1964 Alumni Annual Giving Program Underway

ON MARCH 2 the first of a series of special mail pieces will be sent to Bryant alumni to introduce the 1964 Alumni Annual Giving program. This program is an enlarged and refined perpetuation of alumni solicitation begun in 1956.

A new concept for Bryant, but a tried and proved program at other colleges, it has already drawn the response of 43 men and women to be Class Chairmen.

Robert M. McGivney '58, General Chairman for the Alumni Annual Giving Program and assistant City Controller for Providence, spoke to 18 Class Chairmen at a special workshop held on campus January 11. Dr. E. G. Jacobs was host to the group at a luncheon and Professor George Richards and Assistant Professor Edward Hand were also present and spoke briefly of new programs and materials in their departments.

Artacky Berberian '09, Chairman of the Board of Manufacturers Supply Company, is Old Guard Chairman for the Annual Giving Program. The Old Guard are the classes of 1913 and before.

Anna Bozaro '31, a tax technician with the Internal Revenue Service, is Special Gifts Chairman, and Charles Wielgus '47 who is Director of Employee and Public Relations and Organization Development for R. H. Donnelley will be Corporate Gift Chairman.

General Chairman McGivney stressed the importance of participation by alumni in the annual giving program, regardless of the gift size. A high percentage of participation can place Bryant in a favorable position for additional grants from foundations and business.

The Class Chairmen are now writing other alumni in their respective classes to be Class Agents. When you are contacted by a Class Chairman, please say "yes." And when your Class Agent asks you to participate in the 1964 Alumni Annual Giving Program, you can help him, and yourself, with a gift that will assure us of a high degree of participation.

Convocation Draws Large Audience
Hundreds of Congratulatory Messages

"TO EDUCATE men and women for social and professional responsibility has been the goal of Bryant College during its first century. Your sustained and effective pursuit of this goal has produced mature, intelligent, broadly trained graduates well prepared to serve their communities and their nation." Thus President John F. Kennedy expressed his thoughts in a telegram to Doctor Jacobs on the occasion of our Centennial Convocation.

Hundreds of letters from universities and colleges, learned and professional societies and alumni have poured in since November 18 to congratulate the College and to encourage it in its second century. News services throughout the nation picked up the story and we found that it was reproduced as far west as California, as well as in mid-west and southern newspapers.

Dr. Esther Peterson, keynote speaker for the symposium, has since been elevated by President Lyndon B. Johnson to the post of presidential assistant for consumer affairs. To the 450 delegates at the symposium Doctor Peterson brought vivid comments concerning the "Status of Women" report. Behind the recommendations of the Report, she said, are documents that form a blueprint for "lots of action in the future."

The audience was a cross section of the elite of the business and professional community. Representatives of State government, educational, health, and social welfare organizations . . . the "who's who" of women in positions of leadership. Members of the symposium panel were Dr. Marion Stephenson, Vice President of NBC, who was general chairman for the symposium and convocation, Miss Pauli Murray of the Yale Law School, Dr. Jessie Bernard, Professor of Sociology at Pennsylvania State University, and Mrs. Wilma Soss, founder of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business.

Doctor Bernard spoke of the "Sociological Aspects of the Status of Women," Miss Murray on "Women's Rights as Individuals and Citizens," and Mrs. Soss on "Women as Stockholders." Mrs. Margaret Ackroyd, Commissioner of Minimum Wage for Rhode Island, acted as recorder and presented a summary of the discussion that followed the panel on the subject "The Tasks Ahead."

Convocation—Continued

The impact of this panel on the audience cannot be overemphasized. The thrill of hearing such remarkable and educated panelists drew attentiveness from those assembled and inspired a spirit of unity.

Closed circuit television carried the panel discussion and convocation to the Student Union and Jacobs Hall, where the overflow crowd and students viewed the proceedings.

Alumni participating in the academic procession at the convocation included Claire Ernstof '29, Robert Graham '49, Herbert Mason '50, Lois Wartman '45, Ralph Papitto '47, and Solomon A. Solomon '56. Delegates from universities and colleges such as Harvard, Yale, University of Pennsylvania, Brown, Dartmouth, Trinity, Wheaton, Mount Holyoke, University of Massachusetts, University of Rhode Island, Rhode Island College, Providence College, Pembroke, Bennington College, Northeastern, and Brandeis brought with them the greetings of their respective institutions. Among the learned societies represented were the American Alumni Council, American Council on Education, and the New England Board of Higher Education.

In his comments of acceptance of the many greetings sent to the College on the occasion of its Centennial Convocation, Doctor Jacobs stressed the re-dedication of the College and its Trustees to continuing a curriculum of educating men and women for business leadership... Educando Dirigere Mercaturam.

A Note of Thanks:

In the October issue of the Bulletin it was requested that current graduate students and advanced degree recipients complete and return a questionnaire form. The number of alumni who responded to this project was encouraging.

The Advisory Committee on Graduate Studies is most appreciative of your assistance and expects to make some of the information they have compiled available through the Bulletin. Stan Shuman, Advisor—Graduate Studies, would welcome any additional questionnaires from alumni who did not return one.

Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Memorial Service For President Kennedy Held At Request Of Student Body

"We mourn with the late President's family to whom this blow has been inexpressibly cruel. While no grief of ours can touch theirs in its personal intimacy, the nature of the American Presidency is such that the office belongs to every one of us. Our grief is intensified by our profound admiration of this man who was cut off in the prime of his life. His special youthful appeal makes this terrible loss especially tragic to the young people of our country. College students especially identified themselves with John Kennedy. They loved his idealism. They loved his causes. The fight for civil rights, the Peace Corps, the battle for freedom inside our country and out. He was the youthful embodiment of vigor and vitality."

BARBER HITS FOR 47 POINTS TO RANK 12TH
IN N.C.A.A. SMALL COLLEGES STATISTICS

"UP AND IN . . ."

Dave Barber, 12th in the nation according to the NCAA small college statistics, now has a six-game average of 30.2. His ranking should change after the St. Francis game, which has not been entered in the national standings. He has scored well from his one-handed shot, and his ability to change direction has made him a triple threat.

Dave was honored by his teammates at an informal banquet January 16 in the College Dining Hall and was presented with a black blazer with the new college seal on the upper left-hand pocket. It has been established that all graduating seniors on the basketball team will receive a blazer.

*J. V. and Varsity games

RHODE ISLAND SCHOOL OF DESIGN was no match for Bryant's fast-breaking team. RISD was defeated 128-62—setting a Bryant College all-time record for one game and also the first time Bryant has reached the century mark.

This season has seen much from Coach Earl Shannon's squad. The second game of the season was against Nichols College of Dudley, Massachusetts. The Nichols Bisons, a veteran team coached by a '61 graduate of Bryant, Manny "Pi" Pimental, went down to defeat at the hands of Bryant's well-coached team. Dave Barber posted 17 field goals and hit on 13 of 16 from the free throw line. Dave netted 47 points for the evening. The final score was 82-71.

The victory was the second in two games for Bryant, which at this stage of the season posted a two-game scoring total of 210 points. Although the third game was again a well-fought battle, the Indians were downed in a thrilling game 68-65 by Barrington College.

A strong New Haven College team handed Bryant its second defeat of the season. New Haven College last year defeated Bryant by some 38 points. Inside dope had this year's team defeating Bryant by almost the same score. This was not the case. It was not until the last minute that the outcome was decided . . . New Haven 85, Bryant 80.

In the fifth game of the season the Bryant Indians were downed 95-80 by a top-flight, well-balanced team from Gordon College.

Bryant bounced back in its sixth game, defeating St. Francis College of Biddeford, Maine. For the second time this season the Bryant Indians hit the century mark, putting them away 104-92. Pacing the Indians was Dave Barber with a high score of 40 for the evening.
Phi Sigma Nu—Fraternity Football Champs

Sigma Iota Beta—Sorority Volleyball Champs

Sigma Iota Beta won first honors over all of the sororities as they topped Sigma Iota Chi in a playoff game by a score of 15 to 7 and 15 to 1 for the championship. SIB's winning team included: First row (I-r): Elim Weinstein, Claire Bosma, Ginny Quinlin; Second row: Mary Ann Babilewicz, Debbie Hageman, and Carolyn Squillante.

Phi Sig Leads Competition for George A. Richards Intramural Trophy

Fraternity intramural sports competition is being led by Phi Sigma Nu with 370 points toward the George A. Richards Intramural Award.

*No team entered in Bowling.
Entered only Table Tennis Singles.

Teams are awarded points for entering into Touch Football, Tennis Singles, Table Tennis Singles, Volleyball and Bowling.

The fraternity athletic directors and the independent team managers met on January 13 to organize the intramural basketball league. Play will begin on February 5. There is every indication that the league will again be divided into two divisions, fraternity and independent. Eight teams will represent fraternities and nine teams representing independents.

Bartels and Piccerelli '64 Intern in Washington

Two seniors, Richard W. Bartels and William Piccerelli, were invited to spend the week between semesters assisting in the office of Rhode Island Senator Claiborne Pell in Washington.

Dick is a management major and Bill is majoring in accounting. They visited different committee meetings, sessions of the Congress and other Capital Hill activities. The intern programs are conducted by Senator Pell and we are proud to have had these two seniors represent Bryant.
PROMOTIONS

Roger C. Chiquette '51 has been appointed controller at IBM’s Space Guidance Center in Owego, New York. He was formerly at the Kingston plant in a similar capacity.

He is a Class Chairman for the 1964 Alumni Annual Giving program.

International Business Machines has also promoted Joseph T. Gallagher '57 to senior accountant in cost analysis at their Kingston, New York, plant. The Gallaghers reside on 145 Elmendorf Street, Kingston.

Apartments Building Acquired For Dormitory Use

The College has purchased the apartment building at 100 Charles Field for future use as a men’s dormitory.

It will be renovated during the summer months and will be ready for occupancy in September.

The purchase of four other pieces of property that we have rented for some years has also taken place. The properties are Stowell Hall, Bryant Hall, Eldridge Hall, and Salisbury Hall, all of them now in use as women’s dormitories.

VALADE '55 AUTHORS BOOK STORE MANAGEMENT ARTICLE

The August 1963 issue of Catholic Book Merchandiser carried a four-page article related to the management of the Catholic Book Store of Hartford (Conn.) entitled “The Survival and Revival of a Book Store.”

Bob is manager of the store and pointed to the outdated merchandising methods he found when he took over its operation. He showed how the expenditure of money for structural changes within the store resulted in the display of nearly 80% of his stock frontally, jackets out.

His staff has increased from three to eight in two years. To encourage people to browse, he and his staff have made a basement room available for meetings and provide a “tour” of the store to familiarize the group with its stock.

Although the store is small, it soon will be turning over $200,000 annually... the result of good management and merchandising.
