Dean Castronovo Leaving Bryant

Dean Philomena Castronovo will officially leave the office of Dean of Women on July 1, after having served in that capacity for the past ten years.

Dean Castronovo graduated from the School of Secretarial Science at Bryant College in 1951. She later returned to the college and completed the four-year Business Teacher-Education program where she earned the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Teacher-Education in 1954. She has also done graduate work at Brown University.

Upon graduation, Dean Castronovo joined the Bryant faculty as an instructor in typewriting and medical dictation.

In June of 1960 she was appointed to the position of Dean of Women which she presently holds.

Dean Castronovo has served as Historian for the Women's Auxiliary of the Rhode Island Medical Society and belongs to several social and professional organizations which include the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors where she served on the Special Membership Committee, American Personnel and Guidance Association, and is an Honorary Member of the Providence Association of Medical Assistants.

The wife of Dr. Joseph Castronovo, retired Medical Health Officer for the Rhode Island Department of Health, she resides at 31 Clarke Road in Barrington. The Castronovos have one daughter, Mrs. William Owen of West Lafayette, Indiana.

Krishman's Critique Mental Climax

As this school year nears its end, let us now take a stroll down memory lane of the school year 1969-70. There was a lot of rain this year, but it was another reign that went down the drain. We went to Hawaii for a President, who like Pearl Harbor, fell from shell shock. Providence, like Hawaii, has its ports. Bryant, like Providence, has its "Docks", and like Providence many of its "docks" proved to be full of ships. To keep us secure, we have security guards. Now, who keeps the security guards secured from robbing the school? The Greeks this year tried to do something other than cause hemorrhoids. One Greek organized skull sessions while the

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1970 GRADUATING CLASS
BRYANT COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

You graduate at a time when established institutions and ideas are being questioned as they have never been questioned before in our history. Much of this questioning is being done by the members of your generation, and it is your generation which ultimately will have to provide most of the answers to those questions.

I hope that as you look for those answers, you will remember the obligation of every educated man and woman to draw careful distinctions between those ideas which must be readjusted and those which should be preserved. The fact that many accepted ways of thinking seem artificial and unjust does not warrant the rejection of all established standards. Nor should our proper respect for the past and our legitimate desire for stability lead us to defend thoughtlessly that which is outmoded and obsolete.

Your challenge will be that of reconciling continuity and change, of giving new applications and fresh expressions to our traditional values -- especially our concern for the dignity and integrity of every individual. By meeting that challenge you can make this time of rapid change a time of substantial growth and fulfillment -- for yourselves, for your community and for your nation.

As I extend to you my personal congratulations and best wishes, I look to the future with greater confidence because I know of the exceptional qualifications you bring to the exceptional demands of our time.

Build-Up To Tragedy At Kent State

The following chronology of the events at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio, is taken from news reports of the Associated Press and United Press International. (reprinted from U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT)

1968

November 11-20—About 250 members of the Students for a Democratic Society-EDS and the Black United Students-BUS demonstrated against police recruitment in the campus. About 300 Negroes who left the school demanding amnesty for accused demonstrators returned after the charges were dropped. (UPI)

1969

April 8—A demonstration led by the SDS brought clashes with university police. The SDS was then banned from the Kent campus, 37 students were suspended and five were charged with assault and battery. The demonstrators were demanding that the university abolish the Reserve Officers Training Corps, a crime laboratory and a law-enforcement-training school. (AP)

October 7—A campus survey showed 81 per cent of Kent students approved the calling in of State police to shut down the SDS disruption of April 8. (AP)

1970

May 1—Hundreds of students broke windows, set fires and damaged cars in a march from downtown Kent to the 19,000-student campus, protesting the American military move into Cambodia. (AP)

May 2—National Guardsmen were sent to the Kent campus and demonstrators burned down the ROTC building. Students took away firemen's hoses and turned them on the fire fighters. (AP)

May 3—Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes visited the campus and called those responsible for violence there part of "the strongest, well-trained, militant revolutionary group that has ever assembled in America." (AP)

Guardsmen battled students into Sunday night and early Monday morning. (UPI)

May 4—Four students were shot to death and 12 other persons were wounded or injured when National Guardsmen opened fire on demonstrators at Kent State University. . . . The Guardsmen had been targets of bricks and rocks before they opened fire. (AP)

SMASHING RED SANCTUARIES: THE GAINS SO FAR AS MILITARY RESULTS OF CAMBODIA PILE UP—

Allied forces sweeping through Red sanctuaries in Eastern Cambodia reported capture of the following war material between April 29 and May 14:

ARMS: 10,276 rifles and 1,136 heavy weapons

Enough to outfit almost 70 enemy battalions of 500 men each.

AMMUNITION: 1,823 tons of mortar and artillery shells, rockets, rifle bullets

More than Communists would use in two years.

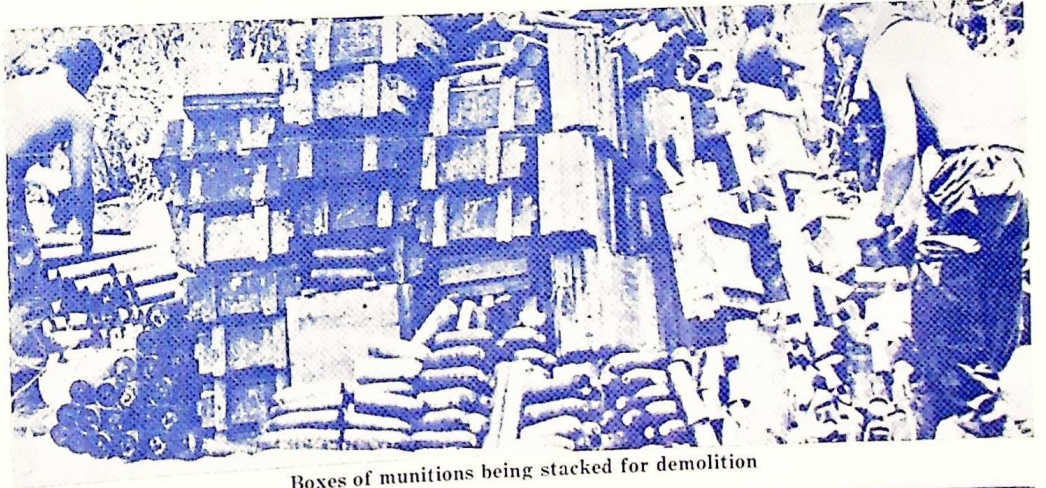

MEDICAL: 12 tons of supplies

Enough to support a 320-bed hospital for four months.

FOOD: 2,328 tons of rice

Enough to feed more than 10,000 troops for a year.

By official estimates: Drive into Cambodia has set back Communists' ability to launch major offensive in southern half of South Vietnam by six months-or more.

Boxes of munitions being stacked for demolition

Captured rockets

other Greeks organized concerts. It is truly amazing the way we at Bryant have been able to draw the big name groups. It started with the Turtles, then Creedance Clearwater (which proved to be a bit muddy), Spirit almost made it but, Blood, Sweat, and Tears who caused nothing less than that (with apologies to the Student Senate), and then there's the teachers federation—we got them.

A business school breeds businessmen. Here at Bryant, surely we are able to realize the meaning of inflation. What better case study can we find than that of the Student Union? The Wigwam has once again successfully scalped us before we had the opportunity to circle up the wagons. Think back, if you can, and remember the good old days when sodas were ten cents. The increase in prices range from 100% on down, with neither an increase in quality nor quantity; but, the Narragansett Room is the place to go for coffee! In monetary terms, consider the frank. Before the value of the frank had been four franks to the dollar (including potato chips and pickles). Now the value is only three and one-third, try buying one-third of a frank or hot dog for that matter. And talk about getting the business, what about the new campus. Where else can one find a Governor shoveling it out so well and...

All has not been negative this year, far from it. The Student Senate managed to jump into a haystack and find the needle, hopefully the point will be felt for years to come. The students managed to gather themselves in the Bryant gymnasium (known city wide as the pit) and behind the skirt of their leader thrust forward their proposition. With the selection of instructors it is hoped that some "new cars" will be added to our lot and not necessarily "used cars." There have been other changes too, Jimmy's no longer delivers, the school has taken on a green look, and there is no longer a Dean of Student Affairs—now he is Vice-President of Student Affairs (a more impressive title, but why not President of Student Affairs). It was only a matter of weeks after the "great student gathering" in the "pit" that the Student Senate elections were held. A booming 30% of the students managed to vote (or marketed or accounted...), it appears our "Silent Majority"—whatever that is—can neither speak nor read. Who knows, maybe the Archway even went from rags to riches—questionable? Bryant has taken on a new look that of a "doggie haven". Now far be it from me to judge the scruples of a canine, but their morals are questionable. They do things in public that Pawtucket wouldn't allow in the movie theaters. While on the subject, parietal hours are now under observation, or is it the school's policy that is under observation? Then, there was a strike, which managed to muster up more student activity than any other vote or movement in the history of Bryant College; only to have their proposals mutilated.

You can't always get what you want, but we have gained a lot this year. There have been a great many question marks left for the student to answer himself. Hopefully, all have their own answers. With this school year ending, and looking forward(?) to the next year, maybe we will take out the old and bring in the new. To the seniors—good luck, it's a big world with a lot of holes; watch your steps. Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither was Bryant College. You can't always get what you want, but there's no harm trying—Right?

Dr. Evarts Fourth Bryant President

The Presidential Search Committee wishes to announce that on Friday, June 5, the Trustees of the College unanimously elected Dr. Harry F. Evarts President of the College. Dr. Evarts is a native of Troy, New York. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Ohio University in the fields of Economics and Management. His Doctor of Business Administration degree was earned at the Harvard Business School in 1959.

In addition to two years in the U.S. Army (Korea), Dr. Evarts worked as an industrial engineer in private industry for three years, served on the faculty of Northwestern University for five years, and later rose to the rank of full professor at Ohio University's College of Business Administration. Since 1965, Dr. Evarts has held the post of Dean of the College of Business Administration at Ohio University in Athens.

Dr. Evarts was the first choice of the Presidential Search Committee, carrying the highest number of votes of any of the three candidates recommended to the Board of Trustees.

Our new president will officially take office on September 1, but will be on campus from time to time to meet College personnel and to acquaint himself with the problems confronting the College.
