President Henry L. Jacobs Named President Emeritus

Doctor E. Gardner Jacobs, '22, Elected President

At the October 25 meeting of the Board of Trustees, Doctor Henry L. Jacobs was named President Emeritus. After directing the affairs and destiny of Bryant College for fifty-three years, he will continue to serve as a Trustee and an Executive Committee member.

By unanimous vote of the trustees, Doctor E. Gardner Jacobs was elected President of the College. He has served as Acting President since June.

Doctor Henry L. Jacobs is a native of Dayton, Ohio, where he founded a school of business education now known as Miami-Jacobs College. He came to Providence in 1907 and became the head of the Rhode Island Commercial School, which was later merged with the Bryant and Stratton Commercial School. Doctor Jacobs initiated one of the first accelerated degree programs on the collegiate level, which has brought Bryant College to a position of national prominence. His leadership has been recognized by Rhode Island College of Education, Portia Law School, and Providence College, all of whom have bestowed honorary degrees upon him.

Our new President, Doctor E. Gardner Jacobs, is an alumnus of Bryant College and holds an honorary degree from Portia Law School in Boston.

He is now in his fortieth year as an administrative member of the College and has been a dynamic participant in its development since 1921.

Doctor Jacobs has been active in alumni activities for many years. The programs he has initiated have strengthened the tie between the alumni and the College.

The social welfare of the student body continues to be a prime interest in his work, and this year several new programs were begun under his direction to encourage communication between students and the administration.

Mr. R. Lucien Appleby, an alumnus of the Class of 1927, has been appointed Secretary and Treasurer of the College. He began his association with the College in 1928 as a member of the Faculty. His career was interrupted twice when he left teaching to become Assistant Treasurer in charge of Credits and Collections for Pennsylvania Petroleum Products, Inc., and later when he held responsible positions with the State of Rhode Island as Assistant to the Budget Director and Comptroller and as State Auditor.

In 1956, following the death of Mr. John Allen, he was appointed Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of the College and named to the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Raymond H. Hawksley is a member of the Class of 1929. He was associated with the Providence Institution for Savings for twenty years, was Treasurer for the Town of East Providence, and was elected General Treasurer for the State of Rhode Island in 1948, a position he now holds.

Mr. Hawksley is a past president of the National Alumni Council and currently serves on the Nominations Committee.

NATIONAL ALUMNI COUNCIL
Bryant College
Providence Rhode Island

October 1961

Dear Fellow Alumni:

The Scholarship Solicitation Committee has sent its semi-annual appeal for contributions to assist in the National Alumni Council program of granting scholarship assistance to deserving students attending Bryant. Without this financial assistance, a Bryant College education might be denied these students.

All funds collected are used solely for scholarship aid and cannot be diverted for any other Council use. The only costs to be met are those for printing the appeal material. The College, recognizing the nature of this Council objective, has graciously agreed to absorb the mailing costs.

Candidates for scholarship assistance are screened and selections made only by the Scholarship Grant Committee, without any interference from either Council members or other sources.

During the past five years 21 students have already been helped under this program. With your contribution, no matter how small, you will be providing the advantages of a Bryant College education to a deserving individual.

As Chairman, I urge your cooperation and ask you to make possible for others the benefits you now know.

Cordially yours,

George J. Venero, ’50
Chairman
Scholarship Solicitation Committee

THE HENRY L. JACOBS LIBRARY

For College Librarian Dorothy E. Keith it might be said that the better things come in “threes.” In 1955 a remodeled firehouse on Benevolent Street became the first “independent” library for the College, and Miss Keith became the first full-time librarian. The staunch Bryant Indians who preceded the entering Freshman Class in 1935 had used a variety of “library”—acorner nook in South Hall, a few cupboards under a staircase in Gardner Hall, and a room in what is now the Placement Bureau. The Class of 1936 began a Library Fund that subsequently added several dozen business texts.

Reference materials were best used at the Tockwotton Branch of the Providence Public Library on Hope Street or better yet, you bought your own set of encyclopedias and accounting reference books.

But—the “new” library.

Not only a refuge from the clutter of office machines, gossiping classmates, and the “no place to study except in my car” alcove, this facility fired the enthusiasm of the Bryant College student for its use to the point where the newly arrived librarian, Miss Keith, appealed to the students for quiet and respect for its sanctity.

Three years later, in 1958, Jacobs Hall was dedicated and that fall began the exhilarating experience of “room to relax and study,” more new business texts, more professional publications to scan and digest, and additional reference books that could be found previously only at the “big” libraries with departments of business and industry.

Again the student body increased its use of the Henry L. Jacobs Library. The larger room seated 235 students and permitted the accession of more texts within a subject field. The additional professional periodicals made available to students allowed the faculty to increase the number of research papers required from students.

And so, the three-year cycle came around again.

The relocation of the Henry L. Jacobs Library was given intensive consideration again this year. With new volumes arriving daily, space had again become crowded.

The Philip B. Simonds homestead at 128 Hope Street was considered as a possibility, following the death of Mr. Simonds. At the close of the college year in July, the nearly seven thousand volumes were taken from their shelves and stored by the Lans Warehouse Company in numbered boxes.

Carpenters, plasterers, electricians, plumbers, telephone, gas, and water company installers descended upon the property to transform this beautiful home into a two-story, multi-roomed fortress of information.

Unpacking a number of boxes that seemed to come unendingly, Miss Keith, Mrs. Halzel, and four student librarians stacked the shelves amidst carpenters and painters putting on the final touches. In one week all of the nearly seven thousand books had been returned to their proper sections.

Included in your new library is a Periodical Department, Cataloging Department, and a Business-Education Department, in addition to the previous departments. Selections for accession are made by Miss Keith after a thorough review of the “Library Journal,” which tri-annually reviews new books concerning Business, Science, and Technology.

Over 200 new volumes are being added monthly to the shelves of the library. The present number of volumes is 7604.

Miss Mary Frances Kirby joined the staff in September as Assistant Librarian and Cataloguer. She is a former Librarian of Central High School in Providence and has a degree in Library Science.

Mrs. Shirley Halzel and Mrs. Carmella Pettine are clerks. They assist Miss Keith in charging and discharging books, adding a department, Cataloguing and Reference material, and in other clerical duties. In the last librarian, as we keep the new library hours of Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.;

Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday, 9 am to 2 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 to 10 p.m.

Very much in need for the library resources are older books concerning the history of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. If you have any volumes you wish to donate, please write to Miss Keith.

Prominently displayed in the foyer of the library are recent gifts to the College by the National Alumni Council: a portrait of Doctor Henry L. Jacobs, United States and Rhode Island flags, and a globe. A dictionary stand given by the Class of 1936 at the 1961 Homecoming and a wall directory and bulletin board given by Beta Theta Beta are also in use.

Alumni who have turned the new building have exclaimed their approval and making comments about “what we would have given to have this available while students.”

The annual Nu and Sigma host a reception at the Greenwich, RI, home of Alumni Association. Under the leadership of Mrs. Alden Beekman, Mrs. Beekman, and Mrs. Pettine, the students both undergraduate and graduate, hold a reception to meet the new library.
