Why There Are No Students on the Admissions Board

By J. DiAntonio

The question has been raised as to exactly who accepts or rejects the applications of prospective Bryant students. Upon speaking with the Dean of Admissions at Bryant, Mr. George C. Craig, much was learned as to who exactly advises and/or decides upon acceptance or rejection of all the college's applications.

As all applications are addressed to the Dean of Admissions, Dean Craig is the first to become familiar with each application. If the application is an obvious acceptance Dean Craig will note it as such, but that is not the end. This application will then be submitted, along with all questionable applications, to the Admissions Committee of which Dean Craig is chairman. The Admissions Committee consists of five members of which three are working members, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Emerson, and Mr. Ashley while the remaining two members serve as advisors to the three working members. The two advisory members are the Dean of the College and the Academic Vice President.

The faculty also serves as an advisory group to the Admissions Committee. The main objective of the faculty group is to advise according to present admission policies and to inform the committee of any new ideas or standards to date in the field of college admissions, an ever-expanding area of study. The faculty works in connection with the two advisory members of the Admissions Committee.

The question has also come up on campus as to why no students are presently included in the Admissions Committee at Bryant. In a time when students are finding themselves with more active participation in administrative policies throughout

BLACK STUDENT ORGANIZATION ADMITTED TO STUDENT SENATE

Matu Mzuri is the name of the organization of Black Students who were admitted to the Senate 'Monday. The name Matu Mzuri means "beautiful people" in Swahili. The group submitted its two-page constitution to the Senate and the vote was heavily in favor of admitting the group.

Spokesman for the group, Walter Edwards, stated that the purpose of the organization was to unite the Black students on the campus and provide them with the necessary advisors and means to solve their specialized problems. He also stated that he would like to see the enrollment of Black students increased. As it stands now, there is only about a 1 percent Black enrollment. Another of the ideas expressed by Mr. Edwards was that Bryant needs a Black administrator and Black counsellors to attempt to solve the serious problems of the Black student at Bryant.

Since a few of the Black students attending Bryant are having serious academic problems, a program of tutoring has been established. Any interested students who would like to devote some time to tutoring should contact Walter Edwards.

Attack on Conservative Speak Up Answered

Dear Editor:

Thank you for your note, Mr. Graham, I am always interested in the reaction to anything that I write. I confess that at times I leave gaps in my tread of thought and I hope that either you or someone else will point them out to me. I will thus make an honest attempt to correct my methods in critical reasoning. I hope people will submit to Conservative Speak-up questions that could be used for material in the paper.

To answer you concerning the statement that I use equivocations in my writing: Yes, I hope I can continue to use expressions of double meaning in order to mislead, for it is through this process that I provoke thought, even if you disagree with my opinion. I will many times present an idea that I drastically disagree with, and hope this stimulus will evoke a response from you to defend or alter your present stand.

Furthermore I do not, as a policy, state something is black or white. I prefer that you the reader consider the facts, evaluate them and do as you see best. So I shall not say adjustment is achieved by protesting for trivialities and then list some. What is trivial is left up to the reader, the principle is merely stated concerning adjustment. So some may think protesting for an end of the war is trivial and others would disagree, I will fight to the end for others' rights to disagree.

My contention is that since man is an emotional and irrational being, one must present material to him drawing upon the qualities that he understands best; and in a subtle manner present material.

Just For The Pun Of It

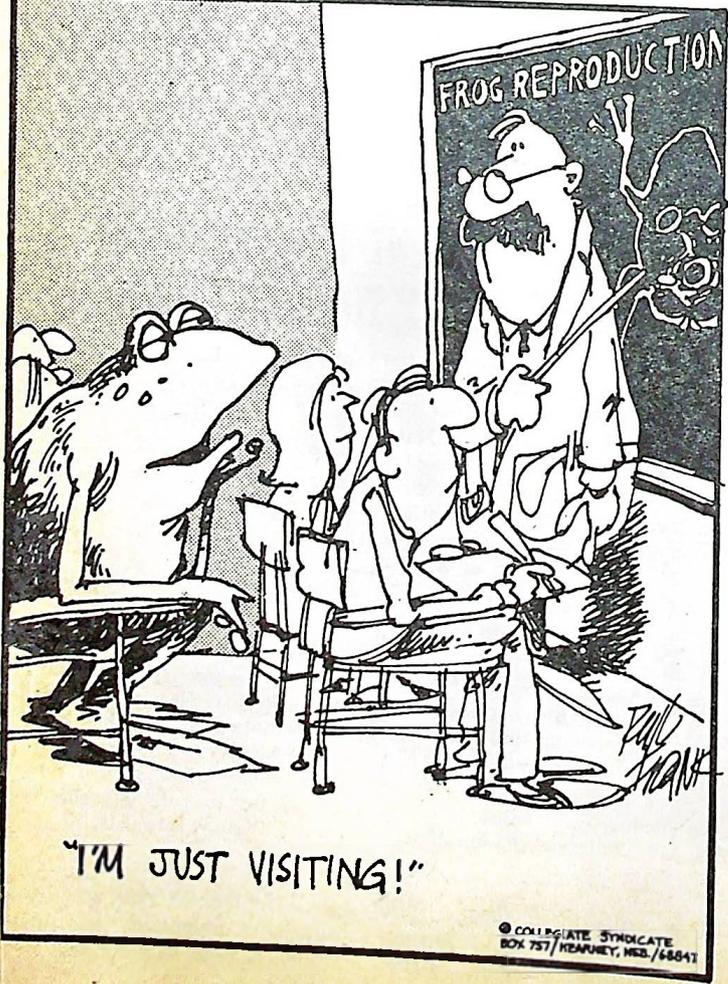

Once upon a time, Mr. Ralph Handy, a professor of English at Bryant, started a hospital in the bush-country of Africa. The hospital soon became known as simply "The Handy Hospital." One of the hospital's best administrators, Mr. Robert Birt, also a professor of English at Bryant, had the habit of roaming the bush-country instead of staying in the hospital where he was needed. One day, the hospital burned down while Mr. Birt was out roaming the bush-country; and it was at this time that a confused orderly uttered those immortal words: "A Birt in The Handy is worth two in the bush."

Commentary: The Trouble With Bryant . . . Is Students

The trouble with Bryant College is the students. It appears to me that the students of Bryant have the wrong perspective as to what the role of the College is, and what their roles are as students. Many are under the false impression that the administration of the College is some type of enemy that the student body must come-to-grips with, or attempt to overthrow. It is some sort of a "King - of - the-Mountain" type thing.

The faculty appears to be judged on an individual basis. They are categorized as a "good guy", a "bad guy," or somewhere in between. A good guy is a professor who doesn't make you work too hard in order to get a good grade. A bad guy is a professor who just doesn't stimulate or motivate his classes. His tests are not the easiest, although they are not the hardest. He is not super tough on marking, but neither is he liberal. Then there is a third type of professor who is difficult to categorize. This guy makes you work for your grades, gives a great deal of himself, and is earnestly dedicated to teaching. This type of professor is really judged on an individual basis and could be labeled a "bad guy." Why? Because he makes you work too hard for a "C". This then is getting down to the nitty gritty. For what purpose did we come to College?

is his immaturity. If Bryant College appears to be nothing more than a high school, it is because the students of Bryant College haven't really graduated from high school.

An example: Last year, student committees were set up, and students appointed to each. What have these committees accomplished? The answer is that most of them accomplished nothing! You hear some members of the committees saying that the faculty and/or the administration won't cooperate. The faculty and administration are saying that the students won't co-operate. It is time to put aside the petty bickering, and time for action to be taken on the part of all concerned.

This year, the college started a shuttle service so the commuter could park his car off campus; yet no one used it! but, what has been one of the major complaints of the commuter student? The lack of available parking spaces!

Parietal hours have been made into a sham. Men in dorms have been keeping girls in their rooms overnight. The best way in the world to get parietal hours removed is to abuse them yet the students continue to do so. And if parietal hours were removed, who would cry the loudest? The very same people who abused them would be the ones.

One student recently stated that he disliked certain "bad" professor because he held a dull class. He said that this professor's classes were boring and colorless. I have had this same professor, and can agree. But then, I spoke of another professor who makes his classes work; in fact, he keeps writing constantly for the entire period. The student stated that he didn't like this professor either because he makes you work too hard! It seems that some students that might actually learn something.

This same student wanted to know why he had to take all the other courses and work so hard at them when all he was interested

Krishman's Critique

How I Learned to Love the Bomb

By Harry Krishman

You remember back in high school all the dances you had; well you don't have to worry about that anymore — Bryant doesn't have any. Not only that, but Bryant is located in Providence, R. I., known affectionately as fun city north or home of the concert.

Now, I'm sure you're wondering, what is a typical day like here at Bryant? Classes begin at 8 o'clock and of "course" attendance is compulsory for freshmen and sophomores. Now if mommy and daddy worry about grades, fear not; for freshmen we offer a warning system. That way mommy and daddy find out directly from the school that sonny has an F or D, not that mommy and daddy don't trust sonny. Classes run all the way till 3 o'clock, so that the student has something to do in the afternoon. When you don't have classes there's a lot to do. You can "hang around" the Union and listen to the jukebox. The Union is your home away from home, or in the case of the dorm student your home away from home and is appropriately called the Wigwam. The Wigwam sells food, believe it or not, and there's no fear about getting scalped by the prices. Another outlet to excitement is the Student Activities Building. What more could a kid want, ping pong and pool all in the same room. Not bad for a mere $75, huh kids? Yes, siree, Buffalo Bob there's fun and excitement here at Bryant. Now as we go along—wait, look, over there is the student body—beautiful, isn't she. Now, the day is far from over. When 3 o'clock finally does roll around, the action really gets going. The quick rush to the cars is really great and it's loads of fun to see who can get away first. As for the kids who get to stay here at Bryant the fun is just beginning. You can go back to your room, sit around till dinner time, then wait in line to eat. Remember in high school how you got to choose what you wanted to eat and sat down and gobbled your food down? Remember all those peanut butter and jelly "sandwiches"? The same goes here at Bryant; you gobble your food down as fast as you can. Then comes the nighttime. Nightlife and Bryant are synonymous. A weeknight at Bryant means records, television, and the highlight of the night—the rush to get food from Slash's or Jimmy's. How heartwarming, the sound of "we have tuna grinders, regular grinders, hamburgers, hot dogs, and mix;" followed by the stampeding of little feet. Yes, siree, Buffalo Bob, what more could you want?

Why is Bryant like the sky? The reason is atmosphere. A yo-yo with a short string can go only so far. Like a yo-yo, Bryant doesn't offer much string. You don't have to worry about getting out of "line."

The above expressed opinions are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the college, faculty, administration, or the Archway. This paper recognizes its obligation to print responsible replies.

Bryant Profs Author Column

PROFESSOR PRISCILLA M. PHILLIPS, Chairman of the Education Department, and PROFESSOR CLARISSA M. H. PATTERSON, Acting Chairman of Secretarial Studies at Bryant College, are co-authors of a column entitled "the Chalkboard" which is published by the Gregg Publishing Company and will appear monthly in Business Education World. It is a free publication which is circulated nationally.

The column was formulated because they thought that there was a need for some kind of communication between the college and the student who was out student teaching. It is hoped that their column will give many helpful hints relative to the teaching profession such as motivating students within their classrooms, developing good rapport with students and faculty members, and learning to grow professionally.

The theme of their first column was: "Mind your P's and Q's — and your cooperating teacher." Future topics include: (1) Problems of discipline and how to handle them should they occur, (2) Developing communications or relationships with others as an integral part of student teaching, Professional qualifications, (3) Improving the teaching profession, and (4) Projecting a wholesome professional image. This column will definitely guide the student teachers through many of the ups and downs of student teaching.

in were his accounting courses. All I can say to this student is "Why didn't you take the La Salle Correspondence Course in Accounting, and save yourself a hell of a lot of money?"

Why is it that the auditorium used by the World Affairs Lectures always seems to resemble ghost town U.S.A.? Why is it that the most popular clubs on campus are the fun clubs or entertainment clubs? And why is it that the people who shoot their mouths off the most about "how bad this part of Bryant is", or "how poor that aspect of Bryant is", are always the ones who turn and run the fastest when asked to make a contribution or do a little work to correct the situations?

In the past, a great deal has been said about the apathy of Bryant students. I am not so sure that this is where the problem lies. The true problem is not apathy... but immaturity!

Dining Service... Re-Hashed

Dear Editor:

ARA tries to make "dining an education" not by being part of the college's community but by presenting various monotony breaker meals such as the Chinese meal held November 12. We are serving a Steak Training Meal to open Bryant's basketball season, December 5, before the first home game.

Over 98 per cent of the dormitory students partake in the meal program at Bryant College. There is a 61 per cent participation in the meals served during the week. For example, 100 students entitled to 19 meals per week would equal 1900 meals served per week. However, for various reasons, not everyone attends every meal and only 1150 or 61 per cent of the meals are served. This participation figure is used in determining the cost of your food service to Bryant College. For example, 1900 meals at a $1.00 per meal would mean $1900.00 divided by 100 students or $19.00 a week for meals. Using the participation factor (all schools and corporations use a form of the participation factor) of 61 per cent or 1150 meals at $1.00 per meal would cost each student $11.50 per week as opposed to $19.00.

The breakfast hour extension proposed by David Goldstein, in last week's issue of the Archway, would increase the participation figure and naturally increase the cost of the meal program. The other factor is equipment, rather than "not enough time to clean up." We would have to prepare for lunch after nine o'clock and with our present equipment it would be a difficult job to meet the needs of the 350 to 400 students who are at our doors at 11:00 a.m.

The school does express its requirements as to the type of food service that it desires, and ARA does all it can to meet these requirements.

ARA is made up of five divisions and is in every phase of food service — vending, hospitals, schools and colleges, in-plant, ball parks, and in-flight feeding. There are about 1000 other operations contributing to ARA's profit picture in addition to over 300 colleges and schools.

All of this experience in the food industry and other supporting services such as facilities and planning, management consultants, and many others are used to give the student at Bryant College an "Education in Dining."

Viewpoint

By William Holden

What Did He Say?

Throughout the nation people have tried to dissect President Nixon's speech on Vietnam. "He didn't say anything" and "He said a lot about nothing" are only a couple of the unintelligent remarks that have been made about the President's address. We must realize that White House officials said that the speech would contain startling revelations. At the beginning of his address the President stated that he wanted to talk to the nation about Vietnam — to let us know the truth. (Critics: "Fired Chats" and of their purpose?)

Mr. Nixon said that the purpose of his talk was to answer some of the most common questions of the American people.

1st question — How and why did America get involved in Vietnam? The answer to this question was simply a matter of history.

2nd question — How has the present administration changed the policy of the previous administration? In this the President gave a detailed answer which was spread out over the entire speech. The major differences were that under the Johnson Administration "540,000 Americans were in Vietnam with no plans to reduce that number." Under the Nixon Administration there have been troop withdrawals, a step up in the Vietnamization program, and peace proposals put forth by our government for the first time.

3rd question — What has really happened in negotiations in Paris and on the battlefield in Vietnam? As far as the Paris negotiations are concerned the President said, "No progress whatever has been made except agreement on the shape of the bargaining table." On the battlefield, troops have been given new orders making the primary mission to enable the South Vietnamese forces to assume the full responsibility of the war. U. S. casualties have declined to the lowest point in three years. Enemy infiltration is much less than a year ago. The troops that have been withdrawn include 20% of all combat troops.

4th question — What choices do we have if we are to end the war? Two possible alternatives were recognized. Mr. Nixon stated, "I can order an immediate precipitous withdrawal of all Americans from Vietnam with no regard to the effects of that action. Or we can persist in our search for a just peace through a negotiated settlement, if possible or through continued implementation of our plan for Vietnamization." As we all know the President did not take the easy way out. He took a plan which he felt was right; which would serve the cause of peace not only in Vietnam but throughout the world.

As America is the most powerful nation in the free world, our allies look to us for leadership. It therefore follows, as President Nixon stated, that all hopes for peace and freedom in the world will be determined by whether the American people have the moral stamina and are able to meet the challenge of free world leadership.

5th question — What are the prospects for peace? The President said that in his campaign for the Presidency he pledged himself to end the war in a way that we could win the peace; not just end the war. The President then made a strong call for unity of the American people in support of the American Government's policy. Any one can see that the North Vietnamese are not likely to negotiate seriously when they can see how divided we are at home. "Let us be united for peace. Let us also be united against defeat. Because let us understand: North Vietnam cannot defeat or humiliate the United States. Only Americans can do that."

Those people who still think that the President did not say anything should prove to themselves how wrong they are by reading a copy of the text of the speech.

If you felt let down because no great revelations were made you should remember that no official statements were made before the speech even hinted that anything new was to be announced. Any rumors and speculations along these lines perhaps were suggested by the very news media which Vice-President Agnew recently criticized.

Admissions

ceptances out of an exceedingly large number of applications is in fact a profession. There is much technical knowledge involved which is continually being updated. The average college student is not equipped with this knowledge. Secondly, the selection of acceptances and rejections from all the college applications is a highly confidential matter. The majority of students would not want their fellow colleagues to be aware of the personal information contained in every college application. This is a personal matter between each student and the college.

This is not to say that students should not be allowed a voice in application policies at Bryant. Just as the faculty serves as an advisory board to the Admissions Committee, a similar board of students could and should be formed at Bryant to further aid and advise the Admissions Committee. After spending a semester or two at the college, a student can offer much insight and advise as to the type of applicant that will benefit at Bryant College as a future student.

In conclusion, a student advisory board enacted to aid the Admissions Committee would bring the administration and faculty closer to the real needs and outlooks of the students. This, in turn, can only make for a better Bryant.

Blood Bank Drive Set For December 12

The annual Blood Drive will be held on Friday, Dec. 12, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the Gardner Hall. Study Room near the dispensary. Bryant College maintains a Blood Bank which was started in 1955. Since that time approximately 75 pints of blood per year have been used by members of The Bryant College Family.

As of Oct. 1, we have no blood left on deposit and cannot respond to your calls of need until the supply is replenished through this Blood Drive appeal. All students and their immediate family can draw upon this supply free of charge in time of need. Members of the faculty, secretaries, staff members, and maintenance crews are also covered. Everyone is, therefore, responsible for replenishing the supply on deposit in the Bryant College Blood Bank which is maintained at the R. I. Hospital.

One hour of your time and the donation of a pint of blood could save a life . . . it could be your own. If you care to contribute, please observe the following instructions: 1) Pick up donor cards through the records office, activities office, dispensary or switchboard in the administration building. 2) Fill out card. 3) Return card to the activities office or the dispensary. 4) An appointment will be made for you through the activities office. Watch bulletin boards for your scheduled appointment.

IMPORTANT — no alcohol for twelve hours before donating. No cream, milk, or butter fats for four hours before donating.

Drama Club To Experiment With New Theater Trends

On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, November 18, 19, the DRAMA CLUB held meetings to discuss its fall production. An experimental play was discussed by old and new members. To say that the possibility of experimental theater was met with mixed emotions is an understatement. Members of the DRAMA CLUB were curious about such things as the new trends in theater involving near — or total nudity; would the Bryant community acknowledge new trends in theater; was experiment warranted on grounds that difference was reason enough for experiment; would the Bryant student accept a play that was existential, rather than obviously interpretative. While few concrete conclusions were arrived at, it was decided that the DRAMA CLUB would pur-

THE GREEKS

Zeta Beta Tau

The brothers of Zeta Beta Tau would like to thank all those who attended our smoker the 18th in the gym. We hope we gave you a small sample of what our fraternity is like. Look at all the frats on campus before you decide — the decision is one of the most important you will ever make.

Football was rather disappointing last week as we dropped two games—one to AOX 2-0, and the other to Phi Sig 12-6. The wins haven't been very numerous this season, but all the brothers have enjoyed playing in the league.

A special thanks goes out to Mr. Patrick J. Keeley, one of our Faculty Advisors, for his performance at our smoker. At the recent "Slave Auction" benefiting the United Fund, ZBT out-bid PKT and bought Mr. Keeley's services for $17.50. Seeing that many of the brothers have him for English classes, we couldn't see making him clean Bover's apartment—so he sang two songs at the smoker ($8.75/song).

This week the "Bent Paper-Clip Award" goes to Walt Weller for his suggestion of having one. Congratulations Walt!!

Phi Kappa Tau

By Dave Dudas

Congratulations to the football team who won their third consecutive football title. The team led by Captain Al Palumbo has scored 94 points and the defense has not given up a single point as of last Friday.

Congratulations to Dick Baker who had his second successful "Oldie but Goodie" party. For all those who missed them, there will be plenty more.

Today at 3:00 there will be a happy hour. Anybody who needs a ride be in front of the Union at three. Friday night after the Happy Hour there will be a party.

KT News Corner

The Brothers of Phi Kappa Tau would like to congratulate Diane R. who was voted PKT's best sister. And it seems that Mike Whitney likes to date girls with 5:00 shadows, that girl he dated probably has a thicker beard than he does.

On Sunday, December 7, DEX will hold a tea for freshmen and independents. Invitations will be sent out to those who signed up at the Smoker. Anyone else who is interested is welcome to come. Any of the sisters will be happy to talk to you about it.

Also for Sunday, December 14, a Christmas Party is being planned. To add to the fun, everyone will bring a grab bag and in return will receive one. All those interested are invited to join us.

Our happy hours are still on our schedule every Friday, and, of course, all freshmen and independents are welcome to come.

December 5 has tentatively been set as the date when AOX plans to have their Hall Party. The exact location has not been definitely set but a hall close to the campus has been checked out. The brothers look forward to having a great time.

Jerry Hondo, 4th semester member of AOX is leaving the Bryant Campus. Due to unmentionable circumstances, Hondo is forced to withdraw from school. Most Athletic-Definitely.

AOX football team lost to the Delta Sig forces. The final score was 7-0, and people are beginning to ask Wayne Morra what a touchdown is.

Squash is back on the Bryant scene, and everybody knows it. Presently, he is on a two week leave from the United States Army.

Tonite: Here come the X'ers Worcester.

What more can TEP be than tops? This can be found out tonight. Tonight, TEP will have another one of its dynamic apartment parties. It is our feeling that this type of party gives the independents a better chance to meet the brothers. Tonights apartment party will be held in the usual place. See any brother for information about the party.

Congratulations to Brother Ira Stone on his receiving the Pell internship to Washington, D.C. Also, congratulations to the brotherhood. After being approached by a crafty businessman, the type we are learning to become here at Bryant, he was shown that there was no room for craft unless it was cheese.

Being that I have been informed that this week is National Dog Week, have a heart, take a dog to lunch. To all a happy Thanksgiving vacation is wished.

Sigma Iota Xi

The SIX spaghetti dinner was a great success thanks to the spirit of the sisters, freshmen, and independents who attended. A special "thank you" goes to Linda and Minnie for their fine cooking job and to Hanna and Dion for their entertainment.

There are many more activities and good times planned by the Sigma's in the coming weeks, such as our annual Hobo Party to be held Dec. 10, in the Activities Building. Remember freshmen, this occasion should be lots of fun so don't forget to keep the date open.

The sisters of SIX would like to congratulate our new social pledge brothers—Chris, Howie, and Squirrelly. Best wishes and good luck.

SIX and their brothers of Phi Sigma Nu are currently planning their annual Christmas Banquet to be held at the Grist Mill on Dec. 12. Remember sisters, only 21 hunting days left!!

On Wednesday, Oct. 13, SIX met Harriet at the huge Bryant gymnasium. Once again our skilled volleyball team gained a victory. Congratulations on a fine performance. Keep up the old Sigma spirit!!

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Congratulations are in order to the football team on their shut-out victory over TEP by a score of 11-0. The defense was outstanding and deserves most of the credit.

Also we congratulate Phil Sellers on appearing in the Student Spotlight as student of the week in last week's Archway. Another example of the Greek influence upon Bryant life.

Also appearing in the spotlight last week were Eric, Spud, Mulvee, and Daughton. Cheer up! Maybe there's a TKE Chapter at San Quentin.

Is it really better to be thought a fool than to open your mouth and prove it? Gobes?

"K-B-A-Q." I don't know. Must be a radio station or something.

Art—I guess we'll be seeing your name a lot now!

Hope everyone has a nice Thanksgiving.

Delta Sigma Phi

The brothers of Delta Sigma Phi would like to thank all the freshmen and independents who showed such enthusiasm at our smoker last night. It was a good time, and we really met a great bunch of guys. We also like to remind all freshmen about our party tonight and tomorrow night. They should be interesting.

Our football team finished in third place after victories over Phi Sig and AOX. They were both real good games. Special congratulations are extended to our coach Mike Coletta and our star guard, Steve Mangold.

The brothers would like to wish all students a good Thanksgiving and hope to see them all back from vacation completely recovered.

The Delta Sig MVP award goes to Jon Frede's sneaker. Congratulations.

Leftovers

by mark cutler
sports editor

Fred Reinhardt's harriers recently completed their most-successful season within memory. Much credit goes to a team which through injuries and retirement were doubtful to even field a team each meet. As it turned out, they compiled a fantastic 11-6 record. Roy Lapidus, when he wasn't getting lost, was finishing near the top in every meet. The team showed a lot of courage and determination as it was forced to participate in some meets with the minimum five men. The two seniors on the team, Dick Maltezos and George Edge, were counted upon heavily and came through in the clutch. Both were instrumental in the division winning meet. It's loyalty to a team that makes one continue running in spite of Advanced Accounting. It's either loyalty or stupidity . . . Captain Bob Armstrong and freshman Charley Gugliemetti both had good years as did Chuck Haskell. The team felt the loss of Dom Macaully who was injured early in the year.

How about Phi Kappa Tau? It seems in every sport and every year they are number one at the end: football, basketball and softball. They are near the top. The fall fraternity football league is coming to an end and PKT is at the top. In fact, they are almost unscored upon . . . Also making the fraternity news is a win for TEP. They tell me it was the toe of D'Amato . . . Turning to intramurals, Jeff Russell has again been voted complainer of the year. This year it was not by unanimous vote. Also receiving consideration was Paul Criscola . . . The basketball season is once again upon us. Our Bryant varsity scrimmaged Stonehill last Friday. Word is that any of the top twelve on the team could start. Tom Folliard has a coach's dream team. By popular demand George Peckham will be back doing his stolen ball tricks. This year he doesn't even wait for the ball player to dribble. He simply takes it right out of his hands . . . A belated congratulations is due to Ralph Johnson whose wife Sandy recently gave birth to a baby boy. Ralph was on the varsity team last year, but this year he will sit out. It should be interesting this season . . . St. Leo of Florida comes to Rhode Island to play Providence College on one day and Bryant a day or two later. For those who are looking for comparisons this could be a clue . . . The soccer season is all over. The team chalked up a 1-9 record. They had the top four teams in New England on their schedule: Eastern Connecticut, S.M.U., Babson, and Ricker were in the N.A.I.A. regional this year. Also on Bryant's schedule were Barrington College and Providence College, both of whom had impressive years. With the tough schedule considered, it wasn't a bad year for the Indians. To begin with there were only four returning lettermen. Coach Ford considers this past year as a rebuilding year for the young team. They are only in their second year. There were a few high points of the season. The 3-2 win over Rhode Island College . . . fifty-one saves for Howie Reade against Barrington . . . A pair of two goal games for George Fredette, Rhode Island College, and Hawthorne . . . Fredette tying the record of five goals in one season . . . Fredette setting the record for getting kicks out of most games and then having Mark Cutler tie the record in the last game of the year at Babson . . . Goals for the year were Fredette—5, Cutler—3, Farrington—2, Lynch—1, Biben—1, Heffernan—1 . . . Cutler's five assists enabled him to set a record for most points in one season with eight . . . Three of Fredette's five goals came on penalty kicks. Both Steve Darby and John Lynch missed the almost automatic penalty kick . . . George Ford teaching the team Portuguese during the halftime in the game against SMU. Their whole front line spoke Portuguese . . . Howie Reade's write-up in the Providence Journal . . . it's funny how he expected all the girls to go for him after this! Yes . . . the year is over and the Sport is over for the seniors on the team: Co-Captains George Fredette and Mark Cutler, and Paul Fine and Danny Farrington . . . It was a long year but as the Red Sox say, "Wait until next year!" . . . Amen.

INTRAMURAL OUTLOOK

By P.A.T.

Kicking off last week's action, AOX defeated ZBT 2-0, in a defensive battle. The only score, a safety, was the result of treacherous footing. In the second game on the rain-soaked field, Dan Davidson's 23-yard field goal was the winning margin in Phi Sig's first victory of the season. Final: Phi Sigma Nu 3, PEP 2.

Wednesday, in one of the biggest games of the season, a determined BEX ballclub fell short in a scoreless duel with PKT. The final tally, two first downs to one, was indicative of the closely fought and controversially officiated contest. A bomb to Dennis Mogan and two safeties paced TKE to an 11-0 victory over TEP. TEP ran out of gas before the opening kickoff.

Two previously postponed games were rescheduled for Thursday. In the first game, PSN stormed over ZBT for a 12-6 win, their second of the week, and their second of a long season. A Daley touchdown pass, a field goal, a safety, and a P.A.T. accounted for PSN's scoring. ZBT's only score was a T.D. pass to Notargiacomo. The second game on Thursday killed AOX's title hopes as they were defeated by DSP, 7-0. A touchdown pass to center, Roger Pearly, was the difference. AOX threatened at the end of the first half, but DSP held as time ran out.

As the season approaches the wire, PKT and the Raiders have clinched their respective divisions, and will meet in the Bryant Bowl. As was predicted in this column at the beginning of the season, PKT and the Raiders have proved, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that they are the champs.

COMING SOON! ALL-STAR TEAMS.

In My Opinion.

NFL
Washington over Atlanta
Baltimore over Chicago
Los Angeles over Dallas
Green Bay over Detroit
Cleveland over New York
St. Louis over Philadelphia
Minnesota over Pittsburgh
San Francisco over New Orleans

AFL
Boston over Buffalo
Denver over San Diego
New York over Cincinnati
Kansas City over Oakland

This week at Washington we find the Redskins playing the Falcons. Last week the Redskins were all but eliminated by Dallas; so, therefore, they might be down. However, the Falcon defense just doesn't have enough to stop Jurgensen.

The Baltimore-Chicago game is meaningless for both teams. The Colts have now lost four games while the Bears have won only once. Don Shula will probably make a number of changes to get his forces going against the Bears.

The NFL's big game of the week puts the Cowboys against the Bears.

The NFL's big game of the week puts the Cowboys against the Rams. This is an interdivision game, but it won't be played like one. The Cowboys have been having their problems lately with their defense; while the Ram offense, led by Roman Gabriel, are having their greatest year.

At Green Bay, the Lions and Packers play for second place in their division. The Packer defense has looked good thus far, but their offense is having quarterback problems. The Lions are improving, but they might find it hard scoring against the Packer defense.

The Cleveland-New York game should be an easy test for the Browns. Cleveland has both a good offense and defensive unit and will probably roll up a big score against the Giants. Last week Fran Tarkenton looked good but the Giant defense faltered.

The Eagle-Cardinal game should prove to be interesting. Philadelphia has been playing good football lately as Norm Snead continues to improve. On the other hand, St. Louis has had a number of problems which have kept them from winning.

This week I look for St. Louis finally explode.

At Minnesota, the Steelers will have a hard time trying to contain the Viking offense. The Vikings were held to six points last week, but are trailing close to thirty on the season. Against Pittsburgh they should have an easy time passing their average.

Finally at New Orleans, the 49ers will be seeking two in a row. John Brodie seems to be getting his touch back and could have a field day against the Saint defense. However, the 49ers are to win, they will have to contain the Saint winning game.

In the AFL, the young Buffalo team will invade Boston. The Patriots, who look like they could give any team in the league a problem, should be able to stop the Bills. Ed Nance is running like the Nance of old, and should gain over 100 yards against the Buffalo defense.

The Bronco-Charger should prove to be a good one. The Charger, playing under a new coach, almost upset Oakland last week. However, Steve Jensen, having his finest season and should pick apart the Charger defense.

At Miami, the Oilers will try to keep their hold on second place in the East. Houston, who still needs to find a good quarterback, should be able to handle Miami. The Dolphins have been a big disappointment this year, and a change of coaches might be what they need.

The Jet-Bengal game is a big game for the Jets. New York, who have looked sluggish this year, need a big win to get the morale back. The Bengal, with Greg Cook guiding their offense, might give the Jets trouble.

The big game of the week finds Oakland playing Kansas City. The Raiders looking able to this game almost got knocked off by the Chargers. Last week with Len Dawson playing great the Chiefs proved they are the best in the AFL.
