any term in the history of Bryant College. Because of this, a special schedule of classes was instituted to accommodate this increase. As of last term there were three divisions in the B. A. Department. Now there are four arranged in early and late sessions. Included in this change will be an early session for the veterans taking a refresher course. The schedule of the students under the Secretarial and Executive Training and Teachers Training course will remain the same.

The students under the classification of the B. A. Department, September freshmen, Division I, will start at 8:30 a. m. and continue until 1 p. m. September freshmen, Divisions II and III will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 3:15 p. m. The September freshmen under the B. A. Department will start at 8:30 and end at 1:45 p. m. February seniors will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 3:15 p. m.

YEAR BOOK STAFF NAMED

Work on The Ledger, the annual Bryant College year book has begun according to members of the staff. Since this year brings with it peace The Ledger promises to be one of the finest books yet to be seen on the Bryant Campus.

The members of The Ledger Staff are: Co-Editors, Jean Drost and Edmund Clegg; Photography, Dorothy Olier; Literary, Robert Birt; Dorothy Stewart; Lucille Gosell; Bernadine McCudden; Collette Dickey; Betty Guidette; Ruth Adams; Joyce Frany; Mary Adams; Clara Lewis; Gladys Aronson; Florence Rosen; Nettie Piro and Mary Cogswell; Advertising, Mildred Valenzia; Henry Zimmo; Robert Corry, Art, Ethel Wecker.

The members of the Staff would like to have announced that if there are any students who would like snapshots published in the year book, please give them to Miss Dorothy Olier. Once pictures are received, they are not returned.

THEIR FIRST BIG STEP TOGETHER

Craig Edgar and Betty Roux have taken their first big step together. Recently, Betty announced her engagement to Craig and at the same time, she stated their intentions of taking the second and final step of the wedding during Craig's summer vacation this August.

Betty Roux is a member of the Rhode Island School of Design, Class of '49, where she is majoring in Commercial Art. She is also active in the College Dramatic Society.

Craig Edgar is a first year teacher training student here at Bryant. He is an active member of Tau Epsilon Phi and Exchange Manager of the Archway.

BETTY EVANS CHOSEN QUEEN

After a short speech Robert Arzyan presented the queen with a crown of Red Roses. Upon receiving the crown and with genuine modesty Betty politely said, "thank you very much." Now it's better, she said.

Betty is a junior in the Commercial Teachers Training Division, a member of Sigma Iota Chi Sorority, Vice President of the Newman Club and a member of Beta Chi Tau. She is a very industrious student and is working her way through college in the capacity of helper in the cafeteria.

The other contestants for the honor of becoming Campus Queen were, Vivian Thurston, Emily Foreman and Jean Murray.

TO HOLD STAR CREST FESTIVAL

The annual Star Crest Festival sponsored by Sigma Iota Beta and Beta Iota Beta will be held February 26, 1946, at 8:00 p. m. in the Bryant Gym.

The social committee headed by Herbert Page have announced that there will be an outstanding floor show with the music conducted by the "Music Master" himself, Tommy Masso and his orchestra.

For the past two years Sigma Iota Beta and Beta Iota Beta have held dances which have been very successful both socially and financially. Therefore if anyone is seeking a night that will be filled with enjoyable entertainment, attending the Star Crest Festival will make that night come true.

Tickets for the dance, which are $1.00, may be obtained from any member of the sorority or fraternity otherwise you may buy them at the door.

CONTEST WINNER IS ANNOUNCED

Beatrice Hirt, a first year Accounting and Finance student, was announced as winner of the $500 award given to the student who submitted the best name for the college newspaper.

The contest was sponsored by members of the staff in an effort to obtain a name for the paper. The entries were judged on their originality and their emphasis on some phases of Bryant life.

After considering and voting on the sixty-four entries submitted, the judges decided that Miss Hirt's entry, The Archway, was the best because under this popular name located at the end of South Hall,

Newspaper Notes 30th Anniversary

By Craig Brickley
Of the Archway Staff

With this issue, The Archway celebrates its thirtieth anniversary of continuous publication. Journalism at Bryant College goes back quite further than that, however. In September, 1935, shortly after the college located to the East Side of Providence, a newspaper, called The Bryant Collegian was inaugurated. Though only two issues of this paper exist today in the Bryant College Library Archives, the paper was a direct predecessor of The Archway, which was to be founded eleven years later. All evidence was that The Collegian, which was unlike The Archway in that it was not distributed free, was short-lived.

In response to dramatic growth of the postwar Bryant College, a new newspaper was started in February, 1946. A monthly, printed in a small size on plain paper stock, The Archway was distributed free on the first day of every month. The paper more resembled a newsletter than a newspaper, but it served as the prototype for the paper that we have today.

The name of the paper was proposed by Beatrice Hirt, who won $5 for suggesting that the Archway, located then in South Hall, was a popular meeting place of students for the exchange of news, and that the school's newspaper would very appropriately have that name.

The first Archway (which is reproduced above), contained "Letters to the Editor," "Student's Corner," a collection of humorous stories gathered around campus, and "Question of the Month," which was an early, crude form of today's "Inquiring Photographer."

Early Archways were quite gossipy with several notes and tidbits about people and happenings on campus. It was financed largely through the Student Council (Now Student Senate), which concerted a great deal of control over the organization. In fact, the Student Council actually had the duty of choosing the Editor-in-Chief.

Though early records are largely non-existent, it is believed that The Archway became a bi-weekly publication in September, 1949, under the editorship of Charles Menge. Except for the first two volumes, The Archways from this period are missing from the Library's Archives, until 1952, when the paper looked dramatically different from its early days. The page size was considerably larger, a six-column format was used, and a new "free-form" logotype was used, which would persist until 1970.

In this period, that paper also shed its gossipy image, and adopted a much more professional style. Pictures were used more frequently (early Archways were nearly devoid of pictures), and the large pages were splashed with national advertising. The Archway had come a long way in a short time, yet it had reached a plateau. The paper remained virtually unchanged in format for the next several years, except for the slight changes in style that new editorships bring.

Spurred on by a rapidly expanding college, and a new office in the new Student Activities Building, The Archway went weekly in the fall of 1966. At the same, page size was reduced to a more compact, tabloid style, with a five-column format that The Archway has had ever since. Most editions ran between four and eight pages—just as many pages as they had been running as a bi-weekly.

During the late sixties, with the resultant activism concerning the Vietnam War, the draft, etc., many college newspapers were re-examining their position in the scheme of college life. The Archway was no exception. In 1969, The Archway began to publish more national news than it had ever before or since. In April, 1970, The Archway declared itself independent the Student Senate, thus it would receive funding directly from the college to operate. At the same time, changed the logotype of the paper for the first time in twenty years. The Archway became somewhat of a crusader, but not for long, for soon a lot of attention would be paid to seemingly an even more important event—the move from Providence to Smithfield, which was accompanied by one of the most significant changes in The Archway.

Starting in September, 1971, The Archway was printed by offset lithography (known in the trade as "cold type"). For the first time ever, The Archway was capable of doing its own typesetting and production (It had always done its own basic layout, but from already typeset far copy). At this point, the paper grew more creative and unfortunately, more carelessly laid out, a situation which we nonprofessionals still struggle with today.

Working first with an IBM Composer and later with an AM Comp/Set, The Archway's ability to do its own typesetting brought a completely new dimension to the news that was reported. At last, if a story happened on Thursday, it could get into the paper by Friday.

THE OPINIONS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK....

First of all, I would like to make a correction to last week's editorial. In commenting on the Townhouse fire, I stated that I was "appalled" at the lack of fire protection between the original townhouse units. This was based on information that I had managed to gather from various sources--and the consensus was that apparently there was nothing but "wood and air" between the Townhouses.

It turned out, however, that fire walls (eight inches of concrete with a four-hour fire rating) are indeed between the townhouse units, and as indicated from the fire marshall's report on the blaze, these walls were very effective. It is a shame that we had to learn of their effectiveness in this fashion, but we can say that these walls prevented what could have been a cataclysmic disaster.

However, I am not apologizing for what I said in last week's editorial because I felt that what I believed to be an obvious safety hazard had to be brought before the Bryant Community. As it turned out "everyone from Student Affairs to the President's Office" (to quote last week's editorial) informed me of my error. Townhouse Residents: you no longer need to sleep with a pail of water next to your bed! (At least I found out how many people read my editorials!)

As you may notice, this is our thirtieth (?) anniversary. Then why, you may ask, is the "First Edition" on the front page dated February, 1946? The reason is, while a newspaper named "The Archway" dates back until then, continuous publication of the paper (biweekly) started, to the best of our knowledge, in September 1949, exactly thirty years ago. That clear things up?

We've had our first two organizational meetings this year, and the response has been very good, but if you're interested in The Archway, we're still looking for you. We'll be having a "Meet the Press" session in the lounge of the New Dorm Tuesday night where we'll be explaining the purpose of the school newspaper, and hopefully, enticing more people to join. Everyone is invited, not just freshmen, so come on down and meet the press.

Behind SAGA

To the editor:

Have you recently taken a visit to where your meal trays disappear to? It is the infamous dishroom where students spend interminable hours working in excess of their normal study time is reduced immensely.

Students looking for extra pocket money (or to save for something) when transportation to go off campus is difficult, they are often confronted with working for the cafeteria or no job. Almost everybody (male) who begins working there starts off in the dishroom. They will be doing one of several things. They could be scrubbing pots and pans, unloading the very hot dishwasher, or be on the line where the trays enter. After somebody's first night working, their reaction is not a positive one. True it is a dirty and unenjoyable nights but the checks do come in handy on Friday, which make people bear with it. The dishroom crew are always the last ones out and on a good night last semester they were out by 7:30-7:45.

A good night includes no breakdowns by the dishwasher, line working, and not being short workers. A bad night is just the opposite and you can imagine the chaos. Well, there are more bad than good nights this semester so far. Last week the dishroom did not have it 8:30 when they should be near or already finished but they got out at 9:30 p.m. They started at 4 (instead of 4:30 or 4:15). That is 5 and a half hours of sweat and dirt. It's bad enough for 3 and a half hours but 5 is

Letter Policy

We welcome your letters on matter that concern the Bryant community. The few simple rules to follow about Letters to the Editor are: 1. They must be signed (with Phone no. or Box no. for verification). 2. They must be legible (not necessarily typewritten). And they cannot be termed, in our judgement, libelous, obscene, or in poor taste. Happy Writing!

In this week of the big anniversary (ARCHWAY's 30th), I thought that I would take a nostalgic look at commuting through the years. So after much intense thought, I bring you the authentic though totally fabricated view of "Bryant commuting through the ages."

In the earliest days of Bryant (Bryant & Stratton's as it was called then) no one lived on campus so commuting was not considered a separate activity at the school. Of course, since the school was started before cars were invented. The only thing I can't figure out about that arrangement is where did the horse's parking sticker go? On the horse's kneecap? On his bridle? Putting this question aside, I shall now recount the history of commuting. First of all, there is Emil Lesmond, who while riding the "street-car" to Bryant & Stratton's, was blinded by a bright redness, exclaiming "It's a stop light! I've discovered commuting!" News of his discovery spread fast and soon students from as far away as Central Falls discovered this unique way to enjoy college and home life at the same time.

A very important date in the history of commuting is November 18, 1921, when Barley Farnsdick purchased a 1912 Model-T roadster and became the first student to commute to Bryant College by automobile. Another equally important date is November 19, 1921, when Security handed out the first parking violation to none other than Barley Farnsdick.

Lack of parking space on the old campus was always a slight problem from the daring days of Barley Farnsdick. Often students found they had to double park--on top of each other!

Other famous commuters include Edna Halverson, who coaxed her 1948 Pontiac from Attleboro to Providence and back every day, thus becoming the first "out of state" commuter. Once very popular because of space problems in the dorms, out of state commuting has now succumbed to $1 per gallon gasoline.

And who could forget Bea Andelman, Bob Campbell, Paula Needham, Gus Williams and Grace Olney, who jammed into a 1952 Nash Rambler to form Bryant's first carpool. And everybody remembers the day Almont Feeney drove up in the first (and last) Edsel to be seen on the Bryant Campus (he drives a Pinto today).

The move to a new, more isolated campus in 1971 made life a bit easier for the commuter. At last he could find a parking place. It may have been 1 1/2 miles from the Unistructure, but at least he/she didn't have to worry about someone parking on top of him/her.

Incidentally, I have discovered why a commuter cannot get a front row parking space. You see, when the Unistructure was being constructed and the parking lots paved, a number of cars were driven into the front row and left there. Occasionally a car will be replaced with a newer model (so the students don't "catch on") and this is done at midnight so no one will see.

I hope you have enjoyed this nostalgic look at commuters past. Until next time...

Freshman Girl Killed in Accident

Accident

by Bob Herhhy

On Friday, September 14, an eighteen year old freshman girl was killed in a car crash on her way home from a Bryant mixer.

Mary Ann Senkarik of Milford, Massachusetts was driving home along Route 16 in Uxbridge at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday morning when her car left the road. It travelled roughly 200 feet off the road before running into a tree. The car was very heavily damaged and Miss Senkarik had to be extricated from her car. She was pronounced dead on the scene at approximately 1:30 a.m.

URI Student Reacts to Strike

By Katie Cassels

Debbie Pacheco, a student from URI, was visiting Bryant Monday night and spoke strongly against the strike. "Bryant's strike ended alot earlier, which was good," she said. "I've missed out on two weeks because of this...That's also two weeks' pay, because how can I work if I don't know when I'll be going back?"

Asked what her feelings toward the teachers were now, Debbie replied, "The teachers give the attitude that it's every man for himself." When Debbie returns, she's afraid the atmosphere will be "so thick you could cut it with a knife."

One far-reaching effect of the strike is the possible shut down of the school newspaper, "The Five-Cent Cigar" since there are only approximately 200 students on campus.

If Debbie were involved with the negotiations, she would give the faculty the money they want. "They (the administration) will end up doing it anyway sooner or later, why not now? I want to get started."

It took a court order Wednesday for the teachers to end the picket lines. Assistant Vice president Pezzullo officially declared the campus open at this time. "We're trying to be positive and affirmative about this. We believe there either will be a settlement overnight or the faculty will act responsible," he stated. A negotiation meeting is scheduled for Sunday night at 7:30, hopefully to accept the new proposal.

Having a new dorm on campus can mean a lot to resident students, but having a dorm that offers a new way of living can mean even more. For those who haven't seen Dormitory III, it's will worth your walk over. Walking through the doors and into the "main lounge", one gets the feeling of being in a new hotel—it even has an information desk. Off of the main lounge are two wings—the North for the boys and the South for the girls—which house approximately 300 students. Each floor of each wing has two sections of rooms, two lounges, and bathroom facilities. the upperclassmen can relate to the difference from suite or townhouse living but the freshmen seem to love it. As of now it's uncertain whether or not the dorm will remain for freshmen in the years to come.

Many residents who are upperclassmen have noticed some "different" rules posted in the new

Carpooling

If you would like to meet some new people and save money, sign up for the carpooling program. Information sheets can be picked up and dropped off in the Senate Office, or at a table in the Rotunda which will be set up for this purpose. The program is being sponsored by the CIA, but is open to all commuter the CIA, but is open to all commuters with no obligation to the club. So, fill out a form and return it to the designated place and you will be contacted by someone in the near future to arrange carpooling companions.

dorm. These rules are mainly because of the upperclassmen. Due to "sight-seers" from other campus housing who have turned over furniture in the lounges, gone up and down the halls banging on doors and so forth, officials in the new dorm have been forced to lock the doors at 10 p.m. It isn't to keep the freshmen in, it's to keep the troublemakers out. Both residents and legitimate guests have no trouble though, and hopefully the problems will stop. As far as bringing alcoholic beverages in, that's a campus rule. No one should be walking around campus drinking, this includes walking into the new dorm.

Dormitory III has it's own director, Kathleen Reilly-Edinger, who works along with Jerry Ramos, Peter Barlow and Student Affairs. Also working with Kathleen are Resident Assistants who are planning an organization in the new dorm for such activities as floor parties, etc.

There are different opinions about the "new type of living" in Dormitory III, but people like Kathleen are definitely making it interesting and fun for the freshmen residents.

Bryant Fund Success

We set records! Every record that had been established for the Bryant Fund has been shattered. The goal for the Endowed Scholarship Fund was $175,000. That was exceeded by $13,405 for a grand total of $188,405. That $188,405 is $32,000 more than was raised in the 1977-78 Bryant Fund campaign.

All that additional money was a result of increasing the base of support for Bryant College. The numbers of alumni and friends who gave of their own money to help students receive scholarship aid increased 52 percent--an overwhelming success story in its own right--for a total of 3,470.

Several ingredients went into making the 1978-79 Bryant Fund campaign such a victory. Sending an aerial-lithograph of the campus to parents and alumni, having more nights of phonothons to contact the alumni in New England and throughout the United States, the Senior Class pledge of $9,500, and a Reunion Class Year competition resulting in th Chancellor's Bowl being awarded to the Class of 1929, were four important elements.

The most important element, though, was the support from the students and the College community. The 190 student volunteers from 30 different student organizations participated in the phonothons! They raised $34,664 in pledges through their efforts. Alumni manned the phones for two more nights, and the faculty and staff who supported the Bryant Fund also was a record number.

One celebration was held at the close of the student phonothons to honor the six student organizations who raised the most money during their seven nights of phoning. Another victory celebration is going to be held September 28 to honor all the volunteers who participated in the various aspects of the Bryant Fund campaign. It will be quite a party.

Undoubtedly, the participation in the victory party will set record numbers. That is alright, too. Each record that was set is in reality only a challenge for our next campaign. And you will be hearing about that soon.

TAP Begins

For those of you that do not already know what The Alternative Program (T.A.P) is all about, it is a selection of courses designed to provide enjoyment as well as opportunities for self-development. They are non-credit courses designed to provide enjoyment as taught primarily by Bryant College students and staff. T.A.P. is sponsored by the Student Affairs and Student Senate offices in cooperation with the Athletic Department.

Registration for all courses will be held on Wednesday, September 26 and Thursday September 27 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Rotunda, also on Thursday, September 27, from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in front of the Salmanson Dining Hall. Most courses start the week of October 1, 1979, Don't miss out!

Women's Hot Line

Sojourner House, a shelter and hot-line for battered women is looking for volunteers to participate in the hot-line and child care programs. Volunteers are offered specialized training in working with battered women as advocates and in crisis situations, or, in working with children who have been exposed to family violence. The training for new volunteers will be held Wednesdays, October 3, 10, and 17 from 7pm. to 10pm. and Saturdays October 6 and 13 from 9am. to 5pm. from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturdays October 6 and 13 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Volunteers are required to participate in all five training sessions. Upon completion of training, hot-line volunteers will be required to do one five hour shift per week, three overnights every two months, one on call per month and attend bi-monthly staff meetings. Childcare volunteers will be required to do one three hour shift per week and attend bi-monthly staff meetings.

All interested men and women are encouraged to volunteer. Please call the Sojourner house office at 751-1262 by September 27, 1979 to register for the training program.

Placement Notes

Attention Freshpersons: Would you like to learn more about how your interests relate to various careers?

The Strong-Campbell interest inventory will be administered to any Freshperson on the following dates: Tuesday, September 25, 12 noon to 1 p.m. in room 269; Wednesday, September 26 from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in room 261; Tuesday October 2 from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. in room 269; and Wednesday, October 3 from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. in room 269.

Please sign-up at the Career Planning and Placement Office.

Seminars for Seniors and second semester Juniors will be conducted this year by the Career Planning and Placement Office. There will be thirteen sessions, each limited to twenty-five students.

Session topics will include:

Determining your career, Occupational fields, Resumes and Cover Letters, Job Interviews, Evaluating Job Offers and the Transition from Campus to Job.

The sessions will be held from October 9 to November 27. In this time period there will be thirteen sessions which will run from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Leading the seminars will be Dr. Stanley Shuman and Beverly Fogg, Director and Assistant Director of the Career Planning and Placement Office.

To register for the first session, stop in at the Career Planning and Placement Office by Thursday, September 27.

What do some of the Seniors who have completed the series say about it?

"Taking this seminar was the most practical thing I have done this semester. It has familiarized me with things that two months ago I was totally ignorant of."

"I enjoyed the series, it was very informative. I would recommend it to any senior, especially if they don't know how to go about the job search process."

"A seminar such as this definitely adds to the college experience. What good is the college experience if one doesn't know how to go about the task of finding his/her career and a job."

To learn more about this series, stop by the Career Planning and Placement Office. We hope you will be one of those students with a headstart in your career planning and job search.

Looking to sharpen up your interviewing skills? Several workshops will be offered in October. Watch for further details.

Double Concentration

Have you ever considered concentrating in two subject areas while at Bryant? One would be a concentration such as Accounting or Economics, plus the Teacher Education concentration. This would be possible by carefully planning your schedule so that upon graduation (with the exception of student teaching, which could be done after graduation), you would be certified by the College to teach in the business area on the secondary level. Therefore, with your subject matter degree plus the education certification, you would have an advantage since business is now becoming very much interested in graduates with a teaching background to help set up and conduct in-house seminars.

The Teacher Education Department has two programs in business: Social Business (without shorthand) and Secretarial and Office Education (with shorthand) and is accredited by NCATE (National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education), which automatically certifies Bryant teacher-education majors to teach in 31 states. In addition, Bryant College is accredited by NASDTEC (National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification), which automatically certifies Bryant teacher-education majors to teach in 28 states and the Panama Canal Zone. Bryant College is proud of the excellent placement record of its Teacher Education graduates who are employed throughout the country.

If you would like to consider scheduling two concentrations, see Mrs. Eleanor Read or Mr. George Tarapata, Academic Counselors in the Registrar's office.

THE ENTERTAINMENT

THE CAMPBELL SURVEY

By Jeff Campbell

Where O Where did the pay phones go?

In this column, which will be a regular feature of The Archway, we will look at how you feel about the issues. We will also take an occasional humorous look at Bryant.

Our first "Campbell Survey" dealt with the removal of pay phones and campus housing.

Bryant students are by far happy with their housing with 86% giving it a better than one-rage rating. Only 7 percent found it without flaw-rating it at 10.

A majority found that their housing hasn't improved but declined or stayed the same. Nearly a third (30%) saw no appreciable change over last year.

On the question of whether the pay phones should have been removed, 62% of the respondents who had an opinion disapproved of their removal; 38% of those had an opinion approved.

Four-fifths of those who had an opinion felt that there should be more pay phones available to students. Many respondents waited in long lines for Unistructure pay phones. The situation may improve when all the phones on campus are in service.

This week's Campbell Survey was a random sample taken of Bryant College students by telephone.

On a scale of one to ten (ten being best), how do you rate your campus housing?

Capsule Critiques

By John P. O'Neil

Moonraker—D

An archvillian attempts to destroy the world and start a race of perfect humans in outer space. 007 is out to stop him. The results are silly and gimmicky chase scenes and a weak and predictable plot. Overall, an insult to one's intelligence.

The Amityville Horror—B

One of the scarier of the summer's deluge of horror films. The interiors of the house could have been filmed with more eerie lightning and camerawork, but the director has managed to achieve a good amount of tension and shock value.

Breaking Away—AB

An uplifting, often hilarious look at four working class friends and their conflicts with the college elite. Dennis Christopher is especially funny as a bike racer who idolizes Italians. The film's climax is predictable but it will have you cheering.

The Deer Hunter—A

A powerful and gripping film dealing with the effects of the Vietnam war on three close friends. Stunning performances by Robert DeNiro, Christopher Walker, and John Savage. Unforgettable sometimes shocking imagery and strong symbolism adds to the film's impact.

Dracula—BC

Frank Langella is terrific as the legendary count, the photography and sets are quite eerie looking, and John Williams has composed another excellent score yet this cross between the Broadway play and the Bram Stoker novel is neither scary nor particularly romantic.

Escape from Alcatraz—B

Clint Eastwood enthalls us in his character of a clever prisoner who

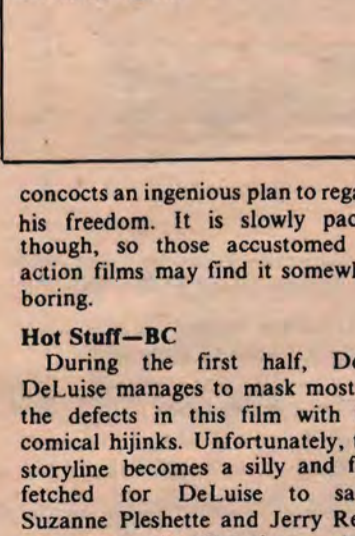

Bernard Kilimaj—'70: "The whole atmosphere is different. I like it better."

Ellen (O'Brien) Wright—'56: "The name is the same but the physical resemblance ends there. However, the educational climate is just as stimulating as it was on the East Side. It is fun to be back."

Margaret (Harrington) Cassels—'56: "Twenty-seven years later, the teachers are still as good. I feel like a freshman again."

Debbie Santaniello—'75: "The 'clubhouse' [Koffler Center] is nice."

THE INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER

This week's question: What are the changes you've noticed on campus in the past thirty years? (Asked of alumni)

Interviews by Katie Cassels

James Simoneau—'77: "No change whatsoever."

Debbie Santaniello—'75: "The 'clubhouse' [Koffler Center] is nice."

concocts an ingenious plan to regain his freedom. It is slowly paced though, so those accustomed to action films may find it somewhat boring.

Hot Stuff—BC

During the first half, Dom DeLuise manages to mask most of the defects in this film with his comical hijinks. Unfortunately, the storyline becomes a silly and far-fetched for DeLuise to save. Suzanne Pleshette and Jerry Reed star along with DeLuise as three cops who start a fencing operation to buy back stolen merchandise.

More American Graffiti—D

B. W. L. North has made a choppy, visually messy, and unnecessary sequel, totally lacking in the wit and innocence of George Lucas' fine film. Four jumbled storylines take the cast of the original (excluding Richard Dreyfuss) through the Vietnam war, anti-war movements, the hippie movement, marriage difficulties and race-car driving.

Interviews by Katie Cassels

North Dallas Forty—B

Nick Nolte and Mac Davis give exceptional performances in this bluntly realistic film which delves into the sordid world of professional football. Good characterizations occasionally funny, but ultimately forgettable.

The Seduction of Joe Tyman—B

An engrossing look at the way power affects a U.S. Senator and his family life. Fine performances by Alan Alda (who also wrote it), Barbara Harris, and Meryl Streep. The ending is the most unsatisfying part of the film.

THE SENATE

Freshman Elections

The Bryant College Student Senate announced this week that it will hold elections for Freshman seats on Wednesday and Thursday, October 17 and 18.

The Senate urges all classes to seize this opportunity to become involved in Bryant and contribute their efforts toward the improvement of Student Life at Bryant.

1. All candidates seeking an office in the Student Senate can obtain a nomination packet from the Senate Office beginning Monday, September 24, 1979.

2. Each candidate is required to obtain fifty (50) signatures of students in his class and return the nomination papers to the Student Senate no later than 12 noon on Tuesday, October 9, 1979.

3. Any candidate found guilty of misrepresenting names on the nomination papers or found guilty of breaking any of the election rules set down by the elections Committee of the Student Senate will be declared ineligible to run for a Senate seat.

4. You may begin to display the poster and signs at 3 p.m. on October 9, 1979.

5. The Student Senate will provide one stencil and 50 sheets of paper for each candidate when they return nomination papers. Completed stencils must be returned to Student Senate Secretary Sharon McGarry to be processed.

6. By Thursday, October 18, 1979 at 3 p.m., all posters, handbills, and other displays must be removed from the campus.

7. The Election Committee of the Student Senate has the power to ban or remove posters, handbills, or other displays that it deems not within the main realm of open and fair competition.

8. Voting will be conducted according to the following procedures: a) there will be one polling station in the Rotunda from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, October 17 and 18. There will also be a polling station outside the Cafeteria from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday. On Wednesday night only, between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m., a polling station will be located in the main lounge of the New Dorm.

b) At the polling station, students must present their identification card and their names will be checked.

9. No candidate will be permitted to remain near the polling station during balloting.

10. Six Senators will be elected at large form each class.

11. Each candidate will be permitted to have one representative at the counting of the ballots.

There will be an informational meeting Monday, September 24 at 7 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the New Dorm. The Executive Council will be present to answer any questions involving freshman election. Nomination papers will be given out at this time.

A makeup meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 25 at 12 noon in room 270. Any questions, Contact Dottie Pope at 232-0034.

UCB Update

By Sue Bitzer

To those upperclass buddies who moved off campus, please let us know your new address. Otherwise we can't get in touch with you to let you know who your freshman buddy is.

To those freshman commuters who have not notified us of their address, please come to the Senate Office and let us know. Otherwise we will not be able to give you an upperclass buddy because he has no way of getting in touch with you without this information.

To all upperclassmen: if we have the address of your freshman buddy (many commuters have not given us this information) and if we have your address, you have been notified. If you have any problems, please stop in the Senate Office.

P.S. Don't forget to meet your buddy!!

Attn: Clubs

Budget Request forms are available in the Senate Office on the counter for all those C/O's who wish to apply for money to the Ways and Means Committee.

You must be registered with the Senate and the Student Affairs Office.

If you have any questions, please contact Cathy Anderson at Ext. 290 or in the Senate Office.

Attn: Students

The Student Senate is sponsoring a crafts fair for Saturday of Parent's Weekend. If you have any artwork (photography, ceramics, Pottery, silk-screening, needlepoint, etc.) to sell or exhibit, please contact Norman in the Student Affairs Office or Carol in the Senate Office. All ideas are welcome.

The Greek News

Kappa Delta Kappa

The sisters of Kappa Delta Kappa would like to welcome back all Bryant students. We would also like to welcome the Freshmen Class; we hope that your stay at Bryant is worthwhile and fun!

The Sisters are "glad" to be back and we are all raring to go. This Friday evening we will be having a Happy Hour at the Country Comfort from 6-8 with the Brothers of TEP. All Freshmen and independent girls and guys are welcome. We hope to see you all there!

Sigma Iota Xi

The sisters of SIGMA IOTA XI would like to welcome all of the new freshmen and transfer students onto campus and to wish everyone another WILD and EXCELLENT year at Bryant.

Last Friday we held our first Happy Hour and it was a great success. A good time was had by all. We would like to welcome all freshmen and independents to attend our PUNCH PARTY Happy Hour this Friday, the 21st at Dorm 5, Floor 2 at 3:30.

Freshman Queen Weekend is rapidly approaching and as one of its sponsors, SIX would like to wish Good Luck to all the contestants.

Happy Birthday to two of our sisters, MAMA and SUE C. who celebrated their birthdays this week.

Phi Epsilon Pi

The brothers of Phi Epsilon Pi would like to welcome everybody back to Bryant. We hope all of you enjoyed your summer.

The brothers hope everybody had a good time at our party this past Saturday. We will be having another party this coming Saturday at the same place, the top of Dorm 2.

In sports, our football team is looking tough. We are looking forward to a very successful season. Soon the bowling season will be here and we will have at least 2 squads.

The Brothers of Phi Ep would like to wish good luck to Delta Sigma Phi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Sigma Iota Xi on their upcoming Freshman Queen Weekend.

Just a reminder, we're having a happy hour on Friday at 3:15. All independents and freshmen are welcome.

Beta Sigma Omicron

Welcome freshman, Greeks, and returning students. It is great to be back at Bryant after a summer of hard work and partying. This past summer three sisters of BSO got engaged. Congratulations to Liz Rocha, Jean Caleagni, and Rosanne Surmeian.

BSO is looking forward to having many functions this semester. Our first was a happy hour held in Dorm 7, the sorority's suite. We would like to thank all freshmen and independent girls for attending. It was a real pleasure to see so many new and interested girls and we hope to see all of you again at our wine and cheese Happy Hour at 3:30 in Dorm 7.

Tau Epsilon Phi

The Brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi would like to welcome back all Bryant Students. We hope everyone had a great summer and are looking forward to an even better semester.

The Brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi look forward to meeting the new students at their happy hours. We will be having a joint Happy Hour with the Sisters of Kappa Delta Kappa from 6-8 this Friday in the Country Comfort. All Freshmen and Independents are welcome. Hope to see you there.

Kappa Tau

The brothers of Kappa Tau would like to welcome everyone back and hope you all had an enjoyable vacation.

Good luck to TKE, Delta Sig, and SIX on the upcoming Freshman Queen Weekend.

We would like to thank all of those who attended our Happy Hour and Party on Saturday night. We had a successful weekend and everyone had a good time. All are invited to our Happy Hour and Party this weekend.

Congratulations are in order for Brother Ed for getting 2nd row seats for the upcoming Grateful Dead show.

Delta Sigma Phi

The Brothers of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity would like to welcome the freshmen and all returning students back on campus. This Friday we will have a Happy Hour starting at three o'clock; feel free to stop in at the top of Dorm 3. Another wild and crazy party is on tap for Saturday night.

Our football teams are rigorously practicing for their upcoming seasons. Anyone interested in playing for our "B" team please contact our Athletic Director Steve Saraiva.

Quickly approaching is our Freshman Queen Weekend which will be held September 26-29. It promises to be an unforgettable weekend of partying. Other upcoming events include our Annual Smoker held on October 23. All freshmen and independents are welcome to attend. A sign-up sheet and more information will be provided at our Happy Hour.

Congratulations are in order for Brother J. C. Pratt on his recent marriage to the former Linda Gramarossa.

Alpha Phi Kappa

The sisters of Alpha Phi Kappa would like to welcome freshmen and everyone else back to school. We are all psyched for a good year. This summer we all got together at Marcia's house on the Cape. It was great to see everyone, and an excellent time was had by all those who attended.

Volleyball season is here, and this year our coach is Karl Bietch (KT). We hope to have a successful season.

We would also like to congratulate Stacie Scheuber and Jean LaFreniere on their engagements this summer. We wish them the best of luck in the future.

Congratulations are also in order for Patti Brennan, on being selected as the Assistant Pledge Mistress.

This Friday we are having a happy hour and would like to welcome all girls to come. It will begin at 3:15, in Dorm 9, 3rd floor.

We would also like to wish Delta Sig, TKE, and SIX good luck on your weekend.

Lastly, we would like to thank Enzo for an excellent job he did on our bar. We love it!

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to welcome all new and returning students to Bryant. We wish everyone the very best of luck during the upcoming semester. We would like to thank everyone who helped welcome back

"TKE PUNCH" at our last party. Everyone is invited to our next party Saturday, Sept. 22, at 9 p.m. Our football coaches, Tim O'Brien and Tom Scanlon have been working hard to produce a championship team.

We are proud to announce that TKE won the school softball championship at the end of the last semester under the superb coaching of Kevin Heckman. Thanks for a great job.

TKE would like to invite the entire Student Body to TKE's and Delta Sigs Annual Freshman Queen Weekend being held from Sept. 26 through the 29. The activities include a Mellow evening of entertainment on Wed., the beauty pageant on Thursday evening, the Mixer on Friday and culminating the event on Saturday will be the announcement of the new Freshman Queen at the Coronation Ball. TKE would like to wish the best of luck to all the contestants. Freshman are reminded that our Happy Hour will start at 3:15 today.

Tau Epsilon

We would like to welcome all new freshmen and transfer students to Bryant and hope that all returning students had an enjoyable summer.

Our first Happy Hour and party were great successes. We hope that they continue that way throughout the semester.

Our A-Team football has looked strong in its opening practices and hope that the B-Team can be as competitive as the Trampled Eskimos were last year. We are planning on having four bowling teams this year and hope for good seasons for all. Our runners are gearing up for the upcoming G.L.C. cross country race and are looking for a strong showing.

Also, we would like to wish Delta Sig, TKE, and SIX the best on their weekend.

Hope to see everybody at our Happy Hour and party this weekend.

Sigma Iota Beta

The SIBBIES would like to welcome everyone back, and we hope that everyone had a Great summer. It's good to see some familiar faces back and smiling. We also wish the Freshmen good luck and Welcome to Bryant College.

The Happy Hour Friday afternoon was a great success and everyone is invited to return Friday afternoon to another crazy Happy Hour. It turned out to be an all Greek Happy Hour. Thanks, Sean.

The first weekend in August, Spam had the 3rd Annual Pig Roast at the cottage for the SIBBIES. Thanx Spam.

The SIBBIES wish Good Luck to the candidates for Freshman Queen. Also, Good Luck to Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, and Sigma Iota Xi on their weekend. Don't forget to stop by Friday afternoon for some beer and munchies. See you then.

Phi Sigma Nu

The brothers of Phi Sigma Nu would like to welcome back all upperclassmen and freshmen and hope that everyone had a good summer. We are planning a party for Saturday night and a Happy Hour this Friday.

The brothers are looking forward to a great year under the reign of Ken Claffin, our new President. We are also looking forward to another victorious year on the football field, with hopefully some help from our new brothers.

We wish all candidates luck in the upcoming Freshman Queen Weekend. Good luck to Delta Sigma Phi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and SIX on their weekend.

Sigma Lambda Theta

We would like to welcome everyone back from his extended vacation. We are anticipating a victorious (or fun) season of volleyball and bowling. The sisters of Theta are psyched for a great year and would like to extend an invitation to all the freshmen and independent girls to attend our Happy Hours. We will have one this Friday 7-9 in Dorm 6, suite 240, so feel free to drop by and have a beer. Theta would also like to wish the best of luck to Delta Sig, SIX, and TKE on their upcoming Freshman Queen Weekend.

SPORTS

Do You Remember

Hello sports fans. This is your reinstated sports editor taking a second crack at this worthwhile position. Only a year ago we had two of baseball's finest teams in a heated feud to determine the AL East Champions. Of course we know who won. It was very interesting to view our campus during that time. How many different ways people would make sure to watch their battles. At this point in time neither of these two teams will make it to the 7 magic days in October. Both teams are playing excellent baseball but the surprising Baltimore Orioles were hot since the start. There is always next year, Boston and New York fans!

Varsity Bowling

Bryant College has a varsity bowling team. We are a member of the Tri-State Bowling Conference, representing such colleges as University of Conn, University of Mass, U.S. Coast Guard, and West Point. Bryant College has been one of the top three teams of the RI, Conn, and NY Division for the past five years. We would like to keep up this winning tradition, but need your help and support. Tryouts for the team will be held in the next two weeks at the bowling lanes in the Student Center. Any bowler who would like to try out for the team should sign up behind the counter in the game room or contact John Lisee at 232-0116 Townhouse A-7. We are looking for bowlers averaging 160 and over. Please come and try out for the team. The first tournament is Oct. 27 at University of Lowell.

Women's Tennis

Despite a late start on the season, an enthusiastic women's tennis team claimed their first two matches.

The season opener was against the women from Bentley College. The mostly veteran team was aided by two newcomers, Donna Towpas, and Ann Westdyk, in their 5-0 sweep. The match consisted of three single and two double matches.

Their second match put the girls against much stiffer competition. The Bryant girls came out ahead of five single matches and two double matches to beat Stonehill 5-2.

Coach Pete Barlow is very optimistic about the season ahead. If the girls keep up their good work, they should fulfill his expectations. Good Luck!

Quiztime No. 1

by Pete Baugham

"It takes a thief"

1. Name the only player after 1920 to lead his league in both stolen bases and homers.
2. When Ty Cobb swiped 96 bases in 1915, he set an American League record which still stands. Name the only five players to steal 70 or more bases in the American League since then; all in the last ten years. (Hint: two have already done it this season)
3. Which player led his league with the lowest season total?

Women's Soccer

The Women's soccer team started their 1979 season on a down note, losing to Stonehill by a score of 3-1, on Wednesday afternoon.

Today at 3:30 the girls get a chance to make a comeback as they play Curry College. The game is on our home field, so come out and encourage and support them!

Men's Soccer

The men's soccer team opened their season Saturday, September 15. Having only five days of practice before their first game has hindered the squad.

Their first game, against Worcester State, ended in a 1-1 tie. Fred Messier made the sole score on an assist from Louie Silva.

Unfortunately, the team continued on their bad streak, losing to Babson, 3-0, on Monday, and losing again on Wednesday, 3-0, to Southeastern Mass.

1. Chuck Klein, Phillies, 1932.
2. (1) Tommy Harper, 73 in 1969 with the Seattle Pilots, (2) Mickey Rivers, 70 with the California Angels in 1974, (3) Bill North, 75 with Oakland in 1975, (4) and Willie Wilson and Ron Leflore both have 70 this season.
3. Dom Dimaggio led the American League in stolen bases with only 15 in 1950 for the Boston Red Sox.

Poetic Interludes

For You

You, you are
The person from my dreams
That never was, but we
Had somehow come together
Naturally. I know,
That we had separate lives
In different worlds, but still You're more than my world knew
Before that day, when we,
Alone and searching desparately,
were known, together
And our love gave the life
To what we have—right now;
We're all the things we never were Anone and you
Have given me new hope today.
For you; you are
The greatest part of me
I've ever known, and we Shall be together from now on,
For now, our dreams
Will never fall just short
Of what we are, or can
Our dreams are now reality, we will
I'm sure, clear the cloudy past away
And grow.
For you, and love
Are two things now the same to me
And we, together
Can be just anything—
I know we can.

Send 'em in, send 'em out
Send 'em up and down your spout
Take 'em in and chew 'em up
Juggle 'em, kick 'em, hold them tight
Look at 'em careful
It may be your last chance.

The Archway has many many faces in the last thirty years. The first, illustrated on the front page, consisted of blocks letters spelling out the name of the paper and a picture of South Hall. In the early fifties, the paper adopted the "free-form" logotype which persisted until The Archway declared its independence from the Student Senate in 1970, when the "Broadway" style flag was introduced. With the move to Smithfield, the paper adopted this style of letter integrated with a picture of the Unistructure in various forms. In 1977, the "Hobo" typeface was adopted as The Archway's official logotype.

tough. This is when a student's grades don't get any better. The management recently installed new racks in the dishwasher which so far has caused more trouble than anything else. They had plenty of time to plan ahead for the extra board and so far, it obviously hasn't worked very well. True, they put in very long hours and are most likely working their hardest to run things efficiently, but how fair is it to hardworking students trying to earn a degree being stopped and how easy is it to study after 5½ hours on your feet and constantly moving. Saga should look over carefully how the attitudes of their student force feels about their jobs. In the strike last spring it was a large part of this student force who worked at 7 a.m., in between classes, and go to late afternoon or sometimes dinner. Nothing was said of it to much of a degree to the general student body. On the other hand it would be chaos if the student workers walked off. They would be paying out more money to the full timers and possible more headaches. It is fortunate that students have this opportunity, but they should have some rights to being treated with due respect.

The management should re-evaluate the student working program and try to make it a little more worthwhile. I would be pleased to see them have students on the problem of positions to be filled.

Thanks for asking me to reminisce just a little about The Archway and what it was like during the time that I was involved as Editor.

The year 1952 saw The Archway being printed for the first time on regular newsprint and enlarged to a six-column format.

The biggest story, as I recall, was the discontinuance of varsity basketball and the organization of a club-type team. As I recall, the sport quickly regained varsity status and today has become a focal point of student interest.

It is impossible, however, to think of The Archway in those days without recalling the enormous contribution of Professor Arthur K. Smith. As our faculty advisor, "Smitty" was a constant source of encouragement and, more importantly, a marvelous friend.

responsibility. But what? What should I do?

A story of that magnitude was going to be one of the biggest stories of the decade. I went to the Archway Office, but could not figure what to do. We had no access to any news services. News services - are you kidding?

After consulting with the "Advisor", I was informed that we could not come out with a special issue since that would cost money. The newspapers, T.V. and radio would inform all very well. The next issue was over a week away. We did nothing.

I very much enjoyed my term as Editor of the newspaper. In well over two years it was my major extra-curricular endeavor. Arriving at the office at 6:30 a.m., using free periods between classes (instead of sipping coffee at the Union which was the "in" thing), staying until 5:00 at night.

I do know one thing, I would probably do it again under the same circumstances.

Archway Remembrances

I have not felt old until I received your letter of May 22, 1979, and had to reminisce of my days as Editor of The Archway. If I were real energetic, I would go to my attic and pull out all the editions of the paper during my years as Editor. Needless to say, I am not that energetic.

It is difficult for me to pinpoint the exact dates that I served as Editor. I began working on The Archway during my freshman year which was in September, 1961. I worked on the paper until January of 1964, probably serving as Editor the last 1½ years.

Today I am well acquainted with Bryant and the activities at the College. I am sure that it comes as no surprise when I say that things have really changed from what I use to consider as the modern times of the sixties.

I could write a novel on my newspaper experiences. However, I will restrict my comments to some of the more interesting points.

The period of September 1961 to January 1964, was one of real significance to Bryant. This was the period where the College was really coming into its own as a true College. It was the period where the College. It was not too long before 1961 that the school was a business operated for profit, with major emphasize on a two-year business education without any frills.

The students in the early 1960's had the difficulty of identifying themselves as "real" college kids at Bryant. It was even more difficult being located on the East Side of Providence, under the shadow of Brown and R.I.S.D.

Accreditation of the "New Bryant" was the big thing in 1961-62. News Stories concerning accreditation were important and easy to come by. More Ph.D.'s were needed on the faculty, more volumes needed in the library, etc., etc.

As an embitterment of the new Bryant, a new college seal was adapted.

Recruiting of staff for the paper was not the easiest task. A great deal of the effort was left to the Editor. During that period of time we were a bi-weekly publication so that eased the burden.

From an operational viewpoint, the most memorable aspects were the tight college supervision over the operation of the paper. We were 99% financed by a college budget. The faculty advisor to the newspaper served as a watchdog who, in my opinion, imposed more restrictions because of his personal conservative philosophy than the College would have required.

The irony was that because of budget restrictions, we had to be a bi-weekly. However, we could not raise advertising revenues to alleviate budget problems. Crazy! I really believe that advertising revenues would have meant more issues would have meant more work for the faculty advisor who was responsible the the final "review" of every galley before printing.

It was not an unusual situation when my paste-up of the issue would come out with the elimination of a national ad and a junk story in its place.

I am sure that things have come a long way. The first real crisis as Editor was in the fall of 1963 when I had included a picture of a tug-of-war that was taken at a freshman picnic. The extent of obscenity in the picture was female students in bermudas falling to the ground with male students after losing the tug-of-war, revealing "too many legs" in the opinion of the advisor. He refused to include the picture in the issue. This was (only because I knew I no longer had the advisor for any classes until graduation). I preceded to the V.P. for Academic Affairs. The end result was I lost.

Without a doubt, the biggest news story of my tenure was the assassination of President Kennedy. was a very mild fall day and I learned of the news between periods of a two hour advanced accounting class. As Editor I knew I had a

The new campus brought The Archway a new identity. A new nameplate was adopted incorporating a picture of the Unistructure. "Campus Highlight" featured a new, yet undiscovered part of the new campus each week. "Commuter's Corner" was an early predecessor to "Life in the Fast Lane", and The Archway as we know it began to take shape.

With the adoption of the "Hobo" style logotype, in 1977, The Archway started to look like it does today. "The Inquiring Photographer" and "The Personals" were inaugurated at about this time. It wasn't long before "Poetic Interludes," "The Calendar," and "Cinema Critique," joined in to make today's Archway.

Upon acquiring a new process camera in early 1979, that paper had even more control over its graphics. Today, The Archway staff does everything related to the newspaper business except the actual printing of the paper, which is handled by an outside firm.

Despite it's ups and downs, The Archway has had a successful thirty years, and with the valiant efforts of its future staffs, should have at least another thirty.
