Possibility Refectory will be Open by Easter

To House New Dining Room, Enlarged Library, Faculty Offices

By Rita Harte

The Bryant administration is hoping to have the new refectory-library building opened upon our return from Easter recess, Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs, Vice-President, has reported.

While the transferring of equipment is taking place, a process that will take approximately two or three days, the number of hot dishes served will be cut down in the "cafe" and paper plates will be used.

Approximately 60 per cent of the equipment put in the refectory will be new. The motif in the dining-hall decoration will be a color scheme of pinks and greens, with a pink-on-gray floor covering. There will be new self-edged formica tables and chairs in round and square design, to give more of a dining-room effect.

In the kitchen there is a new stove and a new walk-in refrigerator.

On one side of the dining area hot meals will be served, and on the other side, cold foods will be served.

Acoustic Ceilings

On the bottom floor, the library occupies the large middle room. There are two machine rooms on each side of the library. All rooms have acoustic ceilings.

Marketing Club Speakers to Be Tripled; Field Trips, Dinner Planned

By JERRY CEREL

At its initial meeting of the semester, the Bryant College Marketing Club voted to increase the number of guest speakers this semester. These speakers will be representatives from nationally-known concerns who have worked in the various phases of marketing for many years and are thoroughly familiar with its numerous problems.

Also approved by the organization are a tentative dinner-dance early in June, and a field trip that will enable the members to witness some of the problems of a local concern.

President Joe Cari explained to the new members the club affiliation with the American Marketing Association and of its advantages to them now and after graduation. The other officers of the organization were introduced to the group. They are Don Shore, Vice-President; Henry Murphy, Secretary; Bob Patry, Treasurer; and Jerry Cerel, Historian. Professor George Bates is the Faculty Advisor.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of coffee and doughnuts.

Anyone in the BA divisions who is still interested in joining the Marketing Club should make his intentions known to one of the officers or attend the next meeting, Thursday, March 20.

Salisbury Hall Greets Mrs. Nuttall

By ANITA ISENBERG

The administration and student body of Bryant College welcome a new house director to the Bryant Campus. Mrs. Alice L. Nuttall, Salisbury Hall's new house mother, is well acquainted with the Providence area, as she has lived in Rhode Island all her life. A graduate of Cranston High School, Mrs. Nuttall has had a great deal of experience with young people, having raised two daughters and being the proud grandmother of four. Semi-classical music, and sewing are among the pastimes which hold her interest. This is Mrs. Nuttall's first experience as a house director, although she operated her own delicatessen and bakery before joining the Bryant College staff.

Tri-School Hillel Dance This Sunday

By CAROLE OLINER

On Sunday, March 23, an informal Installation Dance, marking the inauguration of the new officers of the Hillel Foundation of Brown University, will be held at Alumnae Hall, Pembroke College.

Brown and Pembroke will be acting as hosts for schools in the New England area.

Those students interested in purchasing tickets for the dance may contact Paula Brown, Morty Saftler, or Barry Levine, members of Bryant's Hillel Foundation. Tickets cost $1.00 if purchased before the 23rd, and $1.25 if purchased at the door.

Humantashen Served at Social
Purim was the theme of Bryant Hillel's social, held on Sunday, March 9, 1958. The traditional delicacy, humantashen, was served along with cokes.

Scenes from the Book of Esther were used as decorations.

Among the guests were students from Brown University, Pembroke, Rhode Island School of Design, Providence College, and the University of Rhode Island.

Secretaries Preview Tomorrow's Office

By Marie Gilbertie

An assembly for all secretarial students was held on Friday, March 14, at 9 a.m. in the auditorium. The guest speaker for the assembly was Mr. Henry Dawes, Director of Personnel at the Connecticut Life Insurance Company in Hartford—a firm employing several Bryant graduates.

Mr. Dawes' talk was entitled "The Secretary in the Office of Tomorrow." He discussed factors which he considered important in the job interview and various traits which are important to success. In addition, he showed color slides of the ultramodernistic office building of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company.

Included in the assembly was the presentation of two typewriting awards. Miss Sheryl Exley, who has passed three 10-minute time writings at an average speed of 80 w.p.m., was awarded a sterling silver charm bracelet. Mr. Louis Tougnieri, who has typed three ten-minute timed writings at an average of 77 w.p.m., was presented a gold pin.

Miss Sheryl Exley

Miss Sheryl Exley, a seventeen-year-old typing expert, hails from Greenville, Rhode Island. Sheryl attended Mt. Pleasant High School, where she has had two years of typing experience. Upon graduation, she was typing at the rate of 77 w.p.m. She entered the Teachers' Training Course at Bryant in September, 1956, and is now typing 80 w.p.m.

Sheryl is corresponding secretary for Theta Tau and also a member of Delta Sigma Chi Sorority.

Besides typing, she also enjoys skiing and ice-skating.

Mr. Louis Tougnieri

Louis Tougnieri, secretary of Stockwell House, is well qualified for his office. He is enrolled in the Administrative Division of the Executive Secretarial Course here at Bryant and is a superb typist.

Louis was graduated from Greenfield High School in 1956 as class valedictorian. At that time he was typing 65 w.p.m. He is now typing 77 w.p.m. and has earned a gold pin as a reward for his acquired skill.

Because of his outstanding academic achievements, he is now a member of the Key. Louis is also an active member of Chi Gamma Iota fraternity.

Beanies, Heckling, Vigilante Court Highlight Week

By BILL AYDELLOTTE

Bryant College opened for the Spring Semester on February 24, 1958. In addition to the returning upperclassmen, Bryant acquired 246 Freshmen, some of whom took the preparatory course last semester.

This group of Freshmen represents seventeen states, Canada, and Hong Kong, China. Most of the students registered for courses in the School of Business Administration, and the second largest group enrolled in the School of Secretarial Science. The remainder are registered in the preparatory course, prior to entering the Business Administration School next semester.

Freshman Orientation

Freshman Orientation began for the new students on February 25 with a planning session of the Vigilante Court of seniors in the Barn Studio. The meeting was called for the purpose of making plans for Freshman counselling. An orientation program for student activities was held at 7:30 that evening, at which time leaders of various religious, social, and professional clubs acquainted the Freshmen with the programs and aspirations promoted by these organizations.

The orientation program was followed by a "Get Acquainted Dance," featuring the well-known dance orchestra "The Star Dusters."

Freshmen orientation ended at 10:00 a. m., February 26, after an informative address given by the College Deans and Officers. The Deans impressed upon the new students the necessity for acquiring a well-rounded business education in the present day of keen competition. They implied that acquiring an attitude of complacency and a negative outlook towards the College curriculum would be detrimental and would lead to a feeling of false security in our present society.

Liberation Dance

On Saturday, March 15, the Greek Letter Council presented its "Liberation Dance" in the gymnasium. This event brought to a close the mild hazing that upper classmen administer to Freshmen. The dance was a great success, because of the fine spirit displayed by the student body.

"Bryant's View" Programs Explain Income Tax Problems

This particular subject has been presented for two weeks now through a panel discussion led by Dean Galski of the School of Business Administration. Participating teachers are Professors James Berluti, Charles Goulston, and Dorman Hayes, all of the Accounting Department.

Why Are We at Bryant?

College means many things to many people. Some are here at the request of their parents and others because of a sense of obligation to them. A third group attends because they actually believe a college degree assures them of a successful life (i. e., a good job, a new car, a beautiful home). Then, of course, there's the hail-fellow-well-met social circle type, comprised of the convivial Joe Collegiates and Mary Co-cds who are here for "the college life."

It's easy to spot these types, although difficult to understand their different motives. They have several things in common: lack of attention in class, asking irrelevant questions to delay getting back to the matter at hand, preparing assignments poorly (if prepared at all), cheating, and studying for a "mark," not for the knowledge to be gained.

This apathy for education might be excused at the secondary level. A high school student, not having decided what his future will be, and not having the maturity, wisdom, and experience to realize the value of education, will many times become lethargic toward his studies. But a college student, having reasonably ascertained in what field his future job lies, cannot be let off this easily.

St. Paul made an excellent point by saying these words:

When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.—I Corinthians, Ch. 13, v. 11.

A poorly prepared medical student would not attempt to hang out his shingle; neither should a student of business. At college we have the opportunity to assimilate as much knowledge as we desire. What is learned in class and through textbooks can be supplemented by outside reading and research. The more we learn now, the better prepared we will be to solve future problems and offer new ideas, thus increasing our value as citizens and businessmen.

The mind is a wonderful thing because within the development lies one of the greatest secrets to successful living. For aeons philosophers have been stating that knowledge is power. The mind, like a muscle, continues to grow as long as it is used. The more we give to it, the more it gives back to us.

We should realize the potentialities and capabilities of mind and knowledge. By starting in college, through the building of vast stores of knowledge, and by training the mind to work advantageously for us when we command it, so we can reap the educational benefits and utilize the wisdom of the sages that have come down to us through the centuries.

A. T. E.

Public Acclamation or Self-Respect?

One of the world's most credible aphorisms is that we must live peacefully with ourselves before we can live harmoniously with others. We can escape momentarily through a book, television, or friends; but there again is our self-ego, conscience, or whatever it is that we live with until death.

Bryant College does not consider an applicant's race, creed, color, religion, or national origin in determining who shall be admitted to the School. There are, however, a few people who believe they can make their own rules—and break God's—concerning discrimination.

Discrimination because of ignorance or lack of savoir vivre is one thing, and not to be condoned. But discrimination because of fear of public reprisal is quite another.

How weak a character can a person have to consider what other people might say as being more important than his own beliefs? Small wishy-washy, flaccid—these words haven't the potency to describe this type of person.

Feel sorry for this resurgence from more prejudiced times. Behind this thin veil of arrogance lies undoubtedly a very unhappy person paying the price of self-compromise.

Believe in our Christian principles and stand up for them. The educated majority will be with you.

A. T. E.

A Good Example to Follow

The Archway would like to extend its congratulations to the Technology, student publication of The Bradford Durfee College of Technology, Fall River, Mass., for its recent facelifting. Everything, including its name, layout, and copy techniques, has been modernized.

Many hours of thought, experiment, and sweat must have gone into this changeover; but without the conscientious effort of the Technology's very capable editor, Robert Gomez, it would have not been possible. We strongly suspect that behind this effort lies a desire to leave the paper a little better than he found it. A good example to follow; we hope we can do the same.

Credit must also go to Gomez's business manager, Philip Cuttle.

Good-by, Distaff, good luck, Technology!

Letter to Editor

Majestic Hotel
1209 North Broad Street
Philadelphia 22, Pa.
March 6, 1958

Dear Sir:

Last summer I was graduated from Bryant College. I am now a candidate for the M.B.A. degree in Industrial Relations at Temple University, which degree I expect to receive in June.

Because Bryant College is eager to be accredited, it is probably encouraging students to do graduate work at other schools. There are very likely some seniors who wish to secure Master's degrees for added prestige, knowledge, and employment opportunities. Colleges with graduate division normally receive applications in March and April.

With your approval I shall be happy to give information to the ARCHWAY and to interested students about Temple University's M.B.A. curriculum.

I realize that the Bryant library has the Temple catalogue which states admission procedures and course titles. Prospective students, however, are also concerned about such items as living conditions, subjects to take, amount of study time needed, and degree of difficulty of various elective courses. I shall be glad to answer any questions individually or collectively.

Two years ago the ARCHWAY printed an article about John Bucklew, a Bryant graduate, and his experiences at Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration. Bucklew was pursuing a two-year course leading to the M.B.A. degree. I am sure that similar information about Temple University's one-year program would be of equal interest to students considering graduate work.

Ranch-Dance, Western Mode Big Success

By D. P. CHERRY

Those who missed the big City-Style Ranch Dance at the Bryant Cafegymnasium last Friday evening really missed a whopper!

The guys of Chi Gam and the gals of Phi U, under the able direction of Ed Bertolini and Marty Petrakas, really out-did themselves. For just one dollar per person, participants had round dancing to the very versatile and rhythmic Harry Gaudet and his Collegians, square dancing called by Ken Gunner, and a floor show that really was worth the price. All this in addition to a real bar and mixed, ice cold soda pop.

Ranch Dance was a smash hit, and Chi Gam and Phi U would like to thank singer Eleanor Ricci, western stylists Bob Di and Ed Gordon, Jack Adams for his big bass accompaniment, Ralph "Snooky" Manuel for his comedy, and all the girls from Phi U who were on the line for the "can can." Everyone also thanks the local reservation (M. H.) for releasing their Indians, Phil Medeiros and Bryon Robinson so they could be at the bar.

It's Your Library—Why Not Use It?

By JOAN LEONARD

An open letter to all Bryant freshmen and Preparatory students. Dear Freshmen:

By now you are well acquainted with Bryant's rules, regulations, professors and the location of the college buildings, so I won't take your valuable reading time boring you with more indoctrination.

How do you like the Henry L. Jacobs Library? We students at Bryant are very proud of our library. We have watched it grow during the past three years from one volume to approximately two thousand volumes. The librarian, Miss Dorothy E. Keith, orders and receives new books daily. Books and periodicals are tools of knowledge which help you achieve good marks, and maybe—not remotely—make the Dean's List.

Articles For Secretarial Students

Right at this point, the girls who are majoring in Secretarial Science may say, "I'd better stop wasting my time reading this article for there is nothing in the library for me." But wait, you're wrong. Secretarial books and informative secretarial pamphlets are at your fingertips. Some of the outstanding periodicals subscribed to are The Balance Sheet, Business Education World, and Today's Secretary. Do you know we have shorthand dictation records which you may borrow for two-week periods for shorthand speeds from fifty words per minute to 160 words per minute?

Teacher - Trainee Aids

Teacher-Training students will find many books in the field of Education and Psychology to supplement classroom lectures and homework. They will soon discover that the Henry L. Jacobs Library is the ideal place for them to prepare term papers, class speeches, Sigma Iota Chi has grown to a total of thirty-three members as a result of the Sorority's Third-Degree Ritual. It was held on March 5 in a large hall in Attleboro, Mass.

S. I. C. and Phi Sig have been very busy these past weeks planning for their big St. Patrick's Day Dance. This dance will be held in the newly renovated Casino at Roger Williams Park. The dance will be held on Friday, March 21, and there will be free favors and free door prizes. The sisters of Sigma Iota Chi are pretty pleased that their brothers are going to present them with corsages for this big event.

Judo Instruction Offered

There are a number of men at Bryant College who would like to be in better physical condition and at the same time learn an art that could be valuable to them in later life. This art is judo. Literally, "judo" means "the soft way." It is derived from the fact that the main tactic of judo is never to resist, but to yield to your opponent's force.

In 1882 an institution called Kodokan was founded in Japan to teach judo as a sport. Any pupil entering had to sign a declaration including the following:

"Without permission of the authorities of Kodokan, I will not teach or divulge the knowledge of the art I shall be taught."

"I will not perform the art in public for personal gain."

"I will lay no blame on anyone, except myself, in the event of an accident, even if it should result in my death."

"I will conduct myself in such a way as never to discredit the traditions and honor of the Kodokan."

"I will not abuse, or misuse, the knowledge of judo."

Technically, judo is a scientific study of the weakness and strength of the body-mechanism and the most effective ways of applying this knowledge. The training, or practice of it for skill, provides a means for attaining all that is best in sport—promotion of mental and physical development, gratification of the competitive instinct, and stimulation of the spirit of fair play. Then, through the interaction of body, mind and spirit, one is imbued as one acquires skill, with the qualities of balanced poise, confidence, and the principle of non-resistance and calm alertness.

The art of judo can roughly be divided into six technical sections:

Nage-Waza: Methods of throwing

Osaikomi-Waza: Holding

Gyaku-Waza: Locking

Shime-Waza: Strangling

Atemi-Waza: Striking, or kicking the vital nerve-centres

Katsu: Resuscitation

The aim of all these sections except the last is to put the opponent out of action either temporarily or permanently. Throws are applied when the opponent loses his balance, either voluntarily or involuntarily. In practice, the opponent is thrown to the ground on his back. In reality it should be on his head or shoulder. Locks are applied on the arms, legs, body, in such a way as to produce dislocation of the joints. The holding is to keep the opponent on his back, on the ground, helpless. Strangling is applied to the neck, to reduce the opponent to a state of coma by stopping the blood circulation to the brain. The aim of striking, or kicking, the vital nerve centers is to paralyze the opponent. Katsu is the method of reviving a person from the state of coma.

In order to minimize the shock to the body in taking the throws, you must learn the art of the breakfall before you start to practise throws. There are many methods, but the chief one is to strike the ground with one, or both arms at the moment the body touches the ground. The arm should be kept straight but not stiffened, and swung like a whip. The body should be curled up, keeping the head well off the floor, and the legs up in the air. Being freed from the fear of being thrown means creating confidence and freeing the potential natural capacity of the body and mind.

If any of the Bryant College males are interested in learning any of this judo, there will be a list on the Sports Bulletin Board in the Cafegymnasium on Monday. All practices will be held in the Providence Y.M.C.A.

BIB and SIB Enjoy Annual Ski Trip

By GARY CHASE

On Friday, February 28, a caravan of four cars loaded with brothers and sisters of BIB and SIB, skis, and warm clothes left the Bryant campus for their annual ski trip to Mt. Snow at West Dover, Vermont, for a weekend of fun in the land of snow. After spending six hours maneuvering the many snow covered roads and enjoying the completely snow covered road-side and good fresh air, BIB and SIB arrived at the Snow Farm, their home for the weekend.

The Brown Bear Restaurant

By Charley Regan

The Westerly Commuters clinched the second half of the men's intramural basketball league thus copping the league championship. The commuters downed Tau Epsilon "A" 70 to 58 and put frosting on the cake by thumping Alpha Theta Chi 66 to 56. The boys from Westerly have played a fast running type of ball and have literally run most of their opponents into the floor.

This afternoon the champions' invincibility will be challenged by a team composed of Hal Peterson, Sniffy Allen, Jimmy Aiello, Dick Gawlick, George Hagopian, Buddy Wright, and Don Haggerty.

Dick Cooper collected 47 points and set a new high mark for the season to no avail as Tau Ep "A" tripped up BIB 71 to 67. Art Higgenbottom was high for Tau Ep with 23, but no one could match the individual performance of the high flying Cooper. "Coop's" total is believed to be a school record.

Kappa Tau defeated Beta Sig 53 to 34 as Nick Salianni had his best night of the season garnering 23.

In a thriller Alpha Theta Chi squeaked out a 47 to 46 victory over Kappa Tau. Joe Holland was the big man for ATC, getting 16 points overall and 6 big ones in the waning minutes of the game. Salianni and Wright each hooped 12 markers in a losing cause.

Jim Aiello and Hal Peterson with 24 points apiece led Tau Ep "A" to a win over Alpha Omicron 64 to 51. Clapprood was high for the losers with 26.

Phi Sig topped Chi Gam 46 to 40 with Travisano chucking in 19 points for the winners and Ed Viele 19 for the losers.

Up to the beginning of the fourth canto Alpha Theta Chi was giving the Westerly Commuters a run for their money. The boys from Westerly finally came to life in the last quarter and beat ATC 66 to 56. Nolletti was high for the winners with 22 and Dick Gawlik led the losers with 18.

Tau Ep "A" romped over Chi Gam 66 to 41 as Jimmy Aiello, Hal Peterson, and Jack Allen garnered 45 points for the victors and Don Haggerty netted 17 for Chi Gam.

Wes Adams led Tau Ep "B" to a 38 36 win over Alpha Omicron. Clapprood was high for AO with 16 points.

Phi Sig conquered BIB 59 to 46. Pirich had 18 for the winners and Cooper tossed in 17 for the losers.

Westerly beat Tau Epsilon "A" 70 to 58. The first quarter score was tied up 14 all and TE was ahead 30 to 27 at the half, but Ken Bennett's 30 points was too much for TE and the Commuters pulled ahead to stay in the last quarter. Sniffy Allen was high man for the losers with 17 points.

Haggerty and Vielle led Chi Gam to a 58 to 37 victory over Beta Sig.

Girls' Bowling Race Tightens

By WILMA RICHTER and MARY GROMKO

As the Girls' intramural bowling season is roaring to a close, the teams are competing against one another to be the first-place team. Plaudits so far are awarded to KDK and THETA, who are tied and top the league in first place. Six teams remain out of the original eight that started the league. PHI UPSILON and DELTA SIGMA CHI have dropped from competition.

Georgia Wood and Phyllis Jordan are the high scorers for KDK. Among the others who support the sorority are Sarah Daniell, Ester Felix, and Betty Sorrey.

THETA's team is giving KDK a fight to the finish. Two of their top players are Marilyn Hewitt and Carol Agricola while Mary Ann Lang and Barbara Spencer back them up.

SIC also exhibits good talent in Beatrice Paine who shows her individual, expert style on the bowling alley. Doty Casagrande, Deanna Leiss, Paula Armstrong, Pris Niemeyer also assist the team in their efforts to win.

Some of SIB's bowlers that show a great deal of enthusiasm in the game are Ann Platt, Judy Sjogren, Elaine Michard, and Silvia Erickson. SIB misses the loss of two of their finest bowlers from last semester, Carol McComb and Sue Benyon.

BETA SIGMA GAMMA's top keglers are Ruth Brady, Lynne Harber, and Sandra Schwimmer.

Cellar-dwelling ARK's Carol Zinno and Rusty Rosenberg are two of APK's more outstanding bowlers.

Frosh Hog Tied 71-35

The Vigilantes posse of eight men hunted down the notorious group of ten freshmen last week. A showdown was staged in the Cafegymnasium on Wednesday afternoon, and in the finest tradition of the upper classes; the Vigilantes, under the able leadership of Bronc Barilla, had an easy time in subduing the Beanie Boys. Bronc had the following charges fighting with him—Pecos Peaches Petersen, Nevada Nolletti, Maverick McPhillips, Wrangler Wright, Six-Gun Sheedy, Wyatt Whitehead, and Moseying McNamara.

The subdued, outclassed outcasts from Beanieburg numbered the following among their Tootsie-Roll Toughies—Honey Sukel, Fragrant Foster, Ever-Lovin' Evans, Rosie Rivard, Lily Lee, Humming Hagenburg, Vericose Visnic, Mike Hamre, Amedeo Amedeo, and Hoss Hathaway.

The element of surprise was one of the deciding factors of the battle. Half of the posse held the Frosh's attention, while the other half went around the other way. When the first volley of shots died down, the posse had outshot Bobby Beanyborts' boys 16-0.

From there on in it was only a question of time until the superior firepower of Bronc's bombers emerged victorious.

Pecos Peaches and Nevada accounted for half of the posse's hits while Fragrant Foster had ten bulls-eyes for the Beanieburg boys.

Frosh Liberated! Beanies Gone with the Wind

By BARBARA J. DUQUETTE

Brilliant orange and black decorations created a festive atmosphere in the Cafegymnasium on March 15. But the Freshmen needed little to bolster their already exhilarated spirits—this was the night of the Liberation Dance. For the past two weeks they had been "toeing the mark", careful to wear their beanies and to keep out of the way of a summons to a Vigilante session.

The couples danced to the music provided by the Stardusters. At ten o'clock the highlight of the evening came as Ray Kiely, chairman of the affair, introduced Pete Barilla, president of the Student Senate, who delivered the Independence Proclamation. The ending of the Proclamation brought wild shouts as the much-disliked beanies were thrown to the four winds. Quickly the crowd quieted and joined in the singing of Bryant's Alma Mater, led by Les Howes, the Glee Club president.

Two weeks initiation successfully over, the Freshmen now are proud to say they are students of Bryant College.

Newport Club Hears School's Future Plans

By E. A. ANDERSON, JR.

The Newport Club of Bryant College held its Semi-Annual Graduation Banquet on Thursday evening, February 6, 1958, at the Cliff Walk Manor in Newport. Miss Joan Barden and Mr. William A. Collins, February graduates, were guests of honor. Twenty-six members and their wives and dates attended and actively participated in a question-and-answer forum with Vice President E. Gardner Jacobs as guest speaker. Some of the topics that were discussed were the layout, operation, and utility of the new rectory; the expansion program proposed for campus dormitories, plans for accreditation and the enlargement of the College Library. Mr. Raymond A. Raiche, Bryant '48, and a partner in the CPA firm of Hoff, Raiche, and Company, who recently accepted the position of advisor to the club, was presented with his certificate of membership. Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs was presented with a certificate of honorary membership in the club. The Vice President of Bryant College, E. Gardner Jacobs, shares the distinction of honorary membership in the Newport Club with the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was presented with his certificate during his vacation in Newport last summer. During the banquet, Gene Wood took quite a few pictures, which are available to those club members

Huh? 'Quickies' Discussed At Workshop

By Marie Gilbertie

The Providence Chapter of the National Secretaries Association sponsored their annual Workshop here at Bryant College on Friday evening, March 14. The guest speakers for the evening were Mr. Henry Dawes, Director of Personnel, Connecticut Life Insurance Company; Mrs. Sue Baily Reid, Women's Program Chairman, Director, Homemaking-Editor, Providence-Journal Bulletin; and Mr. Chelcie Bosland, Professor of Economics at Brown University. The topics discussed were "Personnel Problems," "Quickies for the Business Woman," and "What is our Economic Future," respectively.

A special registration fee of 75 cents was offered to students. The money that is collected is used for the annual secretarial scholarship given each year by the Providence Chapter.

Consultants

Consultants for the Workshop are Mrs. Gertrude Meth Hochberg, Director of Public Relations; and Miss Priscilla M. Moulton, Assistant to the President at Bryant College. Miss Lucis Wartmen, Assistant Credit Manager at Davol Rubber Company and a graduate of Bryant College in 1945 and 1953, is General Chairman of the Workshop.

Helen Narkiewicz, Marie Stowski, Ilene Beck, and Lois Barth acted as ushers for the program.

who desire photographic memories of this occasion. The new officers of the club were invested, and gifts of appreciation were presented to Miss Barden and Mr. Collins. Mr. Gregory T. Parkos, as one of his last official acts before leaving the Bryant Administration for a position with a textile firm in Pawtucket, was present. The club is planning to hold a dance on May 16.

Music in Review

by Roger Francoeur and Gordon Moore

A meeting was held on March 13 to establish a modern jazz club on the Bryant campus. The turnout of students was very good; however, since some students who mentioned they were interested had other commitments, we have decided to hold another meeting on March 27. Anyone interested should contact either Roger Francoeur or Gordon Moore.

"Erroll Garner—he's the greatest," is one of the many compliments we heard voiced at the March 16 concert at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet.

On that particular evening Garner was in his best form, playing a program that was paced very nicely, stimulatingly developed, and blazing with enthusiasm. The concert was staged before a large audience, which was completely responsive to every subtle variation in tempo by Garner.

Erroll, upon entering the stage, received a warm greeting from the audience and in his usual quiet manner proceeded without a word to wade through such numbers as "My Funny Valentine," "How Could You Do a Thing Like That to Me?" "I Only Have Eyes for You," "Lullaby of Birdland," "Tenderly," "Where or When," "Someone to Watch Over Me," "They Can't Take That Away From Me," "Will You Still Be Mine," "Teach Me, Tonight," and the halting "Misty" to mention a few. The audience chuckled and applauded acknowledging the theme after one of Erroll's typical introductions before each number.

Accompanying Erroll were Kelly Martin on drums and Eddie Calhoun on bass. Each artist added a swinging background while also interjecting humorous gestures as they were exhorted on by Erroll who was actively conducting with head, hands, shoulders, and vocal cords.

As always, Erroll gave everything he had and considering the applause he received after the last rendition, we can safely assume that everyone who attended this concert was more than pleased that they were on the scene that evening.

Marriage Discussed At Newman Meeting

By Patricia Taglieri

The Newman Club held the first of its series of lectures and open discussions on the topic "Vocation to Marriage," on Tuesday, March 11. Monsignor Geoghegan gave a lecture in which he stressed that each of us has a calling to not only one vocation, but ordinarily to many. He stressed the point that the final choice of one's vocation depends upon his own capacity, inclination, and taste, and that if each person understands each of these, he will be aggressive to seize an opportunity whether it is wrought by circumstance or determination and effort.

The second of this series is to take place on March 25, 1958. The topic will be "Dating" and an open discussion will be conducted to determine what the general attitude is towards it—what it means to go steady? to be pinned? to be engaged?

The officers, advisors, and members of the Newman Club cordially invite all those who are interested in joining the organization or who are interested in participating in the series to attend the next meeting.

Stardusters Get New Uniforms; Charcoal and Orange Featured

By HANK GAUDET

Bryant College's dance band, the STARDUSTERS, will look different this semester. The entire orchestra will be outfitted with charcoal colored blazers. These eye-catching jackets will have an orange emblem sewed just below the upper left pocket, showing the name of the college and the college emblem. These jackets constitute the "NEW LOOK" the band will have. One thing is sure, not only has Bryant College one of the finest musical aggregations in Rhode Island, but it also has one of the sharpest and best dressed outfits.

The STARDUSTERS will show off their "NEW LOOK" while performing for the Freshman Liberation Dance, March 15. By the time this article is published, most of you will have seen the "NEW LOOK" of the STARDUSTERS.

Plenty of Experience

This semester the dance band is composed of the same group it had last year. With six months' experience, the orchestra's presentation of current pop tunes will be better than ever. On February 25 the STARDUSTERS performed before a capacity house at the Freshman Get-Acquainted Dance. This semester's Freshman Get-Acquainted Dance was by far one of the most successful affairs ever held at Bryant College, and the STARDUSTERS feel justly proud that they contributed to his success. The "band with a beat" really played music that was conducive to good dancing as was evidenced by the

Two Hit Shows Planned By Glee Club

By Gus Hirsch

This semester's Glee Club promises to be as successful as ever. In the past, such shows as Annie Get Your Gun, Merry Widow, and Desert Song were presented with Professor Appleby as their director. The Glee Club offers to the Bryant student the opportunity to participate in group singing, musicals, as well as solo work.

This semester the Glee Club is looking forward to putting on two hit shows. Plans are already underway and rehearsals are being held in the barn studio.

In addition to musical reviews, the Glee Club also participates in entertaining at the Veterans Hospital.

By SALLY JOHNS

The Bryant Christian Association began this semester's activities by holding a square dance on March 5 in the Recreational Room of the Central Congregational Church. Dancing was enjoyed to the music and calling of Peter Gardner. Members of the Association and their friends attended the dance.

At the January 21 meeting Rev. John Koehler of the Calvary Baptist Church spoke to a large turnout on the topic "Dates to Diamonds." A discussion period followed Rev. Koehler's talk.

Many interesting programs are being planned for the future. Watch for the announcements of meetings which are posted on the bulletin board. New students, as well as old, are invited to join the friendly gatherings of fellowship and fun.
