NEW Vocal Group Makes Campus Debut
On Stunt Night

By Vyra Imondi

It seems that some magic-minded Bryantsies decided there wasn't much doing here in the way of musical activities so they sought to remedy the situation. Professor Handy—ready, willing and enthusiastic about the idea, posted a notice on the bulletin board and now Bryant has a vocal group.

The members to date are Eddie Borne, Norman Rosen, Jude Tillettson, Don Diege, Gilly Chilly, Dick Colomber, Janet Zeller, and Joe Gonzes. Vyra Imondi is accompanist for the group.

The newly formed vocal group will make its campus debut on Stunt Night, April 22, when it will present a 15-minute musical bit.

Only one thing is missing—an appropriate name. The group is looking for one that is original and unusual and welcome suggestions from students. Suggestions for a name will be submitted in the suggestion box before Stunt Night. (They'd like to announce the name in advance.)

Though nameless as yet, the student body looks forward to their first performance.

SONGSTERS: Caught in an after-school rehearsal are members of the new vocal group. The college lads are directed by Professor Handy and accompanied by Vyra Imondi. Standing in front (l. to r.) are Sue Tillotson and Cindy Chilly. Back row (l. to r.): Don Diege, Norman Rosen, Dick Colomber, and Ed. Betroes.

Mixed emotions are seen on the faces of these Bryantsies as they view last week's movie, "Francie Goes to the RACES." The crowds have been good at the movies since the purchase of a new screen and sound system. There are some seats left for the few who don't realize that it's a weekly affair.

President's Plot Given For Student Use

Doctor Henry L. Jacobs, President of Bryant College, last Wednesday made a personal purchase of 22,000 square feet of land at the corner of Young Orchard Avenue and Cooke Street. This plot now completes this part of the Bryant campus for one square block bounded by Hope Street, Young Orchard Avenue, Massachusetts Avenue and Benevento Streets, with the exception of two buildings.

The land was purchased from J. Carlwson Baggott, Barrington. Although no building is planned for the land, Doctor Jacobs plans to keep the space for campus purposes only. The grounds will be sold to a retailer and sublets will have the privilege of using this expanse to the campus.

Phil U Phayzy Gets Rosewood Gavel at Birthday Party

Phil Upalison, youngest security on the campus, held a party to cele­brate his second birthday at the Cranston Club on March 27. Danc­ing and games were the highlights of the evening. Ernie Johnson, presi­dent of Chi Gamma Iota, presented Joyce Andrews, Phil Upalison’s pary, with a gavel in honor of the occasion. Mr. Harris snatched the party to give the one who requested something "poppin'" in music instead of that "slow stuff." The floor was immediately cleared—leaving Mr. Harris and his Messer dancing "Jamb­way." After a buffet lunch, everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to Phil Upalison. Then the huge, green and gray-decorated cake bearing the sur­rogate’s girlie cuts was cut by Phil Upalison, "I Confess," with Patti Page up­staging the stage show.

Facelifting Job Starts This Week

The Bryant College athletic field will be put into good playing condition, Mr. E. G. Jacobs announced, and will be ready for the opening day of the season.

Contractors have been engaged already and will begin work this week. The job of preparing the field is too great to finish completely this semester. For the present, the field will be spread and the stones will be removed from the outfield.

Beginning in August, the field will be closed for a six-month period, at which time a complete overhauling of the grounds will take place. The field will be scarified and the new grass will be planted. Plans are being made to hire a watchman to protect the field.

The entire job of resurfacing the field will be finished before the beginning of next semester's season.

ACP Rates Archway 'First-Class' Among College Newspapers

The Associated Collegiate Press, University of Minnesota, critical service for college newspapers, has named the Bryant "Archway" as a 'First-Class' paper.

The Archway was given an excellent rating for coverage of news, treatment of events, and general layout. The newspaper has a four-color mechanical layout. ACP highly commends the sports pages for its fine job of interpretation and presentation, and also for complete coverage of sports events.

The Archway is especially proud of its rating since only one seven awards of this type were made. The citation, which is now being printed in the paper, will be here in a few weeks.

I.R.C. Visits Harvard; Second Week-End Away

Seventeen members of the International Relations Club of Bryant College spent last weekend visiting Harvard University. The group left here Friday afternoon and arrived at Harvard in the early part of the evening. Following registration they attended a lecture which consisted of three speakers. The males topics for discus­sion were "The Reserve Powers and the United Nations in Foreign Policy"; "The United Nations and the United States of the United Nations"; and "American Conservation."

Saturday morning the students attended the keynote address by Mr. W. L. Larson, Jr., Executive Director CCUN, Hank J. Schwartzkopf, Nation­al Chairman; and Robert A. Houg, New England Chairman. Beginning at 11 o’clock four differ­ent committee meetings were put into session. Bryant repres­ents in the United Nations, the U.S. Contribution to the United Nations; and "American Conservation."

The afternoon session was highly­lighted by a talk on "A Balance Sheet for the United Nations," by Mr. Sargent Fingers, head of the Inter-Continen­tal Press. At 2:30 the comit­tee meetings were reconvened.

Country Pastor Will Give 'Love and Marriage' Talk

Father Henry J. McCormack from Millers Falls, Massachusetts, will address members of the Newman Club and the campus community at 2:30 in the auditorium.
The Archway extends its gratitude to Professor Henry J. Jacobs for his contribution of the following article. The occasion for this is a query from the youth of America to Charles F. Kettering, Vice President of Research for General Motors. Young America asks, Mr. Kettering "What makes men successful?" His reply follows: "Success means many things to many people. But to me, to him who is at present a student, "success" means the ability to become a person worthy of the respect of his fellows, to be able to take his place in the world as a respected man, to be able to hold his head high without feeling inferior to others, without fear of ridicule, without feeling that he is unworthy of recognition."

You are probably familiar with the story of Henry Clay, the statesman, who as a boy was working in a store, and who was told by his employer, "You have no future here. You will never amount to anything." But Henry Clay was not deterred. He worked hard, studied hard, became an important statesman, and is remembered as one of the greatest Americans of all time.

Success means more than money, more than fame. Success means being able to do what you want to do, to be able to influence the world around you, to make a difference. It means being able to be yourself, to be true to yourself, to be able to stand up for what you believe in, to be able to make a difference in the world.

Bronze Job? Prof. Sharpe Favors Tribute to Economic Man

If Professor Dallas Lorne Sharpe had his way, there would be a bronze statue of the Economic Man erected on the campus to symbolize the "Spirit of Bryant." While speaking to his class in Investments, Professor Sharpe was discussing the aims and purposes of the Economic Man when one of his brilliant students spoke up in favor of the well-known stockbroker, and couldn't see living in the economic manner. Professor Sharpe immediately came to the aid of the Economic Man and defended him against everyone who considered him the scribbler and a misfit and an unpopular person. He assured the class that the Economic Man is a rare and intelligent human being who is a blessing to society.

Pointing out the different methods as Economic Man saves his time and money, brought several analogies from the classroom. Professor Sharpe questioned the students that it was no laughing matter. "The Economic Man is a rare person," he said, "and should not be held in contempt or derision. He should be given his rightful place in the eyes of the public." Professor Sharpe pictures the Economic Man as one who is all business 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

In characterizing the "Spirit of Bryant," Professor Sharpe would have the Economic Man "stand in heroic bronze and standing with the immortal\". It would be held as a memorial to the men and women graduates of Bryant, the men who would carry on the living bread under his left arm and a copy of Consumer Reports in his coat pocket. Such a statue would be placed in a conspicuous place on the campus, where he knows, perhaps in a few years there would be room for the Economic Woman to join him!

The Rifle Club has started with a click and a bang. Within two weeks, the enthusiasm of the rifle club has moved from the concept stage to the active stage. The club is sponsored by the Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity, and has been organized with the cooperation of the Area Rifle Team. The goal of the club is to provide an outlet for students interested in competitive target shooting.

The club has already added three new members to its ranks, and is hoping to add more. The club meets every Thursday at 5 p.m. in the cafeteria.

First Match Today in Intramural Tennis Season

The Bryant Intramural Tennis Tournament which will include men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles, women's doubles, and possibly mixed doubles will get under way today. The tournament is expected to be a success and is the first time the Bryant tennis program has been organized on a professional level.

No doubt about it, the men's tennis program will be the most successful of the three, since the men's team has been practicing for the past two weeks. The women's team, on the other hand, has not been able to practice as much, but is still expected to do well.

KT Tigers Sport

New Diamond Togs

The Kappa Tau softball team will be sporting new uniforms on the diamond this season. The "Tigers" have bought blue and yellow jerseys with a tiger's head as an emblem and the initials KT across the chest. The new jerseys are a welcome addition to the team's equipment.

The team has also acquired new baseball caps for the season, which will be worn during practices and games.

CO-ED OF THE WEEK

Pretty Joan Tomlinson received 75 votes toward being named “Co-ed of the Week.” Joan, a graduate of St. John’s Academy in Pawtucket, was vice-president of her class for three years. Besides being associate editor of her year book, she found time to qualify for the Rhode Island Honor Society. Joan, very popular with her classmates in division 6C, already had her fair share of activities. She is a sister of Alpha Phi Kappa and also a member of the Newman Club. More recent is her election as member of the Student Administrators and Accounting Society Board of Directors.

QUESTION: Do you think that the voting age should be lowered to 18 years of age?

Mr. Rountree: “No! I think that it should be raised to 25 because the youth of today is very adolescent.”

Joan Webster: “Yes! If the boys are old enough to fight, they’re old enough to vote!”

Mr. Fuggeri: “I think it should stay the way it is. Politicians want to lower it to put a harness on the boys in the armed forces, so that their proxy vote will keep the administration in office.”

Joe Ruggieri: “No! The average 18 year old does not know enough nor has developed enough interest in politics to voice an opinion.”

Paul Redd: “I think it should stay at 21. The kids in the service are just learning whether they’re coming or going.”

ONE MAN’S OPINION

Ed enlisted in the United States Air Corps in 1943 and was assigned to the Air Force Symphony Orchestra in Washington, D.C. While associated with the orchestra, he played at several functions presented by the Embassy Department. Many of these affairs were attended by former President Harry S. Truman and his wife. In addition to playing for the Symphony Orchestra, Ed formed a quintet which appeared on the Air Force Radio Hour, and television shows sponsored by the Air Force.

Joan Webster is just one week away. The date is April 22 and the place is Bryant Gym. Why don’t you make plans to attend right now? I’m sure that this year, as in years past, Stent Night will provide you with laughs, songs, and good all-round entertainment. Stent Night is one of the biggest events on the college calendar. You’ll be missing a colorful affair if you don’t attend this year’s Stent Night program.

For the past two weeks many of the Greek Letter organizations have been spending their afternoons in the gym preparing themselves for this annual affair. The organizations that were first place not only receive a cash prize, but also a great deal of prestige because Stent Night is the true test of whether an organization can cooperate together effectively, and create the needed spirit to produce a show which combines individual talent into organizational talent.

Chesterfield is Best for YOU!

When you are asked to try a cigarette you want to know, and you ought to know, what that cigarette has meant to people who smoke it all the time.

For a full year now, a medical specialist has given a group of Chesterfield smokers thorough examinations every two months. He reports:

no adverse effects to their nose, throat or sinuses from smoking Chesterfields.

More and more men and women all over the country are finding out every day that Chesterfield is best for them.

Try Much Milder Chesterfield with its extraordinarily good taste.
