Tickets Now Available
At Reception Desk
In Administration Bldg.

"Bryant Brevities," all-college musical review, is now in its finishing stages. During the rest of this week and the first two days of next week, Mrs. Appleby, director of the production, will put the "polish" on the routines.

The musical will start with a scene from the year 1890 and progress through the years until the yearly a picture time is reached. A look at the scenes from the 1950's

Over and above the highlights of the evening will be a song and dance number by the faculty including Doctor Prewitt, Mrs. Love, Mr. Candelmo, Mr. Richards and others.

There will be no admission charge for the show which will be held on Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week. Tickets are available at the reception desk in the Administration Building.

Modern Methods
In Bookstore Save Time for Students

Paula Rhodes Cited
In SIC Ceremony

In a recent candlelight ceremony of SIC accuracy, Paula Rhodes was awarded the sterling silver pin of the "Friendship Girl."

This honor, presented to outstanding headliners and good will, is given to one older in every chapter throughout the country and is the highest honor attainable in the ceremony.

Sces Told 'Secretarial Job Stepping Stone to Executive Position'

This third in the series of Job Clinic lectures was held on Friday, June 5. Bryant College had the honor of having an outstanding woman in the advertising profession address the secretarial seniors on "what business needs, wants, and expects of the office workers." She is Miss Margaret T. Deasy, Vice President of the Standish-Barnes Outdoor Advertising Company.

Dr. Henry L. Jacobo has recently announced that the new Conference Room for visiting employers has not yet been completed.

The Employers' Conference Room, which is adjacent to the Placement Office, has been thoroughly decorated, the walls being a roll gray-green, while the interior decoration is of a deep shade of green with a fern pattern. The twostory room is shaded by green of match to walls and draperies, and the walnut conference table and chairs make a striking contrast.

The new Conference Room will be ideal for employers interviewing Bryant College seniors and is designed to make the student feel more at ease during the interview.

Auditorium Named 'Dew Drop Inn' for Dorm Evening

Night club life will hit the Bryant Campus this evening when all the dormitory students will be the guests of President Jacobs at a banquet in the auditorium. The banquet will be in the style of a Smorgasbord. Mrs. Arthur Larson, caterer for the affair, has promised that a wide variety of wonderful foods will be available to the students.

This year's banquet will be different from any previous one because it will be held up on a night club basis. There will be individual tables arranged in a circle, thereby giving an area for after-dinner dancing. Talk up from the student body will provide a fine and interesting floor show. Eddie Beros will act as Master of Ceremonies, and he promises that the entertainment provided will surprise everyone. There, of course, will be a horizon, and his talented array will provide the musical entertainment.

The banquet begins at 6:15, and everyone planning to attend is urged to reserve their tables as soon as possible. You may reserve the tables with any of the following people who are members of the banquet committee: Bud Haney, D. Dressed, Eddie Beros, Arlene Bass, Estelle Billings, Nancy Roberson, Nancy Wells, Gail Johnson, and Chuck Lewitz, Chairman of the group.

"Dew Drop Inn," the name designated for the banquet, will be a wonderful time for everyone. So, won't you make your reservation as soon as possible so that you will be able to take advantage of this wonderful evening of food and music.

Make Reservations Early for "Dew - Drop Inn"

BA & A Estimates 400 Will Attend 1st Banquet July 15

The first annual Business Administration and Accounting Society banquet will be held July 15 at the University of Arkansas. The officers of the organization estimate the attendance of more than 400 members and guests.

Steak will be served at 7:30; then dancing will continue until 1 a.m. During the meal an orchestra, provided by the Farm, will play background music.

Since this is the first banquet since the organization's inception there will be a novelty program for everyone attending. This program will be financed by two groups of students which are now being supported on campus. The action from the program will also be used to reduce the cost of the tickets to each member of the B.A.A.

College Trustee Gives Dictation to Advanced Shorthand Class

A new addition to the tape-recording library was made Friday, June 6, by the read of President's office in the presence of Mr. Charles R. Cornelius, President of the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company.

Notice:

Students wanting tickets for the Greek Letter Formal to be held Saturday, June 20, must obtain them in the gym each morning between 11 and 1:30 from fraternity or sorority presidents. For members of GL organizations the price is $4; a ticket must be returned to the office of each member of the B.A.A.

The Archway
Published by the Undergraduate Student Body of Bryant College, Providence, R. I.

Vol. IX
Supplementary Issue
June 17, 1953

Conference Room Provided For Placement Interviews

Dr. Henry L. Jacobo has recently announced that the new Conference Room for visiting employers has not yet been completed.

The Employers' Conference Room, which is adjacent to the Placement Office, has been thoroughly decorated, the walls being a roll gray-green, while the interior decoration is of a deep shade of green with a fern pattern. The twostory room is shaded by green of match to walls and draperies, and the walnut conference table and chairs make a striking contrast.

The new Conference Room will be ideal for employers interviewing Bryant College seniors and is designed to make the student feel more at ease during the interview.

BU Prof Shows Electric Typewriter Operation

Mrs. Marion Wood, Professor of Secretarial Science at Boston University, College of Practical Arts and Letters, and currently employed as Educational Consultant for the International Business Machines Corporation, gave a very enlightening talk to the members of the junior secretarial-training class on Wednesday, June 3.

Wood demonstrated the ease with which students may transfer from manual operation to the electric. She gave the juniors, who will be doing much teaching in the fall, many helpful tips on the connection.

Mrs. Wood is a popular lecturer and travels from coast to coast, talking on methods of teaching electric typewriting.

Ted Gerd
An Air Force sergeant from Oklahoma, was welcomed into the Fraternity ranks of Phi Sigma Nu at a special meeting held June 4.

He's Ted Gerd, an AROTC instructor stationed with the Air Force at Brown University. He was present with a gold key and a certificate of honorary membership for his "unselfish devotion to Phi Sigma Nu."

This is a special honor because there are only two other living honorary brothers.

Two EXECUTIVES from local business are shown above giving actual business dictation to senior secretarial students. The picture on the left shows Miss Margaret T. Deasy, Vice-President of Standish-Barnes Outdoor Advertising Company. On the right is Mr. Charles R. Cornelius, Vice-President of the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company.

College Trustee Gives Dictation to Advanced Shorthand Class

A new addition to the tape-recording library was made Friday, June 6, by the read of President's office in the presence of Mr. Charles R. Cornelius, President of the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company.

Mr. Cornelius, who is a member of the Board of Trustees of Bryant College and the President of the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company, in charge of investments. He dictated an actual correspondence of the company to the Advanced Shorthand Class, giving the students the experience of taking letters as they would be given in an actual office.
SS Wants Queen Voting Held Throughout College

At a recent Student Senate meeting a proposal was made to change the Snow Queen and May Queen Election to a procedure by which the entire student body votes for their candidates. This idea is expected to make the election more popular and more democratic.

The voting would be conducted in a manner similar to the way it was done for the first annual election held here in November. In this way all students would be able to vote for their choices without attending the ceremonies, and the candidates receiving the largest number of votes would consequently be the most popular choices of all Bryant students.

The same two fraidies that now sponsor the Snow Queen and May Queen Dances would remain the sponsors of their respective dances at which the queens would be crowned, but both the supervision and cost of the voting and crowning of the Queens would become the responsibility of the College.

The Senators present at the meeting were generally in favor of the proposal, and the matter is now currently in the hands of the Student Activities Committee which will make the final decision on the matter.

If you really want to get ahead in a business organization, associate as much as you can with those who are on top or are on their way to the top. Be useful to them, win their liking, and you'll pretty soon find you're in a bottle of milk. No matter how tall the bottle, the cream will reach the top.

Tennis Tournament Enters Finals Today at 3

The finals of the Bryant College tennis tournament will be held today at 3 p.m. on the courts at the Westover Club. The semifinals were played yesterday afternoon, and the winners will play for the championship.

The singles match between Fred Cowles and Adrien Cowboy will be the highlight of the tournament. Cowles, a former All-American, is considered one of the top players in the country, and Cowboy, a junior at Bryant, is expected to give him a good contest.

The doubles match between Bryant and Rhode Island will also be a close one. Bryant has the home court advantage, but Rhode Island is a strong team.

Secretarial Work

Applications Being Taken for Genie Fund Cash Award

The Genie Fund Drive is on again, offering once more the spirit of generosity which brought about the establishment of the Genie Fund in 1945. The fund, set up to aid in the education of the Bryant student body, is now being solicited for the fourth year in a row.

The fund will be used to help any student who has a special need or who is in financial trouble. The award will be made at the end of the spring semester.

The fund is administered by the Student Senate, and applications will be taken for the award during the month of May.

Dorm Students Answer Cry for Blood in Worcester Tornado Disaster

Prof. Ramey Postponed Scheduled Test

Bryant is proud of you! Yes, we’re addressing those seventy-five students who volunteered to give blood at Worcester last Tuesday night. June 5. These Bryant men exemplified the true spirit of brotherhood and Americanism. The tornado disaster, which claimed nineteen lives and caused millions of dollars’ worth of damage, took place in a matter of minutes. Immediately, radio broadcasts called the news notifying neighboring towns and cities of the urgency of volunteers for blood donations in these hard-hit areas.

Although an exam was scheduled for the next day, Tom Dunkley, Danny Weens, Honie Bakewell, Ike Dressel, Al Mintz and others rounded up the dorm students to answer the call for emergency blood donors.

The response was gratifying. Some 250 students donated blood.

In a letter to the Genie Committee, Miss Shirley Weeber, who graduated from Bryant in 1953 and who is now doing graduate work in the University of Florida, expressed her enthusiasm for and interest in this movement.

Other Bryant students who have come on to do graduate work have volunteered enthusiastically in support of the fund drive. One student, who didn’t want to be identified, put it best when he said, “This is the way you can really give back to the school that gave you so much.”

The Committee is currently making plans for the fund drive. It is expected that the first fund drive will be held during the month of June.

Secretarial Jobs

(Continued from Page 1)

who are outstanding—what is a tolerable answer above your.

“Teacher’s assistant for the beginner. Miss Traynor, ‘Good day a good day’s work for a good teacher, and always be on time.

When you are ready to step into semi-executive work, you must realize that business will now make even greater demands upon you. You will now be expected to be extraordinarily efficient, responsible, and trustworthy. To be capable and responsible, you must have the ability to do all the things that a top-ranking secretary has to do—and that is anything and everything that needs to be done in the office.”

A very interesting point which Miss Traynor made in her talk was that the advertising field offers many opportunities for advancement, and “a secretarial job has been the stepping stone, in many cases, to a fine executive position in the advertising field.”

Following her extremely helpful and interesting talk, Miss Traynor distributed some of her actual business correspondence to the Advanced Shorthand class.

Switchboard Operation

Taught to Secretarials

If you happen to be in the Administration Building and see a group of students clustered around the switchboard, you may wonder what is going on. As part of their training, girls in the Secretarial Science Department are taught to work the switchboard at the college.Eleven of these girls, supervised by Paul Finkelman, secretary of this instruction.

Although an exam was scheduled for the next day, Tom Dunkley, Danny Weens, Honie Bakewell, Ike Dressel, Al Mintz and others rounded up the dorm students to answer the call for emergency blood donors.

The response was gratifying. Some 250 students donated blood.

In a letter to the Genie Committee, Miss Shirley Weeber, who graduated from Bryant in 1953 and who is now doing graduate work in the University of Florida, expressed her enthusiasm for and interest in this movement.

Other Bryant students who have come on to do graduate work have volunteered enthusiastically in support of the fund drive. One student, who didn’t want to be identified, put it best when he said, “This is the way you can really give back to the school that gave you so much.”

The Committee is currently making plans for the fund drive. It is expected that the first fund drive will be held during the month of June.

Secretarial Jobs

(Continued from Page 1)

who are outstanding—what is a tolerable answer above your.

“Teacher’s assistant for the beginner. Miss Traynor, ‘Good day a good day’s work for a good teacher, and always be on time.

When you are ready to step into semi-executive work, you must realize that business will now make even greater demands upon you. You will now be expected to be extraordinarily efficient, responsible, and trustworthy. To be capable and responsible, you must have the ability to do all the things that a top-ranking secretary has to do—and that is anything and everything that needs to be done in the office.”

A very interesting point which Miss Traynor made in her talk was that the advertising field offers many opportunities for advancement, and “a secretarial job has been the stepping stone, in many cases, to a fine executive position in the advertising field.”

Following her extremely helpful and interesting talk, Miss Traynor distributed some of her actual business correspondence to the Advanced Shorthand class.

Switchboard Operation

Taught to Secretarials

If you happen to be in the Administration Building and see a group of students clustered around the switchboard, you may wonder what is going on. As part of their training, girls in the Secretarial Science Department are taught to work the switchboard at the college. Eleven of these girls, supervised by Paul Finkelman, secretary of this instruction.