Not boosting with a braggart's song
But boosting to help along.

Coronation Number
March 1928
THE BOOSTER
Published the Twenty-fifth of Each Month by the Students of
BRYANT-STRATTON COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Providence, R.I.
Subscription Price $1.00 per year Single Copies 15c

BOARD OF EDITORS
1927-1928
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. VICTORIA
ASSISTANT EDITOR
EVELYN M. ROWSE

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Alumni Editor—LURTIE W. HUFFMAN
News Editor—ANTONIO DA PONTE
Exchange Editor—SADIE FOGEL
Art Editor—RAYMOND CHAUTTY

Business Topics—LEO NUSSENFELD
Athletic Editors—
GEORGE THORNLEY
STEPHEN H. DEMIRJIAN

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES
RICHARD L. ROLAND
DUDLEY J. BLOCK
JOHN BEAGAN
MARY M. MULLANEY
CECELIA EINSTEIN
KATHLYN CHERINGTON

BUSINESS MANAGER
CHARLES D. PHELAN

ADVERTISING MANAGER
EARNEST BARNES

BUSINESS STAFF
OLIVE ALBERT
HELEN WILBUR
BERTHARD KOLODOFF

EVENING SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVES
DORIS HAMEL
WILLIAM RUTLEDGE

FACULTY ADVISORS
JEANNETTE CARROLL
ARTHUR E. TARBELL
IDA M. KNIGHT
NELSON GULSKI
FRANCES HELGESON
HECTOR E. GILMAN
Welcome! New Students
The Booster Greets You

To all new students who entered Bryant-Stratton College at mid-year, we extend greetings and good wishes for a successful completion of their courses.

* * *

The arrival of new students is a pleasurable happening in the college year. To the officers and faculty, it offers added scope to their good work in training young men and women for business life.

* * *

It brings new friendships among the student body and information of other towns and cities from which the new students have come.

* * *

It is no easy task to leave behind a home town and adapt oneself to the environment of a new city, but Providence has its merits, and we hope it will soon prove an attractive place to our newcomers.

* * *

"The Booster" is our student publication. Feel free to contribute material for its columns. We should like to know you better. Let us hear from you.

* * *

We shall be pleased to help you feel "at home" in Providence and in Bryant-Stratton where you will find study both interesting and profitable.

THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

Mid-Year Semester
Opened February 6

New Students Entered in Degree Courses

Monday, February 6, was a busy day for everybody. The influx of new students—mid-year high school graduates from all parts of New England, from New York, West Virginia and other states—made for added activity both in the executive offices and classrooms.

Every effort was made to get the new students quickly adjusted to their classes, and in the case of out-of-town students, advance arrangements by our student welfare director, insured suitable places for them to live in during their college life at Bryant-Stratton.

The New Semester
Your Chance to Make Good

Just what does this new semester mean to you—time to dwindle away—or full speed ahead toward the goal you are hopeful of making?

For some, it means a start in a new direction, new subjects, new ideas to be mastered.

For others, it allows a continuation of courses already begun.

For still others, it brings graduation and an undertaking of a position.

It is our opportunity to study and learn. Our able faculty can and is willing to help us. In not doing the work assigned by them, you are cheating only yourself. You are the loser in the end.

Because one should enjoy life as well as the means of supporting life, you should include recreation in your daily plan. "All work and no play" still holds true. Good health is a requirement of success.

Let us fill this new semester with our best efforts and get out of it every ounce of good we can.

By doing so, we shall be inspiring one another—honoring our college—and improving ourselves.

KATHY CARRINGTON.
Once I had a thrilling ride through the clouds in an airplane. In fact I was the new flying vehicle of the nephew of the late Governor Pothier, who was the new flying vehicle of the beauty that held absolute sway, the passenger. When we were hundreds of feet from the ground, I looked down the clouds in an airplane, in fact I was the new flying vehicle of the beauty that held absolute sway, the passenger. When we were hundreds of feet from the ground, I looked down the clouds in an airplane.

The smoke hangs low in the air, and the beauty that held absolute sway. The ugliness had disappeared, the splendor seemed to envelope everything. The accomplishments of man were small landmarks on the great floor beneath us and they seemed to have lost all significance in the immensity of space through which we were flying.

From my desk in Bryant-Stratton College I can look out of the window and see on all sides the results of man's efforts in thought and labor: the State House, representing government; the manufactories, industry; the College of Education, education; a church spire in the distance, religion; the lines of rail road tracks, commerce and travel; a new building in the making, construction; and, of course, our own institution, business.

The smoke hangs low in the air, and through it I can see automobiles and trucks scurrying as spiders, under the bridge and along the streets. Engines moving in and out of the station yard, men thronging in the packing offices, everywhere activity.

Inside of our college building the rhythmic tap of typewriters is heard in the speed-test classes, and, on glancing through a door, I can see a room full of students hard at work.

Man and his achievements, man and his problems—humanity. The overwhelming greatness of man—what an inspiration!

Fraternity News
A Little Journey

On Monday, January 23, the members of "Beta Sigma Chi" accompanied by em, er-r-r "Wimmen," journeyed to the shores of Echo Lake, Burrillville. (We might say, at this time, that the party was most properly chaperoned by the "Dignified?" faculty members of the fraternity.) Arriving at a little lodge, nestled away in the hills, the members of the party made themselves comfortable before the cheery blaze of a large open fireplace, where apples, toasted marshmallows, hot dogs, and coffee were eagerly devoured by the entire ensemble. Harold Hinckley presided at the piano.

Before his departure in a long search for fresh air—the pianist of the evening accompanied Charlie McCabe "Way Down Yonder In The Corn Field" with Mr. Lee carrying "The Old Oaken Bucket" to meet "Sol" Goldin and "His Wild Irish Rose" and Jimmy McLaughlin "And His Shadow." Then the members of the party collectively did some real singing in order to keep out of the "Rain" with a "Smile As Their Umbrella" and finally landed, very much "Collegiate" in "My Blue Heaven."

So, the evening too quickly passed away with songs and witty stories drifting out into the wide open spaces. At a late hour, to the tune of "Good Night, Ladies," the happy group left the Whispering pine and hemlock, on the return trip to civilization, with the pleasant memories of another happy evening to be placed "Among My Souveniers."

Compliments of
AMERICAN COIN LOCK CO.
Coin Operated Devices & Sanitary Service
Cottage Street
Pawtucket, Rhode Island
THE BOOSTER

EXCHANGES TO MARCH 1, 1928

THE MILACHI, Milaca, Minnesota.
THE NEWS, Dubuque, Iowa.
DURFEE HILLTOP, Fall River, Massachusetts.
THE REFLECTOR, North Kingston High School, Wickford, Rhode Island.
THE LASSO, Canaan High School, Canaan, Connecticut.
THE GLEN ECHO, Glenville, Pennsylvania.
THE SPECTATOR, Chicopee High School, Chicopee, Massachusetts.
THE GLEANER, Pawtucket High School, Pawtucket, Rhode Island.
THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE, Athol High School, Athol, Massachusetts.
MAROON NEWS, Menominee High School, Menominee, Michigan.
THE BLUE & WHITE, St. George's College, Kingston, Jamaica (British West Indies).
THE SPOTLIGHT, Chelsea High School, Chelsea, Vermont.
THE HOMESPUN, Somerset High School, Somerset, Kentucky.
THE BEE, Fairfield High School, Fairfield, Connecticut.
THE JOHNSON JOURNAL, Johnson High School, North Andover, Massachusetts.
THE EASTONER, Olive Ames High School, North Easton, Massachusetts.
MUROCK MURMURS, Murock School, Central Massachusetts.
PINE KNOLL REGISTER, Sheffield High School, Sheffield, Massachusetts.
ROSTRUM NEWS, Guilford High School, Guilford, Maine.
THE TUNXIS, Windsor High School, Windsor, Conn. You have a well-written magazine.
THE BEE, Fairfield High School, Fairfield, Conn. Your magazine has good literary topics. We congratulate Chester Richmond, Fairfield's future poet. We like the original treatment of the captions for each section of your magazine.
WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US
THE BEE
Welcome to our Exchange. The Booster is a good business-like paper. Your hints on office conduct and office fashions should be helpful to many employees.
GLEN ECHO
We like the poem, "The Girl Who Wrote By Sound." Come again!
BLUE AND WHITE BANNER
The Booster, Bryant-Stratton, a good business paper.
PINE KNOLL REGISTER
A real newsy edition is put forth by your college—which accounts for the fact that it is not comparable to the ordinary high school papers. Your specials are exceptionally enjoyable.

WHAT WE THINK OF OTHERS
THE CHRONICLE, published by students of Lyman Hall High School, Wallingford, Conn. Your exchanges show painstaking thought and offer constructive criticisms. Your prize stories are very good.

Atlee L. Percy
A.B., B.B.A., C.P.A.
Professor of Accounting, Director of Courses for Commercial Teachers
BOSTON UNIVERSITY
Discusses Balance Sheet
Thursday afternoon, February 23, the Senior Class of the Business Administration Department listened to an interesting and informative talk by Professor Percy of Boston University.
Professor Percy traced the development of the balance sheet from its early use in England to the important part it now plays in business organization and management. With graphic clearness, he described how important it is to know how to arrange and interpret the balance sheet and the demand for the services of those who have sound theoretical knowledge and practical ability in this matter.
Professor Percy's talk was well received and won hearty applause at its conclusion.

ROSTRUM NEWS, published by the Rostrum Board of Guilford High School, Guilford, Maine. Your exchange editor has written up his exchanges very cleverly.

THE TUNXIS, Windsor High School, Windsor, Conn. You have a well-written magazine.

THE BEE, Fairfield High School, Fairfield, Connecticut. Your magazine has good literary topics. We congratulate Chester Richmond, Fairfield's future poet. We like the original treatment of the captions for each section of your magazine.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US
THE BEE
Welcome to our Exchange. The Booster is a good business-like paper. Your hints on office conduct and office fashions should be helpful to many employees.
GLEN ECHO
We like the poem, "The Girl Who Wrote By Sound." Come again!
BLUE AND WHITE BANNER
The Booster, Bryant-Stratton, a good business paper.
PINE KNOLL REGISTER
A real newsy edition is put forth by your college—which accounts for the fact that it is not comparable to the ordinary high school papers. Your specials are exceptionally enjoyable.

WHAT WE THINK OF OTHERS
THE CHRONICLE, published by students of Lyman Hall High School, Wallingford, Conn. Your exchanges show painstaking thought and offer constructive criticisms. Your prize stories are very good.

Juniors to Entertain Easter Dance at Froebel Hall
The Business Administration Class of 1929 will conduct an Easter Dance on April 10 from 8 to 12 P. M., at Froebel Hall—that cozy, well-situated dance hall, resembling very much both from the exterior and interior one of those little night clubs on Broadway or a little cozy cabaret somewhere in gay Paree.
This will be the first social the members of this class have undertaken and they are planning to make it one of the biggest social successes of the year. The class would feel greatly honored and extremely happy if every member of this college would attend this dance. Music for the occasion will be furnished by a first-class orchestra with Harold Hinckley at the piano.
Good music—four hours of continuous dancing—added features—will all combine to make the evening a memorable one. All of our prize dancers will be there—if you cannot dance come and learn how or look on, come any way.

Compliments of
UNION PAPER CO.
Booster Board Conducts Mardi-Gras Dance

CORONATION OF POPULARITY WINNERS
Features Opening of New Assembly Hall

On the evening of February twenty-first, Bryant-Stratton College left its usual course of business routine to become a center of festivities and entertainment. For the first time the doors of its new assembly hall were thrown open to the student body, and many young people took advantage of the opportunity by making merry to the music of a fine orchestra and the reception of special features.

At about 9:45 P. M. a blast from the orchestra indicated that the special features were about to commence. In presenting President Harry L. Jacobs, Mr. John A. Victoria, representing the Booster Board, said in part:

"The Booster feels greatly honored this evening, in being the first unit of this college accorded the use of this new hall. For this reason and others I take this opportunity, in behalf of the board of editors, to thank the college through its worthy president, Mr. Harry L. Jacobs.

"At this time it gives me great pleasure to present to you a friend of ours—one who is always willing to lend us a helping hand. I refer to our president, Mr. Harry L. Jacobs."

Mr. Jacobs spoke of the new hall as a center for the social activities of the college. He also divulged plans for the future utilization of the new hall, including the installation of a moving picture machine and a radio. He looked forward to even bigger and better social activities in the college and assured us that he would gladly assist toward those ends. In expressing appreciation for the reception he had been given, Mr. Jacobs praised the work of the Booster Board.

THE CORONATION

Next came the great event—the coronation ceremonies. The court being ready, Mr. Victoria assumed the role of king and proceeded with the pompous ceremonies. The text of his address incidental to the coronation follows:

"My good friends: Today is a great day. Not only does it signify the official opening of our new hall, but it also marks the festive termination of one of Bryant-Stratton's great popularity contests.

"Ending on February tenth, the contest had been in progress for approximately three months. During this period, much friendly rivalry existed throughout the whole college. This was due to the fact that every student was given an even footing in the contest, no attempt having been made to sell extra votes. Therefore in presenting to you the winners of the contest tonight I present to you the choice of the whole student body."

"In order to get the right atmosphere for this coronation, let us—in imagination—drift back to Ancient Greece. Let us pretend we are sitting in a vast arena upon some festive day awaiting the arrival of the victorious ones to be crowned."

"You may recall on festive days in Ancient Greece, it was the custom for athletes to display their skill. And so, tonight, before our victors come forth to be acclaimed, we present our world renowned tumbler: Hector, the Strong One. He will show you how well balanced a figure he has—he studies his bookkeeping faithfully."

"Enter the Arena—Tumbler! Hector, the Strong One—Attend!"

(The part of Tumbler, taken by Mr. Ara White was especially well done and was well received by all. When his act was done the announcement continued as follows:)"

"A golden apple was the gift bestowed upon Venus for her beauty. Tonight, the golden goes to the girl selected by you as the most popular one in our midst. We should like to be able to present one to every young
Winners in Popularity Contest

MISS MARY M. MULLANEY
Graduate of Westerly High School
Westerly, R. I.
A student in B.S. Teacher Training Department
Has shown initiative and ability in organizing student activities

MR. LESLIE M. FLANDERS
of Chilmark, Massachusetts
Graduate of Tisbury High School
A Senior in two year course in Business Administration Department
Candidate for Degree of Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.)
Interested in Dramatics, Dancing and Music

MISS MARY T. SAHASKI
Graduate of Tisbury High School
Department of North Attleboro, Massachusetts
A student in B.S. Secretarial Department
Candidate for Degree of Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.)

A fitting climax for a spirited contest—The Mardi-Gras Dance.

A. Daponte.
Robert Hill of Seekonk, who graduated last August with the degree of B.A., has been made Manager of the Hartford plant of the Tar Products Company. Mr. Hill was sent to the East Providence plant in November as bookkeeper. We wish Mr. Hill all success in the new position.

Gertrude Dunn of Pascoag, a graduate of Bryant-Stratton College in 1908, is with "Washington Row." Miss Dunn has been in California for some time and has recently returned to Providence.

May Owens, a graduate of Woonsocket High School and B-S Secretarial '28, has been appointed Secretary for the Manville-Jeans Company, Manville, R. I.

Helena Sullivan, a graduate of Rogers High School, Newport, and B-S Stenographic '28, has been substituting as typist at the Western Union office. She is now with Watts & Hutton, Churchill House.

Helena Brooks of Pawtucket, Evening Office Training, is with the Priscilla Braid Company of Pawtucket.

Marguerite Smith, Secretarial '28, is with a branch of the U. S. Finishing Company.

Mrs. Emma Barney, B-S Secretarial '15, is acting as Secretary for Dr. Horan. Mrs. Barney is also a graduate of the R. I. Hospital Training School for Nurses.

A group of the undergraduates in the Shorthand department have been typing-writing for the Shepard Stores.

Camilla Jobes, a graduate of the Trenton, N. J., State Normal School and Bryant-Stratton '28, is, temporarily, with the N. E. Milk Producers' Company.

Edward Smith, General Business '19, formerly with Nightingale Baker & Sales, has entered the employ of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Edith Richards, a graduate of Rogers High School, Newport, and B-S Secretarial '28, is with the Melk electromotive House of Pianos. Miss Richards is an accomplished musician.

George Simmonds, Business Administration '24, is with the Tar Products Company. Mr. Simmonds is a graduate of the Attleboro High School '21.

Katherine Coleman, East Providence High '22, B-S Secretarial '23, is substituting in the news department of the Providence Journal.

Ellen Cooper, Secretarial '28, is with the Cooley Finishing Company of Pawtucket.

Helen Drew, Stenographic '27, who has been substituting in the Citizen's Savings Bank, is now with the Edward Jones & Sons Company.

Alice Cook, a graduate of Brown University, who has completed special Secretarial training at B-S, has been appointed Secretary at Storrs Agricultural College, Storrs, Connecticut.

Anna Bonnier, Pawtucket High graduate, B-S Stenographic '22, has left Allen & Reed, Inc., to enter the employ of General Fabrics, Central Falls.

Catherine Lovelace, Secretarial '27, has returned from New York. She has been substituting at the Moses Brown School, and is now with the Star Jewelry Company.

John Skoglund of Pawtucket, Business Administration '26, has resigned his position with George M. Rex to enter the employ of Ostby & Barton as cost accountant.

Evelyn Brenner of Pomfret, Conn., is stenographer in the office of the U. S. Rubber Company, New York City.

Lucy Hayes, St. Xavier's Academy, and B-S Secretarial '27, is with Post & Lester, of Rhode Island, Inc.

Nellie Spirito of Cranston, Stenographic '28, has been placed with the Saillant Paper Products Company.

Mary McBride, B-S Stenographic '28, is with the R. W. Powers Company, Broad Street.

Dorothy Manchester, Secretarial '28, has been placed with the Providence Insulated Wire Company, Waldo Street.

Doris Jones of Barrington, who is attending Evening Shorthand, has been placed with Pierce & Gaetz, Contractors.

Dorothy Brown of Rehoboth, a graduate of B-S General Business '21 is with Roberts & Withington.

Margaret McCarthy, Secretarial '27, is with the Providence Stock Company.

Esther Dunklee, B-S Secretarial '20, has left the employ of Hamilton & Company to enter the Hospital Trust Company.

Viletta Terrill of Vermont, who is studying for a degree, is acting as part-time stenographer for the Traveler's Aid Society at the Union Station.

Irene Bir, Bay View Academy and B-S Secretarial '27, is with R. H. Kimball, Inc.

Grace McLean, Secretarial '27, is with the Narragansett Electric Company, Turtles Head Building.
WANTED!
DAILY CALLS TO PLACEMENT BUREAU TELL WHAT BUSINESS MEN WANT

Here are queries often heard by Miss Knight, our Student Welfare and Placement Service Director:

"Does he write well? My business requires a neat and speedy penman."

"Be sure the stenographer you send knows how to spell—she'll need to in a law office."

"My secretary is getting married. You sent her to me. Send me another like her—reliable, loyal and a capable stenographer."

"Does he know arithmetic? Be sure he's accurate."

"Can he grow out of an ordinary job into a big one? If so, we want him."

"Don't send her if she is too sensitive. No time for tears in this office. Our work must be done the way we want it done."

During the past week, three calls came for men stenographers. One call was from an office manager of a large firm who said, "I began in this office as a stenographer not so many years ago. Why is it that more young fellows do not see the advantage of studying shorthand? It would put them at the right hand of executives who could promote them. Through the correspondence they handle, they would know the intimate details of business. Shorthand is a craft—useful to both men and women, and which both can master."

The calls for men stenographers are constant and insistent but our supply is inadequate. Often they are left unfilled because of lack of available graduates who have studied shorthand or because of failure of men stenographers to let us know when they need employment or desire a change of position.

Pointed Paragraphs on Business

"It is persistently doing what ought to be done when you don't want to do it that eventually makes you like to do it."

"It's never too late to make an early start to do better."

"Please be advised that the opportunity you have been waiting for has just been picked up by a chap who was looking for it."

"A job with a title is too big for a little man or woman."

"If you work for a man, in heaven's name, work for him. If he pays wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him—speak well of him, think well of him—stand by him, and the institution he represents. Remember this—an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. Even if you resign your position, I pray you, do not vilify, condemn and eternally disparage. Not that you will injure the institution, not that, but when you disparage the concern of which you are or have been a part, you disparage yourself."

Be sure your name and correct address are on file at our Student Welfare and Placement Service Bureau.

Keep Miss Knight informed when you make a change of residence.

Double Entry Bookkeeping

As Understood By A Levantine Business Man

By H. V. Mouradian

In 1914, just a few months before the outbreak of the war, I was travelling through the Levant for the Gresham Life Assurance Society, Ltd., of London as Inspector-General for the Asia Minor Branch with headquarters in Constantinople. At Brousa, ancient capital of the Ottoman Empire, and famous for its hot springs, I was requested to address a meeting of the business men of the town. I gladly accepted the request as any one in my place would have done.

My topic was "Differences Between Occidental and Oriental Methods in Business." I do not know what prompted me to choose that subject rather than that of life insurance as might easily have been expected from an insurance man. But it was perhaps well that I chose it, otherwise the following would never have found its way into the columns of "The Booster."

In the course of my talk, I put to my audience the following question: "How many of you employ double entry bookkeeping in your business?" In response a dozen or more hands were raised. I had not expected that many.

After the meeting, as I was going home with my host, one of the dozen, I asked him to give me an idea of the system of accounting he used in his business. (I think he was in the silk raising business, the chief industry of Brousa.)

"Well," he answered, "you see, I have two books in which to enter every transaction, so that in case one is lost, I still have the other to guide me. It means more work for me, of course, but I think it is worth the trouble. Don't you think so?"

It would of course be unfair to suppose that all Levantines have the same notion of D. E. as this kindly host of mine.
B-S 21, ST. MARY'S 19

B-S boys won a well-earned victory over the fast St. Mary's team of Taunton, February 2.

With the score 9 to 2 at the end of the first quarter, the B-S boys went into the second quarter with great determination, outscoring in this period, but the half still found them behind 13 to 8.

With the confidence instilled in them between the halves by Coach Waterman the B-S quintet quickly overcame the lead and at the end of the third quarter was leading 15 to 13.

Then came the hectic last quarter, when basketball games are won and lost. First B-S would make a basket and then St. Mary's, with three minutes to play, and the score at 19 all. Hopkins shot a line to Feinberg, who made the basket, thus saving the day for B-S.

GOSSIP

It is rumored that a new diamond is sparkling on the third finger of a certain hand in the Secretarial Department.

BRYANT-STRATTON BASKET VICTOR, 35-17

Bryant-Stratton hoopersters defeated Rhode Island School of Design, 35 to 17, at the Providence Boys Club.

The centres held the limelight during the game. Stowell of Bryant-Stratton being the leading scorer of the day with seven field goals and four foul goals. Watson, relief centre, led School of Design by accounting for eight points. Hopkins played a fine game at guard for the winners.

The summary:

BRYANT-STRATTON

G. F. Pt.
Gallup, l. f. 0 0 0
Feinberg, l. f. 3 0 6
Kohr, r. f. 1 0 2
Stowell, r. f. 7 4 10
Casey, c. 3 1 4
Muserilan, l g. 1 0 2
Welch, l. g. 0 0 0
Hopkins, r. g. 0 0 0
Webb, r. g. 0 0 0
Total 15 5 35

R. I. SCHOOL OF DESIGN

G. F. Pt.
Stewart, l. f. 0 0 0
Durelan, l. f. 0 0 0
Booth, r. f. 1 0 2
Watson, c. 3 2 6
Leahy, l. g. 0 3 3
Amend, r. g. 2 0 4
Total 6 5 17

Referee—Jackson.

ATHLETICS

B-S COLLEGE CAFETERIA

DELICIOUS DISHES FOR STUDENTS' PURSES

ATHLETICS

WEDDING BELLS

Miss Sarah Ethel Crosby, B-S '22, daughter of Frank A. Crosby, deputy warden of the State Prison at Howard, was recently married to William T. Rathbome. We extend our good wishes to the newly weds.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION Valentine Party

At Plantations Club

Tuesday evening, February 7, at the Providence Plantations Club Auditorium, a large number of students attended the enjoyable dance planned by a special committee of the Athletic Association which included: John Beagan, Chairman, James McLaughlin, George Costello, Jt. Anthony Barone, Horace Dodge, Mary Mulaney, Marie O'Connor, Helen Gouki, Mary McCarthy, Mary Marshall, Mary Davidson.

A well varied dance program was arranged by Harold Hinckley who was orchestra leader and also presided at the piano. Dancing continued from eight to twelve. A short intermission allowed extra entertainment features and distribution of favors.

BRYANT-STRATTON STAGES SECOND HALF RALLY TO WIN

Bryant-Stratton came back fighting and Cranston was forced to play entirely defensive basketball. At the three-quarter whistle, the score was tied at 10-all. In the last period, with Casey leading the way, Bryant-Stratton clinched the victory.

Hopkins, Casey and Roberts did good work for Bryant-Stratton while Colliison and Gregory stood out for the visitors.
REMEMBER THIS DATE

$$
April 10, 1928
Easter Dance, Froebel Hall
8—12
Cards 75 cents

$$
Junior
Business Administration
Class 1929

THE BOOSTER BOARD
THANKS THOSE Who Attended and Contributed Toward The Social Success of the Mardi-Gras Dance February 21, 1928

THE BOOSTER
Reaches 1500 young business men and women

$$
Discriminating advertisers will find it a good medium to use

$$
Rate spaces moderate
Bryant-Stratton College of Business Administration
Founded 1863
Bryant-Stratton Building
Providence, Rhode Island

Earn a College Degree in Business
(State Authorized)
In Two Years
Prepare for Business Management, Executive Secretarial Positions
Accounting Practice or Teaching Business Subjects

Executive offices open daily from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.
Saturday, 9 A.M. to 1 P.M. for consultation and registration