FRESHMEN FREE TOMORROW

By Jeff Bulman

Tomorrow, freshmen, you can discard your beanies and let your hair breathe the clean, fresh, Providence air. Once again the freshmen queens of Bryant can tease their hair in high, alluring, bouffant styles. Ah, yes, tomorrow you will have the pleasure of burning your beanies. But first, think back to that "memorable" Monday, September 9, when so pleadingly you asked,

"What's with this beanie bit?"

So an "ever-so-willing-to-answer-your-questions" vigilante answered, "These are freshman beanies, (very astute observation), you are a freshman, (another very astute observation) so naturally you wear them. Any other questions?"

By this time you've sized up the situation and think it best not to present any more questions to this most helpful upperclassman. So on your merry way you go hoping that the evening block-party will prove more enjoyable than the day's activities. Maybe you might even get to meet a cute co-ed, or in the case of the freshman co-ed, a cute guy.

Well, the freshmen girls seemed to have had more luck than did their counterparts. It seems that the upperclass girls didn't want to meet guys younger than themselves, and, anyway, they had to protect their interest in the upperclassmen who were attracting all the attention of the freshmen girls, leaving the male freshmen with no one but each other to talk to. Well maybe these "youngsters" will have better luck at the AOX or Chi Gam parties or if not there, at the freshmen picnic.

On Saturday, at about 12:30, six buses carried more than two hundred freshmen to Diamond Hill Park for the picnic.

Naturally, I, as one of the ARCHWAY'S on the spot reporters arrived early to catch every aspect of the day's events.

Several anxious freshmen arrived early to practice for the freshmen vigilante softball game, a major event on the day's program. While the boys practiced, the girls warmed (Continued on P. 3, Col. 1)

Tug of War . . . And then the rope broke . . .

At the freshmen picnic on Sat., Sept. 14 at Diamond Hill State Park, a tug-of-war between the frosh girls and female Vigilantes was one of the featured events. It was quite a contest (without mentioning who won). More frosh pictures and stories on Page 3.

Bryant's Centennial Program Continues with the Centennial Symposium and Convocation "The Status of Women in America"

By Milton J. Wroblewski

Activities commemorating Bryant's 100th Anniversary continue as plans for the Centennial Symposium and Convocation take form. This activity is slated to be the major activity of the centennial program. The subject of the Symposium, "The Status of Women in America" is a topic of great interest in America today. Bryant has in its 100 years been contributing to the rise of the woman's status in the business world through its training of women for professional careers in business. It is therefore quite fitting that the Centennial Program include along with its other activities an event such as the Symposium.

The Centennial program received its kickoff on January 1st, when the Centennial Announcement was disseminated to the educational and business community. Since this time many activities have been held in conjunction with the Centennial celebration. Prominent men such as G. Mennon Williams, James Britt Donovan, and Edwin P. Neilan have participated in Centennial activities. G. Mennon Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs and former Michigan Governor, spoke on the problems of the new nations of Africa. Mr. Edwin P. Neilan, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, spoke on the topic, "Opportunities Unlimited" at the Centennial Commencement.

Mr. Donovan, International Attorney at Law and liberator of Cuban prisoners, spoke at the Centennial Commencement and was the recipient of the honorary degree of Doctors of Humane Letters. Other events such as a speech by the French Consul General of Boston on "France and the Common Market," the raising of the Centennial flag, and the Bryant Business-Study tour of Europe have been held as part of the Centennial program.

The Centennial program will resume on November 16th when the New England Business Teachers Association will hold their annual business meeting here. Immediately following will be the Centennial Symposium and Convocation. The concluding event of the program will be the Centennial Ball to be held in December at the Grist Mill.

Bryant was not alone in the celebration of its Centennial. Proclamations were issued to the school by Governor Chafee of Rhode Island and Mayor Walter H. Reynolds of Providence. Local radio stations have honored Bryant with radio programs saluting the Centennial. The local press has taken part in the program to the extent of an editorial in the Providence Evening Bulletin entitled "The Bryant College Centennial." All banks in the city of Providence have either had or plan displays commemorating Bryant's Centennial. The Centennial program with its administration-sponsored activities has in the past been successful and will no doubt come to an appropriate close.

Dr. Lebovitz Speaks . . .

"The World Around Us," WJAR-TV Feature

By Charlotte A. Kenney

In conjunction with Bryant's Centennial Program this year, WJAR-TV has broadcast on the morning television program, "The World Around Us" a series of four talks by Dr. Sol Lebovitz, history and political science instructor at Bryant. The series, presented as a public service, was introduced by Dr. Charles H. Russell, Dean of Administration for Bryant, and concerned key problems of our time.

Dr. Lebovitz's first subject was "The Population Explosion." Dr. Lebovitz explained that the world population today is approximately three billion but by 2000 A.D., it is estimated that it will rise to six billion. The reason for the growth lies in the fact that man has learned to control and limit deaths and to increase the life span by advanced medical science, but he has not learned to control births. The result has been a tremendous growth in population, especially in the Oriental countries where the death rate has dropped quite suddenly while there has been a continuance of a high birth rate. The population explosion creates many problems—mainly housing, food, employment, and education.

The second talk dealt with "The Changing Role of the American Family." Dr. Lebovitz maintained that the role of the American family has changed and that it is still changing. Initially, the family was agricultural. It was quite self-sufficient; it produced and consumed all or nearly all it ever needed. The

President Announces Promotions and New Appointments

Dr. E. Gardner Jacobs, President of Bryant College, has announced the advancement of four College officers: R. Lucien Appleby, Treasurer and Secretary of Bryant, will hold the position of Vice President and Treasurer. Dr. Charles H. Russell, Assistant to the President, will advance to Vice President and chief academic officer; Dr. Paul G. Buchanan, Dean of Admissions, will become Assistant to the President and Director of Admissions; and Robert C. Blake, Assistant Secretary and Bursar, will now have the title of College Secretary and Bursar.

Dr. E. Gardner Jacobs has also announced the following new faculty members: Mohamed Ahmed Sakr, as assistant professor of economics, Joseph J. Parilla as law instructor, Anthony Kasegian as instructor in English, Janet J. Anisewski as an instructor in secretarial studies, and Arthur Boulet as instructor in science.

Mr. Sakr was a former economist for the Industrial Bank of Egypt and economic attache of the Arab League before coming to Bryant. He received his undergraduate degree at Cairo University, and he is married and the father of two children.

Mr. Parilla received his bachelor's degree from Bryant College in 1957. He earned his master's degree in accounting from the University of Rhode Island in 1960 and

College Welcomes 625 Frosh

By Carolyn Squillante

This year 625 freshmen have enrolled at Bryant College. Of this number 344 are men and 281 are women. The new dorm students arrived at the College on Sunday, Sept. 8. They and their parents were invited to a dinner which was served continuously from noon to 6 P.M. in Jacobs' Dining Hall.

Registration for this year's freshmen began Monday, Sept. 9. The students entering this year's class hail from all the New England States, as well as, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Florida, Virginia, North Carolina, California, and Maryland. Two students, one representing Hong Kong, China, and one representing England are also among the freshmen.

College Gets New Look From Busy Maintenance Crew

By Alan Gilstein

While the student body was on vacation this past summer, the maintenance crew was kept busy getting the campus ship-shape for the fall semester.

The maintenance crew, under the direction of Mr. Pat Moser, consists of 28 men, who perform such tasks as gardening, painting, electrical installation, and repairing.

Mr. Moser reports that some of their painting jobs this summer included the inside painting of the interior of most classrooms, and some of the dorms. Also, three or four of the dorms were painted on the exterior.

Besides their normal gardening chores, the maintenance crew worked to get the new athletic field ready for the students' use. Also they resurfaced the tennis court on Benevolent street, so that it can be used for ice skating this winter.

Because of the adoption of the new school emblem, the maintenance crew replaced all the old with the new on all of the dorms, classrooms, and the cafeteria.

Those who have an opportunity should stop into the gym and see the new scoreboard clock which was installed there this past summer.

To those returning this fall, the Campus has several new looks and these are in part due to the efforts of Mr. Moser and his crew.

NOTICE

Sidewalk curbs painted white represent a Bryant College good neighbor policy, which will allow our nearby neighbors to park in front of their homes. Then, too, an emergency may arise involving a need for medical treatment or an ambulance for hospitalization. Two such emergencies have occurred this year. The college therefore requests that Bryant Students refrain from parking their cars at these white painted curbs regardless of other posted signs. Disciplinary action resulting in suspension will follow for those who fail to co-operate. It is our hope that such drastic action will not be necessary.

EDITORIALS

Welcome Frosh

With this first issue of The ARCHWAY for the academic year 1963-64, we extend a hearty WELCOME to the entering freshmen. We hope that your years at Bryant will be both enjoyable and rewarding.

Student Parking

The notice from Dean Fales' office pertaining to students parking near white-painted curbs elicits an oft-heard appeal.

Students who drive automobiles to the College are urged to be considerate in finding parking places. Students should not press the patience of the Police Department by deliberately violating traffic laws. There should be no parking in restricted areas before the designated times.

Students' observance of the traffic rules around the College will create a friendly atmosphere with the administration, neighbors, and Police Department.

Orientation Program

Congratulations to the Administration and the Student Senate for a fine freshmen orientation program. This program was well planned and executed.

Mr. Hathaway, Director of Student Activities, and Richard Haines, President of the Student Senate, worked together and came up with a variety of events for the freshmen. New features of the program included a mixer on Monday night, Sept. 9, and a welcoming dance on Sat. night, Sept. 14.

The freshmen must also be commended for the spirit they have shown during the past two weeks—especially at the frosh picnic. Tomorrow they will be FREE.

Hillel Highlights

By Jay E. Laff

Bryant's Chapter of the Hillel Foundation certainly didn't lose any time in getting started towards another successful semester.

Thursday, September 12, was the date of the Freshman Mixer at which time the upperclassmen were able to meet with the newer members in the Hillel family. Fun, friendship, and food were prevalent, all of which made the evening a memorable one.

Our brunch committee lost no time either in planning another in the series of brunches at Gardner Hall. Held in the beautiful lounge of Gardner Hall, the brunch was climaxed by an address by Professor David M. Brooks, Chairman of the Speech Department and member of the English Department of Bryant College. Judging from the number in attendance, another brunch will be following along in the near future.

To those of you who haven't joined in the activities yet, we wholeheartedly invite you to do so. As you can see, Hillel isn't an organization that stands still. Whenever there isn't an event planned, the door is always open at our new Hillel House for a spontaneous gathering. It houses a library, a lounge, Rabbi Rosen's office, a kitchen with an open cookie jar, and a current events bulletin board downstairs with a tremendous auditorium-recreation hall and kitchen upstairs. This building is less than two years old and all for the use of Hillel. So let's use it.

Don't forget to check the Calendar. See you the 29th for installation of officers.

Newman Club News

By Paul Langello

What is the Newman Club? The Newman Club is a Catholic organization that promotes religious, social, and cultural knowledge to individuals of common religious ideas. Everyone on campus will have several opportunities to become better acquainted with the Newman Club and its activities at the functions planned for this purpose.

On Thursday, October 3, between 7 and 9 p.m., the Newman Club will have a free openhouse in the Gym to which everyone is invited. The officers of the Club will be introduced at the openhouse. Following some brief speeches refreshments will be served and a live band will entertain. Also at the openhouse anyone interested will be given the first of several opportunities to sign up. A list detailing the Newman Club's coming events for the semester will be distributed.

A Newman Club picnic is now in the planning stages. This picnic will be held in October. The definite date of this picnic has not yet been set.

The officers for the coming year are:

- President
Tony Fassell (Gardner Hall)
Vice-President
Malcolm Selver (Gardner Hall)
Secretary
Lorraine Geissler (Harriet Hall)
Treasurer
Roe DiBlasio (Harriet Hall)

For more information about the Newman Club, see any one of the officers at any time.

Theta Tau Open House Huge Success

By Joyce Harnois

Robert Brooks, President of Theta Tau, welcomed the teacher-education students of Bryant to its annual open house September 25 in Jacobs Hall.

Sophomores and juniors served as the welcoming committee to the new freshmen and graduates.

Honored guests for the evening were Dean Mercier, Mrs. O'Connell, and Mr. Camper. Graduates of the class of '63 and the present seniors who are student teaching during the fall semester were also honored.

Highlighting the evening were colored slides shown by Mr. Camper on his recent tour of Europe.

Dancing and refreshments culminate the evening's festivities.

Bob Marcus Attends International Circle K Convention

By Pat Grieco

This summer, Bob Marcus, a Bryant Circle K member, attended the International Circle K Convention in Norfolk, Va. Circle K is an international collegiate public service organization. The convention was held in a luxury motor hotel during August 26 through 29.

The convention consisted primarily of a large number of meetings on the district level (New England) and on the international level. Also, there were numerous workshop meetings where students from all over the country sat down together and discussed a particular area or function of Circle K activities. Bob attended all the meetings and several of the workshops.

His most rewarding part of the convention concerned his opportunity to talk with college students from all over the country about the problems in their region. For example, he had many long talks with Southern students about integration and racial problems.

All in all, the convention was an interesting and rewarding experience. The members of the Bryant Circle K club are proud of its representation at the International Convention.

Viewpoint:

The Third American Revolution

By Brian Fitzgerald

The first revolution was political with the colonists wanting representation and achieving independence. The second revolution was economic with the center of economic activity moving from the agricultural South to the industrial North.

The third revolution is social. It began one hundred years ago with Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

The Negro's fight for freedom is comparable to the colonist's fight in 1776. They have their organizers in Martin Luther King and their radicals in the Black Muslims who do not want integration but complete segregation in wanting their own state.

The Negro's unrepresented taxes is contained in the suppression by the white in social, economic, and political fields. His Boston Tea Party is the sit-in demonstration.

The Negro has had his Lexingtons and Concord in the Murder of Medgar Evers, the church murder of four girls, and the obstinateness of Governor Barnett of Mississippi and Governor Wallace of Alabama.

His winter at Valley Forge is the historic and orderly mammoth march on Washington.

The big question is still to be answered: When will the negro defeat Cornwallis at Yorktown?

Legal Notes from the Law Club

By D. R. Barber

On Wednesday, September 18, the Law Club held its initial meeting of the school year. President Lynn Gandolfini called the meeting to order. After welcoming everyone back, the president went over the objectives and goals which the club will try to perform throughout the school year. Speaker meetings, films, field trips, and panel discussions are some of the activities which the club will offer to its members. Also, possibilities of a trip to Washington, D. C., were discussed with much interest from the members.

Miss Gandolfini also appointed a committee to set up a display in the auditorium for September 22, as part of the "Meet the Senators" program presented by the Student Senate.

The Executive Committee was appointed for the purpose of helping the president and to act as a ruling committee for the Law Club. This committee consists of the following members: Jerry Sullivan, Chairman; Lynn Gandolfini, Marie Ricci, Barbara McCarthy, Eileen Rota, Bill Paxson, James Tarantino, Anne Fee, Greta Ferguson, and D. R. Barber.

The club's advisor, Mr. Parilla, also welcomed the members and gave a talk on what his ideas were concerning the activities of the club.

Mr. Parilla also gave the committee some interesting suggestions to think about relating to activities of the club.

After the meeting, the executive committee met and set up the Freshmen Sign-Up meeting for Wednesday night—September 25. Anyone interested in joining Bryant's Law Club (freshmen or upperclassmen) should keep an eye out for bulletins concerning the next meeting, the time and place.

All members contemplate having a real "active" and interesting semester—so make yourself "LEGAL"—join the Law Club.

WORDS: THEIR CAUSE AND CURE

Today let us take up the subject of etymology (or entomology, as it is sometimes called) which is the study of word origins (or insects, as they are sometimes called).

Where are word origins (insects) to be found? Well sir, sometimes words are proper names which have passed into the language. Take, for instance, the words used in electricity: ampere was named after its discoverer, the Frenchman Andre Marie Ampere (1775-1836); similarly, ohm was named after the German G.S. Ohm (1781-1854), watt after the Scot James Watt (1736-1819), and bulb after the American Fred C. Bulb (1843-1912).

There is, incidentally, quite a poignant little story about Mr. Bulb. Until Bulb's invention, all illumination was provided by gas, which was named after its inventor Milton T. Gas who, strange to tell, had been Bulb's roommate at Cal Tech!

In fact, strange to tell, the third man sharing the room with Bulb and Gas was also one whose name burns bright in the annals of illumination—Walter Candle!

The three roommates were inseparable companions in college. After graduation all three did research in the problems of artificial light, which at this time did not exist. All America used to go to bed with the chickens, and many fine citizens were, alas, severely injured falling off the roost.

Well sir, the three comrades—Bulb, Gas, and Candle—promised to be friends forever when they left school, but success, alas, spoiled all that. First Candle invented the candle, got rich, and forgot his old friends. Then Gas invented gas, got rich, bankrupted Candle, and forgot his old friends. Then Bulb invented the bulb, got rich, bankrupted Gas, and forgot his old friends.

Candle and Gas, bitter and impoverished at the ages respectively of 75 and 71, went to sea as respectively the world's oldest and second oldest cabin boy. Bulb, rich and grand, also went to sea, but he went in style—as a first-class passenger on luxury liners.

Well sir, strange to tell, all three were aboard the ill-fated Lusitania when she was sunk in the North Atlantic. And strange to tell, when they were swimming for their lives after the shipwreck, all three clambered aboard the same dinghy!

Well sir, chastened and made wiser by their brush with peril, they fell into each other's arms and wept and exchanged forgiveness and became fast friends all over again.

For three years they drifted in the dinghy, shaking hands and singing the Cal Tech rouser all the while. Then, at long last, they spied a passing liner and were taken aboard.

They remained fast friends for the rest of their days, which, I regret to report, were not many, because the liner which picked them up was the Titanic.

What a pity that Marlboros were not invented during the lifetimes of Bulb, Gas, and Candle. Had there been Marlboros, these three friends never would have grown apart because they would have realized how much, despite their differences, they still had in common. I mean to say that Marlboros can be lit by candle, by gas, and by electricity, and no matter how you light them, you always get a lot to like—a filter, a flavor, a pack or box that makes anyone—including Bulb, Gas, and Candle—settle back and forswear pettiness and smile the sweet smile of friendship on all who pass!

MASQUERS

By Bill Chamberlain

Welcome, Frosh!! The Masquers is the dramatic society here at Bryant College. We stage two or three productions each year. These productions vary from dramas to melo-dramas to comedies. Our first play this year will be a light comedy with individual skits between the acts. We need actors, singers, dancers, a production crew, and a publicity crew.

Our first meeting was Wednesday, September 18. We have had a very promising turn out thus far and interest is high.

The rewards one gathers from Masquers is a type which cannot be acquired from any other organization on Bryant's Campus. In the Masquers one learns poise, self-confidence, and the ability to feel at ease while addressing any size group. The Masquers gives a great feeling of satisfaction through a job well done and graciously received. Tangible rewards consist of the "The Masquers Key" for one year of service and the senior pin for graduating students. The Masquers has a theatre party each year.

If you missed our first enrollment meeting, you may sign up at our next meeting, soon to be announced, or at tryouts in early October.

Freshmen Free Tomorrow

up by running up the "beginners" ski slope. (Irony, isn't it?)

The first ball game to start was the freshmen girls against the female vigilantes. The vigilantes went to bat first and scored three runs. To try and save face for the freshmen, Mildred Fuchs smacked a grounder through the second baseman's legs driving in another runner and herself, for the only homer of the game. Final score, as best as I could figure, was freshmen girls 3, Vigilantes 9.

The freshmen and Vigilantes had already started their game when I arrived from the girls' game and the freshmen had a nice 5 to 1 lead. But we all know that the vigilantes were just letting the freshmen have their little fun. When the vigilantes "really started playing," the margin widened to 6 to 1. What to do? After all, one must abide by the rules set down by the umpires. Ah, how convenient that the umpires should be Vigilantes. Not to mention any names, but the calls were starting to have a one-sided effect. Well, the freshmen first tried to do a little peaceful arbitrating—no good. Then they tried loud arguing in the form of yelling—Still no good. So, in a very unified manner the freshmen members of the team encircled the second base and sang; in a call for justice to all, be they upperclassmen or freshmen, "Hail to thee, dear Alma Mater," the vigilantes started their score climbing. Now the freshmen really got mad. A vigilante runner rounding third discovered that tagging home plate was now a little more difficult than usual. He had to catch the freshman holding it. The game ended with the freshmen having 6 earned runs and the vigilantes with seven questionably earned runs.

Volleyball spud and football occupied the others until a tug-of-war was arranged. Girls against the guys.

"Are you ready?" shouted the judge. "Go."

"Ugh, snap, ouch!" all fall down. Our freshmen get bigger each year! Each time the tug-of-war would start, the rope would break and thus no winner. At the end of this attempted game the food was ready and many a hungry person filled his stomach.

And of course there was the "meet the Senators night" with the hootenanny. Here you had the chance to meet the people behind the badges and learn of their organizations' work and activities,—after which you sang along with members of the glee club.

So possibly you won't burn your beanie tomorrow. And maybe now you can understand the meaning behind what looks like a real nutty idea of having fun with the freshmen. Well, whether or not you do throw the "little hat" into the blaze, the memory of the first four weeks at Bryant will be filled with events through which you and your faithful beanie forge together. Sigh!

A Day In Court

By Margo Drotter

Upon order by Judge Dick Haines, the courtroom door opened and Sergeant at Arms, Sandy Perler, led the first Frosh victim to the front of the Court, thus beginning the September, 1963, session of the Most Exalted Court of the Vigilantes.

The silence was broken as The Most High Court Solicitor Larry Reed read the complaint made by a Vigilante. The charge: Failure to wear beanie. As this was proclaimed, the audience hissed and howled and the jurors shook their heads in disgust. Defense Attorney Dick Bartells then took over. After a brief consultation with the defendant, he told Judge Haines that the defendant pleaded "guilty as charged." The scarlet faced Frosh then faced the Judge and accepted her sentence of dusting all the trophies in the Activities Room. She was then dismissed.

The next Frosh to take the stand was a rather self-assured fellow who claimed he was "not guilty" to the charges of being discourteous and insolent to a Vigilante. Upon hearing this, Prosecuting Attorney Bob Scott immediately cross-examined the fellow making him realize his guilt. Judge Haines then sentenced him to brushing the area in front of Gardner Hall with a toothbrush.

He had no sooner left when a young Frosh lady stomped up to the front of the Courtroom, faced the audience, and said "I'm not guilty." She had been charged: Failure to wear a beanie and not knowing the Alma Mater. When asked by the Judge to sing the Alma Mater for the Court, she flatly refused. This caused a great commotion among the spectators in the courtroom. After much protesting, she recited the Alma Mater, then accepted her sentence and haughtily left the room.

Next to enter were two young ladies who very meekly walked forward. They kept staring at the floor not daring to face the Court. Both had been charged with not knowing the Alma Mater. When they were told to sing it to the Court, their faces blanched, and they stuttered and stumbled. After finally reciting it, they accepted their sentences and practically ran out of the room.

The last Frosh to enter for the day was a young man. He had been charged with disorderly conduct and not wearing a beanie. He very boldly told the Jury that he felt the Orientation program was a waste of time, and he did not personally care for the attitudes of the Vigilantes. Upon hearing this, the spectators and jurors openly expressed their feelings. After being sentenced to five hours of maintenance work for the college, he quietly left the courtroom.

Thus ended one day in Vigilante Court. All the Freshmen who had entered its doors thinking it was a "big joke" and a waste of time, left realizing how important and beneficial an orientation program is in starting off their years at Bryant College in the right way.

A First Time . . .

By Beverly Samson

It is said that there is a first time for everything; this is my first experience as a college freshman. I think I can very truthfully say that my first day was the most confusing and frustrating day of my life!

The day started out normally enough. I rose late, skipped breakfast, and raced around frantically so that I would be ready on time. Naturally, my ride was late!

Arriving at Bryant, I became at once hesitant to enter. However, I found the upperclassmen to be only too interested in the frosh. I was handed a beanie and badge. On the badge I was told to write my name, hometown, and phone number! One girl was told to add her measurements to this information . . . and they call us freshmen!

After purchasing books and a locker key, I proceeded to South Hall to find my locker. Walking down the stairs, tons of books in my arms, I slipped and almost catapulted into the arms of three upperclassmen! Chrivalous all, they gallantly cried out, "Whoops, watch out!" Invaluable advice!!

By this time, I was ready to slip quietly out a side door, never to return. But I decided to give Bryant one more try. Soon, I came face to face with the most terrifying and, at the same time, reassuring group on campus . . . the Vigilante Committee. I just knew I could never remember all those rules they had handed down! As for the Alma Mater, learning it was fine; but the thought of having to sing it in front of everyone made my legs turn to jelly and my throat to leather!

Yet I realized that the Vigilante Committee absolutely prohibited hazing of freshmen by upperclassmen, and they really have the welfare of the freshman at heart. (I think so, anyway.)

Yes, there is a first time for everything; but what a relief to know that my first day at Bryant is over!

"Here ducky, ducky."

These freshmen girls missed some of the activities at the picnic as they tried to catch ducks in the beautiful pond of Diamond Hill State Park.

"Get going, Vigilantes"

The turning point in the Vigilante-Frosh softball game at the freshman picnic was when the freshmen players suddenly became lazy and decided to take a rest. The Vigilantes took advantage of this opportunity and belted home 7 of their 12 runs to beat the frosh, 12-6.

mother's role was raising children. The father worked at home, and religion and education were an innate function of the early family.

Today, the family has become urbanized and is a consuming family. The Father's employment is now away from the home; the education has moved to the school and the religion to the church. Our society has changed to accept women workers and equal rights for women. The modern family does not have the close ties with its kinfolk that its forebears had and it is a more emotional and closely-knit group. The most recent trend of the American family has been a movement from the city to the suburbs, where community life is being emphasized strongly.

Dr. Lebovitz's third talk was the "International Balance of Power." He explained that the world, which has consisted in the past of city-states and empires, now consists of nation-states. Not one of these states is desiring or strong enough to dominate all the others. Therefore, competition results in the balance of power. In other words, each nation, desiring and willing to fight for its own preservation, may ally itself with a stronger power to insure its safety. Both World War I and II show two alliance systems competing and warring against each other to create a new balance of power.

In the foreseeable future, there is no indication that nation-states will not continue to be the primary unit in the world. There is a possibility that there may be regional groups, similar to the European Common Market, but the nation-state would still be the primary form of state. The solution to many problems would be a world government. However, this is not practical now and may never be.

There is one predicable change—that there will be new changes in the alignment of nations and the balance of power. For example, with Red Russia moving away from Red China, the United States might even find herself allied with Red Russia against China or even more remotely with Red China against Russia.

The fourth talk that Dr. Lebovitz gave concerned "The State and the Individual." Dr. Lebovitz said that many individuals maintain that as the state gets stronger, it subordinates the individual. Dr. Lebovitz stated that this would be true in a totalitarian government but is not true in a democracy. In a democracy, we believe in limited government and in maximum rights for the individual. Even though in the United States, for example, there are more government controls

Bryant College Choir Has First Meeting

By Dorothy Oldfield

The Bryant Choir held its first meeting on September 16 and made plans to present a Thanksgiving Concert some time during the week of November 24.

More vibrant promising voices have been added to the Choir. The fifty-eight members consisting of forty-one girls and seventeen boys leaves something to be desired, namely about twenty more boys. Anyone who is interested will be welcome at our next meeting on September 25.

On Sunday, September 22, a hootenanny was sponsored by the members of the Choir at "Meet the Senators" in the gymnasium.

Junior Class at P. C. to Sponsor Folk Festival

Although "all the flowers have gone" there is "something blowin' in the wind" on the Providence College campus. The Junior Class has launched what it hopes will be an annual delight for college students who enjoy folk music.

The Juniors call the endeavor Festival '63. It is staged for Saturday evening, October 26 in Alumni Hall at eight o'clock. That evening ten outstanding Southern New England collegiate groups or individuals will perform before area collegians. At the same time these balladeers will be competing for cash prizes. First place incentive will be $100 and the two runnerup groups will each receive $50. Moreover among the judges will be some leading record company's artist and repertoire men. Consequently, the audience as well as the performers will be witness to and part of the current "folk process."

Following the theory that good entertainment does not necessarily have to be expensive tickets for this spectacle will be one dollar per person. Tickets will not only be sold at Providence College but also by mail, c/o Box 101 and on almost every college green in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island through your student social organization.

So as the "green leaves of summer" drift away and the "chilly winds" begin to blow, the Juniors are eagerly anticipating "a meeting here" on the last Saturday in October. An evening that Southern New England undergraduates will be singing about and remembering as long as "the Saints go marching in."

The Student Senate will begin making plans for Winter Weekend at their next meeting.

than ever, the rights of the individual are still maximized. The only difference now is that because there are so many individuals, groups of individuals have come to play the part as spokesman which once the individual played.

Under a totalitarian government, the state is supreme and the individual is a servant to his government. Dr. Lebovitz said he cannot foresee a totalitarian government for the United States.

Senate Planning Class Elections

By Paul Langello

Anyone who is interested and desires to be an officer for his class will soon be given the opportunity to campaign for this purpose provided that all of the qualifications set up by the Student Senate are fulfilled. The offices that are available are those of President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer. A candidate cannot run for more than one office at one time. A candidate may run as a member of a slate or as an independent.

The first qualification an applicant for class officer must meet is that he have at least a 2.0 cumulative average. (Because the freshmen have not as yet established a cumulative average, this qualification does not apply to them.)

The second qualification is that each applicant must submit to the Student Senate a petition signed by 35 members of his class. No person may sign more than one petition for any one office. Petitions to be signed may be picked up in the Activities Office on or after Monday, October 7. The petitions must be returned to the Activities Office no later than Friday, October 18.

The Student Senate has an Election Committee appointed. The chairman of this committee is Student Senate Vice-President Bob Scott. The committee has complete control of voting rules and campaigning restrictions as well as having supervision of voting procedure on election days.

Voting will take place in the Bryant Gymnasium during hours that

Inside the Game:

New Intramural Program

By Dave Barber

The Bryant Intramural Sports Program has been revised to offer organized competition to all members of the student body. It shall be the main purpose of the Intramural Department to encourage the entire student body to participate in organized sports and also encourage participation in wholesome active recreation between student groups and individuals; and the program shall foster a true spirit of fair play and sportsmanship among participants and spectators.

Whenever possible, GLC and independent champs will be determined in each sport. However, because of limited facilities and time, league play will run simultaneously with separate records for each group. In addition, GLC organizations will be given points for entering teams and individuals into Intramural competition which will determine the awarding of the George A. Richards Intramural Trophy.

All contests shall be covered by the official intercollegiate or amateur rules for that sport, except where changes have been developed for play at Bryant. These changes will be stated in the printed materials for each sport. Entry points will not be awarded to a team or individual that forfeits any scheduled contest. A team must play all scheduled contests to earn these points.

Table Tennis Talk

By Bill Chamberlain

Welcome, Freshmen!! You have all attended classes by now and thus become acquainted with Bryant's academic program. But, have you discovered our extracurricular sports program? We have available to us a basketball court on Charlesfield Street, tennis courts on Benevolent Street, an athletic field on Gano Street, and a game room on the floor above the Student Union. Table tennis is the main activity enjoyed in the game room.

Table tennis is a very popular activity at Bryant. Seldom do you find the game room empty.

Each semester we have a men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles tournament here at Bryant. Any student is invited to compete. Trophies, medals, or certificates are given to the first-, second-, and third-place winners in each division. The tournament for the semester is scheduled for shortly before the Christmas vacation. A sign-up sheet will be posted on the bulletin board in the game room. Any student interested may enter any division of the competition.

This year an intercollegiate tournament among the Rhode Island schools is planned. In the past, Bryant has been undefeated in matches against the local colleges. This year a trophy will be presented to the winning school. Tryouts for the Bryant team will be open to all students. The dates for the tryouts will be posted on the game room bulletin board.

If you don't want to enter the tournament or try out for the team, I urge you to come to the game and enjoy a game of table tennis, just for the fun of it.

Highest Athletic Award Named for Popular Advertising Professor

As has been mentioned the purpose of Intramural Sports at Bryant College is to give students, whether fraternity members, sorority members or independents, the opportunity to participate in organized competition. In the past it has been felt that winning a Fraternity Trophy is the only real interest on campus. One should feel that having a member of his fraternity on a Varsity squad is even more important than winning the Fraternity Trophy. As we all know sometimes this seems most difficult but I have checked with many colleges to try to find a way to satisfy both desires.

This year a new point-award system is being introduced to add to the program. Many colleges and universities use a similar system. Points will be awarded for entering a team, winning a contest, and being the champion of a sport.

Example:

Touch Football—
Entry Points .....	25
Victory Points .....	10
Championship Points .....	100

A fraternity enters its team, has ten wins, no losses, and wins the championship. Total points earned would be 225. These points from touch football would be added to points earned in other sports. The fraternity having the highest point total wins the George A. Richards Award. This award has been donated by a member of the faculty to the Intramural Program to give recognition to Professor Richards who through his efforts and interest back in the early years in Bryant College promoted a program of athletics that led to the present program. Our hats off to Professor Richards!

Any team winning the George A. Richards Award for three consecu-

September . . .

Month of Transition for The Sports World

By Lawrence Walenski

Here it is September and everyone is wondering what teams will be opponents in the great Fall classic—the World Series or maybe I should say what National League team will be opposing the perennial American League champions, the New York Yankees come October 6.

The month of September, with the American pastime coming to its annual close, is a signal for the other major professional sports to start up or to start practice and get ready for their coming season.

Already the National and American Football Leagues are two weeks old. The National Hockey and Basketball Associations have three to four weeks practice under their belts.

With all this hustle and bustle going on, people all over the country are wondering what the sports world will be like without the likes of Bob Cousery (retired) and Paul Hornung (suspended) participating in it. But then again some new athlete will rise to the occasion and give the sports followers their usual thrills of watching a "hat trick," a hundred yard punt return, or a 50 point game.

September is also the month when many highly touted and praised athletes try to make it in the "Big Boys' League."

One wonders how all four major sport leagues operate simultaneously without being hurt financially. Things have been running smoothly for the last 15 years and this with expansion of the leagues on the rise.

It is quite a remarkable feat to be able to catch a hockey game in the afternoon and a basketball game at night on a Saturday in Madison Square Garden, and then a N. F. L. game in Yankee Stadium on a Sunday afternoon.

Also let's not forget about the sports that run into and beyond September, such as golf, championship boxing, all star auto racing, and that up and coming sport—bowling.

So I guess September is a sort of New Year's Day; the leaving of baseball and the coming in of the others for another year of sports thrills and excitement.

News of the Ski Club

By William H. Carter, Sec.

The Bryant College Ski Club welcomes all its new members to a full year of ski activities. Now that we're a co-ed group, the size of the club is sure to double.

Numerous activities are on the agenda starting with a pre-season conditioning hike in the Berkshire mountains. Just before the Thanksgiving recess, we will have a Warren Miller ski movie coupled with a fashion show of ski clothes and equipment. As soon as the snow hits the ground, the club will be making regular trips to the local ski areas. The big event of the year will be a trip to one of the major resort areas of the North during the mid-semester break.

Competitions during the year will determine the club champions. So, start getting in shape, skiers; it promises to be a long, full season, and the competition will be keen.

tive years shall take permanent possession of the trophy. While the fraternities are working for the trophy, it shall be on display in the Athletic Trophy Case. The fraternity that helps or promotes the Varsity Program by having the most squad members on a Varsity team shall receive for its fraternity a plaque inscribed with the members' names.

The sign-up meeting for the ARCHWAY staff was held on Wednesday, September 25, 1963, at 8 p.m. in Room L i of Alumni Hall. At this meeting students who were already members of the staff filled out new schedule cards for the new semester. There was also a strong contingent of freshmen at the meeting who are interested in becoming members of the ARCHWAY staff. Many of them have already filled out schedule cards.

It is still not too late for anyone interested to become a member of the ARCHWAY. Come up to the ARCHWAY office and talk to Senior Editor, Bill Piccerelli. Don't forget that your newspaper is a very important part of your school!

Frosh Receive AOX Blotter

By Bob Armstrong

Alpha Theta Chi was the FIRST fraternity to greet the freshmen this year by distributing to them the AOX Blotter. The frosh will soon learn that AOX is always FIRST. All the Brothers are to be congratulated on another exceptional job with their Blotter.

One of the FIRST "Hootenannies" of the year was held last week in Bristol. A "Live Band" and plenty of "refreshments" highlighted the evening. The "Hootenanny" of course, was a huge success.

ATTENTION, frats and sororities! Campus Follies is just around the corner. NOW is the time to prepare. Make plans NOW for your stunt. A dance will precede the acts. An orchestra will be provided for your enjoyment. So if you like to dance and enjoy yourself, Campus Follies is for you. All the Brothers in AOX are working hard for this GREAT EVENT. The date for Stunt Night is Oct. 5. The competition promises to be the best yet. Handsome prizes will be awarded. Don't you miss this once-a-year event!

Charlie "the bull" Andrade will manage the powerful AOX football team. The "Bull" has some tough decisions to make because the team has such great depth. The coach sees another championship in football to be added to the frat collection. If you haven't as yet seen the frat's trophies, they are on display in the game room of the student union.

This past summer two pinnings took place. Congratulations to Louis Florio and Carolyn Snell (SIB); Maurice (Moe) Clare and Pauline DiPippo (SIB).

Alfy has an interest in sheep... A "girl" has wandered into the lives of Tarzan and Zeke... Moe is swinging... Fitzzy has a new pair of shoes... Louie has been hiding... Big Daddy is still growing with the frat.

Alpha Omicron News

By Robert Bergstrand

The brothers of Alpha Omicron and the sisters of Zeta Sigma Omicron wish to extend a hearty welcome to all the new students at Bryant, and a welcome home to all upperclassmen. We sincerely hope that this year will prove to be a very fruitful one for everybody.

Last year, we lost, through graduation, the active participation of a group of well liked and hard working brothers. But this year we are confident that much will be accomplished, and all of us will work our hardest to be a service to Bryant College and to all who are associated with Bryant.

Monte Carlo Night, an annual event sponsored by Alpha Omicron and Zeta Sigma Omicron, will be held Saturday evening, November 2. This is an evening of fun and excitement, that is spent by "gambling" with stage money. All kinds of games are available, such as Twenty-one, Poker, Roulette, Bird Cage, and many, many others. Near the end of the evening, all players get chances to bid their winnings on many prizes that will be auctioned off. There are prizes galore, and everyone who bids walks away with something.

The brothers of Alpha Omicron are very proud of their latest certificate of national recognition. The National Foundation of the March of Dimes awarded its Certificate of Appreciation to Alpha Omicron Fraternity, "for generous and meaningful support, enabling The National Foundation to continue its efforts in extending a large measure of happiness and hope to infants and children stricken with crippling diseases."

We thank Dick Haines, President of the Student Senate, for doing a terrific job and carrying out the responsibilities of his office in an excellent manner.

News of Chi Gamma Iota

By Jack McKiernan

The brothers of Chi Gamma Iota wish to welcome all the freshmen as well as the returning students to Bryant and to wish them a happy and successful semester.

We hope everyone enjoyed our little party on Friday, September 13th at the Geneva Sportsman's Club. I know all the brothers and sisters did.

Chi Gam is in the process of starting a football team, which we hope will be as successful as our softball team was last semester. Harry and Jim ought to be able to beef up the line sufficiently.

The date for Chi Gam's Smoker is October 17; we wish to invite everyone who is interested in joining a fraternity to attend.

The Greek set a new record for an eviction. He lasted only nine days, but he's moving on to bigger and better things at a new location. Parties will continue as usual. Harry Beardsley threw a good party the first week of this semester; however, his parties are much more civilized than the Greek's.

Three brothers who were recent graduates have joined the Army for rehabilitation purposes. They are part of the government's new program; the government feels that the enemy will take one look at this trio and will die of laughter.

Volleyball season is fast approaching. With volleyballs in hand, sneakers on feet, and high hopes of many action-packed games, we're ready for it!

During the summer SIB was engaged in various activities. Tierney's delicatessen will long remember one of them, our raffle held in early June. Our congratulations to Tierney's for winning the raffled television. We hope that in between sandwich-making, they will enjoy many happy hours of viewing pleasure.

Due to the hard work of the sisters and the huge success of our raffle, a trip was taken to the Cape. The tides were high and likewise our spirits. As our trip began Friday and ended Sunday night, we had ample time to enjoy the waves, the sandflies, and a surprise visit by friendly beachcombers late Saturday evening. We are all regretful that we don't have more raffles and more trips to the Cape by which to celebrate them.

Once again, welcome freshmen! Keep smiling and keep those beanies on!

Delta Sigma Chi

By Sue Ceppetelli

WELCOME, FRESHMEN!

The sisters of DEX want to extend a warm welcome to all newcomers on the Bryant Campus and wish them the very best of luck.

At a recent installation party at the home of Paula Swanson, the following officers were installed: President, Marie Rotondo; Vice-President, Ellie Sammartino; Secretary, Pauline Vezina; Treasurer, Paula Swanson; Pledge Mistress, Debbie Del Deo; Corresponding Secretary, Ollie Burke; Historian and Athletic Director, Sue Ceppetelli.

Lots of luck to AOX in their upcoming Campus Follies. We hope to see everyone there and are sure it will be a real success.

G.L.C. sign-ups are coming soon. We're looking forward to meeting everyone.

Delta's Diary: Our Vigilantes, Paula and Marie, are having a good time... "Water, water everywhere; but I haven't got a drop to spare," huh Ellie?... The brothers wear black and yellow paint well... Pauline is enjoying speech class... Deltas are busy—with classes and homework, getting ready for the smoker, trying to help, and saying "nothing."

Sigma Iota Beta Sorority

By Claire Bosma

Are you never frowning, always smiling, courteous, and obliging? Does your hair stand on end and raise your beanie a foot when you see an armband approaching? Has the Alma Mater become as familiar to you as the recently popular "I Want to go Home?" Then you are a Freshman, and to you comes a warm hello and a sincere welcome from the sisters of SIB. We hope that this year, your first at Bryant College, will be a successful and prosperous one and that you will strive diligently to obtain the education necessary to prepare you for your chosen careers. Good luck!

In addition to welcoming all Freshmen, on behalf of the sisters of SIB, I would like to announce that Open House will be held on October 1 from two until five at the Bryant gymnasium. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone. At that time we will attempt to introduce ourselves and our sorority to all who are interested. It will be then also that the opportunity will be afforded to sign up for our smoker on November 7. We eagerly look forward to seeing you and getting to know you.

Confusion is in the air, and the coffee percolators have begun to perk—SIB is beginning plans for its annual and unique dance, "Coffee and Confusion," the only dance of its kind on campus where those who attend dress to the theme of the dance and the "beat" atmosphere.

Beta Iota Beta

Turk

The brothers of BETA IOTA BETA wish the incoming freshmen good luck in their stay at Bryant. We hope you will all turn out to support the school's functions.

The following brothers were elected to office last week: Frank Reed, Sergeant-at-Arms; Bruce Powell, alumni secretary; Bob Testani, historian, and Kevin O'Brien, chaplain.

We hope you have all purchased your raffle tickets for this year's raffle. The first prize of $10. per week for the remaining 13 weeks of the semester and the second prize of $5. will be presented to the winners this afternoon.

BIB's athletic director, Barry Steinfink, is spending his afternoons coaching the football team to top condition. A full roster and eager team assures us of a strong season.

Our President, Steve Konish, is busy selling Bryant jackets. Look for him and his representatives on campus.

BIB and SIB are pushing hard for another First Place Trophy in the Campus Follies!

A big party is being planned for the near future. Keep your ears open. Remember last year's???

Tau Epsilon

By Dick Lovelace

The brothers of Tau Epsilon Fraternity welcome all freshmen to Bryant College. Many events are being planned to make your stay here at Bryant a pleasant and enjoyable one.

We would like to congratulate the brothers who were recently married: George Anter, John Salvador, and Al Gilmore.

Good luck to the brothers who were recently graduated. And, by the way, does anyone have a job for Fuzzy or Mac?

What The Greeks Are Doing

Sigma Lambda Theta

By Gerri Huck

Theta is off to another successful year with many plans for the coming semesters.

We would like to welcome back all our sisters and the new freshmen with a reminder that our Smoker will be coming up soon.

Our first meeting brought about the election of four officers: Pledge Mistress: Judy Dorr; Activities Director: Gerri Huck; Athletic Director: Sherri Barnett; Chaplain: Bobbie Basile.

All of the sisters wish them luck with their new positions.

Phi Sig News

By Fred Robinson

The brothers of Phi Sigma Nu wish to extend their welcome to all the freshmen. We want to wish Arnold Montaquilla, who was the treasurer of the fraternity, the best of luck in transferring to Suffolk University to major in law.

The election for a new treasurer resulted in these four changes in offices. The final election results are as follows:

Bob Scott .....Treasurer
Joe Finelli.....Assistant Treasurer
Steve Murray.....Secretary
Ken Allard.....Chaplain

Plans are now being made for the Greek Letter Council's "Open House" to be held on October 1 in the Bryant Auditorium. All freshmen are urged to attend this affair, since this will be the first opportunity to get a general idea of the fraternities and sororities on campus.

Our football team under the guidance of Pete Sodasky, Athletic Director, is anticipating a good season.

The brothers of Phi Sig wish to welcome back the spearhead of the fraternity, Pete Dolan; and also want to know who stole the FANG????? Could it be Salisbury Hall?

News of Beta Sigma Chi

By Paul Langello

BETA SIGMA CHI welcomes all freshmen to Bryant College. We wish to extend to the freshmen best wishes for success here at Bryant.

Beta is presently working on its upcoming Personality Ball. This year the Ball will be held on Friday, October 25, at the Grist Mill. Music will be by the Manhattans. This is the first year that the Personality Ball, which is the first formal dance of the year, is being held off campus.

On October 31, Beta will have its smoker. Plans for this smoker are now being made.

This year, as in past years, Beta Sigma Chi is going to give parties for the children at the St. Aloysius Orphanage. The first of these parties is scheduled for the first week in November.

Beta has its football team organized and is ready to compete. The team, coached by Reid Cameron, is capable of being one of the best on campus. Beta will display good sportsmanship and fair play so as to do its part in making the interfraternity sports program successful.

The Brothers of Beta Sigma Chi wish to congratulate Larry McCall and Lorraine Geissler who recently got pinned.

Don't forget to start saving Marlboro cigarette packs for the College Brand Round-up Contest, which is coming soon.

Sigma Lambda Pi News

The brothers of Sigma Lambda Pi Fraternity wish to welcome all the new freshmen to the Bryant College Campus. We are sure that if you combine the right amount of social activity with the right amount of scholastic activity at the appropriate time your adjustment to life at Bryant will be enjoyable and profitable.

Sigma Lambda Pi has already begun work on the biggest social event on the Bryant Campus—SNO' QUEEN. This year is SNO' QUEEN'S 25th anniversary at Bryant and the brothers of Sigma Lambda Pi are going "all out" to make this year's SNO' QUEEN one that will be remembered for many years.

The brothers of Sigma Lambda Pi are looking forward to a good year under the able direction of new president Pete Castelli. Other new officers are as follows: Vice President, Steve Kamins; Pledgemaster, Tom Ferradi; Treasurer, Bruce Kerzner; and Secretary, Tony Palumbo.

Kappa Delta Kappa

As I was floating through a sea of beanies the other day, I noticed that many freshmen were wearing worried expressions. I will now set your minds at rest. BEANIES CANNOT GROW ROOTS! You will eventually be rid of those infernal things with, we hope, no drastic after effects. So now that you are all happy again, KOK welcomes you.

In case you haven't met any of the sisters yet, we can usually be found wearing green blazers and being helpful to lost freshmen. At least, we try to be helpful; and if we've misdirected any of you, we're very sorry. It wasn't intentional.

Watch this column regularly for important social notes, especially the dates of our dance, smoker, and other events of interest. Reading is definitely the thing to do nowadays, so why not start right here.

Alpha Phi Kappa

By Eila Wirtanen

Hi! Welcome back, everyone, and a big welcome to all freshmen.

Alpha Phi Kappa is going to try to make this coming school year a good one both for our sorority and for everyone else. As so many girls graduated from the forty-numbered group which we had a couple of years ago, there are only nine of us now. As you can see, this is quite a decrease. But this year if any one is interested in pledging Alpha Phi Kappa, we are sure things will go well for us;

for with our brothers of Kappa Tau behind us, we know we'll do well.

Very soon you are going to see our sisters wearing new uniforms. We are all very pleased and are looking forward to wearing them. The uniform consists of a blazer and skirt, periwinkle blue in color, and white blouses. The pockets on the blazer will have our Greek letters on them.

Well, that's all for now. Good luck, everybody, and until next time, I'll be seeing you.

PHI Upsilon News

By Sandra Krager

Well, here we are once again at the beginning of another semester. We would like to, first of all, extend greetings to all the new freshmen and transfer students—W E L C O M E !

Phi U is getting into the swing of things and starting the year off with a bang right away. September 21, this Saturday, is the night of the fabulous "Hawaiian Luau." If you want to have the time of your life in a tantalizing, enchanting atmosphere filled with illusions of palm trees and pineapples, join us Saturday, at 8:00 in the Bryant Auditorium. Dress casually or in costume fitting to the occasion.

Have you heard the latest? Jack, Frank, and Buddy have enlisted—togetherness! We're sure going to miss them.

All the new sisters have finally obtained their uniforms. They really look great.

Had a swinging poster party last Sunday, and, of course, we shall be decorating in the gym Saturday morning for the big event.

Will say So long! and close for now. Until next time.

Sigma Iota Chi

By Carol Egglestone

The sisters of Sigma Iota Chi wish to welcome all of the Freshmen to the Bryant Campus.

This past summer was an especially happy one for three of our sisters who left us in July. Marie Ruggerio, our last year's president, was married in August and Mary Ellen Hogan and Judy Volpe became engaged. We all want to wish them the best of luck.

We ended the summer on a very happy note by holding a picnic with our brothers, Phi Sigma Nu. A hayride ended a day that was enjoyed by all.

We are now busy planning our smoker which is to be held on October 15 and are looking forward to meeting all of you then.
