PRESIDENT JACOBS HONORED

The honorary degree of Doctor of Education was conferred upon President Jacobs by the Rhode Island College of Education in June, for his valuable contribution to the educational life and social services activities, of Rhode Island.

Alumni returning to Bryant for the first Post-war Reunion on November 1 will find not only many more new buildings and an enrollment of about 2,000 but also a Faculty of sixty-two members. Many of these were then on the faculty when the alumni attended Bryant. Returning to the faculty this year after several years' absence is R. Lucien Appleby. Mr. Appleby was one of the most popular instructors at Bryant for several years and returning alumni will be glad of the opportunity to meet him again and revive old memories of the days when they were students under him.

Emma Cummings, an early graduate of Bryant, was admitted to the Rhode Island Bar in May. Miss Cummings, who was a Court stenographer in the Rhode Island Superior Court from 1925 to 1945, is also a member of the Massachusetts Bar and of the American Bar Association.

Even Homer nodded, but did not seem to lose his exalted place in the sun. But let the Editor of the Alumni Bulletin as much as blank let alone nod and everyone calls attention to the error, and calls and calls and calls.

In the last issue of the Alumni Bulletin the Editor got a little mixed in her dates—as what girl doesn't now and then. Ruth Troendle, '42, the Bulletin said, has been Mrs. Maurice La Reau since 1935. Obviously it should have been '43, not '35.

FIRST POST-WAR REUNION
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1

Saturday, November 1, is the new date set for the first Post-War Alumni Reunion. In the previous issue of the Alumni Bulletin the date was given for October, but inability to get an earlier reservation for the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel ballroom and lobby, made it necessary to postpone the event to this later date—NOVEMBER 1.

The day will begin with Registration from 12 o'clock noon to 1:30—in South Hall. As alumni arrive and register, they will be told where their particular class will be convening, so that they may go to that room to meet their classmates who are in attendance. A number of rooms have already been reserved for classes. These individual class reunions will be at 3 o'clock in the different rooms assigned.

At 2 o'clock, the new building, Memorial Hall, will be dedicated. This building, named in honor of Bryant men and women who were in World Wars I and II, is on Charles Field Street, between Hope and Brook Streets. President Jacobs, a prominent Government official and several trustees of the College will participate in the dedication service, and every man and women in honor of whom the building is named will want to be present.

After the dedication there will be "Open House" at all the College buildings—including the dormitories and the new Administration Building—many of which are new since many of the alumni have been back to Bryant. And, also after the dedication, the individual class reunion mentioned above.

These Class Reunions, by the way, will be for the entire class—not limited to any one division, not just B. A.'s, Secretarial grads or Teacher-Training. Truly, in spirit, CLASS reunions.

At 7 o'clock will come the big Alumni Dinner and Reunion at the Sheraton-Biltmore. This is the former Biltmore Hotel. A recent change of management brought a change of name, but it is still the same fine hotel, with the same good food and service for which it was noted as the Biltmore when many alumni were in attendance at Bryant. A brief address of welcome by President Jacobs, and by Dean Gerds, Mercier and Wilbur will follow the dinner, and efforts are being made to secure a speaker from one of the big academic colleges to talk upon a subject of especial interest to Bryant alumni.

The election of officers for the Alumni Association will follow. The nominating committee will present the names of the candidates, two for each office. These names have been carefully chosen for ability, availability and popularity. They have been chosen from as many different classes as there are candidates—no two candidates from any one class—and, also there are many alumni on the staff of the College, there is no candidate who in any way has any connection with the College. This was carefully done by the nominating committee so that it will be an alumni (Continued on Page 4)
One of the most interesting weddings of Bryant alumni in recent weeks was that of John S. Renza, '43, and Marie Teigle, '45, Mr. Renza, who is now a member of the Bryant faculty, and Marie were classmates in the C.T.I. division for four years, and theirs was one of the campus romances that never faltered through-out the four years they were here and the years John spent in the Army. Members of the faculty and classmates of the happy pair were among the guests at the very pretty wedding in August.

Another faculty wedding in August was that of William Lambert, '38, who was married to Katherine Han-ser. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert are living in Ramford, Rhode Island.

Cora Southworth, '35, has left her excellent position with Firestone, Fall River, and is now Mrs. John Grant.

Phyllis Spettigue, '44, was an August bride. With two other Bryant alumnae and Signa Lambda Theta girls looking on, and that the knot was tied right (Norma Berry, '44 and Dorothy Johnson, '44, of New Britain), "Phil" was married to Mr. Lee Farnsworth, aeronautical engineer, and makes her home in Bridgeport.

Miss Emilia Buco, '44, of the Bryant College faculty, is authority for the statement that one of the prettiest weddings of the year was that of Elizabeth Bornham, '44, to Mr. Mervin C. Thresher, in East Hartford. Miss Buco ought to know, for she was one of the guests. Miss Buco and Mrs. Thresher were classmates and co-editors of the year book in their senior year. Mrs. Leonard Fisk—the former Janet Newell, '44, Betty's cousin, was matron of honor at the wedding in August.

Pauline Rockett, '45, was married on Labor Day to Mr. Walter Gobier.

Dennis Malloy, '45, one of the newest members of the Bryant accounting staff, is now out of circulation. Hemiddle-aged Miss Rita Le-Fevre on September 20.

One Bryant College evening school alumna is among the recent brides and another soon will be. Hazel A. Erickson, '45, and William H. Jones, Jr., were married recently.

Patricia Oliver, '41, Evening Divi-sion, will be an October bride, that month chosen for her wedding to Mr. Manuel Chavez. Patricia is the girl who walked away with three special honors at Commencement in 1941—the Gold Medal for highest scholarship in her division, the Scholarship Key in Typewriting and the Scholarship Key in shorthand.

Carolyn O'Sullivan, '41, is now Mrs. William J. McGrath and is living in Pawtucket.

Dorothy Barlow, another '45 alumna, was married recently to Mr. Charles H. E. Wahl.

Mildred E. Brown, '43, was a pretty June bride. Early that month she became the wife of Mr. Austin F. Matthews, Jr., a member of the faculty of Providence College. Mary Maggiascono, '43, was one of Mildred's bridesmaids.

Betty Skirrow, '46, was a beautiful June bride. She is now Mrs. George J. Pihlkrantz.

Robert Raymond, '43, was another Bryant grad for whom June had special significance. On the 26th of that month, Bob married Miss Elaine M. Kindhart in Albany, New York.

Erene Matta, '44, is now Mrs. Joseph A. Souza and has set up her lares and penates in Pawtucket.

Two other Bryant alumni who have decided that two can live as cheap as one (Must be something wrong with that accounting course at Bryant) and are now Mr. and Mrs. They are Evelyn Golzin, '44, and Paul Corich, '46.

Eugenia Lenartowicz, '47, is now Mrs. Warren R. Holland and has gone to Tulsa, Oklahoma, to live, where Mr. Holland is a student at the Spartan School of Aeronautics.

Sally Knoblaugh, '47, was a June bride. She is now Mrs. Charles S. Spencer. Two of Sally's Bryant pals, Emily Horsman, '46, and Arlene John-son, '46, were bridesmaids at the very pretty wedding.

Mary Halasz, '45, so writes Dorothy Olter, '46, her Bryant roommate, was a June bride. Mary, Dottie writes, was married in West Hartford to Andrew Weigert, Jr., with Dottie one of the wedding guests.

Soon after the May issue of the Alumni Bulletin, word was received of the wedding of Eleanor Linke, '43, to Mr. Edward L. Katcher, in Boston, Connecticut.

Betty Tomlinson, '46, will take the plunge next Spring. Betty writes that her fiance is a veteran attending the University of Connecticut, but she does not tell us the lucky fellow's name. Betty is secretary with the Connecticut Automotive Trades Association, Inc., in Hartford. "A splendid job and a splendid man, what more could I ask for," writes happy Betty.

Josephine Gillford, '42, is another Bryant alumna whose engagement was recently announced. She will marry Mr. Floyd R. Copely of Gibbonsburg, Ohio. No immediate plans for the wedding have yet been made.

Another Alumna of '42 whose engagement was announced recently is Edna Atkinson who will marry Mr. Walter Bell in the near future.

The sunny smile of Mary Blandin, '45, has captured the heart of Robert R. Reed, of his home town of Attleboro, to whom her engagement was recently announced.

Julia Stawicki, '45, is another member of the College staff who is going around starry-eyed these days. Her wedding to Mr. Wm. Dobosinski is scheduled for October 6th.

Neva Neri, '47, received her diploma and an engagement ring the same day. At the Mothers' and Daughters' banquet of Sigma Iota Chi sorority at Top Hill on Colonial Day evening, Neva had a crowd that deep around her, waiting to congratulate her. Lawrence Connelt, a student at Bryant, is the lucky man.

Eleanor Becker, also '47, is also wearing a new sparkle, given to her by Michael Ramsom, an Edgewood man now a student at Providence Col-lege.

Another Alumna of Bryant's most recently graduated class, Ruth Kavan- tens, '47, is said to be wearing a new sparkler, placed on that certain figure by Curt Helling, who was a student at Bryant last year.

Betty Balcock, '47, and Mr. Ray-mound Keller of Westport, Connecti-cut, are "that way" about each other. Their engagement was announced in early September. By the time this issue of the Alumni Bulletin is received, another member of the College faculty will prob-ably be a bride. Miss Alice Hines, '41, has set October 4 as the date of her marriage to Mr. James J. McLaughlin. Miss Hines will continue

BRYANT'S BABY ALUMNI

Only four weeks since they graduated—as this issue of the Alumni Bulletin is being written—and already a great majority of the newest Bryant alumni are embarked upon the careers for which they prepared at Bryant.

Loren L. Dauthey and Mary Mar-land are with the Plantations Bank, Providence.

Edith McDeed is teaching at North Providence High School.

Arnold Cleveland is with the Old Colony Cooperative Bank, Providence.

Alice Babcock, Patricia McNamara, and Esther Noel are with the Providence Plumbing Supply Company.

Marion Maguire is teaching in the East Providence High School.

Patricia McGarry is Secretary to Mr. Armand Cote, Secretary of State, at the State House, Rhode Island.

Lucille Beebe is with the Colt Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company in Hartford, Connecticut.

Alfred Brown and Dorothy Berk-ishaw are with Country, Davis and Jacobsen, Certified Public Accountants, Providence.

Muriel Blain, Dennis Malloy, and Ernest Robinson are right on at their Alma Mater, the latest additions to the greatly increased Bryant College staff.

Melina DeLea also took a college job—Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut.

Ida Coce is with the Charlton Publishing Co.

Marion Senior is at the Lincoln School, Providence.

Claire Jackson is secretary to the comptroller of the Providence Paper Company.

Herbert Dexter is Secretary-Receptionist for Dr. Kenneth Burron, Providence.

Dorothy Camara is with the Rumford Chemical Company, Rumford, Rhode Island.

Gloria De Amicis is in one of the laboratories of the General Electric Company, where her love of chemistry plus her Bryant training has given her just the kind of position she wanted.

Margaret Amidon is secretary to Osner C. Fitz, Attorney, in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Ethel Macdon has a fine position with the American Biminiulns Company, East Providence, only a few miles away.

Here and There with Bryant Alumni

Bob Manchester, '45 has been on the sick list but is now well on the mend. No more popular fellow ever graduated from Bryant, so his good news to everyone who knew him that he is so well along the road to recovery. Bob's pretty story: Maureen, '47, is that voice with the smile heard over the College's phones.

Sylvia Goodman, '41, and James Erland, '41, are now Mr. and Mrs. The knot was tied last December at a pretty candlelight ceremony, with all the trimmings.

Emery (Babe) D'Antuille, '41, is now in the Social Security division in Norfolk, Virginia. Babe is married and has a son about ten months old.

Dina Di Massimo, '41, is Field Representative of the Blue Cross in Berkshire County, which takes in most of western Massachusetts.

Viola Carnelli, '42, is now Mrs. John T. Wells of Miami, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hastings, '40 (Helen Lynch, '41) and Robert III, are living in Pawtucket.

Joan is a far cry from pouing a typewriter to changing diapers" writes Evelyn McCarty, '42 (Mrs. James P. Nolan). "But it's wonderful. The king of our home is Kevin James, who arrived on April 11—all 8 1/2 inches of him. And soon we will be in our new home in Somer- set. Great news about the coming Reunion. I must hunt up a baby sit-ter for the big event!"

Pauline Scott, '39, is Mrs. Ernest L. Anderson, Jr., '37.

Frances Cohen, '44, is now Mrs. Jacob Kourous. After a great candle-light service in the Narragansett Hotel, Frances and her new husband, who is attending the Dental School in the University of Maryland, left for a honeymoon and their new home in Baltimore.

Gertrude McNamara, '40, writes the Bulletin that she saw the old year out in a very special way. On the last day of 1946, she said "I do" to Mr. Philip G. Pomery, Brown alumnus, and is now living in Rehoboth, Massachusetts. "Please keep the Alumni Bulletin coming," writes Gertrude. "I certainly do enjoy receiving it, and the best of luck for the coming Reunion. I know it will be a grand day."

Another alumna, Marjorie Perkins, '35, also sends in a change of address. Since 1940, Marjorie has been Mrs. Clarence Nightingale and Mr. Nightingale have two children, 25 years old, four years old, and have been living in Newington, Connecticut. "The Bulletin is always very welcome," writes Marjorie, "and I do hope to come to the Reunion if possible."

Josephine Santoro, '45, is on the secretarial staff of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

"Mike" Dwyer's (47) likable smile is winning friends and influencing salary at the United States Rubber Company in Bristol.

Dorothy Macaulay, '45, back from her government job in Washington, D. C., is now on the secretarial staff of WFCL, radio station in Pawtucket and Providence.

Mary Caccia, '42, has been Secretary to the Chief of the Advertisement and Guidance Section of the Veterans Administration, in Providence, since she graduated and writes that her duties have brought her in contact with many Bryant alumni who are Veterans of World War II.

Rhoda Levine, '41, is now Mrs. Ralph Berwick and lives in Meriden, Connecticut.

"That sure was good news about another Bryant Reunion," writes Katherine Beardslee, '38, "I attended the last one and words can't express what a wonderful time I had."

Katherine, by the way, has been Mrs. John R. Sundin since 1910 and lives in Bridgeport. "I look forward to receiving the Bulletin," she writes, "But as Shirley Noyes, my classmate, was quoted as saying in the last issue, the Class of '38 is not heard from often enough."

Irene Townley, '31, is another alumna who writes how much she enjoys the Bulletin but says it would be nice to have more news about the classes of '30 and '31. Irene has been Mrs. Charles Day for the past thirteen years and has three little Days, three boys aged 12, 8 and 2 yr. Mr. Day is an artist. It is his clever cartoons we see in The New Yorker, the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers and a lot of other of the leading magazines.

Helen Parzych, '33, has very kindly sent in the names of five Bryant alumnae who have not been receiving the Bulletin. This cooperation is appreciated and the names and addresses of these alumnae have been..."

association—not a college-run organization. The nominating committee is headed by Hazel Bostrom, '20, and other members are: William Cloos, '31; Roger Lamberti, '36; Alice Hines, '41; and Edward Clegg, '46.

While the voting is being done and the in-person voting is completed, there will be group singing, talking with old friends and instructors, or dancing. When the closing time arrives, the new President will make a brief address, outlining any plans he may have formulated, and receive any suggestions that may be forthcoming. Whatever is left of the evening then may be spent in dancing or mingling among former classmates.

This, then, is a brief outline of the plans for the Day.

A FEW IMPORTANT THINGS TO REMEMBER

THE DATE: NOVEMBER 1

DINNER TICKETS WILL BE $5.50. The salads and service tax, music, identification ribbons and other incidentals of the day will be borne by the College.

Because of the expected big crowd, it is respectfully announced that alumni only may attend the Reunion.

At former Reunions, many husbands, wives and sweethearts of alumni attended, but this first postwar Reunion will unquestionably break all previous attendance records, and will probably tax the capacity of the Shera ton-Biltmore Ballroom and Foyer. Already—since the last issue of the Alumni Bulletin—there has been a flood of enthusiastic letters from alumnae, signifying their intention of attending the Reunion and asking for details. So much happened at Bryant that every one wants to "catch up" on the news and to see all their old friends and their College, and it looks like a CROWD! So—no husbands, wives or sweethearts this time.

And, most important of all to remember, THE DEADLINE FOR RESERVATIONS IS OCTOBER 22. Reservations MUST be accompanied by check or money order.

This positive deadline is important because the hotel must know how many dinners they will be required to serve. The Ballroom and Foyer of the hotel will be sufficiently large to accommodate all who want to come to the Reunion; so tables may be planned for the different classes; and countless other things to be planned.

Likewise it is important that your name is registered as planning to attend, so that your classmates who may be inquiring about you will know if you are coming and, if you are having a special class reunion in the afternoon, will know where it is being held so that those classmates may lay there for you.

The first of the reservations has been made for the class of 1912. Eddie Alger—who is remembered as one of the most enthusiastic and most popular members of his class—is the first to ask for a room to be held for a reunion for his class sometime in the afternoon. Room 1A in South Hall, first floor is assigned, and Eddie says he would appreciate receiving suggestions from his classmates that will help make the reunion a success. He asks for cards or letters to be sent to him to: E. R. Alger, Jr., 12 Mowen Avenue, Lom rare, Rhode Island.

Telephone: Blackstone 0075. R. With Eddie Alger at the helm, there is one class reunion that will be a success.

Room 1D in South Hall has been reserved for the class of 1913, with Davis Cohen and Leslie Kicker making the reservation. 3 o'clock is the time for the get-together of this class.

Marion Wannell, '36, believes the members of her class will want to convene for a special class reunion before the big all-alumni Reunion in the evening on November 1. Room 1E in South Hall, has been reserved for this class. Shes should get in touch with Marion, who is now Office Manager of the Federal Chain Company in Providence. Letters to her, care of the Alumni Bulletin editor, sent to the College, will be forwarded promptly.

The Class of 1945 will meet in Room 5A. This was one of the wartime classes, but it made up in spirit for what it lacked in numbers, and probably every member of the class will be on hand. Joseph Dymano Rocchio made the reservation for his class.

And if you come up to the College for the Dedication of Memorial Hall and for any individual class reunions, or to see what your College looks like today, be sure to look at the Bulletin Board at the foot of the stairs in South Hall. A large portion of that board will be given over to Alumni notices on that day—where such and such a class is meeting, who is looking for who, and so on. If you yourself have any notice you want to put on the Bulletin Board that Day pin it up where you see the other Alumni notices.

George F. Long, Jr., '42, is now with Remington Wire Company in Pawtucket, but makes his home in Providence. He and Walter Palmer, Jr., '15, live within a few houses from each other. Walter is now Accountant with Industrial Papers, also in Pawtucket, and is one of the many Bryant alumni who call their college when they need a secretary, accountant or other office assistants.

Marguerite Alnon, '32, is now Mrs. Walter J. Hines of Riverside, Rhode Island.

Don Mullins, '43, is now with Minna Lee, Importer, in Miami, Florida, where his family has moved because of his mother's illness. Don's cousin, Tom Mullins, '34, is Comptroller of Burdine's, Miami's largest department store.

Beatrice Harrison, '39, has been Mrs. Earl C. Sparks, Jr., since 1942 and lives in Bedford, Massachusetts, with Mr. Sparks; a Rhode Island State College alumnus, and their little Sparks, a boy of four and a little girl of two years.

ON THE BRINK

to teach at Bryant. Her sister, Dorothy, also '41, is also a member of the Bryant faculty.

Marjorie Knevett, '44, is wearing the sparkler of Mr. David Rose of Brookline.

Alumni of '40 are sending congratula tions to Mr. Howard W. Wea vell of Cranston for having won a promise to marry him from Winifred A. Kerr, '46.

Sheila Ross, '46, will be wedded to Mr. Russell E. Hutton of Pawtucket.

1947 is an eventful year for Bernard Connell. She graduated from Bryant with the Scholarship Key and her engagement was announced to Mr. Albert E. Hughes, Jr., of East Providence.

Board will be given over to Alumni notices on that day—where such and such a class is meeting, who is looking for who, and so on. If you yourself have any notice you want to put on the Bulletin Board that Day pin it up where you see the other Alumni notices.
Mary Magner is with the advertising firm of George Metcalf & Company, Providence. Eileen Pickavant is secretary at the Crown Manufacturing Company, Pawtucket. Earl E. Rounds not only has an exceptionally fine position as secretary to Mr. Francis Gilman, but has been given a car in which to travel from his home in Bristol to Mr. Gilman's beautiful estate at Rumstick Point, Barrington, Rhode Island. (Only about five miles!) Virginia Renninger has decided to fill a secretarial vacancy in the big dairy company owned by her family, in Hope, Rhode Island. Beverly Swanson just has to walk about a minute from her home to her new position at the Sockoller School, Howard, Rhode Island. Alice Tetreault is with the Providence Washington Insurance Company. Mary Tirotchi is the most recent Bryant addition to the secretarial staff of the Museum of the Rhode Island School of Design, where she will assist Elmina Malloy, Bryant '36 who has just moved up to another position there. Hortense Silva is secretary in the Admissions Office in Brown University. Helen Werner is secretary in the Foreign Language Department in Brown University. Virginia Barber is with W. E. Davis, Providence. Edwin Cockcroft is with the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Bank, in the Tax department, where Joan Todd, '16, also is "making good". Edward Kozon is with the Horton Manufacturing Company, in his hometown of Bristol, Connecticut. George Barsalou is with Gerber Jewelers, Holyoke, James La Russa is with the Springfield branch of the same firm. Catherine Goobas is teaching at the New Milford High School, Connecticut. Andrey Cave is with the Builders from Foundry, Providence. Manuel Pinero is with the Flynn Hardware Company in his home city, Attleboro. Mary Correa has a civil service position with the Navy at Newport. John Krupa is with the Coca Cola Bottling Company, Providence. Beatrice Hirt is with the Merchants Cold Storage Company, Providence. Eleanor Barao is secretary to Mr. Samuel L. Lipman, Attorney, in her home city, New Bedford. Eleanor Becker is with the Y. M. C. A. in Providence. Betty Robinson is another girl working a long way from home. She is with the Hammond Dahl Company of Providence. Frank Karr is with the Lehigh Valley Coal Company in Springfield, Massachusetts. Haywood Williams is with Blanding & Blanding, wholesale and retail druggists of Providence. Ernie Kibbels is with Rex & Fielding, Certified Public Accountants, Providence. Elcora Schaefer is with Hogan & Hogan, Attorneys, Providence. Isabelle Wheeler is with the Taylor Box Company. Ernest L. Anderson is with Brown & Sharp Manufacturing Company. Catherine Varr is teaching at the Governor High School, near her West Warwick home. Margaret Flynn's silver medal, and Elizabeth Evans' scholarship key received at Commencement, won these positions on the teaching staff of their Alma Mater. Hilda Teixeira is with the Chemical Products Company, East Providence. Norma Francesconi is with the American Copper Sponge Company, Providence. Jean Potter is with the Providence Engineering Works, Providence. Ezra Di Libero is secretary of the financial staff of the Rhode Island Hospital. Dorothy Bartolini is with the Providence Chemical Company, Lucille Bolletta is with the Community Fund Campaign, Providence. Edna Menghi is with the Crown Sheet Metal Company, New London, Connecticut. Marilyn Hopjohn is going to teach in Oberlin, near her home town in Johnstown, New York. Eleanor Jankura is with Brennan, Hunt & Price, Attorneys Bridgeport. Seymour D. Cooper is working for his father in Fall River. Donald Jane and William Bliven are continuing their education, William going to Syracuse University, and Donald to the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn. Ruth Kascins is secretary to Dr. Willard O. Thompson, Chicago.
BRYANT'S NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

One of the most beautiful buildings added to Bryant College in recent years is the new ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, at 154 Hope Street, on the corner of Beneficent Street. This is the former Mrs. Robert Taft home and is considered one of the finest Colonial houses in Providence.

Bryant College bought this house a few months ago and on September 1 the Administration offices, with the exception of the Placement Bureau, were moved into the new building. The Placement Bureau remains in the location it has occupied for many years (except for a short wartime period when oil to heat the building was scarce) and which provides the convenience and privacy for employers so desirable.

On the first floor of the new Administration Building are the offices of President Jacobs, Vice President E. Gardner Jacobs, Dean of Veterans, Mr. Wilbur, and the Reception Room, all opening upon a beautiful hall.

Half way up the stairway, is the desk of President Jacobs' secretary, Mrs. Rita Cassells (35) Hoey. On the second floor is the office of the Executive Secretary, Mr. Allan of Mrs. Robinson, Dean of Women; of the secretaries of the Vice President, the Dean of Men and the Executive Secretary; and a Conference Room for staff meetings. A charming shaded little garden at the rear of the house is but one of many delightful features of this new Administration Building. Open on Alumni Reunion Day, by the way, with the welcome sign out for all alumni.

The College has also purchased the land at the corner of Hope and Beneficent Streets, diagonally across from the new Administration Building, where Tennis Courts will soon be installed. These two new courts, added to the one opened last Summer between Stowell and Salisbury Halls on Young Orchard Avenue will give the College three courts.

HEIRS AND HEIRESSES

The Stook made a return trip to the Bob Blake home in Allenton, Rhode Island a few months ago, leaving a new son. Bob, '32, is now on the College staff, and Mrs. Bob is the former Elora Burroughs, '42. The other member of the Blake household is a little girl.

It was also the second visit of the long-legged bird at the home of Mrs. Kenneth B. Caum, the former Mary Anna Jackson, '38, in Sewickley, Pennsylvania, in July. The new baby boy has a brother 3½ years old. Mary Anna and Mr. Caum are building a new home in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, where Mr. Caum is Chief Radio Engineer.

It's a baby boy at the home of Mrs. Margaret R. Murphy, the former Genevieve M. Robinson, '35. A little girl of four years has also blessed the Murphy domicile, in Athol, Massachusetts.

Another blessed event of interest to Bryant alumni happened at the home of Willard Seaton, '39, and Mrs. Seaton, the former Ethel Person, '48, a few months ago. Auntie is Christ Seaton, '44, now secretary to the Vice President at Bryant.

Joanne, aged three months, is the new heiress at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand A. Dobras, in Seekonk, Massachusetts. Mama is the former Josephine N. Kolek, '43, and Auntie Helen Dobras, '39, is as proud as Punch of her new niece. Helen, by the way, spent 38 months in the Waves and at this time is about to enter law school in Boston.

Lee Weaver, '41, is another Bryant alumnus who has a new young man at his home. Lee's son joined the Weavers including little Miss Weaver a few months ago. Daddy is now a member of the Bryant faculty.

John Von Bodegon, '39, is another proud pappy. It's his second youngster.

The happy, but nervous, father was doing as well as could be expected when Wakeman Jennings, Jr., '43, was receiving congratulations upon the arrival of his first son, Wakeman the Third.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chin Yee, of Jamaica, West Indies, have a little heiress, Paula Maureen, who arrived on July 8, according to an announcement sent by the proud parents to the Alumni Bulletin. Paula's mother is the former Elizabeth Lee, '46.
