"Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men"

It is Christmas - and the gala spirit of Good Will pervades this happy season of celebration of the Lord's Birthday; the season of generous giving of ourselves; of merriment; of warmth and richness of spirit - when all that is good and unselfish in humanity rises in memory of the Babe of Bethlehem.

To the students and Faculty of our College, my sincere good wishes for a very Merry Christmas. May your hearts be filled with gladness that in our beloved country today there is Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men. Let our good will toward men be more than an empty phrase. Let us mean it from the depths of grateful hearts, mean it not merely today, not merely at the Christmas season, but throughout the year.

Let us here at Bryant, by transmuting into deeds and words the Good Will we have for fellow students and faculty, maintain throughout the entire year the warmth of friendships we are making during our College days; and keep, not lose, that most precious of all gifts, the esteem and good-fellowship that will increase with the years.

There have been other Christmases, but from the depths of my heart, I sincerely hope that this one will be the happiest you will ever have had.

When you return from your vacation, another year will have begun. May 1941 bring to all of you a wealth of hopes and courage and happiness. May the days of 1941 spent here at Bryant be rich in friendships made and work well done, creating cherished memories for later years, memories of friendships that will live through the years to come.

There have been other Christmases, but from the depths of my heart, I sincerely hope that this one will be the happiest you will ever have had.

When you return from your vacation, another year will have begun. May 1941 bring to all of you a wealth of hopes and courage and happiness. May the days of 1941 spent here at Bryant be rich in friendships made and work well done, creating cherished memories for later years, memories of friendships that will live through the years to come.

President

A CHRISTMAS GIFT

"If uncounted wealth were thine--
Thou couldst not to thy cherished friends
A gift so dear impart,
As the earnest benediction
Of a deeply loving heart."
CONGRATULATIONS!

Bryant College students who made the Honor Roll for the semester just ended are:

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Gerard Dubzel, '42, Waterville, Maine
Dorothy Francis, '42, Somerset, Mass.
Roger Gelson, Feb. '42, Providence
Gerard Greene, '42, Amsterdam, N. Y.
Harold Hubbard, Feb. '41, Seekonk, Mass.
Leonard Levin, '42, Providence
George Long, '42, Fairhaven, Mass.
Howard Peach, '42, Attleboro, Mass.
Herman Rosen, '41, Hartford, Conn.
Chester Yrichowski, '42, Hartford, Conn.

SCHOOL OF SECRETARIAL SCIENCE

Mary Allen, '41, Providence
Lois Angell, '41, Providence
Helen Barry, '42, Cranston, R. I.
Blanche Burruss, '41, Pawtucket, R. I.
Anna Conde, '41, Providence
Delifina Ferreira, '42, Acushnet, Mass.
Helen Lynch, '41, Pawtucket, R. I.
Mary Timnaugh, '41, Providence
Mary Koscher, '41, North Bennington, Vt.
Margaret O'Keefe, '41, Providence
Thelma Polman, '41, Hartford, Conn.
Irene Salalek, '41, Fall River, Mass.
Mary Sylvia, '42, New Bedford, Mass.
Eleanor Tweiser, '42, Cranston, R. I.
Phyllis Yelle, '42, Taunton, Mass.
Dorothy Young, '41, East Providence

SCHOOL OF COMMERCIAL TEACHER-TRAINING

Theresa Caprani, '41, North Providence
Peggy Gafftio, '44, Fall River, Mass.
Dorothy Lines, '41, Providence
Dorina Quarantelli, '44, Providence
Ellen Williams, '42, Middletown, Conn.

The new Honor Roll now makes eligible for membership in THE KEY the following students: Herman Rosen, Business Administration; and Helen Lynch, Secretarial.

Seniors now members of THE KEY are:

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Mary Florini
Harold Hubbard
Herman Rosen

SCHOOL OF SECRETARIAL TRAINING

Barbara Jones
Helen Lynch
Thelma Polman

SCHOOL OF COMMERCIAL TEACHING-TRAINING

Alice Lines
Dorothy Lines
G. Ruth Westall

Note: THE KEY is the Honor Society of Bryant College. Only students who have been on the Honor Roll three consecutive semesters are eligible for membership. Membership in this organization is a valuable selling point for the Placement Director to have in making contacts for Bryant graduates with employers.

SIGMA IOTA CHI CELEBRATES

That was a nice thing: Sigma Iota Chi girls did a few weeks ago when they presented to the Typing Room a handsome new electric clock. For the occasion, Sigma Iota Chi was in charge of the Assembly, with President Lucy Dean introducing the officers of the Sorority and its new Sponsor, Mrs. F. Douclos Hammond.

Sigma Iota Chi celebrated its Founder's Day, Wednesday, December 11, with a theatre party and dinner. Sigma Iota Chi was established on that day, 33 years ago. Ten chapters made up the organization then. In later years, Sigma Iota Chi had the largest membership and the largest chapter roll of any National College Sorority.
Frances Edwards: Something to wear.
Mary Schroff: A copy of "The Desirability of Being Frank."
Ruth Proendle: A new airplane schedule to Erie, Pennsylvania.
Virginia Lagerman: A new pair of wings.
Jimmie Sadler: An invitation to the Christmas Party in Salisbury Hall.
Hildred Voyer: Six lessons from Madame la Zonga's pianist.
Bob Marshall: A copy of "Bashfulness and How To Cure It."
Charles Crocker: An inkwell or else a new alibi.
Lawrence Italiano: Insurance against getting a swelled head resulting from all the records he is smashing in Typing, English and other subjects.
Larry Rich: A bigger and rounder round Table around which the Debating Club can gather to debate the problems of the world.
Don Souda: A copy of "How To Win Friends and Influence Teachers."
Nick Coracio: An appointment as official "Life of the Party" of all Beta Chi Tau social affairs.
Ernie Jordan: An advance copy of Professor Shors' final.
Tony Fera: A Rolls Royce with brumette accessories, preferably with the initials D.D.
Avis Gardiner and Dantina Quartaroli: A lock and chain with which to anchor their books.
Phil Dorf: A copy of "What To Do With Your Leisure Hours" to help him while away time when he isn't in school, or studying (?) or working in the Accounting Department at Coca Cola, or editing the Coca Cola Bulletin or ------.
George Banks: A C.P.A. problem that can stump him.
Ollie Edwards: An executive position with a five figure salary for his first job.
Curt Dibkenman: A carburetor of Life Buoy or Emergine for cleansing athletics.
Helen Lynch: A superhighway, with no stops and no interfering traffic policeman, to the home town of B.H.
Hilda Lubosh: A sure and short method of acquiring shorthand speed.
Bill McRath and Ed Cafferty: A few more sidelines on which to practice their salesmanship - and bring in the shekels.
Miss Krupa: A phonograph record of her thanks for felicitations, to save her voice.
Professor Summersgill: A 24-hour day.
John Van Bodegom: A direct telephone line from the Bursar's office to West 1-5-.
Professor Gulsik: A new grey sock and one new brown one, so that he can wear mates.
Frances Phelan: A big warm, woolly, costume in which to snuggle when riding in draughty cars - or else a chauffeur who knows his job better.
Mrs. Stickney: A tight lid for her irrepressible, contagious, musical laugh.
Warren Tillinghast: A compilation of the latest market reports, with detailed information about S. S. Pierce's choicest spaghetti, artichokes -and raspberries.
Professor Lee: A loud (and penetrating) speaker announcing the end of classes to hungry students, and an alarm clock to help in his cigar collections and dimes distribution.
Mr. Richards: Asbestos cigarettes for the Gym.
(Continued on Page 4)
One of the prettiest parties given at Bryant this year was the Christmas Party given by the College to the young women residents of Bryant Hall, Stowell Hall and Salisbury Hall and their escorts. It was a formal buffet supper given at Stowell Hall, followed by dancing at Salisbury Hall, and every girl of the dorms was there in her best bib and tucker. There were some lovely gowns worn and the Bryant belles were dancing, with a background of red and green candlelight, and a garden, with real live goldfish in a big bottle, that brought many exclamations of admiration. And such a good buffet! Caviar, smoked turkey, and other delicacies set before the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Don Gardner Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Allan, Professor and Mrs. Gulaki, Professor and Mrs. Shors, Dr. Tillinghast and Mr. and Mrs. Dow (Miss Cassels) were among the special guests at the party.

At Wm. E. Scott House

Housemother Carroll gave Wm. E. Scott House residents a Christmas Party a few days later, December 19, and made every effort to outdo the girls. And from reports the two parties seem to have tied for success. A cooking Turkey dinner was served to the boys and their guests, and afterward there was dancing to the music of an excellent orchestra, and an informal entertainment. Scott House was very attractive with its decorations of laurel and pine roping, and bits of mistletoe tucked here and there added to the fun. Not even the presence of President and Mrs. Jacobs, Dr. and Mrs. E. Gardner Jacobs, Dr. and Mrs. Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Ripley, Dr. and Mrs. Richards, and Mr. Tillinghast, who were the special guests, kept those Scott House lads from taking advantage of that mistletoe.

At Bryant Hall

Bryant Hall girls had another Christmas party, all by themselves, this week. The Dorm was lovely in its soft candlelight and sprays of holly, laurel, cones, and a gorgeous tree which the girls themselves decorated. Hanging from the tree were little laugh-provoking presents for everyone from their housemates, and Mrs. Dow, the popular housemother, had stockings hung over the fireplace with a dainty gift for each of her girls.

Professor Russell's benign smile and lovable personality were sadly missed around the College for a week recently, when that old debil 'Flu laid our popular Prof low. Dr. Russell was a pretty sick man — and we here at the College were a pretty nostalgic group without him.

Welcome back, Mr. Russell!

IN THEIR CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS

(Continued from Page 3)

Mr. Allan: A new extra-size waste-basket in which to file student petitions.

Gardner Hall Kindergarten Class: A few new members to swell the volume of its choral society so that it may be heard farther than three blocks away, as at present.

Professor Hasty: A bigger bag in which to carry all his homework.

Evelyn Beebe: Time off from the Publicity Department to finish the mittens she is knitting to give to some poor guy.

Gardner Hall Students: New art work for their soles, for the enjoyment of passersby who look up at the windows of Room 1-A.

Mr. Reopell: A new droopless apron to make him look less like little Bo Peep's sheep.

Florence Park: A new set of toe guards— or a new dancing partner.

Harold D. Ripley: Another pair of ears to use in answering all the calls to the Placement Bureau from employers these days.

The Faculty Bowling Team: A new anchor.

Miss Blaney: Peace! It's wonderful.
The new Debating Club is made up of some of Bryant's outstanding students, from all schools of the College. Men and women interested in national and international affairs and a desire to think about those affairs for themselves, not to accept uncritically the ready-made opinions and thoughts handed to them by newspapers, radio and other sources.

"Shall We Give Men and Materials To Great Britain" was the subject of the first Round Table discussion, at which Mr. Etzel was the faculty discussion leader.

"Resolved: That Group Study Is More Beneficial To The Student Than Individual Study" was the subject of a debate on December 11. The Chairman of the meeting was Josephine Toole, '41, Teacher-Training. Lawrence Rich, '41, B.A., was the speaker Pro, and Mary Ronne, '40, Graduate work in B.A. '41, was the speaker Con. In rebuttal, Anna Carani, O.M. '41, and Alfred Izzo, '41, B.A., appeared. Professors Taylor and Richards, as Judges, found themselves deadlocked by the excellence of the arguments of both sides and Miss Blaney was called in to break the tie, with the decision being given to Mr. Rich and Miss Carani.

The next debate of the Club will be after the Christmas vacation, with the subject to be announced later.

The officers of the new Club are: Lawrence Rich, Chairman; Mary Ronne, Vice Chairman; Anna Carani, Secretary. Mr. Etzel is the Faculty Sponsor. The Constitution Committee is: Anna Carani, Chairman; and Richard Wolrath and Stanton Honeyman. The Committee on Form of Debate is: Mary Ronne, Chairman; with Lawrence Rich and Lockwood B. Whiteley. A Debate at a future Assembly and a debate or Round Table on the radio are possible events for the Club.

SIGMA LAMBDA THETA'S
BARN DANCE

Sigma Lambda Theta entertained their sorority members, alumni, and guests at a Barn Dance at Frenchtown on December 18. The hall was gaily decorated to fit the occasion, the music was great, and everybody had a wonderful time. Viola Carnelli, Hartford, Conn.; Frances Edwards, Chatham, Mass.; Berenice Johnson, East Greenwich, Rhode Island; Ann Conetta, New Canaan, Conn.; and Evelyn Archer, New London, Conn.; were in charge of the affair, and Miss Collins, the sorority sponsor, was the guest of honor.

TEA AT SALISBURY HALL

It was an attractive Tea which the Salisbury Hall girls gave just before Thanksgiving for their new housemother, Mrs. Jackson. The dorm was gay and attractive with chrysanthemums and candles and the Salisbury girls brought forth all their charms and social graces to be delightful hostesses to their sister dormitory friends and the members of the Faculty. Mrs. Stickney presided graciously at the Tea table, with Miss Collins assisting. Mrs. Jackson, who was until recently housemother of Cho Omea sorority house at Rhode Island State College, has already become a favorite with the Salisbury girls.

Mrs. Doe and Mrs. Pullen, Bryant Hall and Stowell Hall housemothers, were on hand to help welcome the new housemother, and assisting in receiving the guests were: Alyce Smith, Stamford, Conn.; Mary Schroff, West Haven, Conn.; Dina Di Massimo, Dalton, Mass.; Barbara Raymond, St. Albans, Vermont; Doris Ross, Holyoke, Mass.; and Virginia Lagerman, Winnewood, Pa.

WHAT'LL IT BE?

Shall I get Marie a scarf of red? Oh, no, she's getting one from Ted. Perhaps some gloves or fancy hose? Oh, gracious no! She's lots of those. A book, some hankies, or a pen? She wouldn't have much use for them. Perhaps I'll cross her off my list; A gift from me will never be missed.
INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL LEAGUE GETS UNDER WAY

Arabians hold early lead

Bryant's annual Intramural Basketball League reached its quarter mark this week. Six teams, representing the various fraternities and clubs, are playing every Monday and Thursday, in the Gym, to a surprisingly large and enthusiastic audience.

The Arabians, comprised largely of former high school stars, are undefeated and start their second round confident of winning the championship. Beta Sigma Chi and Tau Epsilon are close behind and have lost only two games each and are pointing towards their second meeting with the leading Arabians hopeful of turning the tables on the leading aggregation.

Phi Sigma Nu, the Independents, and Sigma Lambda Pi, although behind, all feel that the second round will tell a different story and point out that their losses were by only a few points and they expect to do better the coming quarter.

FROM THE SIDELINES

Tau Epsilon stole the show when they tripped out bedecked in their brand new uniforms. This Tau Ep team is the best ever to represent the fraternity and gave the Arabians their hardest battle. Championship aspirations are still existent in their ranks.

Hats off to the referees, Dickerman and Ben Scuda. They handle the games like professionals and are to be complimented on their whistle handling.

Wee Willie Bazan is on deck, as usual, as timekeeper and scorer. Willie has added another notch to his gun—he writes up the games for our bulletin board—and we notice lately has plenty of help from the feminine ranks.

Leach of the Arabians is like a phantom—a sorceress—a blur—and from nowhere pops Leach with a basket and another two points.

Charlie Dreschler has lost none of his sharp shooting qualities. The byword of the league is "Don't let Dreschler get set—if he does it means a basket." Charlie has been hooping them from the middle of the floor with monotonous regularity and to the dismay of his opponents.

"Two Soda" Hall made his appearance on the courts last week—trouble with Hall is that one foot wants to go one way and the other the opposite.

Bill Sheehan of Tau Epsilon still is in a fog—he can't understand why, when he's given the ball, he can't rush for a first down. Says he always misses his games—really one time going to play baseball with a tennis racket.

Stamford—of last year's fame—is still with us. He is peer of the passing fraternity and a helping hand at all times. "Shoot for yourself, Stam."

Tony Lancellotti has the sooner befuddled—he is likely to appear on the court for any team, and poor Tony's elbows look the worse for wear as he pushes around the corners trying to recover.

BOWLING

BOWLING League race close

The Bowling League, Bryant's favorite winter pastime, has developed into the closest race in Bryant's history of Bowling as the six teams give and take with no mercy.

One week it's the Faculty leading, next it's Phi Sigma Nu, then the Tau Epsilon boys. And so insecure is their lead that one game will find team number three in first place. Only six points separate first and fifth place. This means hot and heavy contesting before the season closes.

FINISH

Tau Epsilon, after years of poor teams, finally has landed at the top of the heap. As we go to press they are tied for first place with Phi Sigma Nu.

The Faculty team, with new blood in their veins, is holding its own and should soon roll its opponents under. Co-Captains Lee and Stael are still battling for supremacy and once they have decided who's best, they will settle down to real bowling.

Jerry Villani of Tau Epsilon has developed a new tantalizing slow ball. (Continued on Page 7)
Ruth Westall, C.T.T. '41, who is doing her Practice Teaching the first part of this college year, took time off for a day’s trip to Boston for Christmas shopping, going by way of Providence to connect with a former Bryant classmate. Miss Westall’s Critic Teacher at Rogers High in Newport, was ill the past few weeks and our clever Bryant embryo teacher carried on all alone in real Bryant manner. Good work, Ruth.

John Majoros is another C.T.T. ’41-er who has been equal to emergency demands. At the Aldrich High School, where he, too, is doing Practice Teaching, Mr. Majoros recently pinch-hit for the teacher of Italian and French. Did a good job, too, from reports, and could have taken an emergency Latin class if they’d asked him.

---

BOWLING

(Continued from Page 6)

Ed drops it and lets matters take their course. Eventually, if he’s lucky and there isn’t too much dust on the alley, it reaches its destination. He has a surprisingly large number of strikes to his credit.

Galiskis of Phi Sigma Nu is the dread of the pin boys; his fast ball sends the pins flying in all directions and insurance rates for pin boys have gone up every time he shows up.

Lally, of the Independents, has been riding with Lady Luck. To prove it, he shuts his eyes and still scores spares and strikes.

Coracci, Freshman recruit, hit 149 in his first time in any alley--then he woke up, and hit 86. Ed Lis tops them all, he bowls with any team needing a man and generally helps them win. Ed is a one ball man--two had he can’t throw his third ball second.

---

BRAIN TEASERS

Answer to last month’s:

Two coins equal eleven cents. One is not a penny. What are the two coins? Answer: A dime and a penny.

---

THEY’RE IN THE ARMY NOW!

Bryant students and graduates who have recently entered military service are:

Army Air Corps
Charles Hofel, ’40, Savannah, Georgia
Tower Smith, ’40, Lakeland, Florida
Anthony Siravo, ’37, Albany, Georgia
Albert Stanwood, ’40, Albany, Georgia
Lionel Cormier, ’36, awaiting call
James McCarbo, ’38, Tuscaloosa, Alabama
Edward Hogle, Feb. ’41, Albany, Georgia

Marine Corps (Officers’ Training School)
William Gavitt, ’40, Quantico, Virginia

Navy
Charles Tumidajski, Evening ’40
Edward Borden, ’41 (Naval Reserve, one month’s service on S.S. Quincy. Returns to College at expiration of reserve duty)

Army
John Alexander, ’39
Peter Barlow, ’39
Gabriel Gawrada, ’38
Arnold Emleem, ’37
Carl Ruode, ’41 (interrupted his course for a year of service in the Army, and will return to College next September to graduate with the class of 1942.)

Clyde St. Lawrence, ’36, Philippines

Coast Artillery
Kirke S. Everson, Jr., ’39, Fort Adams, Newport

Leonard Sweeney, C.T.T. ’41, was called for selective service a week ago. Of course Len can stay in College until he finishes his course, for Uncle Sam wants education to be uninterrupted, so Lennie will be with us still, we hope, we hope.

"The hardest time to get a baby to sleep," opines B------ So------s, "is when she’s eighteen."
An exceptionally big demand for Bryant graduates has made a Placement record this year. The speeding up of industry has made a big increase not only in mechanical and technical workers, but also for secretaries, accountants, office managers and other office assistants. This increased demand has also created a need for more teachers of commercial subjects. Already there are more 1940 graduates working than the entire number graduated in 1939. 304 men and women were graduated on August 9, 1940 — an unusually large class — and at the time this number of ON THE CAMPUS goes to press there were 267 of them employed. This, of course, does not represent the entire number of calls the Bureau has had. There were many more calls for experienced assistants and a number of alumni who, for some good reason and having maintained their Bryant standing, were placed in those positions.

Among the Placements made since the last issue of ON THE CAMPUS, in October, are:

1940

Sophie Adamowska, Fuller's New Market, New Bedford, Mass.
Olga Anasovich, Sponge Rubber Company, Shelton, Conn.
Virginia Anderson, Boston Wire Stitcher Company, East Greenwich, R.I.
Robert Barnhart, Phoenix National Bank, Providence.
Ruth Berndt, Priscilla Braid Company, Central Falls, R.I.
Joseph Berriedell, Congdon & Carpenter Company, Providence.
Virginia Burleigh, Industrial Trust Company, Warren, R.I.
Lydia Chilli, Rogers Jewelry Company, Providence.
Ralph Connor, Hornblower & Weeks, Providence.
Allen Cooke, U.S. Rubber Company, Bristol, Rhode Island.
Frances Cope, Berkeley School, Middletown, Rhode Island.

Ann Costabile, Chain Construction Corporation, Pawtucket, R.I.
Mary Deery, The Providence Visitor, Providence.
John Doherty, Meyer & Regan, Fall River, Mass.
Willis Drew, Weatherall Engineers, Incorporated, Providence.
Robert Dunbar, Mr. Porter-Shirley, Barrington High School.
Alice Durfee, Newport Draft Board, Newport, R.I.
George Edwards, Hartford Special Machinery Company, Hartford, Conn.
Alexander Foley, Office Appliance Company, Providence.
Irene Glazer, G. Fox & Company, Hartford, Conn.
Barbara Godfrey, Mr. Charles P. Siason, Providence.
Lillian Granoff, E. P. Lynch, Incorporated, Providence.
Margaret Hanley, Providence Buick Company, Providence.
Frances Hatton, Rogers Jewelry Company, Providence.

Ernest Hirschy, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass.
Arlene Johnson, Hamilton Standard Propellers, East Hartford, Conn.
Mary Juda, Colt Fire Arms Company, Hartford, Conn.
Helen Juras, Department of Public Welfare, Providence.
Mary Keenan, Pilgrim Drug Company, Providence.
Mary Keenan, Pilgrim Drug Company, Providence.
Margaret Lovely, Chain Candy Company, Providence.
Mary Lovely, Chain Candy Company, Providence.

Ann Costabile, Chain Construction Corporation, Pawtucket, R.I.
Mary Deery, The Providence Visitor, Providence.
John Doherty, Meyer & Regan, Fall River, Mass.
Willis Drew, Weatherall Engineers, Incorporated, Providence.
Robert Dunbar, Mr. Porter-Shirley, Barrington High School.
Alice Durfee, Newport Draft Board, Newport, R.I.
George Edwards, Hartford Special Machinery Company, Hartford, Conn.
Alexander Foley, Office Appliance Company, Providence.
Irene Glazer, G. Fox & Company, Hartford, Conn.
Barbara Godfrey, Mr. Charles P. Siason, Providence.
Lillian Granoff, E. P. Lynch, Incorporated, Providence.
Margaret Hanley, Providence Buick Company, Providence.
Frances Hatton, Rogers Jewelry Company, Providence.

Ernest Hirschy, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass.
Arlene Johnson, Hamilton Standard Propellers, East Hartford, Conn.
Mary Juda, Colt Fire Arms Company, Hartford, Conn.
Helen Juras, Department of Public Welfare, Providence.
Mary Keenan, Pilgrim Drug Company, Providence.
Mary Keenan, Pilgrim Drug Company, Providence.
Margaret Lovely, Chain Candy Company, Providence.
Mary Lovely, Chain Candy Company, Providence.
PLACEMENT BUREAU REPORTS

(Continued from Page 6)

M. Genevieve McCarthy, Liberty Typewriter Company, Providence.
Harry Keikosian, Ashcroft Manufacturing Company, Bridgeport, Conn.
Grace Mercer, Mrs. Arthur W. Drew, Providence.
Mary Kucha, Joan Flush Mills, Woonsocket, R. I.
Arthur Nelson, Grinnell Company, Providence.
Elnore Nordahl, Victor Ring Traveler Company, Providence.
Audrey Raiche, Oliver Johnson Company, Providence.
Elinor Remington, Chase Brass & Copper Company, Providence.
Margaret Rickett, E. I. duPont Manufacturing Company, Providence.
Raymond Bonenfant (Buckwheat), Fallingwater, Mass.
Harold A. King, Pequot Spring Water Company, Glastonbury, Conn.
Dorothea Burke, '30, Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.
Harold A. King, Pequot Spring Water Company, Glastonbury, Conn.
Dorothea Burke, '30, Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.