First "Pops Concert" Attracts Capacity Crowd

By Carol Dutton

Last Wednesday and Thursday nights the combined Glee Clubs of Bryant College presented their first "Pops Concert" in the auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Mary T. Appleby, Director of Music and Dramatics here at Bryant. The accompany for the evening was Virna Ionnoli.

The program began with three stirring numbers: "Bryant Marching Song," "Bryant Medley," and "Venice Serenades." Following these selections the Campus Choristers sang "Indian Love Call," and the Women's Choruses sang "Stars and Stripes Forever." Two vocal soloists by Edward Valinelli followed, and then the "White Rodgers" Song and "Lamb of Spain" were sung by the Campus Choristers.

Concert time coffee and cigarettes were served to the guests.

For the second half of the program the Campus Choristers sang "The Symphonette," "I Be" "Dry Bones," and "Italian Street Song" with solo parts by Clarissa Jacobs.

Senator Pastore Speaks at Good Citizenship Assembly

By J. Balmage

Bryant College held its traditional lecture series Good Citizen Assembly last Wednesday. The Honorable Thomas A. Pastore, President of Bryant College, delivered the lecture and introduced the distinguished guest speaker, John O. Pastore, U. S. Senator from Rhode Island.

"In his introduction Dr. Jacobs stated that Senator Pastore, who has made his name as the ruminative partner who worked for fifteen dollars a week in New York, and later in Cleveland, and has to earn his living degree through eight courses at northern university, where he was graduated with honors, has the first American of Italian extraction to be elected to the Senate and the first American who goes to have the distinguished guest speaker, John O. Pastore, U. S. Senator from the Senate.

Many More Students In Part-Time Jobs

(P.P. Release) — Evidence that more and more students are taking non-matriculation jobs to help meet college expenses is presented in a report from the Personnel Bureau at New Jersey College for Women. The 1953-1954 enrollment—over 44 per cent of the student body — employed on or off campus during the 1953-1954 academic year.

This percentage of students employed is the largest ever reported by the sorority's college of the State University. Part-time workers, which accumulated $76,692 during the year, averaged an income of $179 in permanent jobs classification and an average of $29 in occasional positions.

As in the past, the most popular and most lucrative job was waitressing. The 154 girls personally employed in this group earned total of $32,710, with 116 students working in the College dining hall and 35 working off-campus. An additional 114 part-time waitressing positions netted students $3,532.

Fraternity Bowling Results

The results of last week's fraternity competition follow:

Alpha Theta Chi .................. 25

The three leaders in the league gained four, three, and four more points, respectively. The 11 fraternity bowlers have a cumulative score of 456.

Effects of Boy Scouting Surveyed

The ARCHWAY is cooperating in an initial survey to locate all former scouts and scouts of the Pasadena-Danville Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of this survey is to determine through a questionnaires and the benefits a boy receives in his earlier scouting years as measured by advantages gained in adult life — because of his scouting experience.

"This is the "follow-up" on everything the Boy Scout Program was intended to accomplish and the findings compiled will be turned over to the Council in the past 30 years.

Over 75,000 boys have been processed through the Scouting Program in this one Council during that time.

All former scouts and scouts affected by this initial survey are requested to send their present addresses at once to:

Thanksgiving — 1953

Tomorrow is the day when turkey dinners, football games, dances, and parties will all reign supreme. Carefree gaiety and high holiday spirit will be in the air, but what reason is there for this special day to be set aside?

It seems the true spirit and purpose of Thanksgiving like so many other holidays has been lost in our commercialized, materialistic world and reduced to an unmediated, hollow attitude of greater expenditure for a day off from work.

How many of us go to church Thanksgiving Day and give thanks to our Creator for all the blessings and prosperity He has seen fit to bestow upon us all year? How many of us ever feel thankful in our hearts? The hardest necessities of life, which we all have in such abundance and which merit our deepest gratitude, are for the meat, the many luxuries we have. Instead of gratitude for the existence of these blessings, the more common feeling is actual indifference if they are not enough.

If we must do without any of our usual comforts, we feel and feel and feel sorry for ourselves, but we never consider to see how much more fortunate we are than the many others who do without these necessities continually, and that so many of the discontent and deprivation we suffer, there is always someone suffering more than we.

It should not be necessary to convince here people in the war-torn countries of the world, the poor people of the underprivileged nations, and even the least fortunate people in our own country to whom I refer, but let me mention something to the hope that we shall all be truly thankful not only on Thanksgiving day, but on every day of the year, as we have the clothes, the food we have the food, the warm clothes we have to wear, the friends we have to comfort us, and the family we have to point our lives and teach us the goodness, among all the other things.

This year let's all show our gratitude for this thanksgiving to our fellow and for the many favors we have received, the many happy moments we have experienced, the many pleasures we've enjoyed through this past year.

Meat the Faculty:

In the fall of the new year we introduced you to a member of both the faculty and the administration. If you haven't already guessed, Dean Nelson G. Good, Dean of the School of Business Administration, and instructor in accounting and public administration, is that faculty member.

This week we would like to meet another faculty member whose name sounds something like this in hieroglyphics:

Four Brother-Sister Teams Notable on Bryant Campus

By John Baleniiam

Bryant College has the distinction this year of having four sets of brothers and sisters on the basketball team. It seems that the merits and pleasant atmosphere of our school has first attracted one member of the family and then the other. The brothers and sisters are Ménlo and Robert Sansaricq, Richard and Mary Swesty, Rosemary (Bud) and John O'Neill, and Charlie Donnelly.

Mary and Robert Sansaricq and to put it in Bud's own words, "I really and truly love Bryant. There isn't one thing about it I don't like."

Charlie and Mary are also natives of our fine state and have set their sights on business careers. Charlie is a graduate of St. Xavier Academy, and Mary studied at Cardinal Glennon. Charlie currently handles the Glennon's clothing store on Broad Street. Providence and I might add it is a beautiful establishment. Charlie is a third semester student studying management. He is the secretary of Beta Iota Beta president of his class, a member of the Student Senate, histories of Newman Club, and a member of the R. A. A. Society. Mary is also a third semester student and is studying toward a degree in accounting.

Who Is Mr. X?  By Sam Gahman

There seems to be Mr. X when he arrived several weeks ago in the cafeteria, there were many comments and questions asked and answered. Mr. X was also accepted as a familiar visitor.

But let us stop for a moment and discuss a few facts about this individual. The man you are seeing in the cafeteria with a display of coffee, gift shop, and useful items at Alas Kennedy, Mr. Kennedy, a deacon at St. Xavier's, is sponsored by the Rhode Island State Board for the Blind. He is one of the many who, after being rehabilitated by this organization, is trying to become self-supporting and earn himself a livelihood.

The merchandise which Mr. Kennedy sells in the cafeteria, and the cards, is made by blind persons at homes for the blind. Through this organization which is doing so many people for a fraction in this way, there are several people who, in his lifetime, is a chance for a useful life. This work is what Mr. Kennedy calls "optometry" of his organization and its goal is simple and general purpose.

To take a little courage of what this man is doing, so let's give him the opportunity to let us know what he has, and if you see some useful items or some small gifts which we have, we are planning to put them in the future, purchase from him. I am sure he'll appreciate it.

Mrs. Love, Dean of Women, introduces the Marine recruiting sergeant to Joe Fusillo, a third-semester student. See story on Page 4.

In doing what we ought, we deserve no praise; for it is our duty.
Basketball Leagues Begin Season With New Players

By Bob Paul

The DAY LEAGUE

Kappa Tau and Alpha Chiota played the first basketball game of the season on November 9, with Chi Gamma Iota taking the win by a score of 35 to 28. Frank Rondo was high scorer for the winners with 12 points. The second game of the doubleheader was held on November 16 with Sigma Lambda Chi defeating Bill Waring scoring 11 points.

Discussing the season opening games, Sigma Lambda Chi Theta, Carl Ploppin, said, "I believe we have some very fine basketball players this season, in fact, I think we can win the league title, especially in the future as they are the ones that have been playing for the New Britain College under Coach Lewis until he was injured. Previously to his arrival, I have been the co-captain of the Levensworth High School team, Waterbury, Connecticut, along with Jimmy Pierrel now with the Boston Red Sox. Bernie and I were the stars in each of their four games, scoring 22 points in the last contest. Frank has played for the team for a total of 100 points for a per game average of 16. He is certainly a valuable addition to the team."

The NIGHT LEAGUE

Philip Sigma Nui started the Night League off with a 44-28 win over Alpha Phi, with Bernie Carlson scoring the most points for the winners. Team. Bernie had a perfect day at the foul line by scoring 6 free throws and Alpha Phi had 9 given by the losers. Philip Sigma Nui took second place in the game by a score of 21 to 11. Chi 47-25 with the same 22 point margin. Bernie Sherwell, Philip Sigma Nui, and Bob Kahn, Sigma Phi Epsilon, will be the man to watch in the future.

The U.S. Naval Training Center is one of the most rewarding opportunities in life. In addition, as Colonel Hamilton pointed out, a career in the Marine Corps is a probable one, since a college woman officer is on the same rank as a colonel in the Marine Corps and discharge upon appointment to the rank of second lieutenant.

Women Marine Officers are a permanent part of the Marine Corps, and are assigned leadership positions at Marine Corps bases and air stations in the United States, Hawaii, and Europe.

Preparation for these assignments begins for the individual at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia. The Marine Corps Training Class is held each winter and summer. Qualified young women who are college undergraduates attend two six-week training sessions during the course of the year. Graduates are trained in one course in the American history of either the winter or summer months. Upon completion of the WOCD, candidates are commissioned as second lieutenants.

"Officers Training Class helps to build self-confidence and leadership ability," Colonel Hamilton concluded. "The young woman officer has been trained as a commissioned officer in her academic work, either in command positions or staff positions in such fields as communication, operations, maintenance of government equipment, educational, administrative, supply and public relations.

"There is a great deal about our Marine Officer training program which the young college women should know," Colonel Hamilton pointed out. "First is that interested college women get in touch with their Women's Marine Corps activity today for information about our WOCD classes, which consist of 8 weeks in the field and 8 weeks in the classroom.

When you listened to the first College Science Fiction Contest, with $2,000 in prizes for the best 10,000-word novel, written by a college student, depicting life in America 25 years from now. This contest is open only to undergraduate students in the United States and Canada. Ideas, imagination, and originality will count more than actual writing skill. The contest closes May 14, 1954, and the winner will be announced nationally, the first week in September.

Does this sound good to you? But, you could really let your imagination run wild with a story of this kind. If anyone is interested, I will gladly fill in any additional data you might need.

Get the "Fums" out of it. Thanksgiving is here again. Every year I tell myself that this year I'm not going to stuff all that turkey and dressing down my stomach and every year I make a liar out of myself. I don't make sense.

While I am on the subject of Thanksgiving, I would like to call to the attention of every student who will be driving home for the holiday, the safety slogans of the Providence Traffic Committee—TAKE IT EASY. THE LIFE YOU SAVED MAY BE YOUR OWN.

This may be called a title expression but, title or not, it is a sensible one to follow. Have a happy Thanksgiving!

Representatives of Armed Forces: Interviewing February Seniors

On Wednesday November 18, Lt. Karl Moore of the U. S. Marine Corps spent the day here interviewing Seniors who are interested in the Marine Corps Officer Candidate course. He explained the opportunities of entering this branch of the service and told two Bryant alumni who have recently been commissioned as Marine officers. They are John Duff and Herman MacDonald, former President of Tau Epsilon.

On the following day, November 19, representatives of the U. S. Air Force, headed by Capt. Herbert L. Worth interviewed members of the Senior class who might be interested in applying for acceptance into the Aviation Cadet School of the Air Force.

Friday, December 11, Lt. W. A. Stoops, Jr. of the U. S. Navy will be here to present the opportunities of Naval service in the Navy and to explain about eligibility requirements with regard to applying for the Officer Candidate program which has been extended from 192 days to six months prior to graduation. Lt. Stoops will gladly speak to any member of the Senior class who is interested. No enrollments will be taken but the opportunities and advantages of Naval service will be discussed.

The closing number was the impressive re-creation of the "Bryant Marching Song." The auditorium was duly decorated for the occasion. Besides the colorful table arrangements of bright orange candles and paper musical notes, the entire hall was decorated with bright orange notes of music. These felt notes were also worn by the members of the Glee Club.

Como is sponsoring this project to show Bryant students how their neighbors live, so that they may accept them as true neighbors. Although the members of the IRC believe that that eventful day in 1933 cannot be forgotten, our present peace can be made a lasting one by closer international cooperation and understanding which they are trying to promote through this exhibition.

All the students are cordially invited to attend the exhibition at their leisure. There will be no charge, so come in and look around.
