My Darling,

I am going to cook today. I hope that this doesn't get too blurred. But I just washed my hair and it's dripping all over the place.

Last night your letter came that you wrote last Sunday. Golly, honey, I hope March 11th isn't raining too. My hair will look horrid if it does.

Right now I'm half listening to Suspense. Very confusing. I always pick the nicest answer and play along with the other atmosphere to write to you, honey.

Very romantic!
I guess that the train is just as slow as the bus, honey. We'll stay in first-class Atlanta Thursday night probably. Sad so it's hard to get hotel rooms, huh, honey? That's a minor detail. We can always find a nice park bench somewhere.

Honey, that's the way.

I always wear my Braids parted on the side and flat on top when you were gone, honey. That's the only time I changed it.
everyone else likes it this way, honey.

Huh? Listen, Judson Clark - will you please answer my question about the Scotch? First, how many bottles do you want me to buy? And which is better - Pinch bottle or Johnny Walker?

I've been avoiding my questions about Steve - is there anything wrong between you and Sweetie? You never mention him? I've been asking and asking you if he was going to be able to arrive by two and if he was very far.
Those are the only two questions that I can think of off hand, but if you don't answer me, you can help me, there'll be a private war especially about the Scillys, where are the other places that are more convenient? We should go to Mexico or somewhere on the way, of course, Mexico is probably millions of miles away. But, how long will we be able to stay wherever we go? You said you wanted to go away.
swimming, but I don't know. If we didn't have more than four of five days it wouldn't make much difference to me. Remember?

yes, I guess I want you to be boss. I don't know whether you will be or not. I've got a pretty strong mind of my own—

might as well be an officer. There are plenty of other officers, and you'll take orders when necessary. So I'll be a Colonel!

I'm glad that you're getting the vine. I'd never get it done.
Never have time to look. If you like them, honey, I'm sure I will.
I won't dish it. I told everyone I'm having such good taste. You'll always have to buy my jewels...

Well, I wasn't exactly trying to discourage you, honey. Just sorta preparing you and letting you know what you're getting in for.

But honey, we've got to eat.
Shall I start right to think of what's going to happen. You're going to be awfully hungry.
I hope after we've been married a while you still feel the same way.
I'm not worrying at all about it but everyone else is - All you hear is "Poor Freddie" everyone is sure that I'm going to starve you to death or something terrible. Probably kill you from cooking. I'm definitely not the domestic type which is the best Johnny walker, red or black?

Well, honey all the articles I've read in the magazines say that religion is terribly important and a huge we're most religious. Honey, I was wondering what would happen.
I'm not worrying about it at all. I just thought you might like to worry a bit about it. Everyone else seems to think things like that are important.

Golly, honey, when we get married it will be the first time I've been in a church all this year! That's awful.

Yes, honey, I'm sure it will work out fine. But the experts all disagree. We'll show them.

Well, you see, I read anything that comes along lately. They've been publishing lots of stuff on was marriages and what makes them last & not last. I agree about the only way we can find out if it will work is by trying it. I'm not worried in the least but I want you to be sure that you've considered all angles.

What a waste of time!

Why didn't March break up, having the long time drag you'd think we had all year or something.

In, happy day, after Valentine's day. But we get paid today. Tomorrow at noon I'll take my huge check over to the bank. Hope they have enough money to cover it. (It's that whole thing do with checks?)

Someone's singing 'There Goes That Song Again.' Gee, I miss you so, honey. Roll the time's getting short. Only 24 more days now and we'll be married, honey. As you've probably gathered by now, I'm in a very unhappy mood today and if this letter makes sense it's purely coincidental.

Remember that night at Split Rock when you were... getting decailedized. (New word!) Wonder and Steve were hardly to murder me - I always get wack at the most inappropriate times.

Golly honey, in eleven more days I'll be all finished working. That's eleven weekdays and weekends don't count. There are kinds of things I dislike everything about that place but then other times I don't mind it at all. I still feel real pathetic and everything. I didn't know whether I'll be able to go back to modeling again. It's so unessential.

"To Have and Have Not" is at the movies this weekend. I can hardly wait to see it. Lauren Bacall is in it. I like her a lot. I wish I could see it until Monday night, though. Tomorrow night I'm not going out. It'll be a good little girl and write to you for a change.

Remember to buy some envelopes again. Oh, well, maybe tomorrow I'll write.

Good night. I wish these could last. I am going to bed.

24 days until leaving. Have you made your plans at all yet of when you are going to graduate?
dance will be? Can you get Charlotte a date? Some of the first week I posted I should carry a pad & pencil around with me always so that when I think of something to ask you I could write it down and then remember whenever I begin to write, always forget that see lonely what else was there that I wanted to ask you. Oh, how many hours have you flown now? Are you still ahead of everyone? Are you still highest in your class as that you know? Gee, I am about 14 more days you should know what you're going to be. That 10 days before graduation.

I'll probably have permission of school to be at your house for a while. I don't dry my hair since. It's still all wet. See, Honey, it will be so queer to be married. Since I've never been married.
before, I think it will be queer anyway.

But being married to you will be wonderful.

darling.

least Sunday seems months away.

This week went as fast in a way but in another way it seems as if it had been going on forever. Oh! tomorrow's Friday - I like Friday.

Honey, will we go on our honeymoon night after we're married so what? Do you get the idea? We'll come away to take Tell me that. But what are we going to not go where it's windy. That would be very wetish and - wait a minute.

That wouldn't be so bad. It would be very romantic. Remember that day we walked in the rain. It was a long time ago.
Well, my darling, I guess I'd better dry my hair and take a bath and get to bed. I love you more than anything else in the world. You're so sweet honey. How can anyone be so wonderful. Well, honey, until we're together again, I'll love you.

Always, Lily

P.S. Please answer my questions!!!
